EWALD MUST QUIT OR FACE REMOVAL, CORRIGAN TELLS HIM

Indicted Magistrate Receives Ultimatum, but a Reply Is Unlikely Before Monday.

GRAND JURY GOES DEEPER

Believed Sifting Stock Selling in Connection With the Norwood Mining Co.

SUPERSEDING BILLS HINTED

Ex-Convict Sentenced for Bribery Is Thought to Be Among Those Who Asked Favors of Jurist.

An ultimatum to Magistrate George F. Ewald to resign from the bench, or else face removal proceedings before the Appellate Division was delivered yesterday by Chief Magistrate Joseph Corrigan. No statement was forthcoming from the magistrate up to last night, and none will be before Monday, according to his counsel, Alfred J. Talley.

Neither Magistrate Corrigan nor Kenneth M. Spence, chairman of the committee on criminal courts of the bar association, appeared to have much confidence yesterday that Magistrate Ewald would retire before the proceedings were brought before the Appellate Division, for, after the two had conferred, Mr. Spence called on United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle. A further conference between Mr. Spence and Mr. Tuttle was arranged for this morning.

Meanwhile, during the day, Mr. Tuttle sent to both Magistrate Corrigan and Mr. Spence a summary of the sworn testimony of William Badger, Abe April and Traffic Patrolman Edward J. Heffernan. The indictment against Magistrate Ewald, in connection with the Cotter Butte Mines, Inc., for whom he allegedly sold stock on a commission basis, charged that Magistrate Ewald sold $1,000 of the stock to Abe April, while dismissing a third offense speeding charge against Badger, for whom April stood sponsor.

It was remarked that if either Mr. Corrigan or Mr. Spence felt assured that Magistrate Ewald would resign they would not have been so active yesterday, after delivering the ultimatum, in gathering material for presentation to the Appellate Division.

Tuttle Acts on Own Responsibility.

Mr. Tuttle said that he had sent summaries of the grand jury testimony on his own responsibility, and that if Magistrate Corrigan and Mr. Spence wanted the entire grand jury record, he would ask permission of Federal Judge Patterson to give them a transcript.

It was learned yesterday that among the requests for favors from Magistrate Ewald, written evidence of which is in the hands of all three investigators, were a number from a man, now considered influential in certain political circles, who in the past is believed to have served a term in Sing Sing for bribery.

Police Headquarters forwarded to Mr. Tuttle's office yesterday the papers in the case, showing a bribery conviction in 1914, and a previous dismissal on a vagrancy charge. The man who sought, and presumably obtained favors from Magistrate Ewald, is of the same name, and fits the same description, as the one who served time in Sing Sing. Because no photograph was available in the Rogues' Gallery, and no fingerprints were in the police records, however, no positive identification could be made.

At Mr. Tuttle's office those familiar with the Ewald case were fairly certain that it was the same man. They attributed the lack of photographs in the Rogues' Gallery, and the missing fingerprints, to the man's present eminence in the political sphere.

Corrigan Threatens Charges.

Magistrate Corrigan's ultimatum was delivered after he had had a half-hour conference in the morning with Mr. Talley. "Nothing has been decided," the Chief Magistrate said. "Everything is still up in the air. But I am prepared to say that unless there is a resignation, there will be charges preferred against Magistrate Ewald."

"What charges?" he was asked.

"We will cross that bridge when we come to it," Mr. Corrigan replied.

Mr. Talley, who promised to issue a statement at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, said at that hour that there would be none, and that he would have nothing to say for his client before Monday.

Magistrate Ewald has not sat on the bench since last Monday, when two indictments were returned against him and five other defendants, charging use of the mails in a scheme to defraud and conspiracy to the same end. Trial on the indictments was set for Aug. 4. On Tuesday morning, after Mr. Talley had

Horton Smith Leads U. S. Open; Bobby Jones Tied at Second

Horton Smith, professional from the Cragston Yacht and Country Club, New York, scored a 70 yesterday in the second round of play in the United States open golf tournament at the Interlachen Club, Minneapolis, and gained the lead by two strokes, having a total of 142.

Bobby Jones, defending champion, returned a card of 73 to put him in a tie for second place, two strokes behind the leader. The Atlantan is tied with Harry Cooper and Charles Lacey, each with 144.

TARDIEU TRIUMPHS BY CLOSING SESSION

Premier Declares Closure to Frustrate Attempts at Overthrowing Him.

BEDLAM REIGNS IN CHAMBER

By P. J. PHILIP.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 11.—Premier Tardieu closed Parliament today until November, and thus has got rid of the opposition to his government. He has not done or completed many of those things which he sought and hoped to do when he came into office and there are some things which he has been forced to do against his will.

Nine months' experience, however, has proved to him how hard is the road the Premier of France must tread, especially with such a divided Parliament as this. In this past week he has day after day had to face almost bedlam. Even this morning there were those in both houses who were prophesying that any accident might occur.

In the afternoon session of the Chamber there was a repetition of yesterday's heated contest. Yet quietly in the intervals the necessary work was being done in both houses and all those pending bills which needed approval were slipped through one by one. It was evidently a race between the government and the obstructionists, and the government won.

When everything essential had been completed, suddenly M. Tardieu accepted a motion by one of his followers and made the vote one of confidence. He won with 48 majority, the Opposition numbering only 268 against 316. It was a sufficient majority on which to close the session, and out of his pocket the Premier pulled a Presidential decree declaring the session over and adjourning Parliament until November.

Left Protests Closure.

PARIS, July 11 (AP).—The Parliamentary session ended in a turmoil such as had marked it virtually since January. The Prime Minister, weary of facing repeated assaults, forestalled new ones by mounting the speaker's rostrum and exercising his irrevocable power of closing the session soon after 8 o'clock tonight.

The Opposition, led by the Communists, with the Socialists and Radicals following, protested vehemently at what they declared to be premature closing of the regular term. There was no going behind the decree, however, and so the Opposition contented itself with prolonging the scene an hour and a half in a boisterous show of its displeasure.

M. Tardieu showed good-humored astonishment that the Deputies were so anxious to remain in the heated atmosphere of the legislative palace to continue their efforts to unseat the government. He urged them to return to their constituencies, ex-

NANKING IMPERILED BY SHANTUNG'S LOSS; AMERICANS WARNED

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SHANGHAI, July 11.—The major offensive which has been waged for days on the Lunghai front is ending in a stalemate, and the loss to the Nanking Government of most of Shantung is imperiling the Nationalists' position. Tremendous efforts are proceeding to turn the Northern rebels back on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway in order to effect the recapture of Tsinan. To this end the Nanking Government is stripping other fronts of many divisions, which are rushed northward from Pukow.

Nanking claims the recapture of Taian, less than 100 miles south of Tsinan, but this is not confirmed as yet by non-government sources.

The Northerners in Shantung are handicapped by the lack of railway communication, the Yellow River bridge having been destroyed by the Southerners before their evacuation.

Liu Chien-nien, at Chefoo, definitely has accepted a commission from General Yen Hsi-shan, commanding the Northerners, to move 5,000 men to attack the flank of Han Fu-chu at Weihsien. Rumors that Han Fu-chu was compromising with the Northerners were strengthened by the fact that the entire pro-Nanking Government at Shantung, in refuge at Tsingtao, sent their resignations to Nanking. Chiang Kai-shek's Government, however, refuses to accept the resignations, saying it will soon recapture the entire province.

Manchurian Aid Again Claimed.

Again Nanking is asserting that the Manchurian war lord, Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, is dispatching four Manchurian divisions against the Northerners, but similar assertions have been made repeatedly and baselessly in the last sixty days, with the result that they are now received with distrust.

The fact that Chiang Kai-shek himself has been absent from Nanking for more than two months is causing comment, as it rveals the solidarity of the government and loyalty of his supporters, in contrast with a year ago, when he dared not risk a long absence.

Also in contrast with this cohesion, the Northerners still have not officially launched a government and still are negotiating in an endeavor to reconcile the rival views and pretensions of the many anti-government factions.

South of the Yangtse banditry, lawlessness and communism are ever spreading. In Chekiang Province thirteen villages have been captured and looted by a new bandit army flying the red flag. Nanking, fearing the bombing and wrecking of trains, has doubled the military guards on railways between Shanghai, Nanking and Hangchow.

The Japanese, Americans and British are contemplating new measures on the Yangtse, where the Communists continue to fire on foreign ships. American bluejackets have rescued three Spanish priests in

Death Penalty for Careless Rail Men Hinted In Orders Issued by Soviet Supreme Court

By WALTER DURANTY.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MOSCOW, July 11.—The Supreme Court of Russia issued today a rather grim circular order to the subordinate courts in regard to trials arising from railroad accidents or other cases of indiscipline or misconduct by railroad men. The Supreme Court recommends that, apart from "measures of social protection" the local courts may be called on to take, they must do their utmost to impress upon the culprits and the public alike the vast importance to society of railroad work and the responsibility of railroad workers to the public.

The Soviet penal code contains in theory no death penalty as such. Mass murderers, bandits and counter-revolutionists are sentenced "to the highest measure of social protection," and lest there be any mistake about it the court usually adds, "namely, by shooting."

The Bolsheviki have always been so abrupt in dealing with their enemies that there is something psychologically strange in this circumlocutory modesty of expression. In regard to the railroads, however, the Supreme Court's circular meets the public wish.

There have been many bad accidents lately, and the public is cross and nervous. Vodka is a common cause, but the true underlying reason is that the transportation system is not up to the demands made on it by the five-year plan, and many a weary operative takes a "shot of vodka," or two or three, to carry him through.

It is perhaps not a mere coincidence that today's circular, like yesterday's violent attack in the Workers' Gazette on the "disgraceful mismanagement" of the Moscow commodity supply, appear at the very moment when the Communist party convention is flooded with optimism about the five-year plan's success. Here is the other side of the medal which gives some idea of its cost to the Russian people and which might bear a paraphrase of Kipling's triumphant lament over the British Empire: "If blood be the price of sovereignty, Lord God, we have paid it in full."

Spiritists Wear Gay Attire at Doyle Funeral; Widow Indicates Hope of Message From Him

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

CROWBOROUGH, England, July 11.—The only sign of mourning which marked the burial today of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in a garden grave at his home, Windlesham, near this little town in Sussex, was a Union Jack flying at half staff over the golf links, a tribute to the former captain of the club.

In the crowd some top-hatted, distinguished figures of the literary world mingled with the villagers and workmen. Few wore black, and many were in gay, summery attire, wearing flowers.

The funeral service was held on the lawn in front of the old, gabled house. It was simple and unusual and included the singing of a spiritualist hymn. A clergyman read a document described as an "expression by Lady Doyle and the whole family of their attitude to death and the larger life," in which the late novelist's wife wrote:

"We know it is only an earthly body we are committing to the ground. The ethical or spirit body lives on, and is able, when psychic conditions are attuned, to show itself."

The coffin was carried across the lawn through a lovely flower garden to a grave which had been dug beside the Summer house in which the novelist did his writing, and where his pen, inkwell and paper remain just as he last left them.

Meanwhile English spiritists are planning a big memorial meeting to Sir Arthur on Sunday in Albert Hall, with a seance at which it is hoped to receive a message from him.

CROWBOROUGH, England, July 11.—Standing by the grave of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle today, the Rev. Dr. C. Drayton Thomas said:

"Sir Arthur will continue his work for the spreading of the great cause which soothes the anguished heart, and which is destined to change the whole outlook of human affairs.

"God bless him for his beautiful and unselfish life, for his courage and fearlessness, for his never failing championship of those suffering under injustice, and for the help he gave to those who were in sorrow.

"No thought of self touched his daily life. No man more truly and faithfully walked in his Master's footsteps."

Dennis Conan Doyle, Sir Arthur's eldest son, was kept away from the funeral by illness, but Lady Doyle, her two daughters and son Adrian were present. The Rev. Dr. C. C. Angell, the novelist's brother-in-law, assisted Dr. Thomas. Sir Gilbert Parker, Authors' Club chairman, and several others, motored from London to honor their departed friend.

DRY MEN SEIZE 35; RAID 11 MALT STORES

Find Liquor and Arrest 23 in Hotels and Restaurants in the Rockaways.

POLICE HELP AGENTS HERE

12 Held in Drive on Malt Sellers—Libel Suits Filed in Early Cases as Test.

Raids by Federal agents of Prohibition Administrator McCampbell's staff, assisted by the police, on eleven malt shops on the upper west side yesterday afternoon and on eleven hotels and alleged speakeasies in the Rockaways late last night netted a total of thirty-five men and a quantity of alleged whisky, wines and beer.

In the maltshop raids a store owner and eleven clerks were arrested for possession after the raiders said they found liquor in the stores. In the Rockaway raids, which began shortly before 10 P. M. and lasted for more than an hour, twenty-three men were taken in two patrol wagons to the Rockaway Beach station, where arrangements were made for their release under bail.

Ten Federal agents led the raids on the Rockaway establishments, armed with warrants. When their night's work was done they announced the seizure of thirty barrels of beer and about 200 quarts of assorted liquors.

Libel Actions Against Shops.

Carrying out the policy of the government defined last May after the United States Supreme Court had ruled that sellers of accessories used in the manufacture of liquor are punishable under the prohibition law, U. S. Grant, Assistant United States Attorney, began libel action yesterday—the first of its kind brought in this district—to confiscate merchandise seized May 23 in raids on malt and hops shops by agents of Maurice Campbell, former prohibition administrator.

Major Campbell, shortly before resigning from office, it was recalled, had warned all proprietors of malt and hops shops "to stop violating the law," but refrained from making additional raids of this nature until the government, through court action, could establish a basis of procedure.

The government filed action against the property of three stores raided by Major Campbell's agents. These were at 304 East Fifty-ninth Street, 1,630 First Avenue and 768 Second Avenue. In each case Mr. Grant and Leonard Bronner Jr., his assistant, allege that in addition to malt and hop paraphernalia the agents found small quantities of alcohol, wine and liquor.

Though this discovery in itself, it was pointed out, is sufficient basis for libel action brought under the internal revenue and prohibition acts, the government, according to Mr. Bronner, can proceed against malt and hop stores under the Supreme Court decision even if liquor is not found on the premises.

Must Prove Illegal Intent.

The Supreme Court decision specified that merchandise of the kind in question must be offered for sale in such a mode as purposely to attract purchasers who want it for unlawful manufacture. It seems necessary in view of this wording, it was pointed out, for the government to prove intent on the part of the defendant to violate the law. The possession of liquor, it was said, is in itself evidence of such intent.

Mr. Bonner said that he was merely following the routine of his office by bringing this action on evi-

CAPPER DEMANDS BOARD BUY WHEAT

Senator Calls for the Purchase of 100,000,000 Bushels to Stabilize the Market.

HOLDS ACREAGE CUT NO AID

Kansas Publishers Demand of Hoover That Legge Resign for "Insult" to the State.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—A demand by Senator Capper of Kansas that the Federal Farm Board buy 100,000,000 bushels of wheat to stabilize the price was revealed today.

While Governor Clyde Reed of Kansas has been prodding the Farm Board out on the prairies, Senator Capper's voice is the first one to be heard in official Washington demanding action from the board. He made his representations to Chairman Legge before the latter left on his speaking tour of the wheat country, and says he will renew them as soon as Mr. Legge and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde return to Washington.

The demand of the Kansas Senator comes when wheat prices have reached the lowest point in sixteen years in the Chicago market, with the grain selling for about 60 cents a bushel in Kansas, and while Chairman Legge and Secretary Hyde are telling the growers that their salvation rests only in cooperation and in limiting wheat acreage and production.

Legge Opposes More Buying.

"I presented this matter to Mr. Legge before he left for the Southwest," Senator Capper said, "and he gave me to understand then that the board did not contemplate purchasing wheat. However, the situation is so serious that I have not accepted his word as final, and shall take the matter up with him again upon his return. Reduction of acreage may be all right, but it cannot remedy the situation of this year. The wheat price situation has approached a crisis and it must be met."

Senator Capper indicated that he regards it as more than ordinarily severe discipline to tell the farmers they must suffer this year so they will learn to cut acreage next year, when the Federal Government has set up machinery designed to meet such a situation.

In a statement given out several days ago relative to price, which was intended to apply to all farm crops as a matter of policy, the board said it did not intend to set up a stabilization corporation for that commodity.

One of the problems before the board is that of elevator storage for grain. Space is declared to be at a premium, and up to date the board has taken no steps to provide more.

The movement by Senator Capper is seen here as a reopening of the battle over farm relief, with the Farm Board on the defensive.

Talk of Equalization Fee.

Farm leaders in the Senate, deprived of the debenture clause in the tariff bill, are insisting that some other method of meeting the situation be worked out. In the lobbies at the Capitol there is talk of a revival of the fight for the equalization fee which caused President Coolidge to veto the McNary-Haugen bill.

Kansas farmers are complaining that they are being "bled to death" by the wheat price situation, and Governor Reed is voicing their protests within the State itself. Senator Capper has not joined the Governor in opposing the wheat reduction program but is heartily in support of his demand that the Farm Board "do something."

Chairman Legge and Governor Reed of Kansas have been speaking from the same platform in that State, the Governor bitterly assailing

SEVENTY-TWO DEAD IN MID-WEST HEAT, NOW IN FIFTH DAY

No Sight of Relief Yet Appears From the Wave of High Temperature.

112 DEGREES IN ONE TOWN

Twenty-five Have Died in Iowa, Twenty-four in Missouri and Eight in Illinois.

HEAT NOT EXPECTED HERE

Weather Bureau Suggests That the Torrid Wave Will Have No Counterpart in East.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Victims who have given up their lives to an unrelenting sun reached seventy-two today in the Mississippi Valley as the heat wave passed its fifth consecutive day without widespread signs of relief.

Twenty-five have died in Iowa, twenty-four in Missouri, eight in Illinois, three in Nebraska, ten in Minnesota and North and South Dakota and two in Kansas.

Missouri, where the toll of human life was greatest, also recorded the highest unofficial thermometer reading at Sikeston, where it was put at 112 degrees. A mark of 102 degrees was touched over most of the State.

At Denver the temperature soared to 92 degrees.

Harrisburg and Duquesne were the hottest towns in Illinois, according to the records, the official thermometers in both places having registered 110.

All records were broken at Quincy and firemen turned out to provide the children free shower baths as the mercury touched 106. Other extreme readings in the State were Mount Vernon, with 108; Canton, 104; Peoria, 103, and Centralia, 105.

In St. Louis there were seventeen deaths and thirty-one prostrations. It was the hottest day in thirty years, a maximum of 103 being attained in midafternoon.

In Iowa the temperature range was from 80 in the early morning hours to 105 at noon. Two deaths were recorded at Sioux City and garden truck was parching under the sun and scorching southwest wind. Forenoon mail deliveries were discontinued in Sioux City.

Hundreds of draft horses in the territory surrounding Sioux City have perished from the heat in the last few days, dispatches said. Forty succumbed in Ida County, Iowa, alone, according to a correspondent.

New High Mark in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 11 (AP).—A torrid heat wave continued its siege of St. Louis today and the death toll in the metropolitan area for the last two days reached seventeen this afternoon as the mercury scared toward a new season's record. Twenty-three have died in the last week.

Roscoe Nunn, government weather forecaster, said no relief was in sight for the next forty-eight hours.

In addition to deaths attributed directly to heat prostration, a 70-year-old woman died today of a broken neck she received last night when she fell from a window on which she had attempted to open shutters to seek relief from the heat.

Yesterday's maximum temperature in St. Louis was 103 degrees at 3:45 P. M. and the temperature had reached 104 at 3 P. M. today. The heat wave is the worst on record for thirty years.

Record Is Set in South.

ATLANTA, July 11 (AP).—A drought in Northwest Georgia and severe crop damage in Kentucky were chargeable today to the South's latest heat wave, which reached a new high level yesterday.

Cooling breezes brought down the mercury in many parts of the South

Hawks Is Slightly Hurt as New Plane Falls; Wichita Crash Delays Continental Flight

By The Associated Press

WICHITA, Kan., July 11.—Captain Frank Hawks escaped with minor injuries here today when a new speed plane, the Mystery S, which he was testing in preparation for an attempt to lower his East-West transcontinental flight record, crashed to the ground while traveling between eighty and ninety miles an hour.

Hawks suffered only slight cuts on the shoulders and neck.

The engine stalled as Hawks was returning to the Travelair Field after a trial flight. The under-carriage of the plane struck telephone wires at the edge of the field and the ship plunged nose-first to the ground, turning over twice. Hawks remained with the plane, which was badly damaged.

The flier had planned to leave Wichita tomorrow for New York to await the start of his record attempt, with stops scheduled at Indianapolis, Wichita and Albuquerque.

Hawks, after his injuries were treated at the airport, said the mishap would delay his project about a month. He telephoned sponsors of his flight in New York and received authorization to have the plane repaired immediately.

Hawks has held several cross-country flight records, including the East-West non-stop record. He has spent a month here testing the Mystery S.

WEEK'S SIDE-DEBATE AHEAD

Treaty Leaders Confer at Once on Fighting Resolution—Hale Assails Pact in Speech.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Hoover declined this afternoon to send to the Senate the letters, cablegrams, minutes, memoranda, instructions, dispatches, records, files or other information bearing on the negotiation of the London naval treaty. To do so, he informed the Senate, would not only be incompatible with the public interest, but would be the commission of "a breach of trust" by the President himself.

However, the President said he was willing to show the documents to any Senator provided "he will agree to receive and hold the same in the confidence in which it has been received and held by the Executive."

The message of the President reached the Senate early in the afternoon but was not formally placed before the chamber until 4 o'clock, or one hour before the time set for adjournment. It was received with varying emotions, leaders of the pro-treaty forces declaring it was the only answer the President could, in honor, make, while the anti-ratificationists lost no time in branding it as a final definite word from the White House that in the making of treaties the Senate was entitled to just what information the President saw fit to transmit and no more.

Two Recruits for Treaty Foes.

The reading of the message was immediately followed by the announcement that Senator Pittman of Nevada, a Democratic member of the Committee on Foreign Relations, and Senator Thomas of Oklahoma had joined the opposition and would work and vote against the treaty.

Senator Thomas qualified his defection by saying that unless he received all the information in the possession of the President he would vote "no" when the final roll-call is ordered. There were no reservations to Senator Pittman's action.

Three other Democrats and two Republican Senators are known to be "wobbly" and the anti-treaty group is hopeful tonight that they will be in their line-up before the fight is another week old.

Reservation to Pact Offered.

The White House message also was the cause for the offering of a resolution for a reservation to the pact by Senator Norris of Nebraska, who says he wants to support the treaty, but owing to the mix-up over the documents may soon find himself on the opposition side. It all depends on the action the Senate takes on his reservation, which, if adopted, would put the Senate on record as having ratified on the "distinct and explicit understanding" that there were "no secret files, letters, understandings or agreements" which in any way affect any of the "stipulations, agreements or statements" contained in the London naval treaty. If the reservation is rejected, it was said that Senator Norris would vote against the treaty and so would Senator La Follette.

Senator Hale, Chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, was in the midst of a long speech in opposition to the treaty when the President's message arrived. He was permitted to conclude and Senator Reed was allowed to reply to him before the message was officially placed before the Senate and read by the clerk.

TEXT OF PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The President's message read:

The White House,
July 11, 1930.

To the Senate:

I have received Senate Resolution No. 320 asking me, if not incompatible with the public interest, to submit to the Senate all letters, cablegrams, minutes, memoranda, instructions and dispatches and all records, files and other information touching the

Savings Deposits Set Record Of $3,527,403,129 in the City

Deposits in the savings banks of Greater New York continued to rise during June and reached a new high total on July 1, according to the Savings Bank Association of New York. The total of savings deposits on that date came to $3,527,403,129, compared with $3,347,216,195 on Jan. 1, a gain of $180,186,934 during the first six months of the year.

Each of the five boroughs showed an expansion in savings deposits during the first half year. Deposits in Kings County were $1,047,066,067 on July 1, compared with $994,648,610 on Jan. 1; in Queens, $138,292,138, compared with $131,884,574; in Richmond, $22,680,758, compared with $22,305,370; in the Bronx, $122,937,548, compared with $117,832,703, and in Manhattan, $2,196,426,618, compared with $2,080,544,938.

TOKYO WILL IGNORE OFFICERS ON TREATY

Cabinet Will Send Pact to Privy Council Before July 20 Irrespective of Decision on Defense.

RATIFICATION HELD CERTAIN

Press Urges Rapid Action and Turns Attack on Navy Leaders Who Hamper Progress.

By WILFRID FLEISHER.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

TOKYO, July 11.—The government decided today to take a firm stand and to submit the London naval treaty to the Privy Council for ratification before July 20—with July 18 as the probable date—whether approval of the new defense plans by the high military and naval officers has previously been obtained or not.

The government's decision to hasten action on the treaty may partly be ascribed to the fact that the American Senate is now considering the treaty and that Japan does not want to be too far behind. In addition, most of the reliable newspapers have been editorially urging the government to go ahead and disregard the navy element if necessary, as the treaty has the backing of public opinion.

Premier Hamaguchi still hopes that by the time the government is ready to submit the pact to the Privy Council the naval authorities will have reached agreement regarding the defense plans, but he has decided the treaty and defense plans shall henceforth be dealt with as two separate issues. If the naval authorities approve the plans for defense before the time comes for the Privy Council to pass on the treaty, it will be all the better. Otherwise they can continue discussing them at their leisure.

There is no doubt that the Privy Council will ratify the treaty irrespective of the action of the naval men, but it is conceded that if the naval authorities reject the defense plans or delay action upon them, the course of the treaty in the Privy Council will be more complicated and ratification will be slower.

Admiral Takarabe indicated at the Cabinet meeting today that agreement among the naval leaders might be looked for in the near future and that upon the return of Admiral Okada, former Minister of the Navy, from an inspection tour on Monday, a decision would be reached as to which of the two high military boards should be summoned—the Board of Marshals and Fleet Admirals or the Supreme Military Council.

The press continues to favor rapid action on the treaty and is now di-negotiations of the London naval treaty.

This treaty, like all other international negotiations, has involved statements, reports, tentative and informal proposals as to subjects, persons and governments given to me in confidence.

The Executive, under the duty of guarding the interests of the United States, in the protection of future negotiations and in maintaining relations of amity with other nations, must not allow himself to become guilty of a breach of trust by betrayal of these confidences. He must not affront representatives of other nations and thus make future dealings with those nations more difficult and less frank.

To make public in debate or in the press such confidences would violate the invariable practice of nations. It would close to the United States those avenues of information which are essential for future negotiations and amicable intercourse with the nations of the world. I am sure the Senate does not wish me to commit such a breach of trust.

Offer to Share Confidence.

I have no desire to withhold from the Senate any information having even the remotest bearing upon the negotiation of the treaty. No Senator has been refused an opportunity to see the confidential material referred to, provided only he will agree to receive and hold the same in the confidence in which it has been received and held by the Executive.

A number of Senators have availed themselves of this opportunity. I believe that no Senator can read these documents without agreeing with me that no other course than to insist upon the maintenance of such confidence is possible.

And I take this opportunity to repeat with the utmost emphasis that in these negotiations there were no secret or concealed understandings, promises or interpretations, nor any commitments whatever except as appear in the treaty itself and in the interpretative exchange of notes recently suggested by your Committee on Foreign Affairs, all of which are now in the hands of the Senate.

In view of this I believe to further comply with the above resolution would be incompatible with the public interest.

HERBERT HOOVER.

Quorum Problem Growing.

There was barely a quorum in the chamber when the message was read. As a matter of fact there were only fifty-four Senators in Washington today and the ten anti-treaty Senators, counting in the new recruits, could have broken the quorum any time they saw fit.

The fact that such an unexpected exodus had taken place was frankly stated by Senator Borah as the reason why he did not ask for a session of the Senate tomorrow. Had he done so, there is reason for saying that it would have been impossible to have assembled the forty-nine Senators necessary to make a quorum. Administration leaders are not minimizing tonight the quorum crisis they may have to face next week.

The introduction of the Norris resolution followed almost immediately the conclusion of the reading of the President's message. That such a reservation was to be proposed was intimated some days ago and there was no surprise such as was occasioned when Senator McKellar on Monday introduced his resolution calling for the production of the treaty data.

Senator Norris's Resolution.

The Norris reservation reads:

Whereas, in the consideration of said treaty, the Senate, on the 10th day of July, 1930, requested the President of the United States to submit to the Senate all letters, cablegrams, minutes, memoranda, instructions and dispatches and all record files and other information touching the negotiation of said treaty; and,

Whereas the President of the United States has declined to comply with said request and the Senate therefore in acting upon said treaty has been compelled to do so without any opportunity to give consideration to the letters, memoranda and other documents and communications leading up to the drafting of said treaty and in negotiating the same; therefore be it

Resolved, by the Senate, That in ratifying the said treaty the Senate does so with the distinct and explicit understanding that there are no secret files, documents, letters, understandings or agreements which in any way, directly or indirectly, modify, change, add to or take from any of the stipulations, agreements or statements in said treaty; and that the Senate ratifies said treaty with the distinct and explicit understanding that there is no agreement, secret or otherwise expressed or implied, between any of the parties to said treaty as to any construction that shall hereafter be given to any statement or provision contained therein.

Week's Digression Feared.

Conferences between the treaty leaders were called at once, for all realized that the reservation might well mean an extra week of debate.

The opinion is general tonight that in the event it is opposed by the administration forces—and this is expected—a debate will begin Monday on the reservation that may use up most of the week.

Senators Reed and Allen, who speak with authority for the pro-treaty side, both took the position the reservation as drafted was unacceptable and was an affront to the President.

That the rservation will command strong support was soon apparent, among the first to give it their approval being Senators George, Black, La Follette and Nye, all now listed as "lukewarm" in support of the treaty.

Senator Borah said he had his own opinions on the matter, but added that he was not quite ready to make them public. The betting is that he will be for the reservation when the time to vote arrives.

Recess Talk Gains Headway.

"Of course, I am for the reservation," said Senator Thomas, "and as matters stand now I am also against the treaty. I take the position that the Senate is entitled to know all the President knows about this treaty, and unless the Senate gets that information I shall vote no on ratification."

Senator Thomas suggested a two weeks' debate on the treaty by those who know the subject best, after which the Senate would recess for a few months to give public opinion a chance to express itself. That done, he would have the Senate come back and vote without further debate.

Senator Black of Alabama, who said he was still for the treaty, stated that he is willing now to vote a recess until Fall, and it was said he was only one of several pro-treaty Senators now willing to vote a postponement of action until after the November election.

Johnson Attacks Message.

The reply from the floor to the President's message was made by Senator Johnson. He was speaking, it was said, for the whole opposition group.

"I want to express just a word about the message which has just been read," said Senator Johnson.

"Upon what times has this Republic fallen, upon what series of incidents has the Senate developed such a futility, that it cannot be permitted to have for its information that which it must have in order to act with wisdom and intelligence?

"There have been handed to this futile Foreign Relations Committee of ours, by the Secretary of State, certain papers upon which the same embargo was put by him as is put in this message of the President of the United States regarding every paper relating to the London conference.

"I charge here, upon my responsibility as a Senator, that there is not a line or a syllable in a single paper that thus has been transmitted to the Foreign Relations Committee that could have by the remotest application any effect such as is asserted in the message of the President of the United States the documents and the papers not handed to us would have if they came to us.

"I challenge denial from those who represent the administration upon this floor of that statement. I challenge any man upon this floor who is a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, and who has seen the papers that were submitted to us by the Secretary of State, an utterance of any kind or character that is contained in those documents or papers which could not be published to the world without inflicting damage upon the interests of the Republic of the United States or upon its international relations.

Charges "Secret Diplomacy."

"Tell me that we must not have the very proposition that destroys our navy! Say to me that I cannot, acting in my capacity as a Senator from the great Pacific Coast, where is to be the scene of world activity in the days to come—that I may not see the counter-proposition of the Japanese Government to the proposition that is made by the United States Government!

"What is it that here we are met with? Secret diplomacy, the Old World diplomacy; the diplomacy that we thought for years our country was rid of. We are back again under this administration with secret diplomacy, and the denial of the right of those who participate in treaty-making to the documents and the papers which lead to that treaty-making."

Senator Reed entered the chamber at this point and Senator Johnson, addressing him, repeated what he had said as to the harmless nature of the documents submitted to the committee by Secretary Stimson.

"That is probably why those were submitted and others withheld," remarked Senator Reed.

"That is why those were submitted and the others were not," Senator Johnson rejoined, "and that is why the Secretary of State wrote into the order of submission, 'You can only see them confidentially, and you must treat them with a confidence that is inviolate,' so that if you read them, as I have, I cannot discuss them with my colleagues nor utilize them upon the floor.

"The Senator from Pennsylvania did not mean his answer. It was the quick retort of the administration, but the quick retort that had neither logic nor reason in it.

"Lashing for Impudence."

"Now this particular instrument that comes to us marks an era in treaty-making so far as the United States Senate is concerned. It may be deemed wholly appropriate for men upon the floor, standing here in the position that once was the greatest of all this land, to bow the knee and bend its pregnant hinges, that thrift may follow fawning.

"It may be that the glory that once was that of the United States Senate has faded and has paled into insignificance, and that any lashing and any whipping that may be accorded us we accept, and thank God that it is not harsher, or lick the hand that beat us.

"But if there are men in this body who believe that a constitutional duty rests upon members of the Senate, if there is the spirit of those old patriots who made this body what it was and wrote this country's history in the glory of the skies for all the world to see—if there are yet men of that caliber and of that kind in this body, neither supinely nor lying down will they take the lashing that has been accorded them in telling them of their impudence in asking for documents which they have a right to see and denying them the particular instruments and the particular instrumentalities upon which their duties may be rendered."

"No Need of Any Senate."

The President's message, Senator Johnson continued, called for action by the Senate, for the assertion by the Senate "of a manhood that raises its head high." The Senate, he added, should not supinely submit such a message to go by "without any action at all."

Senator McKellar, interrupting, noted the fact that in his message the President referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations as "your Committee on Foreign Affairs," and added:

"I did not know there was any such committee of the Senate. I had always assumed the name of that committee was Committee on Foreign Relations."

"May I say to my friend," replied Senator Johnson, "that he will know still less of it in the future. There is no need of any such thing. There is no need of any Senate, no need of any treaty, hereafter.

"We need neither Foreign Affairs Committee, Foreign Relations Committee or Senate. Just let us get our orders, and, getting our orders, let us act. That is all that is essential in the days to come.

"As I remarked a moment ago, I am sorry that it fell to my lot to answer or to attempt to answer the message of the President of the United States. I do it, though, because I feel that various gentlemen who represent various departments have misinformed the President of the United States, and it is my very earnest wish, that, correcting the misinformation he has suggested in his message, I will have performed a service for him and for my brethren here as well."

Takes Issue on Treaty Facts.

The Senator was referring in the remarks quoted to the President's message of last Monday in which he urged ratification of the treaty and referred to the misrepresentation and misinformation which, the President said, was being broadcast throughout the country against the treaty.

"If there be misrepresentation or misunderstanding regarding the treaty," continued Senator Johnson, "it is due solely to the ill-advised members of the administration who have obstinately refused the Senate, a part of the treaty-making power, and the people of the United States, knowledge of what happened in the negotiations, and what were the exchanges in documents between the contracting powers."

Senator Johnson asserted that in the Monday message the President seemed to have omitted some very essential elements in estimating the strength of the navy before the treaty and as it will be under the treaty. Throughout, he added, there seemed to have been a lack of recognition of the "immense sacrifice" in destroyer and submarine power which the United States makes under the London treaty.

"If the tonnage normally to be under construction in 1936 were included," Senator Johnson said, "the Japanese apparent reduction would be transformed into an increase of 6,000 tons and the British decrease would be 54,000 tons instead of 140,000 tons."

Hale Calls Country Unaware.

When the Senate convened this morning Senator Hale was recognized and began the reading of a speech of more than 20,000 words. He covered the whole treaty almost article by article.

"The people of this country do not understand this very intricate treaty; they do not realize what we are giving up when we sign it," the Maine Senator said.

"The navy that the treaty allows us at the expiration of the year 1936 is practically the same in size and cost of maintenance as the present navy with our building programs completed, and our replacements of obsolete vessels carried out, but the cruiser provisions in the treaty make it an incomparably weaker navy for our purposes.

Status Regarding Japan.

"The treaty gives to Japan, in return for no consideration whatever except that of signing the treaty, a substantial increase over the ratio provided for capital ships in the Washington treaty, and still leaves us under the handicap agreed to in the Washington treaty not further to fortify our island bases in the Western Pacific. This agreement, to which we reluctantly acceded at the Washington conference, was the direct price of holding the Japanese down to the ratio of 5-5-3 at that conference.

"As a result of the increase of the Japanese ratio, in the event of hostilities with Japan, where the seat of operations must inevitably be in the Far East, according to the unanimous testimony of our naval officers before the committees of the Senate, we shall be forced to engage on less than even terms for ourselves.

"While its proponents claim that the treaty provides for parity with Great Britain, as a matter of fact it provides for no such parity during the life of the treaty unless, which is unthinkable, we exercise the right under the option as to cruiser building and build ship for ship with Great Britain along the lines of her naval needs and not at all along the lines of our own.

"Should we exercise the other option and give up the idea of parity during the life of the treaty, we shall within the two years following 1936 have a slight superiority in the type of cruiser that the great majority of our naval authorities maintain that we need, of three 8-inch-gun cruisers, just one-half the superiority that our general board asked for after cutting their demands to the lowest possible figure compatible with our national security.

Holds a Principle Abandoned.

"But much more than the acceptance of this reduction in our asked-for quota of 8-inch gun cruisers is the abandonment by our government of the basic principle on which we have stood so firmly at former conferences, that each country shall have the right within the limitations of a category to build the type of ship that it considers essential.

"By the yielding of this principle in this treaty we subscribe to a basis for future disarmament treaties from which we can never get away. By the abandonment of this principle and the acceptance of the British contention that the parity between the two countries shall be fleet-combat parity alone, we place ourselves at an immense disadvantage in all of the other functions of our navy.

"To attempt to apply corrective measures to this situation at any future conference will, in my judgment, mean the failure of any such conference. The British, by the terms of this treaty, have us hamstrung and hog-tied and there they will keep us as long as limitations of armaments are the order of the day.

"Under the treaty we attempt to purchase the good-will of the world through the sacrifice of the rights to safeguard our interests. We will get no good-will but the contempt that a supine nation invariably gets and deserves to get. If this treaty is ratified by this Senate, in my judgment, we have definitely and conclusively proved to the world that in international relations we are not capable of looking after our own interests, and do not measure up to the great position of responsibility and legitimate power that we have honorably won for ourselves in the world by ways other than those of war."

Reed Sharp in Retort.

Senator Reed, replying to Senator Hale, did not hesitate to charge that many of the statements by Senator Hale were unfounded and that he had sought to convey the impression that "the American delegation in London surrendered bag and baggage, that the Americans emerged from the conference hamstrung and hog-tied."

"I have never yet," said the Pennsylvania Senator, "been at a ball game but I found at least one fat man in the bleachers who could play ball better than any player on the team. I never yet have seen a war in which belligerent civilians sitting in safety at home did not want an attack every morning.

"Perhaps a little group of Admirals whose advice was not implicitly followed, perhaps a little group of bureaucrats here in Washington who were not permitted to dictate the national policy of the United States—perhaps they are wiser than the American Secretary of State, the American Secretary of the Navy, Ambassador Dawes, our Ambassador to Great Britain and Ambassador Gibson, who was one of those highly praised delegates at the fiasco in Geneva.

"If the black doctrine that they preach, as enunciated by the Senator from Maine, that the only adequate defense means mastery of the seas, then all conferences are useless and we had better go forth to shoot our way to a mastery of the seven seas and give up any effort to live in peace with our neighbors.

"The people of this generation have seen enough of that doctrine. We heard the sword jingled by the German Emperor. We have seen him building, without a treaty, to try to equal the strength of Great Britain, and we have seen the havoc it brought upon the world. The idea that this republic of ours should launch into any such baleful policy as that is almost unthinkable. It is strange to find such a doctrine preached by men who remember the agonies of the last war."

There followed many heated interchanges in which Senators Johnson and McKellar of the opposition, and Senator Shortridge of the pro-treaty forces also participated.

Treaty Urged on Kean and Baird.

Special to The New York Times.

EAST ORANGE, N. J., July 11.—William J. Orchard, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Civics of the Oranges and Maplewood, today sent telegrams to Senators Kean and Baird urging that they vote for the London naval treaty "in the interests of world peace and in development of increasingly higher conception of responsibility to our fellow men."

HITS JAPAN 'BOGY' OF TREATY'S FOES

Castle, Returned Special Envoy, Says "Menace" to Our Safety Is Non-Existent.

DESIRE FOR PEACE IS SEEN

Official Asserts Japanese Have No Philippine Ambitions—Upholds Pact's Fairness.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 11.—The bogy of "a strange menace in the Far East," which "many enemies of the treaty have built up out of their imagination" as grounds for opposing the London naval agreement, was denounced today by W. R. Castle Jr., special Ambassador of the United States to Japan during the period of the London negotiations.

In an address at the Union League Club Mr. Castle, who has recently returned from Japan and resumed his duties as Assistant Secretary of State, said in part:

"One thing I hope you will remember at the start, that those who denounce the treaty denounce it in the same terms, whether they happen to live in the United States, in England or in Japan. It would be easy to take the exact words of Mr. Bridgeman in London, or of Admiral Kato in Japan and by merely substituting the words "United States" for the words "England" or "Japan" make their speeches appear to have been pronouncements of one of the anti-treaty admirals or of Senator Johnson himself. * * *

Ratio Demand Was Nation-Wide.

"When I reached Japan I found that the Japanese demand for a 10-7 ratio in auxiliary vessels, particularly for that ratio in 8-inch gun cruisers, had been made, through extensive newspaper propaganda, the ardent demand of the entire nation. Almost equally vigorous was the demand for 78,000 tons of submarines, although in this case Japan was not worried about a ratio, being willing that we should build a million tons if we so desired. The opponents of the treaty have tried to show that Japan was unfair in demanding this ratio, since the Washington treaty set the ratio at 10-6. Those who know anything of the Washington treaty know that that ratio concerned only capital ships and aircraft carriers, and that even at that time Japan desired a larger ratio in auxiliary ships. No decision was reached as to the limitation of any auxiliary ships and Japan was not acting unfairly in asking a higher ratio. It looked at one time in London as though the conference might fail because of Japan's insistence on her demands, but when acquiescence to those demands was clearly impossible, the Japanese matched the United States and Great Britain in concessions to bring success. The private and informal discussions between Senator Reed and Mr. Matsudaira resulted in an agreement which was fair to both sides. Even so, Japan felt that her concessions were incomparably greater than ours and I accord high honor to those Japanese statesmen who were able and willing to balance good-will against tonnage. Some of the Japanese admirals bitterly opposed the agreement and if they still believe that the original demands made by Japan were the minimum necessary for defense, they have a far better case to put before the public than have our own admirals, who worry about the calibre of guns on three ships.

Fear of Attack Is a Factor.

"Throughout the negotiations Japan had the American navy in view. There was continual fear that we might attack because of some disagreement, for example, over China. It was my duty to try to build up an appreciation of the real friendliness of our country. It is amazing to me, once more at home in Washington, to find the anti-treaty people still harping on the Japanese bogy. Japan could hardly live except for her exports to America amounting to nearly $400,000,000. She imports from us nearly $300,000,000 worth and depends on America for the cotton which she manufactures and re-exports to China.

"War with America, which would be serious for us, would be ruin for Japan. We have, of course, had disagreements in the past and we have not always been right. In spite of this, however, the real friendship that Japan has had for this country ever since we helped the Japanese to meet their first world problems has never been broken. I was impressed all the time that I was there by the fact that Japan looks to us for so much that makes life worth while, that Japan considers us, perhaps ahead of all nations, a friend on whom she must depend.

"I remember that one day a correspondent asked Baron Shidehara, the Foreign Minister, whether it was true that there was fear in America that Japan might attack the Philippines. He answered that I had told him that there were people in America who felt just this and then he pointed out that, of course, it was exceedingly difficult for any Japanese to understand this fear, since, although they might have initial success, war could only mean eventual ruin.

"In closing let us look at this treaty for a moment from a higher point of view than the technical or even the economic. * * * It puts an end to a most dangerous competition, that in naval armament. When the three great naval nations of the world agree on this we need not fear any others. It proves the trust which Japan and England have in us that they are willing to stand still until we build up to their level."

recting its atacks against the naval leaders who have been hampering progress on the pact. The Tokyo Asahi, in an editorial today, says the whole trouble lies in the precedent which requires the War and Navy Ministers of Japan to be officers. The remedy, the paper adds, rests in the appointment of civilians to these posts.

"The present system," the newspaper says, "has outlived its usefulness, and with a civilian head of the navy there would be no room for such a controversy between the government and the naval general staff."

Gun Turrets Set Up in Senate In Corner of 'Grundy's Store'

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP).—The corner of the Senate Chamber where during the tariff debate was installed what Senator Norris called "Grundy's store" was taken over today by opponents of the naval treaty, who moved in two bright yellow miniature gun turrets.

One mounted two "6-inchers" and a larger one carried three 8-inch guns.

Opponents of the London pact are using the wood models to support their contention of the superiority of the 8-inch gun cruiser for America's needs, but if the page boys don't stop playing with them some new ones might have to be ordered.

FRANCE IS DIVIDED ON NAVAL HOLIDAY

Some Think Postponement of New Building Goes Too Far in Appeasing Italy.

ROME IS NOT SATISFIED

Germany Denies Italy Seeks Pledge of Neutrality in Event of War With France.

By P. J. PHILIP.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 11.—Foreign Minister Briand's statement before the Foreign Affairs Commission in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday that France would not lay down any new keels of her navy program has been misinterpreted by several French and foreign newspapers as meaning that the French naval building program will be halted. That interpretation, it is stated authoritatively, is not correct.

What the Foreign Minister said and what will be done will be that, while work on those ships which are on the stocks will be continued and in some cases completed, no construction work will be begun on any of the new units voted this year until December, by which time it is hoped conversations with Italy will have led to some amelioration of the situation.

M. Briand's reply to Italy's invitation to a naval holiday can therefore be regarded as only partial. With two 10,000-ton cruisers on the stocks to be launched within a few months and with a building program which has been laid down for several years, the French believe they are going far enough in the way of making a pacific gesture by what M. Briand proposes. It is perhaps in itself not much, for he himself admitted that it really changes or delays nothing in the construction program.

Some Object to Overture.

But some of his countrymen think even that is too much. Pierre Bernus, in the Journal des Débats, berates him soundly for informing Rome and London that the status quo will be maintained during the time which might reasonably be considered as necessary for the conversations. In Italy, M. Bernus says, it will be interpreted as justification of Foreign Minister Grandi's proposal of a naval holiday, which Rome has always considered as the first step toward equalization of the fleets.

Le Temps, on the other hand, magnifies the Foreign Minister's gesture as evidence of France's spirit of conciliation.

"How can France give fuller proof of her good-will and her desire to find a solution?" Le Temps asks.

Yet in Rome it is feared by some that M. Briand's undertaking will be considered as much a manoeuvre to gain outside sympathy as Signor Grandi's proposal for a naval holiday is regarded here.

The prospect of precise conversations with a definite chance of success is still somewhat vague. Both countries are still in the domain of diplomatic manoeuvring for position. Perhaps during the next few weeks an attempt will be made, very unofficially at first, to get down to discussion of those few points of frontiers and nationality which have been so long in dispute.

The French contend there is no issue between the two countries which cannot be settled if there is a sincere spirit of friendship. At the same time they complain they do not know what kind of a solution Italy is looking for and consider whether it will be far beyond the bounds of what they are willing to give.

The whole issue really lies there: What does Italy want in Tripoli, in Tunisia and as her place in the sun? If they knew, the French say they might be able to give her satisfaction. But they say they do not know and assert the Fascist Government is not anxious to table its claims openly, knowing they are far in excess of what the rest of the world will consider reasonable.

League Circles Are Pleased.

PARIS, July 11 (AP).—That France has made another sincere bid for friendly negotiations with Italy today was the opinion oftenest heard expressed in League of Nations circles in Paris. The optimistic word of Foreign Minister Briand, the man who generally is hailed as an apostle of peace, has served to lessen the nervousness which has been apparent in international diplomatic centres as a result of expressions stirred in both Italy and France over the disarmament situation.

Henry Bérenger, former French Ambassador to the United States, issued an article today for publication in many provincial newspapers which he entitles, "First of All, Let Us Have Security." M. Bérenger demands a policy of firmness toward both Italy and Germany.

ROME, July 11 (AP).—Doubt was expressed in some circles today that France, in announcing that no new naval vessels would be begun within the next six months, has gone far enough to match Italian offers of indefinite suspension of the 1930 building program. It was commented that the six months' suspension of commencement of new activity would improve Franco-Italian relations but would hardly solve their naval difficulties, particularly the Italian contention for parity.

BERLIN, July 11 (AP).—Rumors originating in Rome that Italy had unofficially approached Germany for pledges of neutrality in case of a Franco-Italian war were officially denied tonight in government circles.

NEW POST PLANNED WHEN HUSTON QUITS

Republicans Are Likely to Name a Chairman for Executive Committee, Choosing R. H. Lucas.

WOULD SHARE MANAGEMENT

Capital Looks Upon Fess as Temporary Successor to Huston as Head of Committee.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Enough information leaked out today as to what happened at yesterday's secret session of officers of the Republican National Committee and other leading men of the party to justify the assertion that satisfactory assurances were given by Claudius H. Huston that he would retire from the committee's chairmanship after the adjournment of the Senate.

All the indications today were that Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio would succeed Mr. Huston for the duration of this year's Senatorial and Congressional political campaign at least. The tentative choice of Senator Fess may be subject to modification, but in Republican circles tonight the indications are that he will consent to serve for a temporary period.

Lucas Slated for New Post.

Robert H. Lucas of Kentucky is likely to be elected chairman of the National Committee's executive committee, a new office in the sense that it would be separate from the National Committee chairmanship. Up to this time the chairman of the national committee has been chairman of the executive committee.

In creating the separate office the Republicans would be following the organization methods of the Democratic National Committee.

Mr. Lucas is the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and his acceptance would compel his resignation from the government service.

In coming to an agreement with those who attended the meeting yesterday that he retire from the chairmanship, Mr. Huston stipulated that he should do so on his own terms, and those who were seeking to oust him were compelled to accept those terms.

The stipulations were, first, that Mr. Huston should sever his connection with the National Committee in his own way; second, that no announcement of his intention to retire would be made until after the adjournment of the Senate, and that the announcement must come from Mr. Huston; third, that all those concerned should bind themselves to absolute secrecy as to their agreement, leaving the chairman free to say what he pleased to the public.

The manner in which Mr. Huston will stage his retirement is not disclosed. Determination as to what that manner shall be was left to him. It may be that he will choose to call a meeting of the National Committee or its executive committee for the purpose of making a formal statement of his retirement.

Attack by Huston Forecast.

There were reports today that when Mr. Huston stepped out he would make a public declaration which would embody an attack on two officers of the National Committee, James R. Nutt of Cleveland, the treasurer, and James Francis Burke of Pittsburgh, the general counsel.

With these reports went the suggestion that Mr. Huston would insist that his retirement from the chairmanship should be coincident with the retirement of Mr. Nutt and Mr. Burke from any connection with the national committee.

Rumors that the two sessions of the committee's officers held yesterday under Mr. Huston's chairmanship were marked by acrimonious exchanges between Mr. Huston and some of those present were declared today to be unfounded. The discussion was on an amicable plane and nothing occurred to make it appear that there was any hard feeling toward the chairman or by him toward those who were seeking to have him retire. From all accounts, Mr. Huston dominated the meeting and outmanoeuvred his critics in their evident desire to force him to submit his resignation without delay.

The gentleman's agreement between the chairman and those with whom he conferred seems to have been reached outside the room in which the meeting took place behind closed doors. When the committee's officers and the others who took part in the meeting assembled for their second session of the day at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the rather colorless and somewhat cryptic statement which Mr. Huston later gave to the press was already in course of preparation.

The issuance of this statement by Mr. Huston was in accordance with the agreement reached that he should be the sole medium of making known what took place at the meeting.

Hostile Meeting Is Recalled.

Mr. Nutt and Mr. Burke apparently are regarded by Chairman Huston as foremost in the protracted effort to force him to sever his connection with the committee. From the inception of the movement against Mr. Huston, Mr. Burke, who is a close friend of President Hoover, has been insistent that for the good of the party the chairman's retirement was imperative.

It was recalled today that more than two months ago Mr. Burke, in the presence of Mr. Huston, had voiced views hostile to the latter. This occasion was an informal meeting held at the Willard Hotel in Washington on April 26, a gathering brought about because several members of the executive committee were here to attend the annual dinner of the Gridiron Club. Those present numbered sixteen and included several Republican Senators.

Every person present, with the exception of David W. Mulvane, National Committeeman from Kansas, told Mr. Huston to his face that there was only one answer to the situation created by revelations before the Senate lobby committee concerning Mr. Huston's alleged lobbying activities. For the party's good, the chairman was told, he should resign.

Mr. Mulvane contended that the situation did not require such drastic action. Some of those present, including Senator Watson, were close personal friends of Mr. Huston, but they agreed with the general sentiment expressed.

Saw Difficulty in Getting Funds.

Mr. Nutt made the point that in view of the disclosures before the Senate lobby committee, it would be difficult to obtain funds for financing this year's Congressional campaign if Mr. Huston remained. Mr. Burke delivered an impassioned speech, directed pointedly against Mr. Huston's continuance in office.

Through all this Mr. Huston sat without any sign of being perturbed. When the last man had spoken, he rose and said something like this:

"Gentlemen, I have listened to all you have had to say with a great deal of interest—but I do not intend to resign."

One of those present, in describing the scene today, said that when he and the others walked out of the hotel room, "I felt like a fool."

Since then, in spite of a tremendous drive on the part of an overwhelming majority of the party's leaders to force him out of the chairmanship, Mr. Huston has persistently refused to budge.

It has been obvious through all that time that President Hoover was thoroughly in sympathy with the efforts to have Mr. Huston give up the chairmanship, but this knowledge did not succeed in moving him one iota. His original attitude was that he would not resign unless directly asked to do so by the President. Later on there were indications that even the President's desire would not move Mr. Huston to retire. Only a majority of the national committee could force him out, he was credited with contending.

Hoover Made No Request.

On last Sunday night, when Mr. Huston called on President Hoover at the White House, for the first time in many weeks, the President did not personally express the wish that he should step down from the chairmanship.

Instead, the President told him of the practically unanimous opinion of men prominent in the party, including Republican Senators and Representatives generally, that it was essential for the party's welfare that Mr. Huston should give up his direction of the national organization. According to reliable information, the President's nearest approach to what Mr. Huston's critics desired him to say was that if he remained in the chairmanship the party's fortunes might be impaired.

Nothing has been disclosed to indicate what was said by Mr. Huston, but the impression prevails that he uttered nothing to indicate that he would be influenced by what the President told him. Up to the midnight before yesterday's meeting of the committee's officers, Mr. Huston was emphatic in declaring publicly that he did not intend to resign.

The Young Guard members of the Senate, who had been most active in the movement to get Mr. Huston out, were greatly disappointed over the mild course taken by President Hoover. They had expected that the President would make a direct and emphatic request for a resignation.

The failure of the President to make the request is probably explained by the fact that he was advised by some veteran Republican politicians, including critics as well as friends of Mr. Huston, that it would be a mistake to call for the resignation unless he, the President, was prepared to force the chairman out in the event that the latter declined to retire voluntarily.

The President, it was evident, was not willing to resort to such drastic procedure, and for that reason merely sketched to Mr. Huston the great pressure that was being brought to bear on him to have the command of party affairs in other hands.

President Holds Conferences.

There were conferences today at the White House between President Hoover and party leaders, including some of those who came to Washington for yesterday's meeting, and it was understood that these conferences had to do with the selection of a successor to Mr. Huston. Senator Fess was only one of those prominent in the party who were sounded out to ascertain whether they would be willing to step into Mr. Huston's shoes.

Although Senator Fess was reluctant to undertake the duties of chairman, even on a temporary basis, he is credited with having yielded to persuasive arguments that he should stand ready to become chairman until the close of the political campaign.

The virtual decision to have a separate chairman for the executive committee was based on the desire to relieve Senator Fess or whoever ultimately became chairman, of some of the burden of directing party affairs. With the adjournment of the Senate's special session, Mr. Fess will be free until December to devote himself to practical political management.

In all the consideration given by President Hoover and his party advisers toward finding some one to take Mr. Huston's place, there has been no intention of selecting a permanent chairman. Because of that, the reluctance of Senator Fess to serve beyond the Congressional campaign fits in with the plans of the party heads.

WOULD BAR DANZIGER FROM CHEESE BUSINESS

Court Holds Former 'Milk Czar's' Present Occupation Violates His Parole.

Judge Frank F. Adel, who is conducting a hearing in the Queens County Court in connection with the charge that Harry Danziger, ex-milk czar of this city, has broken his parole, declared yesterday that in his opinion Danziger should not be permitted to continue in the cheese business, in which he is now engaged. Danziger was arrested on a bench warrant Thursday afternoon on the charge that business methods he was pursuing in connection with his present position as a salesman for a cheese concern constitute a violation of the conditions of his parole.

Danziger is under a suspension of a sentence from three and one-half to five years in State's prison. The sentence was imposed and suspended by Judge Adel on March 23, 1928, after Danziger had pleaded guilty to a charge of bribery in connection with the disclosures made by the investigation into the handling and distribution of milk in Greater New York.

Two witnesses were called at yesterday's hearing, Herman Hahn of 544 Forest Avenue, Ridgewood, who conducts a cheese business, and Frank Dehn of 199 Ascan Avenue, Forest Hills, who has been financing his son, Arthur Dehn, in a plan to amalgamate several cheese companies. The issues hinged around what part, if any, Danziger played in negotiations by the Dehn interests to buy out the Hahn company.

After listening to testimony tending to show that Danziger, as an employe of the Dehn interests had approached a rival concern with the proposition of buying it out for his employers, Judge Adel said: "The court is firmly of the opinion that the conditions of probation in Danziger's case should be amended to include not only that Danziger should keep out of the milk business, but also the cheese business or any other business closely allied with the milk business."

100 HURT IN BOMBAY; POLICE ROUT PARADE

Sympathy Demonstration for Jailed Mutineers Seen as a Recruiting Move.

DEBATE LAGS IN ASSEMBLY

Party Leaders Show Apathy Toward Viceroy's Speech—European View Stated.

BLAST KILLS TRIBESMEN

Field Gun Used by Mahsuds Bursts During Attack on British Border Post—25 Believed Dead.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BOMBAY, July 11.—With the reported purpose of stimulating the recruiting of volunteers for the All-India Congress forces, the followers of Mahatma Gandhi engaged in a fight with the police here this afternoon in which about 100 persons were injured, twenty of them seriously. The clash was waged around the Esplanade Maidan, and for nearly six hours the city was in pandemonium.

Driving down Queens Road, your correspondent met a half-dozen congress ambulances being driven as if there were no time to lose in reaching the battlefield. The police charged hard with staves and heavy whips.

The trouble broke out when the Bombay congress committee defied orders banning processions to express sympathy with the men of a Garwahl regiment who recently were court-martialed. Gandhi's "national militia" were ordered by the congress committee to assemble on the Esplanade Maidan. They persisted in this attempt, despite the police prohibition and some display of force.

Crowds, excited by sympathizers, hampered the police, who nevertheless succeeded in preventing four or five large processions from reaching their objective. It was not necessary, however, to call on two companies of British troops being held in reserve at Victoria terminus, where Major Gen. Weir, commanding the Bombay district, with his headquarters staff, watched the events. One eyewitness declared the volunteers flopped down on the ground immediately when the charging police came within striking distance.

At a late hour the police formed a cordon outside Victoria terminus, and there was a dense crowd in the roads leading thereto. Traffic was practically at a standstill. As every Indian driver blows his horn unceasingly when held up by traffic, the din was terrific.

In consequence of yesterday's panic in the share bazaar the directors of the Bombay Stock Exchange prohibited all forward business. The chairman of the Exchange attributed the heavy drop in share values to the political uncertainty, bad trade and, above all, disappointment in congress circles at the Viceroy's statement.

Professor Swaminarayan, Vice President of the Ahmedabad municipality, has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment for inciting farmers in the Gujarat not to pay land revenue. The President of the Ahmedabad municipality already was in jail.

Assembly Debate Lags.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SIMLA, July 11.—The debate in the Assembly on the Viceroy's address proceeded today before almost empty benches. The party leaders, who were deep in negotiations behind the scenes, preferred to sit back and listen. Not a single Indian of real influence spoke. Therefore, what promised to be a full dress review of the present situation became something rather in the nature of a fatigue parade instead.

The speakers wandered so far from the field that the President exercised his special powers and limited the speeches to fifteen minutes each. He gave Sir Hugh Cocke of the European group an opportunity to define the group's position. On behalf of the European group, Sir Hugh said he could declare there are no die-hards among the European community today. "Our purpose," he said, "is to help the Indians to get a stable Constitution for India. If there is any hope of an agreement at the round-table conference, the European members will not fail to do their best to achieve it. The die-hards in England are not going to dictate to India."

The situation in the Northwest Frontier continues unsettled. In Wazirstan the hostile Mahsud force has been dispersed from the region of Sarorogha, near Razmak, after suffering heavy casualties as a result of airplane bombing. Two wounded were reported as the British casualties.

The Mahsuds, however, succeeded in burning four Jhassar posts before retiring.

There is a disturbing report that a fresh force of Mohmands, about 1,000 strong, has occupied the cave area where Badshah Gul, the eldest son of the Haji of Turangzi, dug himself in for so long. This is near Matta Post, in the Shabkadar area, and within twenty miles of Peshawar.

Gunburst Kills Tribesmen.

PESHAWAR, July 11 (AP).—Several Mahsuds [hostile Afghan tribesmen] were killed last night when a field gun belonging to a lashkar [column] of the tribesmen burst during a bombardment of the frontier scout posts near Sararogha.

The lashkar subsequently left the Sararogha, some of the tribesmen dispersing, while others engaged in random attacks on the scouts. It is believed the tribesmen suffered about twenty-five casualties.

Convict, 71, Doomed Since 1908, Expects to Die a Natural Death

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., July 11.—For twenty-two years Archibald Herron has been under sentence of death in the New Jersey State prison here and now at the age of 71 he contentedly expects to remain so until he dies a natural death.

Herron, who was convicted of the murder of the Rev. Samuel B. D. Drickett in Metuchen in the Summer of 1908, was twice saved from death by last-minute reprieves. Acting on reports that he had become insane in prison, Supreme Court Justice Bergen on June 2, 1909, ordered that the execution be delayed pending further orders.

No decision was ever reached on Herron's sanity and Justice Bergen died in 1923 without issuing the "further orders." The aged convict is only too happy to allow the case to rest as it is, prison attachés say.

LOCOMOTIVE KILLS GIRL.

Commuter Said to Have Run in Front of Train at Ocean City.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 11.—Struck by the locomotive of a Reading Railroad express at the Ocean City station this morning, Violet Snyder, 23 years old, of 6,347 Ross Street, Philadelphia, received injuries which caused her death an hour later in the Atlantic City Hospital.

Miss Snyder, who was assistant statistician for the Pennsylvania Compensation and Inspection Bureau, Ledger Building, Philadelphia, commuted each day from the Summer home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Snyder, at 29 Bayview Place, Ocean City.

According to Joseph Wicks of 109 West Tenth Street, Ocean City, who witnessed the accident, the girl ran in front of an outbound train in order to be on the platform when it stopped. Wicks said the train threw her to the platform in the midst of a crowd of waiting passengers.

Dr. J. Thornley Hughes, coroner of Cape May County, and County Detective A. W. Higbee are investigating. In addition to her parents the girl is survived by a brother, Charles W. Snyder Jr., who also lives with his parents.

SEIZED FOR HOSE BEATING.

Bayonne Parents Accused of Mistreating Their Son.

Walter Grabowski, 49 years old, and his wife, Helen, of 33 East Seventeenth Street, Bayonne, N. J., were arrested there yesterday on a charge of violating the child welfare act by beating their son, Marion, with a rubber hose three feet long.

A butcher for whom the boy worked accused the parents of inflicting the injuries and exhibited in the Bayonne police court the welts and lacerations which the child had suffered. Mrs. Katherine Welcher, head of the City Welfare Department, also appeared in court. Marion is receiving medical care at the Hudson County Parental School. The parents were released in $1,000 bail each, to appear this morning before Recorder William J. Cain.

The boy said he was employed at $5 a week, that his parents had often beaten him and that four of his brothers, children of a former wife of his father, had left home because of the cruelty of their stepmother and father.

PENNSYLVANIA WETS TO BACK HEMPHILL

Will Place Democrat's Name on Liberal Ticket for Governor, J. R. Collins Asserts.

CONFERENCE WITH RASKOB

State Chairman, National Committeeman Kistler and Candidate Also Talk With Jouett Shouse.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—John M. Hemphill, Democratic nominee for Governor, is expected to enter the November election carrying the banner not only of his party but of the wets as well. After a series of conferences with national leaders in New York it was announced here tonight by John R. Collins, the Democratic State chairman, that there was no thought of having Mr. Hemphill retire in favor of some other person. He said he understood that the wet leaders were to place Mr. Hemphill's name on their ticket also.

"We are going to elect Mr. Hemphill," he declared, "on a straight wet and dry issue."

According to the understanding of the Democratic leaders, members of the Association against the Prohibition Amendment who have pre-empted the liberal party ticket have decided to place only one name, that of Mr. Hemphill, on their ticket.

Confer Here With Raskob.

Mr. Collins, Sedgwick Kistler, the National Committeeman, and Mr. Hemphill conferred in New York during the day with John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Jouett Shouse, in charge of the Washington headquarters. Mr. Collins said the meeting was concerned only with campaign plans covering the Pennsylvania Congressional districts. He announced that the State committee had recognized Thomas A. Logue as chairman of the Philadelphia city committee instead of John O'Donnell, who has been accused by the Logue faction for years of being a "Vare Democrat."

Robert Kelso Cassatt, head of the Pennsylvania division of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, and other leaders of this organization are expected to announce early next week their endosement of Mr. Hemphill for Governor on the Liberal party ticket.

Link Vare Men With Liberals.

Pinchot leaders are attempting to link leaders of the Republican organization in Philadelphia with the Liberal party movement. Letters sent out by William R. Douglas, secretary to William S. Vare and one of the aides of Francis Shunk Brown, the Vare Gubernatorial candidate in the primary, were construed as an indication that the Vare lieutenants were interested in the Liberal party and were planning to give battle to Mr. Pinchot, bone dry, in the November election even if he is given a clear title to the party nomination.

Mr. Douglas sent letters to active workers asking them to obtain signers to petitions pre-empting the Liberal party title. He defended this action as a favor to Wilbur Morse of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and said it was "purely for the good of the party in an effort to make sure Republicans will be elected at the November general election."

State Senator Samuel W. Salus, a member of the "Vare board," charged Mr. Pinchot with "selfishness" for his threat to pre-empt an independent party ticket for himself while he was nominally the Republican candidate at the general election.

The Supreme Court today set Aug. 8 as the new date for the hearing on the Luzerne County ballot perforation case, which will determine whether Mr. Pinchot or Mr. Brown is to go into the general election as the recognized Republican nominee.

Waives Printing of Record.

PITTSBURGH, July 11 (AP).—Justice Robert S. Frazer, acting chief justice of the State Supreme Court, in setting Aug. 8 for the hearing in the Luzerne ballot case today waived the printing of the record and ordered that the original typewritten transcripts might be presented in lieu thereof. He also ordered that briefs might also be prepared in the same manner, in order to allow attorneys for both sides time to present their case.

Originally the hearing was set for Sept. 29 at Pittsburgh, and counsel for Francis Shunk Brown, who is challenging the nomination of Gifford Pinchot as the Republican candidate, said at Philadelphia, when informed of the new date, that it would not give them time for printing of the records and legal briefs.

The stipulation by Justice Frazer that typewritten pages might be used apparently was unknown to Mr. Brown's counsel at Philadelphia. The justice, in talking to newspaper men, made it clear that attorneys handling the appeal would not need nearly so much time to work on their appeal by not having to wait for the printing of records and briefs.

Mr. Pinchot on the face of the official returns of the May primary won the nomination by 20,000. Brown challenged the result by questioning the legality of the ballots used in Luzerne County, which had given Mr. Pinchot a plurality of 26,000 over Mr. Brown. It was contended by the latter's lawyers that the ballots were invalidated and could not be counted because they had been mutilated by being perforated with a set of figures in order to detect counterfeits.

Hergesheimer and Huxley Books Under Irish Free State's Ban

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

DUBLIN, July 11.—Joseph Hergesheimer's novel "The Party Dress" and Aldous Huxley's new collection of stories, "Brief Candles," are the latest additions to the list of eighteen books already banned from the Irish Free State on the advice of the Censorship Board. Tonight's Dublin Gazette, announcing the prohibition of the two books, gives the reason that "in the board's opinion they are indecent in general tendency."

"Brief Candles" is the second of Huxley's books to be banned from the Free State. His novel "Point Counterpoint" was first on the list of forbidden books after the censorship law came into force.

DEPLORES EASY DIVORCES.

Dr. Parker Tells Friends' Conference That Children Suffer.

Special to The New York Times.

CAPE MAY, N. J., July 11.—Citing statistics to show that there were one-sixth as many divorces every year as there were marriages, Dr. Valeria H. Parker of the American Social Hygiene Association in an address here today before the Friends' General Conference condemned companionate marriages, easy divorces and the marriage of persons with different religious beliefs. The large percentage of divorces, she contended, "not only cripples the idealisms of the separated persons but is a definite hindrance to, and makes a lasting impression on, their children. Family life for the child, which is fundamentally essential, is disrupted."

The conference, with special addresses twice daily and discussion groups between the general meetings, will continue until Monday.

Criticism of the tactics of politicians and the opposition of the National Association of Manufacturers to the provisions of the Wagner bill when it was brought before the House of Representatives for action was made by Dr. Paul H. Douglas, Professor of Economics at the University of Chicago.

Dr. Douglas was discussing unemployment and possible remedies for present conditions when he made his criticism.

"The partial postponement of public works and the accumulation of a prosperity reserve would help," Dr. Douglas said, "but it would be difficult to get politicians to postpone public works from periods of prosperity when they are in office to times of depression, when they may not be."

Heat and Insects Torment Lisbon.

SEVENTY-TWO DIE IN MID-WEST HEAT

today, but Southern Alabama continued hot with 104 in both Mobile and Montgomery. Macon, Ga., was only a degree behind and it was 102 in Augusta, Ga., and Memphis, Tenn., and 100 in Birmingham.

There were no deaths from heat and only one prostration was reported, but five fatalities were traced to the weather. Three persons drowned in Trafford, Ala., and one in Alexander City, Ala., and a farmer was killed by lightning in Dawson, Ga. The prostration was in Macon.

In addition to the blazing temperatures the elements loosened a hailstorm which laid low crops in a fifteen-square-mile area in Cumberland County, N. C. Near Duson, La., two children were killed and a girl was blinded by lightning, while two Negroes were killed and six others injured when lightning ignited a charge of dynamite at Lewisburg, Tenn. A windstorm swept Nashville, Tenn., felling trees.

Path of Heat Wave Is Traced.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—North and northwest winds, coming down from Canada and the lake regions, will bring no relief to the central valley and plains which, from the Rockies to the upper Mississippi and lower Ohio Valley and from Montana to the Gulf, are suffering from a heat wave more oppressive than any recorded since 1901, Weather Bureau officials said tonight.

Starting west of the Rockies, where on July 1 temperatures several degrees above normal were reported in Nevada and Utah, the heat wave has moved steadily north, spreading eastward and southward until July 5. Since then, according to the Weather Bureau, there has been no very rapid spread, but gradually hotter weather in the areas east of the Rockies.

STORMS SWEEP UTAH.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 11 (AP).—Rivers of mud, silt and boulders swept from the Wasatch Mountain canyons by one of the most destructive rains in the history of Utah covered the streets of the State's principal cities and many acres of farm land today.

The storm area extended from the Idaho-Utah line 150 miles southward. Five cloudbursts washed out railroad tracks, flooded towns and covered highways in many places under twelve feet of mud.

The main line of the Union Pacific was blocked at Devil's Gate in Weber Canyon by a mound of boulders thirty-five feet high and 300 feet long. Railroad officials anticipate that a week will be required to clear the track.

Unofficial estimates shortly after the downpour placed the damage at $1,000,000.

JERSEY STORM HITS FRUIT.

High Wind Spreads Damage in Camden County—Roofs Blown Off.

Special to The New York Times.

HAMMONTON, N. J., July 11.—A severe electrical and windstorm swept over the southern part of Camden County tonight, causing considerable damage to the growing fruit crop, unroofing buildings and halting traffic on the White Horse Pike until State Troopers could clear the highway of telephone wires blown down by the storm.

At Dunbarton the roof of the State highway department's garage was blown off. No injuries have been reported as yet.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 11.—Hailstones larger than marbles fell here tonight during a severe electric storm, pelting pedestrians, who scurried for cover in all directions.

The thunder and lightning continued for about an hour, accompanied at times by hail and the balance of the time by downpour of rain. In nineteen minutes eighty-nine hundredths of an inch of water fell and streets were flooded.

Traffic was almost at a standstill during the height of the storm.

Special to The New York Times.

BRIDGEHAMPTON, L. I., July 11.—Hailstones as large in diameter as 25-cent pieces fell here for ten minutes tonight following a severe electrical storm. It caused little damage.

The thunderstorm started about 7 P. M. and lasted for about an hour. At 8 P. M. the hailstones took the place of rain.

Heat Wave Unlikely to Reach Here.

The present wave of unusually high temperatures, which is spreading generally over the Mississippi Valley area, was described yesterday by Dr. James H. Kimball of the local Weather Bureau as the usual climactic condition of accumulative temperatures which affects the inland States during long periods of cloudlessness with no barometric variations.

"The present condition in the Middle West is not unusual," said Dr. Kimball, "and is brought about by a succession of cloudless days, when the sun beats down incessantly upon large areas of dry land, with little radiation from the earth at night. The result is that the temperatures, which at first are not particularly high, accumulate through each day of burning sunlight and the earth, heated during the day, does not give off its heat at night. Thus, the temperatures in the morning are only a degree or so lower than they were the night before at sunset.

"The condition is provoked by an unusually dry atmosphere, which contains no moisture to absorb the heat, and a complete lack of wind," he continued. "The type of weather is consequently unknown to the seaboard States and this locality in particular, in that our proximity to the sea assures moisture in the air."

In contrast to the heat wave being experienced in other parts of the country, New York experienced a two-degree subnormal mean temperature yesterday, with moderate southwest winds which offered relief from the heat of previous days. The highest temperature of the day was at 7 P. M. when the thermometer touched 80 degrees, and the lowest was at 6 A. M. when the mark was 64. The mean for the day was 72.

Thunder showers were forecast for today, with clearing weather at night. No appreciable rise in the temperature is anticipated for the immediate future.

STATES GAINED MORE IN RECENT DECADE

Increase of 26 With District of Columbia Exceeds Ratio of Previous Period.

SOUTHERN RANK IN DOUBT

Tennessee May Take Place of Alabama as Fifteenth in List and Fourth in South.

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP).—With twenty-six States and the District of Columbia tabulated in the 1930 census the population increase of this group has climbed 16.7 per cent as compared with 14.9 for the whole country in 1920 and 21 per cent for the 1900-1910 decade.

The States thus far completed represent less than half of the country's total population. The total population of the States is 54,691,105, an increase of 7,829,142 in the ten years. The largest increase has been made in California with a growth of 64.6 per cent. The second largest increase in Michigan, where it was 31.3 per cent. Both of these States have passed Massachusetts in rank.

There have been several other changes in the rank of the States. Tennessee has passed Kentucky, Minnesota and Iowa. Minnesota has passed Iowa. Rhode Island has passed North Dakota and the District of Columbia has gone above New Hampshire.

The population of the States thus far compiled by The Associated Press from the official preliminary returns of the supervisors, with their percentage of increase and their rank in 1920, is as follows:

State.	1930 Population.	Increase.	1920 Rank.
Illinois	7,630,283	17.6	3d
California	5,642,282	64.6	8th
Michigan	4,818,371	31.3	7th
Massachusetts	4,361,972	13.3	6th
Indiana	3,227,522	10.1	11th
Wisconsin	3,000,388	14.0	13th
Tennessee	2,609,637	11.1	19th
Kentucky	2,603,031	7.7	15th
Minnesota	2,558,265	7.2	17th
Iowa	2,468,747	2.6	16th
Kansas	1,882,518	6.4	24th
Arkansas	1,852,088	5.7	25th
West Virginia	1,729,287	11.3	27th
Connecticut	1,557,540	14.7	30th
Nebraska	1,386,619	6.9	31st
Colorado	1,033,156	9.9	33d
Maine	799,662	4.1	35th
Rhode Island	685,017	13.3	38th
North Dakota	681,273	5.3	36th
Utah	502,640	11.8	40th
Dist. of Columbia	485,716	11.0	42d
New Hampshire	463,746	4.7	41st
New Mexico	418,932	16.2	44th
Vermont	359,183	1.9	45th
Delaware	236,858	6.2	47th
Nevada	90,559	16.9	48th

As a result of its 271,752 increase in population, bringing the total to 2,609,637, Tennessee may take rank as the fifteenth State of the Union unless Alabama, which at the last census was larger by slightly more than 10,000 persons, maintains this lead. Alabama has not yet reported.

If Alabama retains its lead, Tennessee will be exceeded only by Texas, Georgia and North Carolina among Southern States. Increases in the cities, however, indicate that Alabama may rank as the fifteenth State and fourth most populous of the South, in which case Tennessee would rank sixteenth and fifth, respectively.

BOISE, Idaho, July 11 (AP).—With only Valley County missing, the population of Idaho stood today at 433,872, or about 2,000 greater than the State's population ten years ago.

Other census figures given by The Associated Press yesterday were:

Schenectady, N. Y.—95,656; increase 6,933, or 7.8 per cent.
Salem, Ohio—10,607; increase 302, or 2.9 per cent.
Pottsville, Pa.—24,276; increase 2,400, or 11 per cent.

PRAGUE, July 11 (AP).—More than 100 American medical men arrived here today for a brief visit to the hospitals and other medical institutions of the city. They are engaged in a study tour of European countries.

what he termed the board's "masterly policy of inactivity."

At Dodge City, Kan., Chairman Legge is reported to have said:

"The biggest hog will always lie in the trough. Kansas is now in the trough."

Governor Reed's spirited retort was that the Farm Board's policy was "the gospel of despair," and added:

"If any one is to reduce production to domestic demand, why not the manufacturer of agricultural implements?"

Reports from Kansas state that Chairman Legge also told the farmers that the board does not intend to buy any more wheat. He explained that the board already is spending a large sum of money to carry over 60,000,000 bushels of the 1929 surplus. He told the farmers to "sit tight," and if they did so, the market would improve.

Secretary Hyde has been telling the Southwestern farmers flatly that they had the choice of cutting production or continuing to suffer.

The refusal to purchase wheat or cotton through stabilization corporations in connection with the 1930 crop marks a reversal of the board's policy of last year. Prior to the last meeting in Washington of the United States Chamber of Commerce, the board had undertaken to stabilize the wheat price situation by buying large quantities, setting a loan value considerably above the market price.

Demand Legge's Resignation.

Special to The New York Times.

WICHITA, Kan., July 11.—Max M. and Louis Levand, joint publishers of The Wichita Daily Beacon, of which Senator Henry J. Allen was former publisher, today entered the wheat acreage reduction controversy by calling upon Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, for his resignation and an apology to Kansas.

They made public two telegrams which they said had been sent to Mr. Legge and to President Hoover. The message addressed to the President was in these words:

"Alexander Legge, chairman of Farm Board, in his speech Thursday at Dodge City, made statement that 'biggest hog will always lie in trough. Kansas is now in the trough.' This is insult to 1,850,000 people, and we ask apology from Mr. Legge, and, since he says he has done all he can do to help farmer, we ask his resignation. Please be kind enough to reply to this telegram, as people of State of Kansas are awaiting answer."

In a similar telegram to Mr. Legge this sentence appears:

"Since you say you are through and the best you can do is to advise farmers of Kansas to 'sit tight,' we ask you to resign."

Legge Makes Forcible Reply.

AMARILLO, Texas, July 11 (AP).—Alexander Legge replied in picturesque fashion to the telegraphic request for his resignation, sent him today by Max M. and Louis Levand of The Wichita Beacon.

"You may present my compliments to Max and Louis and please tell them that I said they can go to hell," the chairman said to newspaper men after an address here today.

"The expression I used is one farmers understand," Mr. Legge explained. "I said 'The biggest hog will always lie in the trough.' Kansas is the largest wheat producing State, and I'm sure my listeners got the idea I was conveying that Governor Reed is putting Kansas in that position."

"A candidate tells his listeners what they like to hear," Legge went on, "but not being in politics, I told the Dodge City meeting the truth. The Governor was just a little unfair in trying to turn a discussion of strictly economic problems into a political meeting.

"I can't say I was wholly faultless in peeving Governor Reed a little, but I couldn't let him get away with that. I thought I had been quite conservative. There is never going to be any relief to this problem through petty politics."

At the meeting here today, one of a series arranged by Secretary Hyde and Chairman Legge to urge the wheat farmers to organize and plant less acreage, several speakers opposed the acreage reduction proposals so far as Texas is concerned.

Expressing the theory that the Panhandle territory was one of "limited opportunity" so far as crops are concerned, C. A. Bonner, economist of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, said it was "difficult to become enthusiastic" over a very large shift in this section's crop acreages.

The acreage reduction program also was scored by O. M. Martin, director of extension for Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College.

HOOVER'S TRIP WEST HINGES ON SENATE

Denial Is Made That President Might Abandon Journey Because of the Grain Slump.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—While it was pointed out that President Hoover's plans for a vacation trip to the West still depend, as originally, upon the time the Senate adjourns, reports that the President has abandoned his Western trip because of the grain price situation and the reaction of farmers to the appeals of Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde on the farm situation were denied tonight on good authority.

That Congress remained in session a month longer than had been expected, and that the Senate now promises to take considerable time in considering the London Naval Treaty, were admitted as factors that make the prospect of the Presidential trip less certain than when his intentions to take a rest in the national parks of the West were first announced, but it was stated that the actual decision has yet to be reached.

Close associates of the President said he needed a rest and should get away from the capital for a change of climate. They said, however, that, should the Senate remain in session well into the Summer, there might be too little time for the President to make any distant trip because he will need to be here in September when the government departments are preparing their annual reports and the program will be shaping up for the Winter session of Congress.

It was admitted that should the President be required to make many speeches on a vacation trip in explanation of his policies there would be little rest for him.

From this standpoint, the grain price situation, the farm relief policies of the administration, the tariff and similar subjects might be considered in a decision as to a swing around the circle, even on a vacation trip, but it was emphasized that more immediate questions, such as the time the President would have for an outing in the Far West, would be the determining factors.

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP).—President Hoover decided suddenly late today to spend the week-end at his lodge on the headwaters of the Rapidan. Learning that the Senate had adjourned until Monday, the President immediately decided to leave early tomorrow and return Sunday.

ANTI-SEMITE AGAIN ACTIVE.

Danila Said to Have Led Attack on Banks in Rumania Yesterday.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BUCHAREST, July 11.—Yesterday's disorders at Szuchzawa, where, according to a government communiqué, 1,000 farmers demonstrated against alleged usury by bankers, now turns out to have been headed by the notorious anti-Semitic agitator, Danila.

Despite a prohibition by the authorities, Danila organized a mass meeting of 2,000 farmers and led them in an attack on the houses and banks occupied by Jews. Many premises were destroyed and several Jews were injured.

Rumanian Jews blame the passiveness of the police for the trouble and demand more energetic measures of suppression.

TO COMMAND THE SARATOGA.

Captain McCrary, San Diego Station Chief, Succeeds Captain Horne.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Captain Frank R. McCrary, commander of the naval air station at San Diego, today was ordered to the command of the aircraft carrier Saratoga, flagship of the aircraft squadrons of the Battle Fleet, succeeding Captain Frederick C. Horne, who is to become commander of the aircraft squadrons of the Scouting Fleet.

Captain McCrary was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1901. In 1922 he was put in command of the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J., and when the dirigible Shenandoah was commissioned was given command of it until February, 1924. He went to his present station in 1927.

REALTORS ASSAIL STATE LAND TAXES

Toronto Meeting Resolution Complains of "Burden"—Asks Change in Capital Gains Rule.

OVER-SUBDIVISION IS HIT

Committee Named to Get Population Data—Plan for Town Aid to Industry Praised.

Special to The New York Times.

TORONTO, July 11.—Two interesting investigations were begun and two important demands were made upon State and Federal Governments for reforms in property taxation by the National Association of Real Estate Boards convention at its closing session here today.

The industrial property division instituted a special study of the community financing of industries, as successfully operated in Baltimore, and the home-builders and subdividers' division decided to appoint a committee to conduct research with a view to holding off the allegedly prevalent oversubdividing of American cities.

The convention adopted one resolution asking that the State property tax be abolished in the various States and another requesting that the Federal revenue provision as to capital gains be changed so that the rate would be reduced to half the present 12½ per cent.

Community Financing Popular.

The idea of community financing of industries struck a popular chord with the thousand odd American and Canadian realtors and all eager to encourage and facilitate the entry of new industries into their communities.

It involves the creation of a civic fund from which the municipality concerned helps in the initial financing of a projected new industry of accepted standards and prospects.

The action taken by the home builders and subdividers' division to check up on subdividing activities in relation to population and prospects in American centres is hailed as the first concrete action to correct oversubdividing, which, some realtors admit, is bad for their own business as well as for land purchasers and home-builders.

The chairman of the division will appoint a committee to make surveys in American cities and collect population and prospective population growth data in the amount of subdivided land in each city at present unutilized, and the probability of such lands being absorbed into use.

Property Tax Called Inequitable.

The preamble to the resolution asking the abolition of the general property tax declares the financial burden of State and local governments through the United States to fall primarily upon property "and mainly upon real estate"; declares the tax, irrespective of the type of administration system under which it operates, is inequitable as between territorial jurisdictions, between types of properties and between individuals.

The resolution urges the abondonment of the tax as a major source of revenue for State and local governments and the substitution therefore of a revenue source which will have the support of all interested in equitable taxation.

The resolution urges the abandonapproves the proposal of its general counsel that the rate be applied to capital gains and capital losses should be kept separate and distinct from the rates to be applied to ordinary incomes.

It also approves the proposal that the rate on capital assets, both as to gains and losses, should decrease as the number of years the capital assets are held increases, until the fifteenth year, after which there should be no capital gain tax and capital losses should be deductible.

The nomination committee's report on 1931 officers was confirmed and Harry S. Kissel of Springfield, Ohio, the new president, made a speech of appreciation.

CHICAGO HAILS BYRD; HE LAUDS ITS SONS

Cheering Crowds Jam Sidewalks and Shower Confetti as Party Parades in Loop.

HONOR PAID TO THORNE

Admiral Says Much of Glory for Mountain Discovery Is Rightfully His.

RETICENT ON NEW PLANS

Explorer Declares He Has Much Work to Do—Will Fly to St. Louis Today.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Chicago today gave a roaring welcome to Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and a group of men who took part with him in the conquest of the bottom of the world.

In warmth and enthusiasm Byrd's reception has never been equaled in Chicago. Wherever he passed in the street he was cheered wildly. Crowds jammed sidewalks and pushed out into the street, shouting and whistling. Ticker tape and confetti rained down from tall buildings as his welcoming parade moved slowly through the Loop.

Here and there crowds bulged through police lines and spilled out along the line of parade. Shop girls pushed one another to reach the smiling, handsome figure in white uniform and gold braid who bowed graciously to the struggling crowd and waved to hundreds who leaned precariously from office windows.

But Byrd did not come as a conquering hero, although Chicago accepted him as such. He came, and he makes this clear in all his utterances, to do honor to the Chicago men who spent two years with him in Little America, who helped make new discoveries for science and a new empire to the world.

Praises Chicago Aides.

At the Press Club luncheon, where he was a guest, he asked the privilege of introducing the Chicago members of his expedition. His first words were:

"I am here as the representative of my men. They share the honors equally with me.

"They are a splendid bunch, the Chicago men who were with us," said Admiral Byrd. "I say that very sincerely. And they were able men, but I found that on an expedition of this sort that character and loyalty are qualities far more important than ability, and the Chicago men were rich in these qualities.

"One of my principal reasons for coming here today was to join in paying them honor."

The explorer then introduced George Thorne, C. O. Petersen, Captain Alton Parker, Lloyd Grenlie and Arthur Berlin.

George Thorne was chief surveyor and driver of the dog teams on the 1,500-mile trip to make a geological survey and establish the emergency base 300 miles from the Pole on the polar flight.

Describes Thorne's Dog Trip.

Of this trip Admiral Byrd said:

"It was the longest overland dog trip ever made for pure science. While it established the emergency flying base, the main purpose was geological. The party discovered a previously unknown mountain range and surveyed 167 square miles of territory. A large part of the glory belongs to Thorne.

"Then there was Lloyd Grenlie, who was a radio operator with me on the North Pole flight, and he did so well that I wanted him with me in Antarctica. His work was excellent.

"Captain Parker was a resident of Chicago before he left. He is another who was with me at the North Pole. He was the pilot of the plane when the discovery was made of new Antarctic land, the land we have claimed for the United States."

He had more words of praise for C. O. Petersen, also a radio engineer, and for Arthur Berlin, another Chicago man, who, he said, was the youngest member of the expedition. "He, of all my men, exemplified the spirit of sportsmanship which we valued so highly," he said of Berlin.

Found "Land of Silent Death."

Admiral Byrd congratulated the Hunter boys, who recently set a new airplane endurance record, and the directors of the national air races, which will be held here in August.

"I believe that the races this year will bring the greatest exhibition of aeronautics in the history of the world."

The conqueror of both Poles told briefly of the difference between the Arctic and the Antarctic. The North Polar regions, he said, abounded in wild animal life, whereas no animal life was to be found in the Antarctic. The bottom of the world, he said, was some twenty-five degrees cooler than the Arctic.

He called the Antarctic the land of silent death and observed:

"It's silent, probably because no woman has ever been there."

And he added:

"I forgot there are 20,000,000 people listening in on this occasion. I'm probably 'in bad' now with 10,000,000 of my audience. I might say that the Antarctic is also the loneliest land in the world, and this is due, no doubt, to the fact that there are no women there."

Reticent on New Expedition.

During the day Admiral Byrd disclosed that he is planning another expedition, but where and when it will take place he would not say.

"I do plan another expedition, but I shouldn't mention it at this time. There is still too much work to be done on the last one. For one thing, we came out of it with a $100,000 deficit and I have scientific data to compile and books to write.

"And there are thirty men who must be brought back into their normal place in society again."

Admiral Byrd and his party arrived at the Union Station at 10 o'clock this morning and were met by a group from the Press Club, headed by Al Dunlap, its president. Others who greeted them were Rufus C. Dawes, president of the Century of Progress Exposition; Colonel Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce; Rear Admiral Walter S. Crossley, Commandant of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, and Major Reed G. Landis of the National Air Races Committee.

Included in Byrd's party were Bernt Balchen, Charles Lofgren, Ensign Thomas Mulroy, Captain Ashley McKinley and Mrs. McKinley, and the Chicago members of the expedition.

Slips Out for Quiet Walk.

The visitors were taken to a hotel, where at noon a thirteen-gun Admiral's salute was fired, signaling the start of the parade. Led by the Chicago Police Band, the parade proceeded down Jackson Boulevard, while airplanes roared overhead. Making up the colorful parade were mounted police, sailors from the Great Lakes, the Great Lakes Naval Band and companies of American Legion marchers.

As the parade passed the Board of Trade Building, bugles sounded a flourish. Ticker tape and waste paper piled up several inches deep in places along La Salle Street where the parade passed.

It continued on to Washington Street and turned into the entrance of the Press Club at 30 North Dearborn Street.

During the afternoon Admiral Byrd rested, while several comrades went to the races at Arlington. Late in the afternoon Admiral Byrd changed into civilian clothes, slipped out of the hotel unnoticed and walked in the street.

Tonight 1,500 Chicago notables entertained the explorer and his party at a banquet.

Tomorrow morning at 7:30 he is to leave Chicago by plane for St. Louis.

BROTHERS ARE RIVALS IN BAY STATE PRIMARY

Washington Cook Assails Kin as 'Incompetent' and Having Been State Auditor Long Enough.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., July 11.—Brother will campaign against brother for the nomination to the office of State Auditor in the State elections next Fall, it was revealed today, with the announcement by Washington Cook of Boston that he will be a candidate against Alonzo B. Cook, his brother, against whom he issued an unusual tirade.

"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Auditor," Mr. Cook said. "The present incumbent has held that office now for almost sixteen years, which should be a sufficiently long time for any man.

"The framers of the Constitution never intended that any office should be monopolized by any individual, although the present Auditor would like to have it so.

"He receives a salary of $6,000 per year (not so bad) and in return for this money I would like to be informed what the State has received.

"He is away from his office a large part of the time, and even when he is there you can't reach him without running the gauntlet of one or two clerks.

"It is more difficult to reach the present State Auditor of Massachusetts than it is to interview the President of the United States. He is incompetent and certainly not an ornament to the office."

Continuing the statement, Washington Cook discussed his brother's domestic life and made a number of charges, which he said he will enlarge upon when he enters the campaign.

The entry of Washington Cook in the contest for State Auditor is the biggest surprise of the primary campaign, and brings about one of the strangest situations ever developed in Massachusetts politics.

Alonzo Cook, the Auditor, refused laughingly to let reporters read his brother's statement to him and declined to comment. Alonzo Cook's administration has frequently been assailed but he has always been successful at the polls.

DEMOCRATS PICK WALD TO FIGHT HOFSTADTER

Leaders Designate Lawyer for Race to Unseat City's Sole Republican State Senator.

Albert Wald, a lawyer with offices at 276 Fifth Avenue and a residence at 68 East Eighty-sixth Street, has been selected as the Democratic designee for the nomination for State Senator from the Seventeenth District, Frank L. Briarly, Tammany leader of the Fifteenth Assembly District, announced yesterday.

The incumbent is Samuel H. Hofstadter, a Republican, who, with an enviable record in the Legislature, will be a candidate for re-election this Autumn. Senator Hofstadter is the only Republican member of the upper house from the city of New York and Tammany is preparing to make a special drive to defeat him in the coming campaign. Mr. Hofstadter was preceded in the Senate by a Democrat.

The campaign against Mr. Hofstadter will, it is understood, centre in his failure to vote for a wine and beer bill which he regarded as unconstitutional.

Mr. Wald is popular in this district. He has never held public office.

BANKER ACCUSES VAUSE OF DUPLICITY

Swears Former Judge Sought $5,000 Profit From Own Aides in Bank Stock Deal.

STATE CHARGES UNDER FIRE

Accused Collapses When He Hears He Has Won Right to Inspect Grand Jury Minutes.

The prosecution in the Federal court trial of former County Judge W. Bernard Vause of Brooklyn offered evidence yesterday to show that Vause sought to make $5,000 for himself by inducing his associates in the defunct Columbia Finance Corporation to buy the Bank of the Rockaways. Vause and six others are being tried for mail fraud.

According to Edward E. McMahon Jr., then president of the Unity State Bank, the former judge arranged with him to get an option on 510 share of the Rockaway bank at $200 a share on the understanding that they would resell it and split the profits. Previous testimony has been given that Vause offered these shares to the Columbia company officials at $220 a share.

The Bank of the Rockaways, Mr. McMahon admitted, was not paying dividends on its stock at the time, and never had.

Good News Unnerves Vause.

The former judge heard this testimony with bowed head and impassive face. He had broken down completely two hours earlier when news of his first victory on a point in the State court proceedings was brought to him. This was a ruling by General Sessions Judge George L. Donnelian granting permission to Vause's attorney, Nathan D. Perlman, to inspect the minutes of the New York County grand jury which indicted the former judge for grand larceny in connection with the Columbia company failure.

When Mr. Perlman attempted to tell his client the "good news" Vause dully mumbled "Oh, what's the use." Then his head and shoulders drooped to the table beside him and he sobbed violently. The jury had just gone out for the noon recess.

Judge Donnellan's ruling, announced orally from the bench in General Sessions, paves the way for a motion to dismiss the county indictment. Mr. Perlman and Samuel K. Ellis, counsel for Louis Vause, brother of the former judge and another defendant, will make such a motion as soon as they have examined the minutes.

Mr. Ellis declared that the minutes would show that the three Columbia company officials who have pleaded guilty and become government witnesses in the Federal case changed their testimony before the county grand jury. This body had at first failed to indict the former judge and his brother.

Tells of Dicker for Bank.

The negotiations for the Bank of the Rockaways, Mr. McMahon testified, followed a visit he made at the former judge's request to Vause's chambers. There Vause, he said, brought out a list of a dozen banks which he thought were good buying prospects. Mr. McMahon declared that he told the former judge he knew the Bank of the Rockaways was for sale at $200 to $220 a share.

According to the witness, Vause thereupon told him he knew of a group in the market for such a bank. After a talk with the president of the Rockaway institution, Mr. McMahon continued, Vause instructed him to get an option which he later verbally obtained at a prospective price of $200 a share.

The witness swore that shortly afterward J. Paul Barmack, secretary of the Columbia company, called upon him to discuss the purchase of the Rockaway bank but proved to be lacking in enthusiasm over the project. On the stand Thursday Barmack had testified that Vause discussed the advisability of purchasing a bank and had suggested the Rockaway bank at a price of $220 a share as an opportunity.

United States Attorney Tuttle got Mr. McMahon to describe a subsequent meeting with Vause last May when the former judge, according to the witness, brought out some papers and said, "I am going to get the whole thing settled today."

Mr. Perlman heatedly protested any testimony as to this conference which was held in his office and Federal Judge Alfred C. Coxe cut short an altercation between the lawyers by adjourning the trial until Monday morning.

The defense attorneys spent most of the day attacking the testimony of Barmack, whom they continued on the stand from the previous day. They elicited the information that he had been through a bankruptcy shortly before he joined the Columbia company, that he had listed his Columbia interests under the name of a dummy who sat for him in the board of directors, and that he had mailed a false statement as to the financial standing of the company to Dun and Bradstreet on Feb. 15, 1929.

In re-direct examination Mr. Tuttle drew from Barmack the assertion that Vause and other Columbia officials held stock through dummies.

EWALD TOLD TO QUIT OR FACE REMOVAL

conferred with Magistrate Corrigan. Magistrate Ewald's retirement from the bench until the Federal court situation was "cleared up" was announced by Magistrate Corrigan.

Prompt Action Stirs Comment.

In political circles yesterday, the prompt action by Mr. Corrigan in dealing with and acting on the evidence sent to him by Mr. Tuttle aroused considerable comment. It was said that with a Chief Magistrate exercising the influence of his office, and where that fails, bringing charges before the Appellate Division, much progress might be made in giving the courts what has been considered in some quarters a necessary house-cleaning.

The July Federal grand jury took up yesterday the work begun by the jury that indicted Magistrate Ewald. The first witness before it was Heffernan, the policeman who had given the ticket to Badger on the speeding charge of which Badger was later acquitted by Ewald. Heffernan's appearance, it was explained later by Alvin McK. Sylvester, assistant to Mr. Tuttle, was mainly to get his testimony under oath. The testimony of Badger and April, which also went to Mr. Corrigan and Mr. Spence, had been taken earlier.

Mr. Sylvester and Thomas J. Curran, who is also handling the case for the United States Attorney's office, presented other witnesses to the grand jury. Their testimony, it is believed, dealt with the activities of the Norwood Corporation, a mining concern. Mr. Tuttle's office suspects, it was said, that Magistrate Ewald's stock-selling activities extended also to that company.

Superseding Bills Possible.

Superseding indictments, naming additional defendants in the Cotter Butte Mines cases, may also be handed down by the July Federal grand jury, it was said yesterday.

Another phase of Magistrate Ewald's activities uncovered by Mr. Sylvester and Mr. Curran concerned the selling of Cotter Butte stock to employes and attachés of the magistrate's courts. Many purchases by court attachés were influenced by Magistrate Ewald's recommendation, they charged. The stock, according to Mr. Tuttle, is now practically worthless.

Assistant District Attorney James J. Daly announced yesterday that he had concluded his inquiry into the complaint against Ewald by Mrs. Betty Schwartz Ewald, who was divorced from him in 1923. Mr. Daly said he had decided there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a bigamy charge, as she had requested, and that Maria Fokina, who Mrs. Ewald said was her daughter, kept from her by the magistrate, was not the daughter of Mrs. Ewald.

According to Mr. Daly, he questioned Adolph Dietzel of 350 Audubon Avenue, who said he was the father of the girl, and that she was born in Holland. Dietzel is said to be related to Magistrate Ewald.

BAIL SET FOR NINE IN STOCK THEFT CASE

Broker and Eight Clerks Plead Not Guilty to Charge of Stealing $175,000 From Firms.

Nine men were arraigned before Magistrate Simpson in the Tombs Court yesterday in connection with an alleged conspiracy through which two brokerage firms in the financial district were reported to have been victimized to the extent of $175,000 in money and securities in the last eighteen months. Two of the prisoners, Fred Spreeman, 32 years old, a broker, and Robert Morris, 29 years old, were held in $2,500 bail each for the action of the grand jury in the alleged theft of $10,000 in securities from the firm of Farnum, Winter & Co., 141 Broadway. Spreeman, up to about a month before his arrest on June 30, had been connected with the brokerage firm of Newman Brothers & Worms, 25 Broad Street, and Morris was a margin clerk. Both pleaded not guilty.

The other seven prisoners were arrested on Thursday in connection with thefts of about $150,000 in stock and $15,000 in cash from Arthur Lipper & Co., bankers and brokers at 50 Broad Street.

All formerly were employed by the firm, and it is alleged Spreeman's name was involved with some of them in a conspiracy to steal securities from brokers in the Wall Street district. They pleaded not guilty and identified themselves as George A. Bull, Laurelton, Queens; Samuel Mollott, 1,135 Boynton Avenue, the Bronx; George A. Solomon, 141 St. Mark's Place, St. George, S. I.; Paul Spizuoco, 185 Eagle Street, Brooklyn; Jules Vogel, 1,778 Vyse Avenue, the Bronx; Louis Klein, Beach Thirty-fifth Street, Edgemere, Queens, and Frank D'Ottovio, 14 Spencer Street, Brooklyn.

Magistrate Simpson announced that, on July 16, he would hold a hearing on the charges against the seven, to which they were alleged to have confessed. Bull was charged with the theft of $9,000 from the firm and was held in $10,000 bail. Mollott was held in similar bail for the alleged theft of $8,000. Bail of $7,500 each was fixed for Solomon, Spizuoco and Vogel, who were charged with the theft of $5,000, while Klein, accused of the theft of $3,000, was held in $5,000 bail, and D'Ottovio, alleged to have stolen $500, was held in $2,000 bail.

QUESTIONS CONVICT ON BRANCATI CASE

District Attorney's Office Goes Into Slayer's Story of Doctor's Disappearance.

Assistant District Attorney James J. Daly, head of the Bureau of Investigation and Complaints of District Attorney Crain's office, accompanied by a stenographer, visited Stefano Burgio, convicted on a murder charge, in the Bronx County jail yesterday and obtained a statement from Burgio in connection with the mysterious disappearance of Dr. Charles H. Brancati, a physician, in November, 1928.

The disappearance of the physician had been the subject of previous investigations by the authorities in New York and Bronx counties, without any evidence having definitely been established to prove the suspicion of relatives and friends of the man that he was kidnapped and murdered. Dr. Brancati, up to the time he vanished, had occupied a large house in the Throgs Neck section of the Bronx. His large estate, according to his lawyers, has become considerably involved because of his absence.

Burgio was brought to the Bronx jail several weeks ago from Sing Sing in connection with the recent Bronx grand jury investigation of the physician's disappearance. He was convicted in the Bronx about six months ago in the slaying of two women, and is under sentence of from forty-five years to life imprisonment.

"I am not in position to discuss Burgio's statement," Mr. Daly said on his return to his office in the Criminal Courts Building. "I shall go over the statement carefully when it is transcribed by the stenographer, and then decide whether I shall call Burgio before the grand jury here in the investigation ordered by Acting District Attorney James E. McDonald."

Mr. McDonald last week ordered a new investigation started in this county on receipt from Acting District Attorney Israel J. P. Adlerman in the Bronx of documents developed in the Bronx grand jury inquiry. It was reported that the grand jurors had received information that the physician was seen in lower East Harlem before he disappeared.

BOUNTIFUL CROPS FORECAST FOR STATE

Estimates of Harvests This Year Far Exceed 1929 Yields in Most Cases.

FRUIT OUTPUT LEAPS

New York Takes Second Place Among States in Both Apples and Peaches.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Large crops of apples, peaches, pears, grapes, potatoes, beans, tobacco, corn, wheat, barley and oats in New York State are indicated for this year.

Detailed figures on the State's crops, made public today by the Crop Reporting Board of the Department of Agriculture, giving the acreage, conditions of crops on July 1, 1930, and forecasts of this year's crops as estimated on the basis of conditions on that date, show that most of the major crops of the State were in better condition on July 1, 1930, than on the corresponding date a year ago and that most of the State's crops are due for larger yields than in 1929.

With the exception of apples, the fruits of the State were in far better condition on July 1 than they were a year ago and, while the showing for apples was not as striking as for peaches, pears, grapes and cherries, the condition of the New York apple crop was set down as 59 on July 1, 1930, as compared with 51 on July 1, 1929.

The official forecasts estimates that there will be 30,740,000 bushels of potatoes, compared with 24,840,000 in 1929; 27,246,000 bushels of corn, compared with 21,024,000 in 1929; 4,672,000 bushels of Winter wheat, compared with 4,448,000 in 1929; 39,168,000 bushels of oats, compared with 24,262,000 in 1929, and 4,868,000 bushels of barley, compared with 3,514,000 in 1929.

Large Fruit Output Indicated.

Estimates of the yield in fruits are 93,240 tons of grapes, compared with 81,030 in 1929; 2,736,000 bushels of pears, compared with 1,152,000 in 1929; 2,220,000 bushels of peaches, compared with 1,470,000 in 1929, and 4,508,000 barrels of apples, compared with 3,404,000 in 1929.

A million pounds of tobacco is predicted for 1930, as compared with 800,000 pounds in 1929.

The indicated yield per acre of the important crops of New York State combined is 101.2 per cent of the average yield of the State's combined crops during the ten years, 1919 to 1928.

New York State figures for the estimated preliminary acreage of the various crops, the condition on July 1, 1930, as compared with July 1, 1929, and the forecast of production for 1930 were given by the department as follows:

	Acreage.	Condition July 1. 1929.	1930.

New York Second in Apples.

The department predicts that the New York apple crop will be more than half as large as that of Washington, the banner apple State. Only six States are each credited with crops of more than 1,000,000 barrels, and the forecasts for them this year, stated in barrels, follows:

State.	1929 Harvest.	1930 Forecast.
Washington	8,300,000	7,819,000
New York	3,404,000	4,508,000
West Virginia	3,100,000	2,108,000
Idaho	1,650,000	1,236,000
Oregon	750,000	1,603,000
California	1,433,000	2,094,000

New York will rank second in the production of peaches this year, it is predicted, instead of fifth as in 1929, the department predicts. Georgia, the forecast says, will lead this year with 5,460,000 bushels, New York ranking next with 2,220,000, South Carolina third with 1,428,000 and New Jersey fourth with 1,365,000.

New Jersey harvested 2,600,000 bushels of peaches in 1929, compared with a predicted crop of only 1,365,000 in 1930.

WESTCHESTER CHIEFS REVOLT OVER FOLEY

Half of Town and City Democratic Chairman to Quit Monday if He Does Not Stay as Leader.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 11.—The Democratic town and city chairmen of Westchester County, meeting tonight at the headquarters of the Democratic League of White Plains, 192 Main Street, unanimously adopted a resolution urging Harry T. Foley to reconsider his resignation as Westchester County leader, threatening if he does not do so to present their own resignations.

Mr. Foley resigned four weeks ago because of the appointment by Governor Roosevelt of John E. Mack of Poughkeepsie to the Supreme Court bench instead of John B. Coyle of White Plains who was recommended by the Westchester organization.

It is regarded as certain by Democratic leaders that Mr. Foley will not reconsider his resignation. At the meeting of the County Committee to be held Monday night it is likely that at least half of the town and city chairmen will resign.

The meeting tonight had been called as a last-minute attempt on the part of the Democratic leaders to prevent the resignation of Mr. Foley. It was the largest meeting of town and city chairmen ever held in Westchester County, seventeen chairmen being present.

The sole subject of discussion was the resignation of Mr. Foley and it was the consensus of the group that if Mr. Foley insisted on making his resignation final the town and city chairmen would also resign.

More than half of the seventeen chairmen present tonight presented their resignations to take effect Monday night if Mr. Foley does not reconsider.

None of the chairmen present said that they would refuse to resign, although some said that they would not do so without consulting their constituents.

After a heated discussion that lasted four hours and did not break up until nearly midnight, a resolution was unanimously adopted, and made public by Herbert McKennis of Scarsdale, chairman of the group, asking Mr. Foley to remain. It added that if he did not many Democratic leaders would resign, thus bringing "chaos in the Democratic organization."

BRITISH FLIERS STILL LOST.

Military Planes to Search for Men Missing on Trip to Australia.

RANGOON, Burma, July 11 (AP).—News of the British airmen, Eric Hook and Jimmy Matthews, who were last heard from on July 3, was still lacking today. Accordingly, the British deputy commissioner at Prome was asked to assist in the search for the missing fliers.

The two airmen left Akyab for Rangoon on July 3 and are believed to have crashed in a wild, tiger-infested jungle a few miles northeast of Taungup. They were on their way from England to Australia. On July 7 villagers of Taungup said they had seen a plane flying very low, apparently in difficulty, toward the jungle.

Airplanes of the Royal Air Force are expected at Prome tomorrow to begin a search of the Tanlwa Valley.

HOUSE SHATTERED BY TRAIN.

Half of Bungalow, Towed by Truck, Is Spread Along Rail Tracks.

CARLE PLACE, L. I., July 11.—Martin Cabalucci, president of the Westbury Coal and Ice Company, is in the strange position of having half a bungalow with little chance of getting the other half, inasmuch as a good part of it lies along the Long Island Railroad tracks here, shattered by a westbound train.

Cabalucci bought the bungalow in Island Park and decided to move it. He had it sawed in half and the first part was moved to the new location without mishap. However, as the second half was crossing the railroad right of way at Carle Road today, towed by a truck, a train struck it. J. W. Brown of Malverne, driver of the truck, was uninjured, and traffic was halted for only a few minutes.

Girl and Mother Seized in Dry Raid

Special to The New York Times.

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 11.—Mrs. Frances Sauchez, 36 years old, and her daughter Eva, 15, were among a dozen persons arraigned in police court here today as a result of a series of dry raids by the police last night and early this morning. In the Sauchez's apartment at 154 Ripley Place, where the police found twenty-six gallons of alleged rum, the young girl is said to have been the "bar maid." She was held in $200 bail and her mother in $300. Both were charged with illegal sale and possession.

dence presented by prohibition enforcement agents, and that it was for the agents themselves to decide whether to begin a general campaign against malt and hop stores.

Meanwhile indictments, he said, would be sought against defendants arrested in the First and Second Avenue stores. John Pecone, 214 Prospect Park West, Brooklyn, and John J. Mullaly, 783 Union Street, Brooklyn, who were arrested in the East Fifty-ninth Street store, have pleaded guilty to possession before Federal Judge John C. Knox, and fined $100 each.

Among the articles listed for confiscation in the government's suit are wine presses and crushes, peach, kimmel, sherry, port and apricot syrups; copper boilers, glass stoppers; caraway seeds, cherries, malt, hops, bottle brushes, crocks, cans, glass jugs, charcoal, siphons, grape juice, root beer, sugar, grain, raisin, yeast, rock candy, funnels, labels, bottles and cappers.

Raids in the Rockaways.

The prisoners and the places raided in the Rockaways last night were as follows:

Otto Zoepffel, Otto Rheinhart, Adolph Schultz, all of 533 Central Avenue, Far Rockaway.

Michael Schmidt of 105 Grove Street, Gus Dreyfuss of 1,711 New Haven Avenue, Arthur P. Nestler of the Hotel Montauk, all of Far Rockaway, were arrested at a restaurant at 533 Central Avenue there.

George Carnell of 180 Beach Ninety-eighth Street, Rockaway Beach, arrested at Douglas's Restaurant, 1,046 White Street, Far Rockaway.

Patrick Daley of 212 Beach 105th Street, Rockaway Beach, arrested at a small hotel at 8,822 Rockaway Beach Boulevard, Rockaway Beach.

David Gallagher of 220 Beach 107th Street, Rockaway Beach, arrested at 107-20 Rockaway Beach Boulevard.

John Rooney of 106-11 Rockaway Beach Boulevard, where he was arrested.

Thomas Condores, arrested at 86-14 Rockaway Beach Boulevard, which he gave as his address.

Joseph Reilly of 454 West Twenty-sixth Street, Manhattan, arrested at 107-01 Rockaway Beach Boulevard.

Gus Gregory of 233 East Twenty-eighth Street, Manhattan, and Harry Frank of 135 Beach Eightieth Street, Rockaway Beach, arrested at 86-14 Rockaway Beach Boulevard, Rockaway Beach.

John Sheehan of 213 Beach Ninety-first Street, Rockaway Beach, arrested at 224 Beach Ninety-second Street.

John Sullivan, his brother Daniel and John Finnegan, arrested at 180 Beach 106th Street, which they gave as their address.

John Williams of 225 Beach 116th Street, Rockaway Park; James Rogers of 120 Beach Ninety-second Street, Rockaway Beach, and James Brown, Joseph Schuss and Charles Rogers, all of 423 Beach 129th Street, Rockaway Park; all five were arrested in the Rogers Hotel at 116-06 Rockaway Beach Boulevard.

The Manhattan Arrests.

The Manhattan arrests were made on warrants issued July 8 by United States Commissioner Cotter. The prisoners, who were booked at the West Sixty-eighth Street Station, were:

Sigmund Robinson of 2,435 Grand Avenue, proprietor of a store at 392 Columbus Avenue, and his clerk, Edward Kane of 102 West Ninety-second Street.

John Marvin of 158 West Sixty-first Street, clerk in a store at 522 Columbus Avenue.

John Kearney of 105 West Seventieth Street, clerk in a store at 111 West Seventieth Street.

William Kelsey of 8 West 168th Street, clerk in a store at 144 West Seventieth Street.

Frank Cohen of 319 West Ninety-seventh Street, clerk in a store at 245 West Seventy-second Street.

Harry Cohen of 1,514 Minford Place, the Bronx, clerk in a store at 324 Columbus Avenue.

Jack Benson of 109 West Eighty-second Street, clerk in a store at 430 Amsterdam Avenue.

Robert Jackson of 29 West Sixty-fourth Street, clerk in a store at 182 Columbus Avenue.

Jack Brown of 158 West Seventy-second Street, clerk in a store at 252 Columbus Avenue.

Max Davis of 28 West 116th Street, clerk in a store at 379 Amsterdam Avenue.

FAKE RAIDER IS KILLED.

Seven Men Raked Kentucky Home With a Machine Gun.

NEW HAVEN, Ky., July 11 (AP).—Seven men who claimed to be Federal prohibition agents raked the home of Mrs. Franklin Ball, near New Haven, today with sub-machine gun fire when she refused them permission to search the house. They fled in an automobile when her two sons returned the fire, and later in an encounter with a Sheriff's posse Omer Alford of Bowling Green was killed and two were captured. Four others escaped.

The captured men gave their names as Ben Miller of Bowling Green and Cecil Shelton of Georgia.

The men are believed to have been seeking to rob the place or expected to find a large quantity of liquor there. But at the Sheriff's office it was said the Hall family had never been suspected of having liquor.

No one was injured by the firing at the home.

2 DIE IN LIQUOR BATTLE.

Officer and Suspect Are Killed, Three Are Wounded in Virginia.

GRUNDY, Va., July 11 (AP).—Two men were fatally shot and three others were injured, one seriously, in a gun battle in the Paw Paw section of Knox Creek after what officers said was an attempt to interfere with arrests of persons charged with violation of the prohibition laws.

Hyson Baker, Buchanan County constable, and Thomps Dotson, one of the men sought by the officers, were killed. Howard Justus and David J. Smith, deputy sheriffs, are in a hospital, the former in a critical condition, and Hillman Tester is under arrest in a Richlands hospital.

Early Wednesday, according to the officers' report, Baker and Justus raided a still in the Paw Paw section, arresting Ballard Tester and Earl, Clark, Tom, May and Harman Dotson. The officers reported that a group of men rode past them as they started for Grundy with the prisoners, firing on them and warning them not to come back into the neighborhood.

Deputizing Smith at Grundy, the officers returned. When they reached the home of Thomps Dotson, they said, Dotson and Hillman Tester were in the yard. When told that they were under arrest, officers said, the two men opened fire. Dotson and Baker fell in the exchange of shots from high-powered rifles, and Smith was shot in the legs.

MINERS FACE MOVE ON WAGE PROBLEM

Operators Propose New Agency Regarded as Lever to Reopen Contract to Adjust Scale.

LEWIS AND GRANT CONFER

Secret Meeting Is Followed by Special Session of Miners' Committee on Pay.

Indications that the wage question is becoming the most important factor in the negotiations between anthracite miners and operators for a new agreement to replace the one expiring Sept. 1 became more clearly defined yesterday. The operators presented a proposal for the creation of a cooperative agency in the industry whose function it should be to ferret out the facts during the tenure of agreements.

This demand arose from the dissatisfaction of the operators with the arbitration provision embodied in the agreement now approaching expiration, which, while intended to make possible the reopening of the wage rate problem once a year, has never been utilized by the operators because of its alleged ambiguity.

While the majority of the operators are not inclined to insist upon immediate wage reductions, there being no unanimity among them upon the wisdom of forcing down wage scales at this time, they do seek to obtain from the union some concession whereby the wage question may be taken up during the tenure of the new agreement.

Interpreted as Wage Move.

The proposal of the operators for the creation of a cooperative fact-finding agency was interpreted as a move in this direction at yesterday's joint session of miners' and owners' representatives at the Anthracite Institute, 90 West Street. According to the brief statement issued following the meeting, "the matter was discussed at great length," but was "laid over for further consideration at a later date."

From reliable sources it was learned that it is the intention of the operators, headed by W. W. Inglis, president of the Glen Alden Coal Company, to try to trade their demand for the cooperative fact-finding agency for the miners' demand for the check-off, a modified form of which the operators appear to be inclined to grant.

Appreciating the position of the miners' spokesmen, led by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who have been instructed by the rank and file to hold out against any wage reductions regardless of consequences, and bearing in mind their own need for a reduction in costs of operation, the operators are seeking a way out of the situation which while leaving wage scales intact may give them the means for a possible readjustment of wage rates during the tenure of the proposed new five-year agreement.

Lewis and Grant Confer.

Much significance was attached to the fact that the operators' proposal for the setting up of a cooperative fact-finding agency followed a secret conference between Mr. Lewis and Richard Grant, president of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company and a member of the producers' committee. Mr. Grant is the man who settled the bitter anthracite strike of 1925-26 after all efforts at peace had failed.

He and Mr. Lewis, it was learned, were locked up in a conference Thursday night for four hours. Neither of them would comment yesterday on the nature of their discussion.

Preceding yesterday's joint conference the miners' scale committee of forty-three members met separately at the Hotel Pennsylvania and for several hours considered the situation as presented by Mr. Lewis.

The conference was adjourned yesterday afternoon until Monday at 1:30 P. M. Predictions were made that the negotiations would continue for at least ten days longer.

TOWN'S POLICE MUST SWIM.

Neptune (N. J.) Chief Orders Force to Learn to Rescue Bathers.

Special to The New York Times.

NEPTUNE, N. J., July 11.—On and after Aug. 15 no policeman in this township will walk a beat unless he also knows how to swim, dive and float.

G. William Maas, chief of the department, issued an order today advising all members of the force who do not know how to swim that they must learn before the middle of next month or give up their jobs.

The reason, Chief Maas explained, is that Shark River runs through the precinct and he wants his men to know how to rescue drowning bathers, should the emergency arise.

Chief Maas cannot swim. He will have to learn with the rest.

POLICE RESCUE DRY AGENTS

Disperse Crowd at Raid of Baltimore Beer Saloon.

BALTIMORE, July 11 (AP).—A police riot squad was called out early today to protect Federal dry raiders from a threatening crowd which gathered as they were raiding a saloon, arresting two men and confiscating 112 barrels of beer.

The agents, Ival H. Hatton and Thomas W. Andrews, said they had started the raid and made the arrests when the crowd which had gathered made threatening moves. They denied they had appealed for aid, declaring residents of the neighborhood must have called police headquarters. The police squad held back the crowd while the agents completed the raid and departed amid boos and catcalls.

FRENCH MERCHANTS PLAN TARIFF FIGHT

Despairing of Official Relief, They Prepare to Retaliate Against American Rates.

GROUNDWORK ALREADY LAID

Customs Union to Establish Offices in All Capitals to Work for European Trade Association.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 11.—After the period of protests against the increases in American tariffs which no one any longer expects to bring any practical results, French business men and merchants have seriously set about a study of the new United States customs schedule and about organizing European markets for concerted retaliation. Despite assurances which gained credit in some quarters and which probably have obviated any move toward reprisals by the government, business men decline to put their faith in statements that the tariff will not affect them or that it will be rendered harmless through the use of the flexible clause. On their own account they are preparing for action.

Among the steps taken privately since the United States tariff bill was passed may be enumerated:

A meeting of the European Customs Union in Paris, in which fourteen nations pledged to work for cooperation in Continental trade.

A meeting of the European steel cartel, which ended today with the appointment of a committee expected to revise and reconstitute the agreement between European manufacturers which had met with difficulties.

A decision of the British, German, Belgian and French copper interests to shift their import trade in copper from America to other fields.

Negotiations opened at an Ostend meeting for an air-tight understanding among three different European nitrogen groups.

Discussions now understood to be in progress in the European automotive industry to reach an understanding which would make the recent Italian auto tariff not apply to the European field and would replace it with a general trade understanding among European automotive trades.

Agitation by chambers of commerce favorable to the Briand economic federation to work for general trade collaboration on the European Continent.

The first outburst here and in the rest of Europe came before details of the Hawley-Smoot bill had been communicated here, but since the text has been circulated merchants and exporters are unanimous in the opinion that the new rates will be a serious detriment to French exports to the United States.

An inquiry conducted by the newspaper L'Oeuvre among trade associations and individual exporters has resulted in a universal declaration that trade already has been affected by the world business crisis and cancellation of American orders. All are agreed that the luxury trades will suffer, but a new statistical bulletin now in circulation in Paris contends that agricultural exports to America also will be greatly handicapped and announces that the increased rates will affect wool exports, cheeses, table fruits, seed, grains, dried and preserved vegetables and walnuts.

The international steel group has settled difficulties raised by the Belgians by suspending price agreements temporarily but maintaining quantity restrictions in nearly all categories of products. An accord on those products not included, chiefly iron beams, is expected to be formulated by Aug. 1, and a committee has been appointed to work toward complete revision of the understanding.

The first step taken, following the customs union meeting, will be the establishment in each capital of Europe of an office to furnish information on the tariffs of all European nations and to send out propaganda for a trade union of Europe. French and German delegations have announced approval of the plan which, though no one openly avows it, finds its chief inspiration for European cooperation in a common fear of competition with the United States.

CHILD WELFARE TALKS END.

Congress at Lima Selects Mexico City for 1932 Conference.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LIMA, Peru, July 11.—Today at the last plenary session of the sixth Pan-American Child Welfare Congress, Katharine Lenroot, chairman of the United States delegation, proposed Mexico City as the seat of the seventh congress in 1932. Her motion was carried unanimously.

Miss Lenroot praised Mexico's child welfare activities. She pointed out that the selection of Mexico City might enable the delegates to attend the Social Service Conference to be held in the United States at about the same time. She alluded to Mexico as a contact point for Latin and Anglo-Saxon cultures in America.

The Mexican delegate, Isidro Espinoza de los Reys, thanked the congress in his country's behalf.

The United States delegation will give a tea and reception for the delegations tomorrow. They will leave for New York on the Grace liner Santa Maria on Tuesday.

BACK PLAN TO LIMIT DRUGS.

Greece and Panama Inform League of Approval of American's Scheme.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, July 11.—The Governments of Greece and Panama today informed the League of Nations' Secretariat that they favored the scheme for limiting the manufacture of dangerous drugs submitted to the League by C. K. Crane of the United States.

It was announced also that Mexico had accepted an invitation to be represented on the League's advisory committee on the opium and drug traffic.

Closes Cuban Factory in Protest.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HAVANA, July 11.—The closing of the International Harvester Company's henequen factory at Cardenas this morning throws many employes out of work and 400 families are facing distress. The action of the company was taken in protest against a fine imposed by the health authorities for infraction of the sanitary regulations by emptying the juice of henequen plants into the bay near the factory.

Lightning Hits 4 Times in Rome, Chipping Historic Monuments

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, July 11.—During a sudden storm which for an hour interrupted the fierce sunshine that has been mercilessly beating down upon Rome for a fortnight, four lightning bolts hit the city today, striking several well-known places. They caused some panic, but very slight damage.

The first bolt hit the column of Marcus Aurelius, more usually known as the Antonine Column, which rises in the centre of the city, forming one of its most notable landmarks. It slightly chipped the marble cornice at the upper extremity of the column, but otherwise did no harm.

The second struck the Palazzo Chigi, the seat of the Foreign Ministry, and started a fire in the boiler room in the basement. Firemen conquered the outbreak before much damage was done.

The third struck a hotel, causing considerable panic among the guests, but no damage. The fourth struck the famous Porta Pia, about fifty yards from the gates of the British Embassy, but again no damage was caused.

ZEPPELIN ON CRUISE, SURPRISES EDINBURGH

Scotland Sees a German Airship First Time Since War as Craft Flies Along East Coast.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 11.—Many parts of Britain which had not seen a German airship since the World War were surprised today by a visit of the Graf Zeppelin, cruising along the east coast of Scotland. The German airship, which at first many mistook for the British dirigible R-101, crossed British territory at St. Romnes.

Passing over Scapa Flow, the airship's crew must have viewed with mingled emotions the operations of salvaging the scrapped battleship Hindenburg.

It was the first time since 1916 Edinburgh had seen a German airship. In the strong sunlight, the crowds in the Scottish capital had a splendid view of the Graf Zeppelin as it sailed down the Forth and over the city in a wide circular swing, flying so low that the men aboard were plainly visible. The British Air Ministry, which was in communication by wireless with the Zeppelin, said the commander's intention was to follow the east coast until the airship reached a favorable taking-off point for the return to Holland.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, July 11.—The Zeppelin, under command of Dr. Hugo Eckener, returned tonight at 10:40 o'clock from a 72-hour flight to the North Cape, in which it covered 4,875 miles without landing. A smooth landing in a rain and high wind was effected with their usual skill by the home port landing crew.

Twenty members of a Swiss automobile club which had chartered the Zeppelin were enthusiastic over their cruise. The route took them over Oslo, the west coast of Norway, Hammerfest, the North Cape, Northern Scotland, Amsterdam and Cologne.

The next flight of the craft will begin Sunday morning. It will be a day's cruise over the Palatinate in honor of the freeing of the third occupied zone.

COSTE'S PLANE DAMAGED.

Broken Strut Being Repaired for Ocean Flight.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 11.—Discovery of a broken strut on Dieudonné Coste's biplane, the Question Mark, necessitated the removal of the lower wing this evening, and workmen will be busy repairing the damage over the week-end, when nearly everybody in France will be celebrating the Bastille holidays.

Captain Coste and Maurice Bellonte will leave for the seashore to be guests of a friend near Ver-Sur-Mer on the Norman coast where Richard E. Byrd and his companions landed three years ago after their Atlantic flight.

Captain Coste expects to make final test flights next Tuesday before his take-off for New York.

Plane Carrying Two Goes Into Spin at 900 Feet Over Luke Field, Hawaii

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HONOLULU, July 11.—Two Army Air Corps men were killed this morning at Luke Field when their amphibian plane went into a spin at 900 feet, crashed and burned. They were Lieutenant Ivan M. Atterbury of Roseburg, Ore., and Staff Sergeant Ralph O. Mills of Sadorus, Ill.

Their ship was one of three taking off in formation for a training flight. It crashed directly in front of a row of officers' quarters. It is believed the impact killed both occupants.

Lieutenant Atterbury came here in March with a group of reserve officers, but recently was permanently commissioned in the Air Corps.

plain matters and enjoy the open air.

The Radicals today challenged the Department of Finance and other subordinate administrative divisions of the government. The issue came after a long discussion of a Radical interpellation on the manner in which the government intended to lighten what the Opposition alleged to be an excessive financial burden upon the departments, cities and communes, a part of which it was held by the Opposition the State ought to shoulder. M. Tardieu accepted the battle as offered by his political antagonists, posing a question of confidence on their resolution. The resolution tersely invited the government to bring about the necessary reforms. The Prime Minister rejected it because it did not express confidence in the government.

The subject was cleverly chosen because it placed a large number of M. Tardieu's supporters in an embarrassing situation with reference to their rural constituencies, which might expect to benefit from a reform such as demanded by the Radicals. The attacks, however, lacked the vital element of confidence to carry them through, while the Premier replied with his usual assurance, which carried the day.

After the reading of the decree of closure, the Senate quietly ended its session and the Senators dispersed for the Summer vacation. The Senate halls in the Luxembourg Palace were locked up.

Not so in the Chamber of Deputies. The final minutes there were boisterous and filled with complaints.

Former Premier Herriot, on behalf of the Radical-Socialists, protested against Premier Tardieu's action in closing the session. The Socialist Deputy Charles Baron, striding ostentatiously up to the government benches, defiantly sat in Premier Tardieu's customary seat.

M. Herriot complained that the sudden closing was contrary to the order of business agreed upon by the Presidents of the different Parliamentary groups with the Premier.

As Fernand Bouisson, President of the Chamber, vainly tried to stem the flood of eloquence and protest, Léon Blum, Socialist leader, rose in his turn to protest, asserting that the program traced by M. Tardieu himself had not been acted upon.

During all this time M. Bouisson was trying to get the minutes adopted. The members of the government had long since left. Finally, after an hour and a half of argument, the minutes were adopted by 310 votes to 273.

PALESTINE REPORT HELD SENSATIONAL

Geneva Feels, However, That the League Commission's Minutes Will Reveal More.

CONCLUSIONS QUALIFIED

Britain Blamed for Riots, but Effort Is Seen to Avoid Displeasing London, Jews and Arabs.

By CLARENCE K. STREIT.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, July 11.—Much more responsibility for 1929 outbreaks in Palestine is laid on the British by the League of Nations Mandates Commission in its report to the Council than by the British Shaw commission, according to what reliable indications are obtainable on this document, which is still being kept strictly secret.

The Mandates Commission's findings, with the minutes of its recent eighteen-day investigation of the Palestine situation, are now being printed, and every effort is being made to prevent leaks until the whole document is publicly released toward the end of the month. Some of those informed of its contents say it ought to create a fair sensation.

The mandates commission, it is understood, finds the Shaw commission took generally too indulgent a view of the British responsibilities. And it particularly blames the British for failing to assure means of maintaining order. The insufficient number of British troops and police in Palestine is understood to be stressed in the report to the League Council as the principal cause of the extent reached by the outbreaks in Palestine and the gravity of their consequences, the Mandates Commission finding the British view that an increase in the garrison would have done little good neither sound nor convincing.

The commission also stresses the part the Wailing Wall incidents played in contributing to the atmosphere out of which bloodshed grew.

The report, it is reliably stated, gives some support to the Arab demands for self-government, expressing hope that the mandatory will seriously consider putting into effect the articles of the Palestine mandate requiring the institution of a constitutional régime. In this connection, it is explained, it recognizes the great difficulties of Britain in reconciling the obligations to the Jews and Arabs, but it distinguishes as to the specific obligations of the mandate, among which it includes self-government from the general scope of the mandate, in which it includes the foundation of a Jewish national home. The effect of the line it thus draws is said to be more favorable to the Arab than to the Jewish view.

The report, which will fill twenty-four ordinary-sized pages, is said to be extremely difficult to summarize, for the commission, seeking not to displease the British Jews or Arabs too much, hedges most of the time, its conclusions bristling with qualifying "buts," "on the other hands," &c. For this reason the minutes of its sessions giving its examination of the British officials is considered by some as likely to throw more light on the outbreak in Palestine than the report itself.

These minutes are said to fill 200 printed pages of ordinary book size.

HELD FOR FAKE MARRIAGE.

3 Cubans Are Charged With Involving American Girl in "Wedding."

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HAVANA, July 11.—Three Cubans were indicted today on a charge of arranging a fraudulent marriage between Miss Shirley Barron, 23, employe of a New York fashion house, and Dr. Fidél Nunez Carrion. The latter was held in $2,000 bail. Dr. Mas, the "judge," was held in $500 bail, and a man named Rodriguez, alleged to have acted as a witness to the supposed marriage, was held in $200 bail, which had not been put up at a late hour tonight.

It is alleged the fraudulent marriage was performed at a local dance hall and gambling palace several weeks ago. Miss Barron later appealed to the American Legation, believing the marriage ceremony to have been a proper one. The American consul has retained a lawyer to defend the interests of Miss Barron and the latter has been asked to remain in Cuba until the final disposition of the case, which will be called for trial soon.

DENIES ROYAL BETROTHAL.

Swedish Crown Prince Says Son Is Not Engaged to Princess Juliana.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 11 (AP).—The Crown Prince today officially denied an Amsterdam report of the betrothal of his son, Prince Sigvard, to the Dutch Crown Princess Juliana, only daughter of Queen Wilhelmina.

Queen Wilhelmina is spending a holiday with the Princess in Norway.

Mexican Prelate Is Gravely Ill.

MEXICO CITY, July 11 (AP).—Mgr. Miguel M. de la Mora, Bishop of San Luis Potosi, spokesman for the Mexican Episcopate during its three years of religious conflict with the government, today was in a serious condition following an attack of paralysis.

Fatal Berlin Crash Reveals a Fascist Plot; Letters on a Victim Lead to Arms Caches

BERLIN, July 11 (AP).—A collision today between a motor car and motorcycle, in the latter of which a man and a woman were killed, according to the police led to the revelation that the man was engaged in a strong military plot against the government.

The police said the man's name was Doerre and the woman killed in the side car was Elizabeth Hanke. Herr Doerre, it was declared, was an active member of the National Socialist party (Fascists) and had been engaged as a military instructor to members of that party.

Letters found on his body disclosed that a large number of weapons, including a machine gun, were hidden by the National Socialists. The police raided several houses and confiscated many weapons and a considerable quantity of ammunition. At least twelve persons were taken into custody. One report said Herr Doerre was a member of the secret police.

Authorities said the Hanke girl also was a police employe and in a particularly good position to serve the Fascists. Through her office came the names of all applicants for police duty anywhere in Prussia.

Despite the utmost vigilance, the police said, alleged treasonable activities of this nature had persisted in Germany. The police believed the two individuals in this case were connected with the movement fostered by Adolf Hitler's Fascist organization. Arrests of National Socialists, the political party of Fascism in Germany, were made early this year in Leipzig, and the authorities of Bavaria, Württemberg and Baden were asked to supply all available details on Fascist propaganda. Several raids resulted. It was reported that a general round-up of Fascist officers in the Reichswehr would take place.

Berlin police today attached more than ordinary significance to the fact that both of the alleged plotters in the present instance were members of the police. In the case of the woman, it was pointed out, the propaganda for Fascism could be exerted even while candidates for the police service were in training, thus increasing their effectiveness in the cause after they attained their full status.

LORD PASSFIELD DENIES JEWISH IMMIGRANT BAN

Limit Must Be Determined by Absorptive Capacity of Palestine, He Says.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 11.—A misunderstanding in regard to the alleged suspension of immigration into Palestine was cleared up tonight by the publication of a reply from Lord Passfield, Colonial Secretary in the MacDonald Government, to a protest of a recent deputation from the Board of Deputies of British Jews. Lord Passfield, it is stated, declared there had been no change in the government's policy and there was no uncertainty in its execution of its mandate.

"The mandate, however, did not envisage the establishment of a Jewish State, but only of a Jewish national home in Palestine consistent with the maintenance of the position and rights of the Jewish population," Lord Passfield said. "There must be a limit to Jewish immigration determined by the absorptive capacity of the country.

"There has been no stoppage of immigration, for 950 certificates on the labor schedule for the present half year have been sanctioned in advance and have not been suspended.

"The Shaw commission had reported that a certain number of Arabs had been economically prejudiced as a result of the Jewish land purchases, although it was recognized that the Jewish agency had paid a liberal monetary compensation. The government considered it necessary to inquire into the truth of the allegations, and with this object had secured the best possible experts to make inquiries. These are being pursued without delay."

Introducing the deputation, B. S. Straus said the board was compelled to believe that 2,300 immigration certificates had been suspended on political grounds, since the economic factors had been thoroughly examined by the Palestine administration before the issuance of the certificates had been sanctioned on May 12. The government decision, he said, prejudiced the work of the Jewish agency and seemed to indicate that the government had made up its mind that Jewish immigration must be stopped.

"This policy has not created a loyal and contented population in Palestine," he said. "Jews have for centuries suffered injustice at the hands of others and are the last to wish injustice inflicted on the Arabs."

The deputation begged the government to release the certificates and demonstrate its intention to "administer Palestine in the spirit of the mandate."

HUNGARY SEEKS RETURN OF HAPSBURG PROPERTY

Will Intercede at Lausanne in Behalf of Otto—Vienna Hears He Will Be King in Fall.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BUDAPEST, July 11.—Before the next meeting in Lausanne of the arbitral court regulating the distribution of the common property of pre-war Austria-Hungary, it is announced tonight the Hungarian delegate, Baron Joseph Szterenyi, will raise on behalf of Archduke Otto the question of the disposition of that part of the Hapsburg family property confiscated by the Austrian Republic, which Otto would have inherited.

The Hungarian standpoint is that as Archduke Otto is not in a position to act for himself against the Austrian Republic, Hungary will act for him and will restore to him any part of the Hapsburg property which the court may decide belongs to Hungary.

VIENNA, July 11 (AP).—Preparations for the occupation of the Hungarian throne by Prince Otto are far advanced, according to a report today in the newspaper Der Abend.

The journal says the legitimists will issue a declaration on Nov. 20, Otto's birthday, and they already have drafted a bill annulling the dethronement of the Emperor Charles as accomplished under duress. Another bill sets a limit to the period in office of the Regent, Admiral Horthy, and nominates him Viceroy, or Paladin, so that when Otto desires he may proclaim himself King.

The article concludes that Count Ambrozy, a Hungarian, has gone on a long visit to smooth the way for Otto's advent as King.

NOT IN EMPIRE TRADE PLEA.

E. R. Peacock Denies Signing Manifesto of British Bankers.

LONDON, July 11 (AP).—E. R. Peacock, Canadian born financier, announced today that he was not a party to the recent manifesto in favor of greater inter-empire trade by means of a tariff against foreign products which was issued over the signatures of a number of leading bankers.

Mr. Peacock's name was used in error in published accounts of the manifesto.

POLISH REPLY FAVORS EUROPEAN UNION PLAN

Accepts Suggestion of Briand to Put Political Agreement Before Economic Union.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WARSAW, July 11.—Poland's reply to Aristide Briand's memorandum on a European federation, which was transmitted to Paris yesterday, is most favorable to the Pan-Europe proposal.

Poland's interests, it is observed here, are identical with those of France, so far as the present international situation is concerned, and both countries are for security and the maintenance of the status quo. Therefore, the Polish reply places emphasis on that part of the memorandum which suggests political security should come before economic union.

Poland goes even further and draws attention to the Geneva protocol of 1924, which still remains the ideal of Poland's foreign policy. In this respect the Polish reply follows the lead of M. Paul-Boncour, the French League of Nations enthusiast, and others who advocate the revival of the protocol in connection with the plan for a European federation.

The Poles are very much concerned at the renewed talk of a revision of the German Eastern frontier and the abolition of the Danzig corridor, and fear a European federation might become a weapon against the territorial integrity of Poland. This, it is pointed out, explains the Polish declaration that the proposed union should not have an aggressive character and should not be directed against any nation or group of nations.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 11.—Rumania's reply to M. Briand's memorandum on a proposed European federation was delivered personally to the French Foreign Office today by Foreign Minister Mironescu of Rumania upon his arrival in Paris from Bucharest with Dinu Ciseanu, new Rumanian Minister to France.

In the past few days replies to M. Briand's memorandum have been received from Poland, Latvia, Austria, Italy, Greece and Denmark. The German and Czechoslovak replies are expected during the week-end.

In the text of her reply, published here tonight, Rumania signifies whole-hearted acceptance of the Briand plan and lays special emphasis on the necessity for federal union as an urgent remedy for the profound economic crisis now prevailing in Europe. The note calls for close economic cooperation and gives the political aspects of the Briand plan secondary importance.

Rumania suggests that for the immediate future the permanent secretariat of the federation should be sufficient for the practical development of the idea, leaving the functioning of the "European conference" until the federation attains a more definite shape.

TURKISH FINANCES BAD.

Government Can Make Only Third of National Debt Payment Due.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ANGORA, July 11.—The government in a formal statement to the Ottoman Debt Commission today announced that Turkey's finances are such that she can merely maintain the status quo, meaning that she can make payments of one-third the amounts due on the national debt until a new arrangement can be made.

If there is no new arrangement, she must "seek another solution."

Ship Fire Delays Trade Expansion.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ISTANBUL, July 11.—The inauguration of Turkey's first important foreign trade steamship enterprise since the World War, scheduled for today, was postponed because of a fire last night which broke out in the medicine cupboard of the steamer Ismer, doing considerable damage. The vessel was to have sailed this morning for Alexandria, extending the government subsidized line.

Consul Warns Americans.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The State Department was informed today by Frank P. Lockhart, American Consul General at Hankow, China, that he was warning Americans concerning their safety in the provinces of Hunan, Hupeh, Kiangsi and Honan, which are infested with bandits and Communists.

The Consulate General has consistently refused to issue travel certificates to Americans who wish to go to points from which they could not be quickly and safely evacuated in event of danger, and Mr. Lockhart considers the greatest danger to Americans residing in the interior at present is capture by bandits or Communists for the purpose of exacting ransom.

He intends to circularize Americans in the four provinces, stating that the Consulate General feels they are exposing themselves to constant danger by residing in such places.

According to reports as of Jan. 1, 1930, the latest in the possession of the State Department, there are 681 Americans in the four provinces, of whom 355 will be warned of their safety, with the intimation that they should go to the nearest city where they can be protected.

In Honan Province there are 114 Americans, all of whom will be warned. In Hupeh Province there are 336, of whom 230 are in the city of Hankow, leaving 106 in the interior to be officially advised of conditions. In Kiangsi Province there are 112, of whom 48 are in the city of Kiukiang, leaving 64 in the interior. In Hunan Province there are 119, of whom 48 are in the city of Changsha, leaving 71 exposed to danger in the interior.

Although there are some business men in the interior, for the most part the Americans are missionaries.

ELECTION ENDS CONVENTION

Duties on Supplies of Tobacco, Coffee, &c., for Foreign Technicians Are Lowered.

By WALTER DURANTY.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MOSCOW, July 11.—The Communist party convention is expected to end tomorrow with the election of a new central committee of the party and high party executives who will hold their first meeting—plenary session it is called here—Sunday. Despite the genuine unanimity the convention showed and the humble confessions of error made by former "Right" leaders, the sixteenth convention will go down alone as the most dramatic—behind the scenes—in Bolshevist history, and it is a safe bet that not only the world in general but many quite important people here who thought they were "on the inside" will get a big surprise in the near future.

In previous cables this correspondent emphasized the fact that Alexei Rykoff and other "Right" leaders, although pilloried for past "mistakes," are nevertheless experienced and long trusted figures in the Communist directorate and that it would be unwise and premature to conclude that they will be peremptorily discarded.

In other countries they might appear just discredited politicians and pass into oblivion, but Bolshevik discipline is so strong and party sentiment so peculiar that "the sinner who repenteth" often is treated with what seems unusual generosity. Also, to put it more crudely, the game of politics, like the game of war or business or love, has the same basic rules all the world over. Which is to say that the doom so freely predicted for M. Rykoff and his associates may not happen after all. It is more than probable that M. Rykoff will retain his post as president of the Council of Commissars and member of the Communist party Politburo. It is not unlikely that both Michael Tomski and Nikolai Bukharin will remain members of the charmed circle of the Communist party—the Central Committee.

It is approaching certainty that Joseph Stalin will continue to be party secretary. And a curious thing is that if one had said all that to the average well-informed Russian Communist yesterday—or even this afternoon—he would have said the speaker was crazy, which gives a glimpse of the "behind-the-scenes" drama.

New customs regulations have just been announced for foreign technicians, which is a big step toward making conditions here more acceptable. Rates on canned tobacco, coffee, &c., are immensely reduced. It is not yet clear how far the new regulations will affect the plans for the American commissary, in which the Amtorg and American Russian Chamber of Commerce, whose representative, Spencer Williams, recently arrived in Moscow, have been concerned.

'HATE PRAYER' BARRED FROM REICH SCHOOLS

Court Holds Move of Fascist Thuringian Education Minister Is Unconstitutional.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LEIPZIG, July 11.—Dr. Frick, national Socialist Minister of Education of Thuringia and an ardent Fascist, suffered another setback today in his efforts to turn the Reich into a unified Fascist body. The Supreme Court here handed down a decision pronouncing the Frick "hate prayers," drawn up for use in the Thuringian schools, to be unconstitutional.

The court ruled that the prayers overstepped the bounds of religious toleration provided for in the Weimar Constitution and would offend the sensibilities of those with other religious and political views.

Some lines in the Frick prayers which provoked the Reich to action are:

"Make us free from deceit and treason and give us the holy heroic strength to free ourselves. Let our vow be: Germany, awake!,

"I believe Thou punisheth the traitor and blesseth the liberator of our homeland. Germany, awake!

"I know Godlessness and high treason destroy our folk."

"Opponents of national socialism contend the words "treason" and "deceit" are typical key words in the Fascist vocabulary and signify dissatisfaction with the present régime which "betrayed" the nation by accepting the Treaty of Versailles.

Thuringia's representative told the court the prayer referred to President Wilson's Fourteen Points, with which "Germany was betrayed."

Cuba Frees Alleged Tampa Killer.

Many Killings in One Family Laid to Mafia Guard on Secret

By The Associated Press.

SCIACCA, Sicily, July 11.—Witnesses at the trials of 241 members of the Sicilian Mafia Society today testified that when the Mafia decided to kill a man to preserve their secrets they not only slew the man but, through fear of revenge, killed all his near relatives.

Stephen Genova told the court his brothers, Salvatore, Rosario and Liborio, were all killed because he was trying to ascertain the murderers of his friend Azzo. He said the murderers were the Locascio brothers, who are on trial.

EVELYN LAYE WINS DIVORCE IN LONDON

Jessie Matthews, Named in Suit of English Actress Against Sonny Hale, Faints in Court.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 11.—Evelyn Laye, the English actress who starred in the New York production of "Bitter Sweet," today received a decree nisi in her divorce suit against Robert Hale Munroe, known on the stage as Sonny Hale, on grounds of misconduct. The corespondent named was Jessie Matthews, also an actress.

Miss Laye is now making a talkie in Hollywood before returning to the New York stage. Hence her deposition was read in court.

A number of letter were read during the case. Miss Matthews, sitting behind Mr. Hale, suddenly collapsed and had to be carried out of the courtroom. After water was given to her she recovered.

The case followed by eight months the proceedings Miss Matthews brought against her actor husband, Lord Alva Lytton, in which she obtained the discretion of the court.

It was brought out in court that Miss Laye and Mr. Hale were married in April, 1926, and lived happily until 1928, when Mr. Hale joined the cast of the revue "This Year of Grace," in which Miss Matthews was playing.

Miss Matthews appeared on Broadway last season at the same time as Miss Laye. She was a principal, along with Jack Buchanan and Tilly Losch in "Wake Up and Dream." She also played in the London presentation of that C. B. Cochran revue with Sonny Hale as her leading man. Mr. Hale has never appeared in New York.

Although they were both popular with Broadway playgoers, Miss Laye and Miss Matthews managed to avoid each other at parties and theatrical gatherings during their stay in New York. Friends of Miss Matthews here said yesterday that she intended to marry Mr. Hale as soon as the divorce decree became effective.

LARGE KURDISH FORCE CORNERED BY TURKS

Peasants Who Fled Beginning to Return, but New Attacks on Villages Are Reported.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ISTANBUL, July 11.—A large force of Kurdish rebels is reported cornered in a desperate situation between two armed Turkish detachments near the River Zilan.

Peasants in the vicinity of Ergiche, who sought refuge from the Kurds by going to the mountains, are now returning home. The situation is improving although three villages have just been attacked by Persian tribesmen, who drove the peasants' cattle across the frontier, and another reinforced tribe is reported harassing settlements near Saray.

Rebels trapped in the fastnesses of Mount Ararat and Mount Suphan are being prevented from returning to Persia by continual bombardments from airplanes. It is asserted here that Hassan Khan, a powerful tribal chief, arranged on June 10 to supply the Kurd leader, Youssouf Aptal, money, guns and supplies.

$1,000,000 BLAZE RAZES PARIS STORE

Two Firemen Seriously Injured When Cement Block Tower Crashes Into Street.

WORST FIRE IN 12 YEARS

Glow of Flames Illuminates Most of City and Is Visible for Many Miles Around.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 11.—A spectacular fire of unknown origin tonight destroyed Les Nouvelles Galleries, a large department store on the Grands Boulevards near the Porte St. Denis, and caused an estimated loss of 30,000,000 francs [more than $1,000,000]. Two firemen were seriously injured when a corner tower of cement block construction crashed into the street after the blaze had been under way about an hour.

Thousands of Parisians, held back by the police, watched the capital's biggest conflagration since Le Printemps, another department store, burned twelve years ago. The usual boulevard throngs attracted to the fire were augmented by crowds just getting out of theatres in the Opéra district.

The blaze was discovered in the furniture department on the fifth floor shortly after midnight. It made such rapid headway that the city's entire fire-fighting equipment was struggling desperately to protect neighboring property three-quarters of an hour later. It was evident then that there was no hope of saving the burning building.

Among the buildings menaced by the cloud of sparks shooting skyward were the celebrated Théâtre Gymnase, the Concert Mayol, the Restaurant Marguéry and two of the leading morning newspapers, Le Matin and Le Petit Parisien. Luckily, however, there was almost no wind and the firemen were able to confine the flames to the department store, which occupied a solid square block.

The highly inflammable stock of the store caused a fiery glow which illumined almost the whole of Paris and was visible for many miles beyond the confines of the city.

AUSTRIA AND ITALY AGREE.

Former's Debt for Food Relief Pared From $3,100,000 to $2,430,000.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VIENNA, July 11.—The Austrian Government announced today the successful conclusion of negotiations to discharge Austria's relief debt to Italy.

Austria has agreed to pay $2,430,000 in thirty-year instalments for the food relief extended by Italy during the Winter of 1918-19 instead of the original claim of $3,100,000. Italy has renounced her claims for payment of the old Austrian Administration debts in territories ceded from Austria to Italy under the peace treaties and for the redemption of the lire notes issued by Austria while in occupation of Northeastern Italy.

Italy, as a result of the improved relations since Chancellor Schober's visit to Rome, thus has considerably scaled down her demands on her former enemy.

RUSSIA'S TEST SEEN AS FOOD PRODUCTION

Federal Council of Churches, in Survey, Says Peasants Will Decide the Issue.

INDIVIDUALISM A THREAT

Some Regard Collectivization as Return to Serfdom—Workers Inadequately Fed.

DOLES SCANT, PRICES HIGH

Fruits and Vegetables Seldom Available—Year's Harvest Vital Factor, Critics Say.

The race in Russia is between success on a grand scale of the Soviet program of socializing the nation and possible catastrophe, according to a survey of the Russian situation made public yesterday by the department of research and education of the Federal Council of Churches.

The survey, it is asserted, is based upon wide, first-hand observation of Russian events extending over a period of years and furnishes what the authors believe to be "the most accurate, balanced and recent report available to our readers."

Without undertaking to make predictions as to the ultimate result of the present efforts of the Soviet Government toward the industrialization and agricultural collectivization of the country, the authors of the survey declare that this year will witness the first practical test of the Communist theory that their program of collectivization will prove successful in overcoming the chronic shortage of agricultural products and foodstuffs in Russia, a shortage which is manifesting itself in the persistent rationing of the urban population.

Food Shortage Laid to System.

Asserting that the chronic food shortage "is not due to war or any exceptional natural catastrophe," the survey attributes it to "the new revolution involved in the collectivization of agriculture which, thus far, has destroyed the surplus production of the richer peasants faster than it has created new stores of surplus produce through the state and collective farms; the rapid growth in demand for food connected with the expansion of the cities and the big building projects which the Soviet Government is pushing forward with such feverish energy; the continued exportation of such food products as eggs, butter, fruit, caviar, &c.; the frequently unsatisfactory functioning of the transport and cooperative distributing system."

After reviewing what the survey presents as the actual facts in the industrial, agricultural and general economic situation of Soviet Russia, the anonymous authors say:

Peasant Seen As Basic Factor.

"The imposing new Soviet industrial structure is being reared on a narrow basis as regards food and raw material. The average laborer or office employe cannot do his best work on the food that is to be obtained now. And, if the human element in production is dependent upon agricultural food products, the machines and factories in many cases, are almost equally dependent upon agricultural raw material. So, from whatever angle one attempts to study the present Russian situation one must always come back to the peasant producer as the basic factor in the success or failure of the five-year plan.

"If the collective farms can hold and increase their present number of peasant members and simultaneously contribute larger and larger quantities of surplus produce, the Soviet production battle will be won. But if something goes seriously wrong with the collectivization program; if the anticipated increase in agricultural production fails to materialize; if the base of Soviet industrialization in food and raw material, already narrow, contracts still further, it is easy to foresee a crisis compared with which even the present difficulties will seem mild in retrospect."

Obstacles to Success Listed.

What these difficulties in the domain of food supply are may be gleaned from the following facts presented in the survey:

Manual workers can buy two pounds of bread a day and members of their families and other holders of food cards, one pound. Manual workers also are favored in the distribution of meat, of which they can buy one-half pound a day as against one-quarter of a pound for other citizens. There are, however, eight or ten meatless days every month. The meat ration sometimes consists of salt or canned meat.

The monthly allowance of butter for the most favored classes, manual workers and children, has varied from one-half to three-quarters of a pound. The highest allowance of eggs is five a month. Members of cooperatives, as a rule, can buy every month one-half pound of macaroni, one and a half pounds of grits and one-eighth of a pound of tea. The general allotment of sugar is three pounds a month. Fresh fish has been sold irregularly; smoked fish, caviar and vegetables have been scarce and fruit practically nonexistent.

Private Market Prices High.

"At times it has been difficult to buy even things which are regarded rather as luxuries, such as cakes and candies," the survey declares, adding that prices on the private market are so high that it cannot be considered as a satisfactory source of supply for the masses of the population. Butter costs from 3½ to 4 roubles a pound (a rouble is about 50 cents). A chicken costs from 8 to 10 roubles. Oranges, when available, are priced at 2 roubles each.

The chief obstacle to the success of collectivization, the survey asserts, is the universal and deep-rooted individualism of the peasants and the prediction is made that "unless the State industries are capable of supplying the collective farms with manufactured goods at reasonable prices it is quite probable that the old peasant grievances of high prices and scarcity of goods will be voiced again."

"From practical experience it is evident that there are two extremes which have to be avoided in the management of these farms," the survey says. "Excessive strictness of discipline alienates the peasants and furnishes ammunition for the kulaks and other opponents of the new method of farming who see in the collective farm a return to serfdom, with the Communist manager of the farm in the rôle of the old pomyeschick, or landlord. On the other hand, a loose and incapable administration tends to make the farm unproductive and to turn it into a refuge for loafers."

Year's Harvest Important.

"This year's harvest is of more than usual importance for several reasons," the survey continues. "In the first place, the food situation is so difficult that any serious crop failure would involve disastrous consequences. Second, this is the first year when collective farming will play such a large rôle in supplying the country with grain."

The survey adds:

"From the economist's point of view, the success of this gigantic experiment in transferring agriculture from an individualist to a socialist basis depends largely upon whether and how far it can raise the average peasant's standard of living.

Pointing out that rapid industrial progress is a feature of the present stage in Soviet development—industrial output this year is expected to increase by more than 30 per cent and to double the pre-war figure by the end of the year—the survey declares that the terrific speeding up of the process of collectivizing agriculture has intensified greatly the demands upon certain branches of industry.

"Between collective farms and new factory settlements the very face of the country is being changed in many places," the survey says. "Obviously, if the present pace of industrial development can be sustained and enhanced according to plan for the next few years, Russia will emerge a stronger economic and military factor in world affairs than she was before the revolution."

NATIONAL GUARD HEADS TO TRAIN AT PEEKSKILL

Haskell and Ward to Lead Staffs of 27th Division and State Aug. 24 to Sept. 7.

Special to The New York Times.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., July 11.—While 2,200 National Guardsmen of the 105th Infantry from Troy and up-State cities under Colonel Walter Robinson, and the 106th Infantry of Brooklyn, led by Colonel Thomas Fairservis, began preparations to leave Camp Smith on Sunday, it was announced today that the State and Twenty-seventh Division staffs would train there from Aug. 24 to Sept. 7.

The division staff is headed by Major Gen. William N. Haskell, Commanding General of the Guard. The State staff is led by Adjt. Gen. Franklin W. Ward. Colonel William R. Wright of Manhattan is chief of the division staff and other members include Colonels Hampton Anderson, Joseph A. S. Mundy, Isaac Lovell, Robert Guggenheim, James T. Loree, John Reynolds, Henry Suavet, Foster Hetzel, Fred M. Waterbury, Arthur McDermott and Robert Maloney. The State staff includes Colonels Burton Hall, Arthur Lawrence, Howard T. Kingsbury, D. J. Cadotte, Herman Metz, John McWilliams, Edward Parish and Louis Gaus.

While the staffs are in camp there will be 1,200 troops of the Tenth Infantry of Albany and vicinity, led by Colonel Charles E. Walsh and about 1,000 troops of the 101st Signal Battalion, the Twenty-seventh Trains, Twenty-seventh Special troops and the Twenty-seventh Division Headquarters Company, receiving field training at Camp Smith.

GIFT TO AID CANCER STUDY.

Chemical Foundation Gives $5,000 to Further Baltimore Research.

BALTIMORE, July 11 (AP).—Gift of $5,000 to aid in the investigation of new trails in search of a more definite method of diagnosing cancer was announced today by Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood, Baltimore surgeon and cancer authority. The gift was made to the Garvan and Hunterian laboratories here by the Chemical Foundation.

"Research workers of the laboratory have made an important discovery regarding peculiarities of cancer cells in animals," Dr. Bloodgood said. "Whether or not they are the same in the human body we do not know as yet.

"The money will be used to further these experiments in the search for a stain which will color only the cancer cells and for the experiments of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Gey who are at last succeeding in growing cancer cells outside of the human body. This is important for it opens a new field of experimentation on known living human cancer cells."

Dr. Bloodgood left today for New Orleans where he is to address a banquet of the Louisiana State Medical Society in honor of Senator Ransdell of Louisiana, author of a bill which appropriated $100,000 to further cancer research.

CAROL REASSURES JEWS.

Sends Word That Minorities Will Be Treated Fairly in Rumania.

Assurance that Jews and other minorities in Rumania will receive full recognition and protection from the new government under King Carol has been forwarded to Bennett E. Siegelstein, chairman of the foreign relations committee of the Rumanian Jewish Committee of America through Charles A. Davila, Rumanian Minister at Washington. The message from King Carol was in reply to a request for an amicable understanding forwarded by the Jewish group in this country.

The message from Minister Davila said:

"The Rumanian nation and his Majesty, King Carol, appreciates the courteous interest shown and congratulations extended and wishes me to assure you that everything will be done by him and his government to treat all minorities alike."

71ST TO LEAVE TOMORROW.

1,200 Men Will Parade to Station on Way to Camp Smith.

Approximately 1,200 officers and men of the Seventy-first Infantry, N. Y. N. G., will leave tomorrow afternoon for their annual two weeks' field training at Camp Smith, Peekskill. The regiment will be under the command of Colonel Walter A. De Lamater and will be the leading regiment in the State in point of strength.

Headed by the regimental band, the troops will move out from the armory at Thirty-fourth Street and Park Avenue at 2:15 P. M. They will march to the Grand Central Terminal, where two special trains will be waiting to convey them to the camp.

FINDS US LOSING BIG RUSSIAN TRADE

Albert Kahn, Noted Architect, Here From Stalingrad, Urges Recognition of Soviet.

SAYS IT WOULD AID IDLE

Stories of Religious Persecution Are False, He Asserts—Dr. Hexter, Jewish Worker, Arrives.

Part of the blame for the present business depression in this country is due to the lack of official relationships between the United States and Soviet Governments, according to Moritz Kahn, noted architect and member of the consulting architectural house of Albert Kahn, Inc., of Detroit, who landed here last night on the North German Lloyd liner Columbus.

Mr. Kahn spent ten weeks in Russia in connection with his concern's contract with the Soviet Government to plan and supervise the construction of a large group of manufacturing plant at Stalingrad, at the mouth of the Volga River in Southern Russia. Interviewed when the Columbus docked at Pier 4, South Brooklyn, Mr. Kahn asserted that America is losing considerable business with Russia which is at present in the midst of a $1,900,000,000 industrial program.

He said that he recently visited London where representatives of the Soviet Government informed him that during the last four months Russia had placed $100,000,000 worth of business in Great Britain.

He added that the British Government has guaranteed 60 per cent of Russia's credit on this business.

Mr. Kahn, who had previously been in Russia for a period of five months, asserted that the stories of religious persecution by the Soviets, reaching the outside world, were untrue. He declared that the only churches that are being torn down in Russia are old buildings that would collapse in a year or so anyway. He also said that stories of persons being kidnapped in foreign countries, transported to Russia and murdered there are "absolutely untrue."

The Soviet Government is performing miraculous things in the industrial world, according to Mr. Kahn. Construction work is done at tremendous speed, he said, pointing out that within the space of twelve months, a $30,000,000 plant in Stalingrad, for building motor tractors, had been planned, built and put into operation.

He said that although Russia is self-supporting as far as foodstuffs are concerned, difficulties have arisen because of the government's policy of spending all the profits on food sold abroad for the services of foreign experts in Russia.

Another passenger on the Columbus was Dr. Maurice B. Hexter, an executive member of the Jewish Agency for Palestine and representative of the Non-Zionist movement in Palestine. He said he is here to confer with Felix M. Warburg, who is member of the administrative committee of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, on political and economic problems in that country.

REOPEN NYACK DRIVE AGAINST SUNDAY FILMS

Church Leaders Spurred to Action by Bribery Charges Against Mayor Kosel.

Special to The New York Times.

NYACK, N. Y., July 11.—A committee of local church leaders, spurred to action by the indictment yesterday of Mayor Oscar R. Kosel and Harry Williams, former village trustee, on charges of accepting a bribe for the renewal of a permit allowing Sunday motion pictures, announced today the renewal of its old fight for the preservation of the Sabbath. Members of the committee said that they would petition the board of trustees at their next meeting, on July 21, to revoke the Sunday movie permit.

When Sunday motion picture shows were first agitated here two years ago, church representatives, headed by Justice A. S. Tompkins of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, whose home was in Upper Nyack, presented a petition signed by more than 1,000 citizens, protesting against Sunday shows. The trustees then in office, headed by T. F. Odell as Mayor, took the position that the sentiment against Sunday motion pictures was sufficiently strong to refuse to issue a permit for them.

A permit, however, was subsequently granted to the Rockland Theatre here allowing the management to give Sunday performances. The church leaders will ask Trustees Floyd J. Haire, James Hoyle and Raymond Taylor, all of whom took office in January, to cancel this permit.

Haire is acting as Mayor of Nyack in the absence of Mr. Kosel, who is recuperating from a nervous breakdown at Lake Placid. Mayor Kosel and Mr. Williams will be arraigned on July 24.

POPE HONORS J. F. MOORE.

Welfare Work in Palestine by Near East Group Is Recognized.

Word was received yesterday at the offices of the Catholic Near East Welfare Association, 480 Lexington Avenue, that Joseph F. Moore, its secretary and treasurer, has been made a Knight Commander of the Papal Order of the Holy Sepulchre by Pope Pius XI.

Mr. Moore was made a Commander of the Order of Civil Merit by King Boris III of Bulgaria last year for the aid given by the association at the time of the earthquake in that country in 1928. The Vatican distinction just bestowed is in recognition of the work done by his organization in Palestine where it helps to maintain a chain of orphanages, trade and agricultural schools, dispensaries and other works of mercy at Jerusalem, Nazareth, Bethlehem, Beitgemal and other places. These institutions are staffed by the Salesian Fathers, the Sisters of Charity and members of other religious communities and are supported largely by the contributions of the million members of the association in the United States.

Formed four years ago to consolidate all American Catholic agencies working in behalf of the Near East, Greece and the Balkans, the association, which operates under the personal direction of Pope Pius, has helped in the rehabilitation of the victims of war, famine and persecution in these lands, also aiding in the education of exiles in many sections of Western and Central Europe. It has also administered emergency relief in all parts of the world.

WESTCHESTER HAILS ROCKEFELLER GIFT

Authorities Pleased by Saving to County and Aid for New Saw Mill River Parkway.

The Saw Mill River Parkway will not reach the Eastview property donated by John D. Rockefeller Jr. for a considerable period, Jay Downer, chief engineer of the Westchester County Park Commission, said at Bronxville yesterday. Mr. Downer joined with other Westchester park authorities in hailing the gift from Mr. Rockefeller for its saving to the county and for the advantage it will bring in straightening the route to the parkway.

The Saw Mill River Parkway was opened last September from Tibbet's Brook Park in Yonkers to Ashsford Avenue, Ardsley. The continuation of the roadway as far north as Elmsford will be opened to the public some time this year, Mr. Downer said. Beyond that point, the extension of the parkway will await the completion of work now being done by the New York Central Railroad and the State highway authorities, Mr. Downer said.

The property donated by Mr. Rockefeller, valued at $115,000, consists of a portion of the village of Eastview, which Mr. Rockefeller purchased last year from its owners, and which became a deserted village about a year ago. The village property was originally desired by the commission's engineers in laying out the route of the parkway, but was abandoned because the cost would be too great.

After the purchase of the property by Mr. Rockefeller, the New York Central began to relocate its tracks around the property and this work is still going on. To facilitate it, Mr. Rockefeller asked that strips of land valued at $11,695 be turned over by the county to the railroad. This action will be recommended to the Board of Supervisors.

When completed, the Saw Mill River Parkway will extend thirty miles beyond Ardsley to Katonah.

Mr. Downer also revealed that he was attempting to obtain an outdoor swimming pool for the city of White Plains. Mr. Downer believes that a pool of 40,000 square feet would be adequate.

YOUNG CHILDREN GIVE 'PINAFORE' AT CAMP

Heckscher Players, Ranging in Age From 4 to 7, Applauded in Outdoor Performance.

Special to The New York Times.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., July 11.—A performance of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "Pinafore" by what was probably the youngest group of players ever to present this work, was applauded with enthusiasm this afternoon by 600 vacation guests at the Heckscher Camp, Adams Corner. The production was staged in the outdoor theatre.

Fifty-two children ranging in age from 4 to 7 years took part under the direction of Ashley Miller.

All are members of the Heckscher players and frequently take part in productions at the Heckscher Foundation Theatre at 104th Street and Fifth Avenue, New York, where the children are instructed in voice and stage routine.

The Heckscher Camp is having the most successful year of its existence. To date 1,480 persons, including 200 women over 45 years of age, 400 children from 3 to 5 years old, 480 boys from 10 to 15 and 400 girls from 10 to 15, have had a two weeks' vacation there.

GETS PRINCETON POST.

Dr. Paul van Dyke to Serve as Master in Residence for Year.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., July 11.—Professor Paul van Dyke has been appointed acting master in residence of the Graduate College of Princeton University for the next academic year, Dean Augustus Trowbridge of the school announced today. Dr. van Dyke, who is Pyne Professor of History Emeritus, will fill this post during the absence of Professor William Gilliespie, master of residence since 1923, to whom a leave of absence has been granted for the year 1930-1931.

Dr. van Dyke is a brother of Dr. Henry van Dyke, retired from active service on the faculty a year ago. He has lived at the Graduate College since it was completed in 1913. He will be assisted in his work next year by a committee of faculty members who are also in residence at the Graduate College.

TO HONOR EMILIO CARRANZA

Mexican and United States Officials to Attend Memorial Rites Today.

CHATSWORTH, N. J., July 11.—Representatives of the Mexican and United States Governments and of the American Legion will observe the second anniversary tomorrow of the death of Captain Emilio Carranza in the Pine Woods, several miles from here.

Captain Carranza was killed July 12, 1928, while en route from New York City to Mexico on the return portion of a good-will flight from the Southern republic. Leaving Roosevelt Field in the afternoon, Captain Carranza died when his plane crashed in the woods, having either been struck by lightning or driven down in a heavy storm. His body and the wrecked plane were found two days later.

Enrique Ruinz, the Mexican Consul in New York, his staff and representatives of the embassy in Washington will attend the ceremony.

8 JOIN SISTERS OF MERCY.

Mgr. Spillane Officiates at North Plainfield Ceremonies.

Special to The New York Times.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., July 11.—Impressive religious ceremonies marking the reception of eight young women into the order of the Sisters of Mercy of Mount St. Mary's Convent were held today in St. Joseph's Church, North Plainfield. Mgr. Maurice R. Spillane, Vicar General of the Trenton Diocese, reprenting Bishop John J. McMahon, officiated, assisted by the Rev. John F. Baldwin of Lakewood, the Rev. Thomas A. Gribbon of St. Joseph's Church and the Rev. James R. Egan, chaplain of Mount St. Mary's.

Mgr. Spillane delivered a sermon on "The Religions Life." Those received into the order are Anne Fruehwirth of Perth Amboy, Kathleen Lyons of Westmont, Isabel Geary of South Plainfield, Mary Doherty, Eleanor Burdette and Eleanor O'Hara of Trenton, Madeline Mongon of Lambertville and Grace O'Malley of Brooklyn.

TOPICS OF INTEREST TO THE CHURCHGOER

First Week of Summer School at the Theological Seminary Shows 198 Enrolled.

DR. FOSDICK ON FACULTY

Uldine Utley to Sail for Europe Wednesday—Young People Leave Today for Lutheran Meeting.

The enrolment of students at the second annual Summer school of Union Theological Seminary, Broadway and 120th Street, mounted to 198 yesterday. Of these 119 are men and 79 are women. Forty-five clergymen are included in the list. The director of the Summer session is the Rev. Dr. Gaylord S. White, dean of the seminary. The vacation school, which opened Monday morning and will continue through Aug. 15, is maintained in connection with the Summer school of Columbia University, the sessions of which take in the same six weeks. The seminary is independent of the university, but Columbia recognizes the credits earned by seminary students.

Classes begin each morning at 8:30 and continue through 1:30. Devotions are held in the chapel each morning at 8 o'clock. Two courses which are proving popular will continue through next week under the supervision of the Rev. Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin, president of the seminary, who inaugurated them on Monday. One is devoted to "The Problems and Work of the Ministry," with a lecture at 9:30 daily. The other is entitled "The Preparation and Criticism of Sermons." The lecture is given daily at 11:30 o'clock.

The Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor of the Riverside Church and a member of the faculty of the seminary, will have charge of these two courses beginning Monday, Aug. 4. Next week the lecturer will be Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the New York Methodist Area, and president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. During the following week the instructor will be the Rev. Dr. Thomas W. Graham, dean of the Divinity School of Oberlin College. The lecturer for the final week following Dr. Fosdick's term will be the Rev. Dr. Henry K. Sherrill, retiring rector of Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, Boston, who this Fall will be consecrated Bishop of Massachusetts.

Canon Charles E. Raven of the Anglican Cathedral and a chaplain to the King of England, will lecture at the seminary each morning at 8:30 o'clock for the remaining five weeks of the session on "The Christian Idea of God."

Dr. Coffin will preach tomorrow morning in the James Memorial Chapel of the seminary and tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at a twilight service in the triangle garden about which the seminary buildings are located. Last Sunday when Dr. Coffin opened the Summer Sunday morning services about 400 persons were unable to gain admittance.

Uldine Utley, the evangelist, who was 18 years old on March 16, will sail Wednesday on the Leviathan to see the Oberammergau Passion Play. She has invitations to preach in Norway and Sweden. Miss Utley is due to arrive home Aug. 23. She will be accompanied abroad by Miss Helen Jones, who has served for some years as her tutor. The young evangelist will conclude a series of meetings tomorrow evening in Langhorne, Pa. Her office in the Presbyterian Building, 156 Fifth Avenue, this city, will continue open during her absence abroad. This will be Miss Utley's first trip to Europe. When she is not conducting meetings Miss Utley makes her home at Sterling Forest, on Greenwood Lake, N. Y. She will be there Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Lucy Clark, known as "the Children's Missionary" because her work is supported by gifts from primary pupils in the Sunday Schools of the Congregational churches in New York State, will sail today on the new White Star motor vessel Britannic to Liverpool on her way back to Ceylon. She has completed a year's furlough. Miss Clark is head of the kindergarten in the girls' school at Uduvil, Northern Ceylon. The institution, which was founded six years ago, was the first American foreign mission school for girls to be established in that country.

A large delegation of young people from the metropolitan and New Jersey districts of the Lutheran Walther League will leave today for Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the thirty-eighth international convention of that organization. It will open tomorrow and continue through Thursday. The organization includes 1,222 senior and 420 junior societies in thirty-seven districts in the United States and Canada. The total membership of the league is 46,689. The chaplain of the delegation will be the Rev. Paul H. Scaer, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, in the Flatbush section of Brooklyn. J. F. E. Nickelsburg will attend as the representative of the American Lutheran Publicity Bureau, 69 Fifth Avenue. Among others in the delegation are Charles D. Wohltjeon, a member of Trinity Church, Degraw Street, Brooklyn, who is the Eastern vice president of the international league; Carl Becker, president of the Metropolitan Walther League; Charles Brandt, president of the New Jersey Walther League.

St. Joseph's Mortuary Chapel of "The Little Church Around the Corner," on Twenty-ninth Street, just East of Fifth Avenue, is being redecorated. Wrought iron and bronze gates are being installed at the entrance to the chapel. They were a gift of Edwin Clarence Moller in memory of his sister, S. Adelina Moller.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Trexler, president of the United Lutheran Synod of New York, will rededicate the remodeled Lutheran Church of Concord tomorrow morning at West Greece, a suburb of Rochester, N. Y., the pastor of which is the Rev. Erwin L. Tucker. Dr. Trexler has been spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. Daniel D. Trexler, at Bernville, Pa.

The Rev. Samuel M. Shoemaker Jr., rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church, and his bride are spending their honeymoon abroad. Their trip will include a visit to the Oberammergau Passion Play. During the absence of the rector Calvary Church, which is at Fourth Avenue and Twenty-first Street, is in charge of the Rev. Norman Von Post Schwab and the Rev. J. Herbert Smith.

The Rev. Donald H. Tippett, pastor of the Methodist Church of All Nations, 9 Second Avenue, has had the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity conferred upon him by the University of Colorado. It is the first time in more than forty years that the institution has conferred this degree.

The Rev. Dr. Henry Darlington, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Heavenly Rest, is conducting the Sunday services through the Summer at Saranac Inn, Saranac Lake, N. Y. The Rev. Robert M. Redenbaugh, director of religious education at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, has been seriously ill. He was to have been the preacher in the local church through this month.

The Rev. Herbert J. Glover, vicar of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, will preach tomorrow morning in Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, Spring Lake, N. J. The Rev. E. Felix Kloman, assistant at Grace Protestant Episcopal Church, and his wife sailed for England Wednesday. They are due home about Sept. 1.

WILL ASSIST SURVEY OF TEACHER TRAINING

Dr. Evenden of Columbia Named by Wilbur Advisory Board From Colleges Selected.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Appointment of Dr. Edward S. Evenden of Columbia University as associate director of the teacher training survey to be conducted by Dr. Cooper, Commissioner of Education, was announced today by Secretary Wilbur.

The Secretary stated that the department was proceeding "to make a study of the qualifications of teachers in the public schools, the supply of available teachers and the facilities available and needed for teacher training, including courses of study and methods of teaching," as authorized by Congress, which provided $200,000, of which $50,000 is available for the present year.

Dr. Ben Frazier of the Office of Education will be administrative assistant in this study.

Secretary Wilbur also announced the appointment of a group of eleven specialists, including William C. Bagley, in charge of teacher preparation at Columbia, as a board of consultants in the inquiry.

Other members of the board are John A. H. Keith, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania; W. P. Morgan, president of the State Teachers College of Macomb, Ill.; D. B. Waldo, president of the Western State Teachers College of Kalamazoo; George W. Frazier, president of the Colorado State Teachers College of Greeley; William Webb Kemp, dean of the School of Education of the University of California; M. E. Haggerty, dean of the School of Education in the University of Minnesota; William S. Gray, dean of the School of Education of the University of Chicago; Henry W. Holmes, dean of the Graduate School of Education at Harvard University; Shelton Phelps of the George Peabody College for Teachers and W. W. Charters of Ohio State University.

SEEK ART CENTRE CHARTER.

Sponsors of Philadelphia Project File Application.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—With the filing of an application today for a charter for the Philadelphia Arts Association, a non-profit corporation, first steps were taken toward establishing the Temple of Arts, a proposed music and art centre on the Parkway.

The application specified that the organization was dedicated to the support and promotion of musical, dramatic and artistic education and that it would acquire title to the ground and have charge of the ownership and operation of the complete project.

The subscribers in the charter application were listed as Mrs. Mary Louise Curtis Bok, W. Curtis Bok, Cyrus H. K. Curtis, Albert M. Greenfield and Samuel R. Rosenbaum. The board of directors for the first year will include, in addition, Helen C. Leidy, Eli Kirk Price, Alexander Van Rensselaer, Charles E. Beury and J. Howard Reber.

Organizations interested in the plan are the Philadelphia Forum, Philadelphia Grand Opera Company, Philadelphia Orchestra, Art Alliance and Fairmount Park Commission. The municipal art theatre project also is expected to be housed in the structure.

By WILLIAM D. RICHARDSON.

Special to The New York Times.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—Bobby Jones had a great chance to put considerable distance between himself and his rivals for the national open championship today, but neglected to take it.

As a result, Horton Smith, tall, willowy Missourian, who now represents the Cragston Club on the Hudson, leads the field at the half-way point in the race for the crown now worn by the redoubtable Bobby.

By scoring a 70 over the Interlachen Country Club course today, Smith, already rated one of the finest young professionals in the game, jumped into the lead by a margin of two strokes, his total for the thirty-six holes the field has now put behind it being 142.

As a result of today's play the field was reduced to sixty-nine. Only those with a score of 156 or better remain for the last two rounds.

Jones, who was playing immediately behind Smith, might have succeeded in at least tying had it not been for a disastrous 6 on a par 4 hole. His round today was 73, where a 71 would have left him on even terms with Horton.

Jones's Shot Skims Water.

And yet Bobby has every reason in the world to feel grateful that his 73 was not worse, for fate was with him playing the ninth hole. On this second shot to the green he failed to get hold of the ball and it flew in a low line, headed right for the pond straight ahead.

It actually did strike the water, but it was going at such a clip that it volplaned over the surface and ran up the bank to safety. He pitched the next one dead and sank his putt for a birdie 4, where a little less luck would have resulted in a 6 or 7.

Today saw the displacement of the two Scots who shared the leadership after yesterday's opening round—Macdonald Smith and Tommy Armour—although neither is by any means out of the running.

Close on the heels of Horton Smith besides Jones are Harry Cooper, loser of the play-off for the title in 1927, when the championship was played at Oakmont, and Charles Lacey, young Scottish professional who gets his practice playing one of the most difficult courses in the world—Pine Valley, at Clementon, N. J.

Cooper, who was tied for fifth place yesterday with a par-equaling performance, duplicated the feat today when scoring conditions were a trifle harder as a result of a welcome wind which blew over the course, making things more comfortable for the spectators. Lacey, who was one of the late starters today, jumped into a striking position as the result of a 70 to tie Horton Smith's figure.

Lacey Near a Record.

Lacey had a great chance to set a new competitive course record with a 69. All he needed for those figures was a 4 on the home hole, but he hooked his drive into the rough, tried for the green and pushed his second shot into a bunker on the right-hand corner, exploded out over the green and got his 5 only by laying his next one dead to the pin to get down in a single putt.

Armour and Macdonald Smith, although pushed out of the spotlight's range, are still in a position to make matters interesting. The latter is in fifth place with only three strokes separating him and the other Smith, while the former is only four strokes back of the leader, bracketed with W. H. Cox of Dyker Beach, Brooklyn, and Johnny Farrell.

Cox who was tied with Jones at the conclusion of yesterday's round when they each shot 71s, a stroke above the scores of Armour and Mac Smith, took 75 today while Farrell clipped two strokes off his first round score with a well-played 72.

So closely bunched is the field that there is every indication there will be another play-off at the finish of the 72-hole test. Since 1923, when Jones won his first open championship by beating Bobby Cruickshank, there have been only two years when the championship was won outright—1924, when Cyril Walker won at Oakland Hills, and 1926, when Bobby won again at Scioto.

The list of those who are still in the running includes Walter Hagen, who impaired his chances to a considerable extent this morning by taking 40 to come home, after playing the first nine holes in 35. Walter's total is 147 and he is tied with Johnny Golden, who clipped a stroke off his first-round total with a 73.

Three metropolitan district professionals are in the next group which includes the 148s. Craig Wood, Billy Burke, former New York State open champion, and Jack Forrester. The fourth man is Bob Shave of Cleveland.

Next come Charles Guest, Ed Dudley and Eddie Williams and after them T. Philip Perkins, former British amateur champion who has outstripped George Voigt, Harrison Johnston, the amateur champion; Cyril Tolley, former British champion; Chick Evans, Don Moe and all the other amateurs entered in the tournament with the exception of Jones.

Perkins had another 75 today to place himself in a tie with Walter Kozak, the Metropolitan P. G. A. champion; Bill Mehlhorn, Leo Diegel and Long Jim Barnes.

The dramatic moments of today's second round were the unexpected lapses of Jones, Hagen, Mac Smith and Armour. The last three were among the early ones to start, all going out around 10 o'clock within a few holes of one another.

Armour was the first off, and when he started, conditions were a trifle more difficult than they were yesterday when he and Mac Smith reeled off their sensational 70s. While there was a slight breeze out of the East, it was not enough to be a handicap. If anything it was an asset for it brought relief from the terrific heat wave which has held the Northwest in its grip for several days.

Armour Starts Shakily.

Tommy started shakily, taking 5s on the first two holes and having to play a sensational shot over a tree to get the 5 on the second hole after hooking his mashie shot twenty yards off line. He got one of the wasted strokes back by getting a birdie 4 on the long fourth hole, only to take three putts on the next green.

He managed to get out in 37 and started back with a par, birdie and a par. He three-putted again on the thirteenth and then ran into a bad streak of two holes which cost him three strokes to par. The best he could do on the inward half was a 39, which gave him a total of 76 for the round.

Hagen, like Armour, played a struggling round. Despite the fact that he made three birdies on the first nine, he was out in 35, one under par. He began with a 5, failing to reach the green on his second shot. He sank a fifteen-foot putt downhill for a birdie to offset this on the second, played in the rough all the way to the fourth and still got par figures.

He missed his second shot completely on the way to the sixth, where he went over par; pitched to within four feet of the flag on the seventh and holed the putt for another birdie.

When it came to the inward nine the Haig was all at sea, and he had to finish the last three holes in par figures for his 75. His worst experience came on the fourteenth, where he put his second shot out of bounds and the result was a 6.

Two Birdies for Mac Smith.

Mac Smith had five holes in par on the outward half and two birdies—one on the fourth, where he hit two fine wood shots, and one on the ninth—but was 37 to the turn, largely through a 6 at the first hole, where he hooked his drive back of a tree. A 38 was the best he could accomplish on the second nine, where he had two poor holes, the thirteenth, where he took three to get down from the edge, and the fourteenth, where he took three putts.

By the time they were finishing their rounds, Horton Smith and Jones were just about starting. Horton was out ahead and the repeated roars from his gallery indicated that he was producing some fireworks. His was a round that was very much like that Bobby put on for the benefit of the crowd yesterday except that he had a few more birdies.

He is a beautiful stylist—a free, easy swinger, who has golf rhythm down to a fine point. Except for the rolling in of a fifteen-foot putt for a birdie 3 on the second hole he did nothing sensational until he came to play the ninth hole, where he spanked a wooden club shot prettily on the green and holed a twenty-foot putt for an eagle 3, which helped him to the extent of getting out in 33, three under par.

First Slip on Tenth Green.

Horton's first slip came when he overplayed the tenth green, found his ball lying in long grass and failed to put it on the green on his first attempt. But right after that he played two sparkling holes, getting home with an iron shot for a birdie 4 on the 484-yard eleventh and hitting two terrific woods into the wind and laying his approach dead for another birdie 4 on the 530-yard thirteenth.

He was off line on the way to the fourteenth, pushing his drive into the long rough and knocking his ball out into more rough only fifty yards ahead. He had to work hard for his 5 there, but with pars on the next two came up to the last two holes with a 3 and a 4 for a 69. He got one of them, but not the other, for he hooked his brassie into the bunker on the seventeenth and came out too strongly to get down in a single putt.

And now came Jones and as usual the whole gallery, numbering perhaps 3,500 at times, waited for him and escorted him around the course. Although he started with a 5, Bobby appeared destined for another great round when he played the next two holes in par figures, then registered two birdies in a row, one at the fourth, where he was almost home and chipped up dead, and another at the fifth where his putter, Calamity Jane, rolled down a twenty-five-footer for a 2. Two under 4s at that point, it looked as if Bobby might get out in lower figures than he did.

His 34, however, was satisfactory and he and Horton Smith were all even in strokes up to that point. He forged ahead of the Missourian when he got his par 4 on the tenth, but from then on played every hole until the sixteenth in a manner that indicated he was not quite himself.

Jones Falters Toward Finish.

A poor chip left Bobby without a chance for a birdie on the eleventh, and a bad drive was followed by a hooked second shot that ended its career in a bunker on the twelfth. He had to hole a good-sized putt to save his par there, went over the green on the next and took a 4, got a good 4 on the next after failing to reach the green with his second shot, and then ran into a deserved 6 on the fifteenth.

His drive was in the rough, covered with grass, but he got out safely, pitched past the pin, chipped back short and then missed a putt of four feet or so. It looked very much as if he was headed for a 40 on the nine until he pitched close and holed a good putt for a birdie 3 on the sixteenth and finished with two 4s for a 39.

That was all there was until Farrell and Lacey came in, the former with his 72, which leaves him still in the running, and the latter with his brilliant 70.

Perkins, in First U. S. Open, Pleased With His Showing

Special to The New York Times.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—T. Philip Perkins, now of the metropolitan district and former British amateur champion, led the amateurs back of Bobby Jones, with a two-round total of 150. "I'm mighty well pleased," said Phil.

Besides Perkins, who is competing in his first U. S. open championship, Lester Bolstad, former public links and Big Ten champion, remains for the final thirty-six holes as a consequence of his 154, while other amateurs in the select group are George Voigt and Donald Moe, Walker Cup players, at 155 and 156 respectively; Richard Martin, the University of Illinois player and the individual Big Ten titleholder; Chick Evans, former national open and amateur champion, also 156, and Johnny Goodman of Omaha, 154.

JONES, TURNESA PAIRED.

Champion to Have Elmsford Pro as Partner Today.

Special to The New York Times.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—Bobby Jones will have as his partner tomorrow in the final thirty-six holes Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., pro, who finished one stroke back of him in the 1926 open. Jones and Turnesa are scheduled to start their rounds at 9:15 and 1:15.

Other leading pairs include Horton Smith and Donald Moe, 10:15 and 2:15; Tommy Armour and Tom Raklets, 9:30 and 1:30; Macdonald Smith and John Golden, 9:45 and 1:45; Walter Hagen and Fred Morrison, 9:50 and 1:50.

GOLF TOURNEY ON AIR TODAY

Portable Transmitter to Be Used to Describe Play at Interlachen.

The final stages of the national open golf tournament at Interlachen today will be described by radio over the Columbia Broadcasting System's network by means of a portable transmitter and microphone carried by Ted Husing. Husing will wander about the links and describe scenes he sees between 6 P. M. and 8 P. M., Daylight Saving Time. He will be heard in New York over Station WABC. The unique device has never been used before in giving a word picture of a golf tournament.

The National Broadcasting Company also will give an account of the day's proceedings, O. B. Keeler, golf authority, broadcasting from the studios of KSTP starting at 8:30 P. M. The latter account will be received locally through WJZ.

Sarazen Calls for Advice.

Special to The New York Times.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—Gene Sarazen called for official advice after he pushed his tee shot at the ninth into what he thought was out of bounds territory on the first fairway. Sarazen played a provisional ball, but sent it into the lake, and when he found his first shot was not out of bounds he played it out for a par 5.

H. SMITH IS MODEST IN FACE OF OVATION

Young Star Attributes Brilliant Round to the Fact That a Few Putts Dropped.

Special to The New York Times.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—Horton Smith, the 22-year-old Missouri boy who bounded into fame during the last two seasons by winning twenty-two tournaments, reacted to the great ovation he received as he finished his sensational round of 70 with the calmness of a sage this evening.

Having been in the pair ahead of Bobby Jones, Horton was in the locker room receiving the congratulations of a group of friends on his fine round several minutes before he knew that Bobby finished with a 73 and consequently trailed him by two strokes for the two-day total.

"Oh, well," said Horton, in his familiar drawl in response to greetings, "you've got to get two good rounds once in a while, if you keep playing. I don't think I played any better than I did yesterday, except that a few putts dropped."

Although he has been the outstanding figure in Winter tournaments for the past two seasons, this is the first time that Smith looms as a dangerous contender in the national open, and if he starts to hole the six-footers there's no telling how far he will go. As some one ventured this afternoon: "He'll be around here in 65."

No one can overlook Harry Cooper, who tied Tommy Armour at Oakmont, as the final laps start tomorrow. Cooper, who came here playing at the top of his game, has been going at a beautiful pace and has scarcely been in the rough for thirty-six holes. His string of pars was broken today at two of the par 3 holes and once at the tenth. With two par rounds of 72, only Horton Smith has scored better thus far.

Jimmy Thompson of Colorado Springs, Hagen's partner, and a nephew of Jack White famous Scottish clubmaker, accounted for one of the stellar shots of the tournament when he hit an iron 200 yards from a downhill lie in the rough to the sixth green. Thompson had to hook the ball around an intervening tree, and the great shot which resulted in a birdie 4 brought thunderous applause from the huge gallery which was following the players.

Announcer at U. S. Open Gives Results on 9th, 18th Holes

Special to The New York Times.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—One of the innovations introduced at this tournament is the scorer announcer at both the ninth and eighteenth holes. As thousands grouped along the walk in front of the clubhouse, or sat on the banks back of the green, the scores of each player as he finished were shouted for all to hear.

As Horton Smith completed his round, Scotty Chisholm, the announcer at the home green, shouted, "Horton Smith of New York," then hesitated and added, "also of Missouri, has just finished with a 70."

TOLLEY IS ELIMINATED

Former British Amateur Champion Forced Out With Another 80—Johnston Also Fails.

By LINCOLN A. WERDEN.

Special to The New York Times.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—Cool breezes that supplanted the torrid first day resulted in an increase in attendance today. More than 10,000 visitors, according to the committee's report, were here from various sections of the West and Canada to witness the play.

Cyril Tolley, the only foreign entrant and former British amateur champion, repeated his 80 of yesterday and consequently will not compete in the final thirty-six holes. Jimmy Johnston, the national amateur champion, also was eliminated because of his 161. One of the few pro stars to fail was Henry Ciuci of Mill River, who finished seventh at Winged Foot last year.

Ciuci withdrew following his 83 yesterday, while George Sargent, national open champion of 1909, and Jock Hutchison, British open champion in 1921, who played as Bobby Jones's partner, also withdrew.

Charles Lacey, who has more bunkers on his course at Pine Valley than probably two or three links put together, dropped his second shot into one bunker today that he probably will always remember. At the eighteenth he ruined a chance for a 69 that would have given him second place undisputed by pitching into a trap. His recovery went over the green and he had to be content with a 5 for a 70.

Finds Greens Difficult.

Whiffy Cox of Dyker Beach, Brooklyn, found difficulty in judging the greens. His niblick pitch at the second and sixth holes struck short of the pin, but rolled over the green, and he carded 5s both times. Although out in 36, he missed a putt for a 3 after being bunkered at the thirteenth, and three-putted the sixteenth to go over par again. At the seventeenth, the 262-yard hole that has been puzzling to most of the players, Cox was bunkered on his tee shot and took a 4. However, he finished with a par 4 for a 75 and a grand total of 146, although he found his ball half buried on his drive at the eighteenth.

"I've never played better in a championship," commented stolid Johnny Golden, who added a 73 today for an aggregate of 147. With a 34 on the outgoing half, Johnny's chief errors on the second half were at the sixteenth, where he three-putted, and the seventeenth, where his tee shot landed in a bunker.

Hagen Flubs Shot For Thirty Feet.

Walter Hagen flubbed a mashie niblick pitch that went only thirty feet and that followed a drive of almost 290 yards at the sixth. Even 4s until that 5, Hagen promptly holed a 3 at the seventh for a birdie and a 4 at the ninth to be out in 35. His 40 on the second half included a 6 at the fourteenth, where he sliced an iron shot out of bounds, which cost him a two-stroke penalty.

Johnny Farrell finds himself only four strokes back of Horton Smith, and he is wondering just what his two-day total might have been if he didn't start with an 8 at the first hole yesterday. Farrell's 72 was one of the day's best rounds. With a 4 for a 36 Johnny hit a low iron shot that plunked into the pond short of the water lilies at the ninth, but he then proceeded to get a par 5 there, nevertheless, by hitting a full mid-iron shot two feet from the pin and tapping in the putt.

On the second half Farrell holed three birdies, the first of them coming at the 484-yard eleventh, where he was home in two with a midiron and sank his 4. He pitched well for another birdie 4 at the twelfth and concluded his round by rolling in a fifteen-footer for a 3, which brought him back in 35.

All Even at the Turn.

Tommy Armour and Mac Smith, who led with 70s yesterday, were still all even at the turn this morning. Tommy started with two 5s and three-putted the short fifth. His eight-foot putt at the ninth just slid by the cup for an eagle 3. Mac also had a chance for a 3 at the ninth, but later Horton Smith didn't miss his there. Two fine woods and a six-foot putt and Horton holed the eagle 3 for a 33 that was responsible for his overtaking the leaders.

Mac Smith, however, was able to pick up a stroke on Armour with a 38 on the second nine, as the former open champion three-putted the short thirteenth and took a 6 at the fourteenth as the result of a hooked drive into the heavy rough. Armour saved himself from going over par at the sixteenth by a fine niblick shot. His pushed drive rolled under a bench, but after the seat had been moved away Armour sent the ball right to the green. By then, however, Mac was ahead and, even though he finished 3-5 to Armour's 3-4, he led by a stroke.

The Lakeville pro's jinx hole thus far is the eighteenth, where he has been driving into the rough and sacrificing a stroke to par, taking a 5.

MISS ORCUTT ADVANCES

Shoots Lowest Round of Day to Conquer Miss Wattles, 7 and 5, in Semi-Finals.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 11.—Miss Glenna Collett, women's national golf champion, lost to Miss Helen Hicks of Inwood, 3 and 1, in the semi-finals of the women's New York State championship tournament at the Oak Hill Country Club today. Three shots into the creek that winds its way through the course and numerous visits to traps contributed to Miss Collett's defeat.

By her victory, Miss Hicks earned the right to meet Miss Maureen Orcutt of Lido in the 36-hole final tomorrow.

Miss Orcutt, playing the best golf of the day, eliminated Miss Peggy Wattles of Buffalo, 7 and 5, without the loss of a hole. Miss Orcutt started with three pars on the outward nine and added four more in succession to start the second nine.

Visits to the water hazard on the first, seventh and tenth lost each of those holes for Miss Collett. In each instance it was her second shot that brought trouble to the national champion, the holes being over four hundred yards in length and demanding a long ball on the second shot to carry the creek, which runs from fifty to a hundred yards in front of the greens.

Miss Hicks Putts Brilliantly.

Another important factor in the match was the brilliance of Miss Hicks's play on the greens, where she never had more than two putts and where she took a 1 up lead on the eighth by sinking a thirty-footer for a man's birdie on the 446-yard hole.

Both Miss Collett and Miss Hicks had good tee shots on the first hole, but Miss Collett found the creek with her second and her subsequent 6 was beaten by her rival's 5. The match was squared on the second when Miss Hicks found a trap with her second shot and took a 6 to Miss Collett's par 4.

Both were on the third green with their tee shot and holed out in the regulation two putts for their 3s. The fourth and fifth also were halved in par figures.

Miss Collett Takes Lead.

Miss Collett won the sixth with a par and became 1 up. The match was evened on the seventh, when Miss Collett was in the creek with her second. Miss Hicks went 1 up on the eighth by her 30-foot putt for a birdie 4.

Miss Collett captured the dogleg ninth, skirting trouble with her drive and getting her par 4 by sinking a 12-foot putt, which avoided a half-stymie in true championship style, and they started the homeward nine all square. Miss Collett was out in 40 to her opponent's 41.

Again on the tenth, Miss Collett shot her second into the creek and lost the hole. Miss Hicks obtained a par 3 to her rival's 5 on the short eleventh and became 2 up. A sparkling 12-foot putt gave Miss Collett the twelfth and they halved the 574-yard thirteenth with 6s.

Miss Hicks Becomes 2 Up.

After halving the fourteenth Miss Collett putted around a partial stymie on the short fifteenth and halved that also. Miss Hicks won the sixteenth, despite a short drive, when Miss Collett had trouble in a trap and again became 2 up.

The match ended on the seventeenth, where Miss Collett again reached a trap with her second and was forced to take a 6 to Miss Hicks's 5.

Miss Orcutt Has Best Round.

Miss Orcutt had the best scoring round of the day with a 39 out and even par for four holes coming back. She won the first two holes and then halved the next three. Capturing two and halving the others of the remaining four on the first nine left her 4 up at the turn.

YANKEE BEATS WHIRLWIND

Wins by 1 Minute 35 Seconds in Second Contests Over Triangular Course.

By JAMES ROBBINS.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 11.—Up-to-the minute yachting devices had their first test today when the America's Cup defense candidates encountered what is classed as a gentle breeze. It was not even a moderate wind projection. Weetamoe, the Morgan aspirant, became disabled in an air that would not have upset a Central Park swan boat.

In the other race on today's schedule of the fifth official observation tests, Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams sailed Yankee around the thirty-mile course to finish 1 minute and 35 seconds ahead of Whirlwind.

Weetamoe, winner of all four of her previous tests, was racing against Enterprise over a course designed to bring out the reaching qualities of the craft in addition to their abilities at windward threshing. They had covered eight miles of the first leg of ten against the wind. A smoky sou'wester with fog all around, had set in and the breeze, faint and shaky at the start, had increased to seventeen miles an hour, which, while termed gentle, was the best wind encountered in any of the test races.

Enterprise was proving her wind eating quality and was ahead of Weetamoe. Suddenly Weetamoe's tautly trimmed mainsail sagged. The headboard at the top of it, carrying the weight of the lofty triangular sail as well as much of the strain on it under the wind, had pulled out.

Headboard Made of Duralumin.

Usually laminated boards are put in the sails. But Weetamoe has a headboard made of duralumin, the composite metal used in dirigibles and now substituted for wood in many places on the cup yachts. The boards are sewed in the sail. With the old rig the weight of the main sail was distributed along the gaff.

In the new rig the weight hangs on the point at the top. Canvas alone there would not carry it and the headboard is put in. The ring for the halyard hoist is attached to it.

The Weetamoe's mainsail started to rip out at the bottom, and then gave way at the forward side of its triangle. There was nothing for the racer to do but drop out of the contest. She will have another mailsail on tomorrow.

Seeing that some mishap had happened to Weetamoe, Harold S. Vanderbilt, sailing Enterprise against her, had his yacht's jibtopsail taken in. He went on a short distance before the trouble was determined. When it was, instead of continuing and scoring a hollow victory, he headed Enterprise around and returned here, refusing any credit for a winning performance against a disabled competitor.

Rumors are Numerous.

After the race there were all sorts of rumors as to what had happened, but George Nichols, skipper of Weetamoe and son-in-law of J. P. Morgan, explained the mishap, making a drawing with pencil and paper for THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent to show just where the parting in the sail was. The effect really was about the same as the snapping of a pair of suspenders.

It was a day of clouds, lifeless air, fog, breezes, sunshine and more thin air and Secretary Adams, in sailing Yankee to victory, apparently was having much more enjoyment than he ever got out of the naval limitation conference in London.

Yankee was 1 minute and 14 seconds ahead of Whirlwind over the ten miles on the wind. In the broad reach of that distance Whirlwind gained twelve seconds, but in close reaching Yankee added thirty-three seconds to her advantage. On that leg there was just enough life left in the air for them to finish.

The sky was overcast when the yachts went out to the starting line. Rain patches were smeared about in the north. There was a zephyr-like five-mile air from the southwest. The sea was just rippled.

Windward Leg Is First.

A course was set with a windward leg first over a triangle between No Man's Land and Block Island. The directions of the course legs were southwest, east-southeast, one-half east and north by west one-half west. A fog streak was lying low to the north. Resolute and Vanitie, the old cup boats, were out under sail, this time as spectator carriers instead of competitors.

Weetamoe and Enterprise made a fine start. Weetamoe went over the line first, but Enterprise was overlapping her and to weather. Enterprise also was footing faster.

After jibing around for the mark, Yankee crossed the line twenty-five seconds after the whistle and twenty-five seconds before Whirlwind. That pair went around on the port tack instead of starboard, as Weetamoe and Enterprise had. They made only a short hitch and then went back again. Whirlwind did the turning and Yankee kept with her. They kept that up for some distance.

Each time Whirlwind whirled Yankee followed suit ahead of her. Whirlwind seemed to be faster in stays, but Yankee kept her lead. The breeze increased to eight miles. Fog then set in all around. Weetamoe and Enterprise were off ahead of it. The sea also took on a little more liveliness.

Enterprise was holding her lead over Weetamoe. When the wind climbed to seventeen miles they footed fast with sails down. Weetamoe was leaning more. Then came the parting of her sail.

Yankee and Whirlwind were coming along astern and they, too, soon felt the fresher air. They were designed for more breeze than the others, but they also heeled in it. When they made for the windward buoy close-hauled, their rails were awash. Yankee rounded the mark at 1:17:53 and headed off for the reach to the second mark. Whirlwind headed around the buoy at 1:19:07.

It was easier going for them as they straightened up, with the wind aft. They set ballooners with staysails under them. The breeze then had increased to eighteen miles and white caps appeared. The two racers footed fast. Yankee threw more water than Whirlwind, which cut the sea cleanly with her longer keel.

Slowly Whirlwind gained, but she could make up only a little over a second a mile. Secretary Adams kept Yankee going for all there was in her. They had to jibe for the second turn, which Yankee made at 2:14:10.

The last leg was a close reach, with sails just started. Yankee carried the larger jibtopsail over her lower headsails. On this leg the breeze gradually fell to five miles. It also backed to the southward, with three miles to go. Yankee had moved out. Mainsails were slackened out and headsails were changed to small ballooners and staysails.

Blue Sky Looms Again.

The fog disappeared and a streak of blue sky loomed over the finish line. It was a lazy ending to a queer day.

The point standing of the four racers was upset by the accident to Weetamoe and both boats' withdrawal as a result of it. With four victories and no defeats, Weetamoe had eight points. Enterprise could have sailed over the course after Weetamoe's mishap, which would have given her three victories and two second places for eight points.

As Yankee scored another victory today, that gave her two triumphs, with three seconds, for seven points, or one more than Enterprise. Thus the point standing no longer meant anything and was thrown to the winds.

Weetamoe will race Yankee tomorrow and Enterprise will meet Whirlwind in the third scheduled contests over a triangular course.

SOMERVILLE BEATEN IN ONTARIO AMATEUR

Defending Champion Loses in the First Round—Carrick and Nash Advance.

TORONTO, Ont., July 11 (Canadian Press).—The three-year reign of Ross (Sandy) Somerville of the London Hunt Club as monarch of Ontario amateur golfdom ended today.

Somerville, who yesterday emerged as medalist in the qualifying round of the Ontario amateur championship, found the Scarboro links less to his liking today, and was defeated by George Boeckh of the York Down Club in the first round of match play. The defending champion, however, did not relinquish his crown until he had carried his opponent to the eighteenth green.

Boeckh himself fell by the wayside in the afternoon round, bowing before Jack Nash, Somerville's clubmate, by a margin of 2 up. By virtue of his triumph, Nash advanced to the semi-final round, accompanied by Don Carrick of Scarboro, former Ontario and Canadian amateur champion, Jack Armitage of Glendale and Joe Thompson of Uplands.

Carrick played the most consistent golf of the survivors in accounting for the brilliant Jack Cameron of Mississauga, 4 and 3, in the morning, and F. G. Hoblitzel of Lambton, 2 and 1, in the afternoon. By his sterling performance today, Carrick has been installed as favorite to duplicate his triumph in 1926.

Armitage was the first of the out-of-town players to record a victory. He eliminated the veteran R. M. Gray of Rosedale, 4 and 3, in their first round match. To enter the semi-finals, Armitage defeated Phil Farley of Cedar Brook, 2 and 1.

In his first match, Farley turned in the best medal score of the day, an approximate 73, to eliminate T. L. E. Everitt of Rouge Hills, 7 and 6.

Another close battle was staged in the opening round by Joe Thompson and Dr. A. Elliot of Scarboro. Thompson proved superior in the short department of the game and triumphed, 3 and 2. In the afternoon, Thompson conquered A. C. N. Golsing of the Toronto Club, 5 and 4.

Continuing his steady play of the qualifying round, the youthful Jack Nash accounted for Ken Ashman of Lakeview, 6 and 5, for his initial triumph.

It was in vanquishing the conqueror of Ross Somerville, however, that Nash reached the height of his form. Boeckh held the London youngster in check for the first few holes, but successive excursions into protecting bunkers placed the York Downs player two holes in arrears at the turn.

Nash reached the seventeenth 1 up, and when his opponent was off the line from the tee on the home hole, he made no mistake and clinched the match with a par 4.

In the semi-final matches tomorrow, Armitage is drawn against Carrick in the upper bracket, while Nash meets Thompson in the lower half.

DECK OF ENTERPRISE WITH HAROLD S. VANDERBILT AT WHEEL DURING ONE OF THE TEST RACES.

BLOCK ISLAND RACE IS SET FOR TODAY

Twenty Sailing Vessels and Sixteen Power Boats Entered in N. Y. A. C. Event.

ENTRY LIST SETS RECORD

Yawl Gleam, Winner Last 2 Years, Will Seek to Extend String to Three in a Row.

Thirty-six boats, twenty of them sailing vessels and sixteen power-driven, will take part today in the annual race conducted by the Yachting Department of the New York A. C. to Block Island. The entry list represents the greatest number of yachts to participate in the contest since its inaugural in 1904, it was stated yesterday by Commodore A. F. Jenkins.

A change in the manner of starting the motor boat division has been instituted this year, so that instead of all getting off in a group, the craft will take their handicap allowances at the start of the run of 100 nautical miles.

Thus, the boat having the highest handicap rating will start this morning at about 10 o'clock, with the others trailing at specified intervals. It is expected that the last of the motor-driven yachts will get under way at about 4 in the afternoon.

Uniform Finish Planned.

The change in starting plans was made because it was thought desirable to have all of the motor boats reach the anchorage at Block Island at approximately the same time instead of straggling in at all hours, as has been the case in former years.

The windjammers will begin their part of the race simultaneously from the starting line off Execution Light. The latter division, which will be run on a time allowance basis, is made up of a variety of sizes and types of vessel, from a tiny six-meter sloop to sturdy schooners.

Included among the fleet of yawls, sloops, schooners and cutters is the trim little jib-headed yawl Gleam C. V. Kozlay's boat, which won last year and the year before. Gleam will endeavor to extend her string of victories to three in succession, a feat never accomplished in the previous twenty-four races.

Sound Boats Entered.

Several of the boats which regularly race in the Y. R. A. regattas on Long Island Sound will be among those sailing for Block Island. Included in the number will be S. C. Steinhardt's Psyche an international eight-meter boat, and the New York thirty-footer Atair, owned by Charles T. Stork.

The winner of the event last year in the power boat division, Sea Dream IV, owned by G. deF. Larner, does not appear in the entry list, but others of the 1929 boats do. Among them are Revelation, second last year; Andy, which won the past performance prize, and Rusalka.

All of the boats will be permitted to select their own courses up the Sound and may pass through either Plum Gut or the Race into Block Island Sound and across that body of water to the finish line inside of West Harbor Breakwater. The race is as much a test of navigating ability and seamanship as of speed and holds an important position on the American yachting schedule.

OHIO TITLE TO MISS HAUCK.

19-Year-Old Player Takes Golf Crown From Mrs. Sohl, 3 and 1.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 11 (AP).—A Toledo girl is Ohio's new woman golf champion. Miss Mary Hauck of the Sylvania Club won the title today by defeating the defending champion, Mrs. Curtis Sohl of the Scioto Country Club, Columbus, 3 and 1. The 19-year-old girl from Toledo shot a sensational game to win from her more experienced opponent.

ABBOTT'S FALCON WINS SLOOP PRIZE

Triumphs Over Hope in Eastern Yacht Club Run From Newport to Monument Beach.

DAIQUIRI BEATS SACHEM

Scores in the Schooner Division—Foretop Mast of Taormina Carried Away Three Miles From Finish.

Special to The New York Times.

MONUMENT BEACH, Mass., July 11.—The Eastern Yacht Club, after five windward runs, had a fine race in an increasing south-southwestern breeze from Newport to this harbor at the entrance of the Cape Cod Canal today. Leaving Newport about 10 o'clock in a light breeze, the racing fleet by the time it reached the Hen and Chickens Light Vessel found Buzzards Bay true to form. The wind increased all afternoon and there was a typical smoky southwester at the finish.

The feature of the day's run was the remarkable showing of the Marblehead Class Q boats. The four twenty-five-raters, although well separated as a class, finished in the first four places on corrected time for the sloop prize of the day.

The Falcon, owned by Edward M. Abbott and sailed by Raymond Hunt, captured the trophy by five and a half minutes from John G. Alden's Hope. The prize in the schooner division went to Isaac R. Edmunds's Daiquiri by a minute and a half over the Sachem.

About three miles from the finish the foretop mast of the schooner Taormina was carried away. She was just gybing when the accident occurred. It took her more than an hour to clear the wreckage and she then put into Wareham.

Tomorrow, starting at 8 in the morning, the fleet will make the final run to Marblehead.

WOMEN'S GOLF PLAY WON BY MRS. SMITH

Glen Ridge Representative Takes Gross Prize in New Jersey With an 89.

LOW NET TO MRS. RISLEY

Echo Lake Entry Returns Card of 90-6-84—Mrs. MacGowan Wins Putting Award.

Special to The New York Times.

WESTFIELD, N. J., July 11.—Mrs. M. E. Risley of Echo Lake won low net in a field of forty-three starters over her own course, the Baltusrol Golf Club, in a one-day tournament of the Women's New Jersey Golf Association today. Her card was 90—6—84.

The low gross award was won by Mrs. Courtland Smith of Glen Ridge. She had 45, 44—89.

Mrs. A. W. Wheaton of Baltusrol and Mrs. C. F. Hyde of Maplewood tied with scores of 100—14—86 for second low net. On the toss second prize went to Mrs. Wheaton and Mrs. Hyde got third prize.

A prize for the fewest putts was won by Mrs. Walter MacGowan of Montclair, with 28.

In the approaching and putting contest Miss Charlotte Glutting of Baltusrol was the winner after a play-off with Mrs. C. L. Voorhees, also of Baltusrol.

OAKLEY GOLFERS BEAT BRITISH COLLEGIANS

Conquer Cambridge University Team, 9½ to 2½—All Foursomes Decided on 18th Green.

BELMONT, Mass., July 11 (AP).—The Cambridge University golf team lost its third match in five played here when the Oakley golfers defeated the British collegians, 9½ to 2½, today, in foursomes and singles. All foursomes were settled on the eighteenth green, the Britons winning only one of these matches.

The Oakley players gained more decisive victories in the singles, but Captain H. C. Longhurst of the visitors was able to overcome W. W. Munsell 2 up. J. H. Hill finished all square with G. W. McDow of Oakley.

Miss Virtue Wins Quebec Golf.

MONTREAL, July 11 (Canadian Press).—Overcoming a two-hole lead on the second nine to even the match on the seventeenth and win out after two extra holes, Miss Dora Virtue of the Whitlock Golf Club defeated the defending champion, Mrs. J. Dagenais, Laval-Sur-Lac, in the final of the Province of Quebec women's golf championship today. The match, played at the Royal Montreal Golf Club, was the third final between the two players in as many years, Miss Virtue having won in 1928.

VREELAND IS VICTOR IN N. J. JUNIOR GOLF

Senior at Lawrenceville Turns Back Wilson, 2 and 1, in Final of State Title Play.

A. CLARK, MEDALIST, LOSES

Bows to Wilson in Semi-Final, While Scammell Carries Vreeland to Home Green.

Special to The New York Times.

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., July 11.—Arthur Vreeland Jr., a senior at Lawrenceville and a member of the school golf team there, won the New Jersey State junior championship at the Baltusrol Golf Club today.

Representing the Ridgewood Country Club, he defeated Sidney Wilson Jr. of Spring Brook in the final, 2 and 1.

Ashton Clark, the medalist, lost to Wilson in the semi-final. They were all square with five holes to play. Wilson scored two birdies, a 3 on the 398-yard fourteenth and a 2 on the 180-yard sixteenth, his tee shot on the latter hole hitting the pin.

Clark, 2 down with 2 to play, won the long seventeenth with a par 5, but the eighteenth was halved in pars to make Wilson a winner by 1 up.

Vreeland Scores a 76.

In the semi-final Vreeland scored a 76 and was carried to the home green by M. J. Scammell Jr. of Trenton. The latter's bad approaching left him 4 down on the first nine, but he came home in 37.

Facing almost sure defeat on the sixteenth green, Scammell holed a putt from the edge of the green to keep the match alive, and he repeated on the seventeenth, giving him a 4 on that 578-yard hole. Vreeland made a birdie on the eighteenth to win the match, 2 up.

Vreeland was 1 down at the turn in the final after winning the first two holes. Wilson started back 6, 6, losing both holes, and he became 2 down when Vreeland dropped a long putt for a 2 on the twelfth.

Squares Match on 15th.

Wilson won the thirteenth with a 4, the fourteenth was halved in pars and Wilson squared the match with a 4 on the fifteenth, Vreeland taking three to get down from the back of the green.

Both boys got on the sixteenth green from the tee, but Vreeland won the hole, 3 to 4, and he also won the seventeenth, after a trapped second, when Wilson pitched his third shot into a trap and took two more to get out.

DATE FOR YACHT RACE SET.

Annual Cornfield Light Event Will Be Held Aug. 30.

Special to The New York Times.

HUNTINGTON, L. I., July 11.—Members of the Huntington Yacht Club were notified today that the annual Cornfield Light race will be held on Saturday, Aug. 30.

Dr. Russell W. Sammis, chairman of the racing committee, announced that the event is open to all auxiliaries not over forty feet in length, and that converted racing boats are barred.

The race will start promptly at 3:30 P. M. from Lloyd's Harbor Light and the course, 106 miles in length, will be across Long Island Sound, around the Cornfield Light on the Connecticut shore, and return. All members of racing crews are to be down on lower decks until the starting signal is given.

At 1 o'clock, skippers and crews of all boats entered in the race will be the guests of the Huntington Yacht Club at a luncheon to be held in the clubhouse in Huntington Harbor.

Members of the racing committee, beside Dr. Sammis, are Henry L. Wood and Hilary Corwin.

Shamrock Gets a Talisman "To Insure Winning of Cup"

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 11.—Sir Thomas Lipton received today from a famous old lady a talisman in a sealed box which is intended to insure the Shamrock's winning of the America's Cup. It was handed to the challenger's skipper, Captain Ned Heard.

Captain Heard said: "Without doubt, the Shamrock V is the fastest challenger ever sent from England to compete for the America's Cup. I feel so confident of Shamrock's success that if she doesn't win it will be the biggest surprise and disappointment of my life."

LONDON, July 11 (AP).—Sir Thomas Lipton has developed a slight cold and is staying indoors. Because of his indisposition a dinner by the British Sportsman's Club Monday has been postponed. Ambassador Dawes was to have been present and the Earl of Birkenhead was to propose Sir Thomas's health.

MISS HERMAN WINS MUNICIPAL TITLE

Defeats Mrs. Pepin, 1 Up, in Final of Tourney on Van Cortlandt Links.

MATCH CLOSELY CONTESTED

Loser Holds 1 Up Lead at Ninth, but Opponent Goes in Front on Last Half.

Miss Mildred Herman of Tibbetts Brook annexed the women's New York municipal golf championship yesterday as the result of her victory in the final over Mrs. Thomas Pepin, unattached, over the Van Cortlandt Park course. The victor was 1 up at the end of eighteen holes.

Miss Herman succeeds Mrs. George Rudnick of Tibbetts Brook, who won the title last year. Mrs. Rudnick was eliminated by Miss Gertrude Egan, unattached, the tourney medalist, on Wednesday, in a first round match. Miss Herman's triumph yesterday gives her a first leg on the Gun Hill trophy.

Yesterday's match was closely contested throughout. Miss Herman assumed the lead by winning the first hole with a 5, while Mrs. Pepin required a 6. The next two holes were halved, each taking 5s.

Mrs. Pepin evened the score by winning the fourth hole, with a par 4. Miss Herman won the fifth and Mrs. Pepin took the sixth, squaring the match again. The seventh went to Miss Herman, but Mrs. Pepin captured the eighth and ninth holes, taking the lead for the first and only time during the match.

A 4 and 3 on the next two holes gave Miss Herman an advantage of one hole. The twelfth was halved, and Mrs. Pepin took the thirteenth. After halving the fourteenth Miss Herman gained the fifteenth and sixteenth. Mrs. Pepin then rallied and won the seventeenth hole, but the final hole was halved, each taking a 4.

In the final of the beaten eight competition, Mrs. Sally Schofield, Scottish-American entry, triumphed over Mrs. W. J. Tobin of Tibbetts Brook, 2 up.

QUEST WINS TWICE IN CANADIAN TRIALS

Gooderham Twice Sails Craft to Victory Over Norseman in Elimination Series.

Special to The New York Times.

TORONTO, July 11. — Norman Gooderham's victories yesterday and today with Quest in the Canada's Cup elimination tests have made the task of selecting a Canadian challenger more difficult. However, Gooderham has a clear lead for the honor of sailing whichever boat the Royal Canadian Yacht Club sends to Rochester.

Gooderham took the Quest out on the trial course and captured the first two heats of today's boat-to-boat series with Norseman, the all-Canadian boat sailed by Tom K. Wade, her regular skipper.

In every trial held this week prior to yesterday Quest had trailed. Today's first two heats were short events. Quest won the second race of the day by 100 yards in distance and 30 seconds in time. Both heats were close battles.

The score to date in points: Vision 27 and Norseman 26 for twelve races; Quest 16 for nine races.

SLOOP GRAY GULL FIRST.

Beats Onal in Fishers Island Yacht Club Race.

Special to The New York Times.

FISHERS ISLAND, N. Y., July 11.—Fourteen bullseye sloops took part in the third race of the July series of the Fishers Island Yacht Club today. The sloops sailed an eight-mile triangular course with the wind blowing out of the southwest at the start and changing to west southwest at the finish.

Gray Gull, sailed by Ged Parsons, defeated Angus McDonnell's Onal by more than four minutes.

NOYES, HALL REACH GOLF SEMI-FINALS

Capture Second-Round Matches in Westchester Country Club Invitation Event.

KAUFMANN BEATS KAESCHE

Conquers New Jersey Star on 20th Green—Brainard Advances by Defeating Appel.

Special to The New York Times.

RYE, N. Y., July 11.—Sidney Noyes Jr. of Ardsley, Stanley Hall of Westchester, Leo Kaufmann of Gedney Farms and Spencer Brainard of Millbrook reached the semi-final brackets in the annual invitation golf tournament at the Westchester Country Club by virtue of first and second round victories today.

Kaufmann was carried to the twentieth green in his second round match with Max Kaesche of Ridgewood, perennial New Jersey State champion, while Brainard advanced after being 1 down to G. Appel Jr. of Upper Montclair at the fourteenth. Brainard squared the match on the fifteenth and won the next two holes to be dormie two as he drove from the seventeenth tee. He eventually won by a 1 up margin.

Noyes, Hall Triumph.

The other two semi-finalists had a much easier time, Noyes conquering Rudy Rothenberg of Wolf Hollow, 4 and 3, and Hall winning from Jerry La Due of Forest Hills by a similar margin.

In addition to entering the semi-finals, Noyes captured the qualifying medal, his card of 75 against Rothenberg being matched with that of Paul Cavanagh of Southward Ho, with whom he had tied at 75 in yesterday's opening play. Cavanagh turned in an 86 while losing to Hiram Brown in the competition for the beaten eights.

Kaufmann Squares Match.

Kaufmann squared his match against Kaesche on the seventeenth when his opponent drove out of bounds. They tied with 5s on the long eighteenth when Kaufmann sank a seven-footer for a half and were even on the nineteenth when Kaesche ran down a putt of equal length.

Both were on the twentieth green some ten feet from the cup, in 3, but Kaufmann holed his putt and Kaesche missed his.

Empire City Feature to The Beasel; Gallant Fox 1-5 Choice in Classic Today

THE BEASEL SCORES BY 3-LENGTH MARGIN

Helps Cochran to Double as Stable-Mate, Draconis, Also Wins at Empire City.

LOST AGNES FINISHES NEXT

Saves Place in Pocahontas Handicap From Capture by Head—Phantom Star Victor in the Nightcap.

By BRYAN FIELD.

Gifford A. Cochran scored a consecutive double at Empire City yesterday with Draconis and The Beasel, and took the lead as the leading winning owner of the meeting, just as he did this Spring at Jamaica. Counting the two he saddled yesterday, Trainer Henry McDaniel now has saddled five victors, one of them a stake winner.

There was no stake yesterday, but the Pocahontas Handicap was the best offering and it was in this test for fillies and mares that The Beasel triumphed in the easiest sort of fashion. At the end of the short six-furlong route she was three lengths before Lost Agnes, a 15 to 1 shot, which beat the heavily played Capture a head for the place.

Capture was the second choice in the betting and, carelessly ridden by Laverne Fator, lost much ground in the run down the far side and around the turn.

Draconis is the smart 2-year-old of 1926 which was a horse of dazzling speed but unsound legs. He was laid up and did not race through the last three seasons and was brought out this Spring at Jamaica. But in five starts since his comeback the result yesterday was his first victory. He won in the High Noon purse by a head from Rumor, with Roseomar a length further back in third position.

Carries 126 Pounds.

The Beasel's race was by far the most impressive performance of the afternoon, as the daughter of Sun Spot and Antipodes carried 126 pounds, five pounds more than scale-weight for a filly of her age. She was conceding eleven pounds to Lost Agnes and three to Capture.

Taking the track at the break, the Beasel never was threatened and came on under Bill Kelsay's ride to win as she pleased. Kelsay also had the leg up on Draconis, so he, too, scored a double. Both Cochran horses were favorites, the Beasel being 7 to 10 and Draconis 11 to 10.

When The Beasel left the barrier in stride every one who knew her dazzling speed sat back with the feeling that the race was over. And they were right. The Cochran filly opened up a lead of three lengths in the first quarter and kept on going away so fast that the others never got close.

Lost Agnes also was away well and, and, strongly ridden by Johnny McTaggart, kept her place back of the pacemaker. Capture was sent up swiftly after the break, but lost ground at the far turn.

The stretch run saw Capture close on Lost Agnes, and it surely appeared as if she would run down the 15-to-1 shot in the stretch. Fator did not persevere in his ride, which was in sharp contrast to McTaggart's rousing efforts, and the outsider got the place. The Beasel's time was 1:09 for the short six furlongs.

Nine Go to the Post.

To many good judges of horseflesh the nightcap was the most significant test of the afternoon. Nine 2-year-olds came out for this race, which marked the first starts of William Ziegler Jr.'s Ilium and the Greentree Stable's Laughing Boy. Ilium is the colt by Buchan out of Tracedes, which cost $26,500 at the Saratoga yearling sales last season. And Laughing Boy is the Bubbling Over-Humanity colt which cost the Greentree Stable $20,000 at the same sales.

Ilium ran coupled with Phantom Star, which was the winner, and Laughing Boy ran coupled with Twenty Grand, another costly Greentree horse. The Ziegler entry was held at 9 to 10 and the Greentree pair 7 to 5.

Phantom Star took the track and led all the way to win by a length. George D. Widener's Jamison ran second most of the way and was just nipped at the barrier by a great rush of Twenty Grand, the little-considered horse in the Greentree entry.

ISLAM HOME FIRST IN BYRD HANDICAP

Carries Howard Colors to Four-Length Victory in Feature at Arlington Track.

RETURNS $11.78 FOR $2

Stars and Bars Second by Neck Over Devon—Fair Ball, Favorite, Finishes Fourth.

CHICAGO, July 11 (AP).—Islam, four-year-old bay colt by The Porter—Dream of Allah, carried the colors of J. Howard to victory in the Admiral Richard Byrd Handicap at Arlington Park today. Stars and Bars, from the Greentree Stable, finished second with Devon, owned by J. J. Greeley, third. The race was for three-year-olds and up, over the mile and a quarter distance and was worth $1,400 to the winner, which traveled the ten panels in 2:04 3-5.

Islam, away well, was rated along under restraint to the three-quarters pole where, when given his head, he quickly gained ground. He was on even terms with Stars and Bars at the home turn, wore the latter down in the run through the stretch and drew out to win easily by four lengths.

Stars and Bars, a contender from the start, went into command nearing the turn into the home stretch, fought it out with the winner for a furlong, but was no match for Islam, and was doing his best to save the place by a neck. Devon saved ground throughout and closed fast to take third money from Fair Ball, which was made the public choice, by five lengths.

Islam paid $11.78 for $2 tickets.

HORSE SHOW ON TODAY.

Saxon Woods Hunt Club to Stage Benefit Performance.

On its grounds on Mamaroneck Avenue, White Plains, N. Y., today the Saxon Woods Hunt Club will hold its first horse show, the proceeds of which will be used for the benefit of the country branch of the New York Orthopaedic Hospital.

A large entry has been received for the first venture of this organization, and many of the leading stables in the metropolitan district will be represented. The horse show committee, under the chairmanship of Howard Willets, has arranged an attractive program, in which special attention is given to the junior riders.

Many of the usual horse show competitions are on the card, with plenty of events for the hunters and jumpers, including a half-mile feature against time over the half-mile track.

Scratched—Kitty Hills, Janie G. and Star Button.

Gettin Even was much the best. He broke slowly, but went up very fast on the outside and drew away in the stretch to win easily. Joanne E. was away fast, displayed good speed and held on gamely. Black Bunny ran back to his previous good race. Donie finished with a rush. Demoiselle was taken wide all the way. Leader had scant chance with the start.

GALLANT FOX SEEKS $70,000 PRIZE TODAY

To Run Against Ten Other 3-Year-Olds in Arlington Classic at Chicago.

SANDE'S MOUNT IS 1 TO 5

Gallant Knight Looms as Second Choice—Ned O. Rated Dark Horse —50,000 Fans Expected.

CHICAGO, July 11 (AP).—Gallant Fox, probably America's greatest race horse since Man o' War, winner of five of the nation's outstanding stake races this season, will go after the richest purse of the year, the $80,000 Arlington Classic, at Arlington Park tomorrow.

The 3-year-old son of the French stallion Sir Gallahad III-Marquette, owned by William Woodward of New York, is expected to be 1 to 5 in the mutuel wagering.

Opposed to the champion, which has won the Wood Memorial, the Preakness, the Kentucky Derby, the Belmont Stakes and the Dwyer Stakes, all within the last sixty days, will be a field of ten other 3-year-olds. Six of them are sure starters, but four are listed as doubtful.

Race May Gross $84,800.

If all eleven horses go to the post the gross value of the race will be $84,800. Gallant Fox, because he is eligible for the $10,000 bonus, will win $70,800 if he triumphs in the mile and a quarter event. If "The Fox" should be conquered, the winner will take down $60,800, but the experts believe there is little danger of anything like that happening.

Racing against Gallant Fox will be the West's most dangerous threat, Gallant Knight, which finished second to "The Fox" in the Kentucky Derby; Ned O, third-place horse at Churchill Downs; High Foot; three crack fillies, Snowflake, Alcibiades and Dustemall; and Flaming, Dark Entry, Cesare and Maya. The four last named are classed as doubtful starters.

Ned O Has Gained Friends

Ned O is rated a dark horse threat. The horse that was believed capable of winning the Kentucky Derby, the Fairmount Derby and the American Derby, only to fail in each race, yesterday showed a flash of form in winning a seven-furlong test from High Foot and Swinfield, another pair of likely classic starters. Ned O's time of 1:26 3-5 on a slow track was considered excellent and gained the horse many friends.

The stake is worth $70,000 in added money, with a bonus of $10,000 to the winner if he was a previous victor in the Kentucky Derby, American Derby, Preakness or Belmont Stakes. Gallant Fox has won three of these, which qualifies him for the extra $10,000. Reveille Boy, surprise winner of the American Derby, is not eligible for tomorrow's race, but will oppose Gallant Fox in the Arlington Cup, a weight-for-age affair, a week later.

To Run in Arlington Cup.

Owner Woodward and Trainer Fitzsimmons announced tonight that Gallant Fox, whether a winner or loser tomorrow, would remain over to race in the cup event.

Regardless of the weight or track conditions, Earl Sande, who has ridden Gallant Fox in all his victorious engagements, said tonight that he believes his mount will triumph easily tomorrow.

Gallant Fox will carry top impost of 126 pounds, with Gallant Knight next with 123, in the classic.

If the weather is fair the greatest crowd which ever saw a horse race in Chicago is expected at Arlington Park, now rated as one of America's finest racing plants. The guess on the attendance tonight is 50,000, with the possibility that it may go to 60,000 or 70,000.

Race to Be Broadcast.

A description of the running of the Arlington Classic will be broadcast from Station WOR, starting at 5:15 P. M., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, and also from WABC, starting at 5:30 o'clock.

GAYLWORTHY FIRST IN FEATURE TROT

Takes North Randall Handicap in 4-Heat Struggle as Grand Circuit Meeting Ends.

PETER DILLON ALSO WINS

Scores in Second Division of the 2:14 Trot—Stewards Suspend Loomis for Rest of Season.

CLEVELAND, July 11 (AP).—Getaway day for the grand circuiters was characterized by split-heat races and the biggest avalanche of long shots of the meeting today.

In a hectic four-heat struggle, Gaylworthy, the favorite from the Reynolds Stable of Winston-Salem, N. C., driven by Harry Stokes, the Toledo trainer, won the third and feature event, the North Randall Handicap Trot, purse $1,200.

Scotland won the first heat when Gaylworthy was left flatfooted at the post, the horses being given a standing-still start. Henry Thomas won the second heat with Phil Volo at 29 to 1. Gaylworthy, however, got away to a flying start in both the third and deciding heats and had no trouble in getting the verdict. Outside of this trio, Caretaker from the Dickerson Stable trotted the best race.

Lee Ward Is Winner.

The first event, the first division of the 2:14 trot, another four-heat race, went to Lee Ward, the New York City-owned trotter, driven by Marvin Childs, after he had lost the first heat to Aquitania and the second to Athlone Guy, which paid 44 to 1 to win. Lee Ward was an outsider in the betting, paying 33 to 1 to win the third heat of the race and $61.75 for a $10 result ticket.

The second event, the second division of the 2:14 trot, produced another upset when Peter Dillon, the Medina, Ohio, trotter, driven by Vic Fleming, defeated a good field in another four-heat scramble. Peter McCrea won the first heat, Fantom the second at 24 to 1, and Peter Dillon the third and fourth heats. He was another outsider, paying $82.25 for a $10 result ticket.

The fourth event, a claiming pace, was a straight-heat victory for Joe Lewis, the Kenton, Ohio, owned pacer, driven by Doc Parshall. He was an outsider in the betting, refunding $78.50 in the $10 results. Henry Thomas, with Hollywood Hunter, furnished the contention. Captain Grattan, the favorite, went a disappointing race.

Scores in Straight Heats.

The finale to the meeting, a 2-year-old trot, was also a straight heat victory for Chestnut Burr, the Kansas City trotter, which ruled favorite for the race.

At the conclusion of the day's racing, the stewards announced that Driver George Loomis of Minneapolis, Minn., had been suspended for the balance of the season for not driving to win with Hollyway on July 5 and that any entries he might file for future meetings at North Randall would be refused.

150 Athletes in Track Meet Today.

An entry list of 150 will compete today in the Athletes Development track and field meet to be held under the auspices of the Metropolitan Association A. A. U. and the Good Shepherd A. C. at Inwood Hill Park, 207th Street and Seaman Avenue, starting at 2:30 P. M.

COLLEGE ATHLETES TO COMPETE TODAY

Princeton-Cornell Will Oppose Oxford-Cambridge Team in London Meet.

TWO STARS LOST TO U. S.

Hedges and Treman Will Be Unable to Take Part—English Squad May Be Without Tisdall.

LONDON, July 11 (AP).—Three stars probably will be on the sidelines when the combined Princeton-Cornell and Oxford-Cambridge track and field teams clash tomorrow.

The United States squad will be handicapped by the enforced withdrawal of Ben V. Hedges, Princeton captain, and C. L. Treman, Cornell captain, while the British universities did not expect that R. M. N. Tisdall of Cambridge would be able to participate.

Word that neither Hedges nor Treman would be able to compete was contained in the bare announcement that neither was in condition. It was understood that Hedges had suffered a recurrence of the leg injury that handicapped him all last year. Just what had forced Treman out of competition was not known. As for Tisdall, it was announced that he had been ordered by his physician to rest for several months, and it was regarded as extremely unlikely that he would participate tomorrow.

Hedges had been counted upon by supporters of the American team in both the high jump and the hurdles. He was high individual scorer in the meet between the American and English universities in the United States last Summer, when the home stars won by nine events to three. Treman, another versatile performer, also had been counted upon to score for the Americans.

If Tisdall does not compete, the British universities will be badly handicapped in the 120 and 220 yard hurdles, where he is the leading British performer. Some British experts thought that the results of these two events might decide the whole question.

Both Keene Fitzpatrick, Princeton coach, and Jack Moakley, Cornell mentor, believe the meet will be close, with the United States making its best showing in the sprints and the hurdles.

The meet will start at 3 o'clock, English time, with the 100-yard dash as the opening event.

Meet to Be Broadcast.

A description of the track meet will be given over the Columbia Broadcasting System network, it was announced yesterday. Harold M. Abrahams, a track athlete himself, will be at the microphone in London, his account being received here at 5:15 P. M.

Abrahams was a member of the British intercollegiate team which competed at Travers Island in 1921 and also took part in the 1924 Olympic Games, representing Great Britain. He was the winner of the 100-meter dash. In the 1928 Olympics he was captain of the British team.

Italy and Japan Divide in Singles as European Zone Davis Cup Final Begins

JAPAN AND ITALY DIVIDE IN TENNIS

De Stefani Upsets Ohta, 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, in European Zone Davis Cup Final.

DE MORPURGO IS DEFEATED

Italian, Ill, Surprised by Harada, Who Wins Match at Genoa by 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.

GENOA, Italy, July 11 (AP).—Italy's ambidextrous tennis star, Georgio De Stefani, came through with an unexpected victory against Japan today, but his countryman, Baron Humbert De Morpurgo, ill and suffering, met defeat.

As a result, the home forces broke even with the Japanese in the opening matches of the European Zone Davis Cup tennis final, the winner of which will play the United States for the right to challenge the French.

Yoshiro Ohta managed to snatch one set from De Stefani, the latter winning at 6—4, 6—3, 4—6, 6—4, but De Morpurgo lost in straight sets to Takeichi Harada, 6—4, 6—3, 7—5. Fans and experts alike had regarded Ohta and De Morpurgo as almost certain winners.

Harada took the breath away from 4,000 Italian fans by carrying the Baron along at such a terrific pace that before the crowd realized what was happening the Japanese had the first two sets safely stowed away.

Plays As If in Pain.

De Morpurgo played as if in pain and it was announced after the match that he must soon undergo an operation for appendicitis. This the Baron himself confirmed reluctantly as he said he was "not looking for an alibi."

Harada varied his game throughout. He kept luring De Morpurgo to the net with chop strokes, then passing him cleanly with deep drives, paying special attention to the Baron's backhand.

Neither De Stefani nor Harada, in victory, showed a brand of tennis which threatened to give the American Davis Cup players much trouble in the interzone final in Paris next week, although Harada looked nearer to the form he displayed in 1926, when he defeated Henri Cochet, Rene Lacoste and Bill Johnston, than at any time since.

Absolute absence of a volleying game was a feature of today's matches, none of the four players even venturing close to the net in the manner of the young American stars.

Defeat Is a Disappointment.

De Morpurgo's defeat was a deep disappointment to the Italian fans who have come to regard the Baron as one of the greatest players in the world. They had looked forward to seeing De Morpurgo win both singles.

De Stefani's game showed great improvement. He wields his racquet with either hand with equal facility, and this unusual style appeared to puzzle Ohta considerably, catching the Japanese on the wrong foot several times.

Just when the latter was set to receive the ball from the right hand, De Stefani would cross him with a deep drive from the port side.

The doubles match tomorrow will go far toward deciding the winner in the series, as Harada will be favored to beat De Stefani, and De Morpurgo, unless greatly handicapped physically, figures to beat Ohta in the remaining singles matches which are scheduled for Sunday.

GRANT, SUTTER SCORE IN SOUTHERN TOURNEY

Meet Today for Singles Title—Miss Coxe, Miss Wolf Gain Women's Final.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 11 (AP).—Bryan Grant of Atlanta, Southern tennis champion for three years, and Cliff Sutter of New Orleans, national intercollegiate titleholder, will meet tomorrow for the men's Southern singles championship.

In his semi-finals match today Grant overwhelmed Wilmer Hines of Columbia, S. C., in straight sets, 6—2, 6—2, 6—0, while Sutter defeated Jack Mooney of Atlanta, 6—3, 6—3, 6—2.

Championship contests in all other divisions except the men's doubles of the forty-fifth annual Southern tourney also are scheduled for tomorrow. The men's doubles final will be played Sunday.

Miss Eliza Coxe, defending titleholder, meets the women's Western champion, Miss Catherine Wolf of Indianapolis, in the women's singles final. Miss Coxe conquered Miss Anna Koll of New Orleans today, 7—5, 4—6, 6—4, and Miss Wolf won from Beatrice Bryan, Enterprise, Miss., 3—6, 6—0, 6—1.

An all-Western championship battle was assured in the women's doubles when Miss Theodosia Smith and Miss Jeanie Sampson of Chicago defeated Mrs. Frank Lee and Miss Nellie King of Memphis, 6—1, 6—3. They will meet Miss Wolf and Miss Ruth Oxeman of Cincinnati in the deciding battle.

THE SUMMARIES.

Men's Singles.

Semi-final Round—Bryan Grant, Atlanta, defeated Wilmer Hines, Columbia, S. C., 6—2, 6—2, 6—0; Cliff Sutter, New Orleans, defeated Jack Mooney, Atlanta, 6—3, 6—3, 6—2.

Women's Singles.

Semi-Final Round—Miss Eliza Coxe, Asheville, N. C., defeated Miss Anna Kolle, New Orleans, 7—5, 4—6, 6—4.

Women's Doubles.

Semi-Final Round—Miss Theodosia Smith and Miss Jeanie Sampson, Chicago, defeated Mrs. Frank Lee and Miss Nellie King, Memphis, 6—2, 6—3.

Mixed Doubles.

Second Round—Miss Gladys Scott, New Orleans and Bob Crossland, Charlotte, N. C., defeated Miss Harriet Van Vleet and Blackburn Hughes, Memphis, 7—5, 6—4.

HENRIQUE ADVANCES AT NET

Beats Little, 6-4, 6-3, to Gain Bergen County Semi-Finals.

Special to The New York Times.

HACKENSACK, N. J., July 11.—In the third round of the Bergen County tennis singles championship at the Oritani Field Club, A. R. Little today beat H. D. Ewing, 3—6, 6—3, 6—1. He lost to Henrique, 6—4, 6—3 in the quarter-finals.

Ewing beat Upton, 6—2, 6—3, in another quarter-final. Ewing and Henrique meet tomorrow in one semi-final. Comes will meet Mendal in the other.

Miss Carstairs's Craft Goes 80 Miles an Hour in Test

GRAVENHURST, Ont., July 11 (Canadian Press).—A speed of 80 miles an hour was attained by Miss Marion Carstairs of England today. Miss Carstairs thinks she can get 90 miles an hour from the boat which she is entering in the Harmsworth Trophy races which start Aug. 29 in Detroit.

FEIBLEMAN GAINS TITLE NET FINAL

Conquers Neer by 1-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3, in Rhode Island Grass Court Championships.

JACOBS ALSO ADVANCES

Vanquishes Wood, 7-5, 6-2, 1-6, 7-5, to Reach Deciding Round—Blauer-Wood Win Doubles Match.

Special to The New York Times.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 11.—E. W. Feibleman of New York and Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore, top seeded players in the Rhode Island grass court tennis championships, will battle for the title tomorrow and for the honor of being the first to gain a leg on the new challenge cup which is up for competition for the first time this year.

Feibleman today defeated Phil Neer of San Francisco in a four-set semi-final match and Jacobs was carried to a struggle of the same length to down young Sidney B. Wood Jr., lately of California and now of New York. The score of the Feibleman-Neer match was 1—6, 6—4, 6—4, 6—3, and Jacobs's margin over Wood was 7—5, 6—2, 1—6, 7—5.

Wood came back to the courts after a heavy shower had fallen, to pair with Harold Blauer of New York in a New England sectional doubles semi-final victory over Feibleman and J. Brooks Fenno, intercollegiate champions in 1922. The set scores were 10—8, 3—6, 6—2, 9—7, and the victory was somewhat in the nature of an upset, for Feibleman and Fenno were the second seeded team. Wood and Blauer were seeded fourth.

Hill and Johnson Score.

Malcolm T. Hill and Henry L. Johnson, first seeded team in the doubles, advanced to the final round by defeating Ted Burwell and Henry Culley, 7—5, 6—1, 7—5.

Neer, who yesterday scored an unexpected victory over Donald Cram, could not reach the peak of his game after his first set today. The Californian spent his best efforts in the early part of the match, while Feibleman was steady after the first set and went through the remainder without any great effort.

Neer yielded only the third game of the first set, varying a hard drive with dashes to the net and sending over hard shots, which Feibleman missed or could not get into the court.

Feibleman never was headed after the start of the second set. He was too steady for Neer, who will need plenty of practice on grass before he is ready to take on the top-notchers in a long match.

Jacobs Takes First Set.

Jacobs and Wood played a see-saw match, with each in turn taking a long string of games and then dropping far behind. Jacobs won the first three games. Then Wood won five, but with the set in his grasp he won only 3 points in the next four games and the set went to Jacobs.

After Wood had taken the first two games of the second set, Jacobs won six in a row, allowing his opponent only 8 points. He chopped the ball all over the court to force Wood into continual errors.

Jacobs eased up in the third set, and after giving Wood two in the fourth, took four of the next five and then ran out the match with three in a row when Wood assumed a 5—4 advantage.

RAIN DELAYS TENNIS PLAY.

West Jersey Singles and Doubles Semi-Finals to Be Held Today.

Special to The New York Times.

MOORESTOWN, N. J., July 11.—Showers washed out the semi-final round matches in the singles and doubles of the West Jersey tennis tournament at Moorestown today and a busy program is carded for tomorrow.

The singles semi-finals will get under way at 2:30 P. M. when Dr. Carl Fischer, a former champion and one-time intercollegiate titleholder, faces Harold Lane of Cynwyd. Fischer plays from Woodbury. In the other match Bert Hammell of Swarthmore and Norman Bramall of Idle Hour will be the rivals.

In the doubles Bramall and Joe Olhausen will meet Dr. Herbert Fischer and Hammell, while Louis Kruger and Lane clash with Leonards and Dornheim. The finals probably will be played Sunday.

TILDEN GAINS IN HOLLAND.

Enters Semi-Finals by Defeating Van der Feen in Love Sets.

NOORDWIJK-AAN-ZEE, Holland, July 11 (AP).—Bill Tilden entered the semi-finals of the Dutch tennis championship today by gaining his third victory at love sets in as many days. This time his victim was Van der Feen of Holland, who, like two of his countrymen before him, was unable to take a game from the American champion in three sets.

The other semi-finalists in singles are Daniel Prenn, Germany; Hans Timmer, Holland, and Roderich Menzel, Czechoslovakia.

In the doubles semi-finals Tilden and Prenn defeated Menzel and Koopman, 6—2, 6—0, 6—0. Their opponents for the title will be Timmer and Diemer Kool of Holland.

87 IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Quaker Ridge Event Starts Today at New Rochelle.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., July 11.—Eighty-seven players are entered in the Quaker Ridge tennis tournament, which will start tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on the courts of the New Rochelle Tennis Club.

Mel Partridge, winner for the last two years, is seeded No. 1. Other seeded players are Frank Bowden, Baisley Sheridan, Frank Bonneau, Casper Nannes, Isidore Biltchick, Arthur Fowler and Morton Bernstein.

SHIELDS, MURPHY REACH NET FINAL

New Yorker Conquers Lewis, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, in State Title Play at Syracuse.

UTICA STAR DEFEATS WARD

Almquist-Lockwood Team to Meet Shields and Bernstein for Doubles Crown.

Special to The New York Times.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 11.—Frank Shields of New York and Dick Murphy of Utica survived the semi-finals of the New York State championship tennis tournament on the courts of the Sedgwick Farm Club today. They will meet tomorrow to decide the title.

Murphy triumphed over Vanderbilt Ward of Syracuse in straight sets, 6—1, 7—5, 6—4, while Frank Shields was carried an extra set by Richard Lewis of Staten Island before winning at 6—3, 3—6, 6—3, 6—4.

Late in the afternoon four doubles teams took to the courts for their semi-finals matches and Shields and Mortimer Bernstein of New York qualified to encounter Stanley Almquist and Sherman Lockwood of Oregon in the final.

Texas Pair Defeated.

Shields and Bernstein conquered Jake Hess and Jack McDiarmid of Texas in straight sets, 6—3, 6—2, 9—7, while the Oregon pair were forced to four sets before they took the measure of David Jones of New York and Murphy, 6—4, 6—3, 4—6, 6—3.

Murphy, the youthful Harvard player, and Ward, the experienced tournament star, gave an exhibition which delighted the large and enthusiastic gallery. Before Ward was really under way, Murphy had run off the first set at 6—1 by staying in back court and driving with deadly accuracy.

In the second set, Ward rallied to take the first three games. Murphy, however, with a stirring net attack, forced his way to 5-all and then broke through the local player's service to take the set at 7—5.

Murphy's fine all-court game and greater speed gave him the advantage in the final set, in which Ward by a gallant effort, drew up to 4-all, only to drop his service and the match.

Lewis put up a splendid defense against the offerings of Shields, and more than once it seemed that an upset might be contributed before the match was over. Lewis was at the top of his game while Shields was making an unusually large number of errors.

Shields ran through the first set rather easily, but by the time it was over the former Princeton star, who had been forcing his opponent to the back court, saw that such tactics were likely to cause a break in his opponent's effectiveness and continued them.

Lewis Wins Second Set.

Lewis's strategy brought results in the second set, which he won, but he lapsed in the third, which Shields took easily at 6—3.

After the rest period, Shields started a vigorous attack and ran up a 5-2 lead. Here Lewis broke through and took two games, putting up a brave defense against what seemed like certain defeat. In the final game, on his own service, Shields ran out the match at 6—4.

The superior volleying of Shields and Bernstein showed to good advantage in their doubles victory. Hess and McDiarmid forced the issue in the third set, but finally succumbed at 6—3, 6—2, 9—7.

Murphy and Jones teamed well against the smooth-working combination of Lockwood and Almquist, who have played together a great deal. It took the Oregonians four sets to triumph, but their superior ability at the net eventually brought results.

GERKEN STOPS BENNETT.

Wins Feature Bout Before 3,000 at 106th Infantry Armory.

Henry Gerken, Seventy-first Infantry Regiment heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Sergeant Jim Bennett of Fort Slocum in the scheduled ten-round feature bout at the 106th Infantry Armory in Brooklyn before 3,000 last night.

Just before the end of the fourth Gerken landed a terrific left hook and Bennett suffered a broken nose. The doctor refused to allow Bennett to answer the bell for the fifth round. Gerken weighed 184 and Bennett 180.

Jimmy Rappaport of the Twenty-second Engineers outpointed Sammy Fusci of the 111th Infantry of Philadelphia in the ten-round semi-final. Rappaport weighed 129 and Fusci 130. Soldier Batts, 184, Fort Hamilton heavyweight, pounded out a six-round victory over Tony Cappilito, 180, of the 102d Medical Corps. In the six-round opener Mickey Dobson, 128, of the United States Navy, received the verdict over Pal O'Brien, 129, of Fort Wood.

CLUTHE ADVANCES IN JUNIOR TENNIS

Triumphs Over Whitbeck, 6-3, 6-3, to Gain Final Round at Manursing Island.

Special to The New York Times.

RYE, N. Y., July 11.—Featuring his play by fine driving from back court, Herbert F. Cluthe, Northern New Jersey junior champion, gained the final round of the junior tennis competition at the Manursing Island Club by turning back Franklin Whitbeck, Loomis School, 6—3, 6—3, today.

Caldwell Russell, Louisville, Ky., who recently captured the boys' Eastern title, was to have met Richard K. Hebard, defending champion and former boys' national titleholder, in the semi-final round of the junior play, but the match probably will be played tomorrow.

Besides his tentative encounter with Hebard, Russell is to meet John Dietz, fourth-seeded player, in the final round of the boys' singles play. Both came through their semi-final matches on Thursday.

Both Hebard and Cluthe gained the last round of the doubles today but on separate teams. Hebard and Julian Wishik, Flushing High School, defeated Bernie Friedman and Lester Kabacoff, 6—2, 2—6, 6—4, in the semi-final.

Cluthe and Donald Wallace entered the final of the doubles by defeating G. Roth and Dave Mindlin, 6—1, 6—3.

PALUSO DEFEATS ROSSI.

Gains Decision at Long Beach Stadium—Farber Stops Ortega.

Special to The New York Times.

LONG BEACH, L. I., July 11.—Using an effective left jab to good advantage and being the aggressor throughout, Lou Paluso of the Bronx won the decision over Emil Rossi of Harlem in the six-round main bout at the weekly boxing show conducted at Long Beach Stadium tonight before a crowd of 2,000. The winner weighed 134½ pounds and his rival 140¾.

Lew Farber, 120½, of the East Side, was credited with a four-round knockout victory over Ray Ortega, 114½, of Cuba, in the six-round semi-final. Farber dropped his opponent for counts of seven and nine in the second and third rounds, respectively, before Referee John MacAvoy intervened in the fourth, when Farber again floored his rival.

In another six-rounder Charley Raymond, 128, Brooklyn, defeated Nick De Salvo, 126½, Corona, while in the first scheduled six-round encounter Murray Kezd, 141½, East Side, knocked out John Prezio, 143½, West Side, in the third session.

In three scheduled four-rounders Jack Winakur, 134½, Brooklyn, outpointed Tony Gazette, 136, France; John West, 185, Great Neck, gained the verdict over Jack House, 186, the Bronx, and Benny Salaco, 131½, Freeport, stopped Renica Simmons, 130, Astoria, in the last round.

BROWN BEATEN BY BARNES.

Missouri Valley Champion Loses in Five Sets—Coggeshall Wins.

DES MOINES, July 11 (AP).—A new champion will be crowned in the Missouri Valley tennis meet tomorrow as the result of the defeat today of Wray Brown, the defending champion.

Hopping all over the court and even across the adjacent one on one occasion to smash back Brown's high bouncing drives, Bruce Barnes, Texas whirlwind, took the measure of the champion in five sets, 6—3, 6—4, 0—6, 2—6, 6—2.

Meanwhile, Harris Coggeshall, Iowa hope, gained revenge over his nemesis of last year's Valley tourney by walloping the St. Louis player, Junior Boehmer, 6—1, 6—2, 6—3.

CAGLE ACCEPTS POST.

Wires His Acceptance as Assistant Coach at Mississippi A. and M.

JACKSON, Miss., July 11 (AP).—Christian Keener Cagle, former West Point football captain, has accepted the position of assistant football coach at Mississippi A. and M. College.

A telegram of acceptance was received today by President-elect Hugh Critz, who had notified Cagle of the approval of his contract by the board of trustees at Gulfport last week. Cagle at present is doing newspaper work in New York.

Cagle, who is to report Sept. 1, will spend three months each of three years at the Mississippi school at a salary of $3,500 for each season.

MISS KENDIG WINS SKYTOP NET FINAL

Defeats 13-Year-Old Miss Bancroft, 6-3, 8-6, for Pocono Mountains Title.

Special to The New York Times.

SKYTOP, Pa., July 11.—Playing in her first sanctioned tournament, Miss Billy Bancroft, 13-year-old school girl from Wilmington, Del., put up a hard fight before losing to Miss Catherine L. Kendig of Chestnut Hill, 6—3, 8—6, in the final of the Pocono Mountains women's tennis championships today.

Miss Kendig's superior all-court game was the deciding factor in the match and, despite her opponent's rally in the second set when trailing 5—3, the outcome was never in doubt.

Miss Bancroft won the first game on her service, dropped the second and won the third at love before Miss Kendig had solved her opponent's net attack. The Delaware girl played fine tennis from the back court, both off the forehand and backhand, but could not get to the net.

Miss Kendig placed her returns from side to side in a baseline duel for the greater part of the match, winning on passing shots down the sidelines or when her opponent netted a hard drive.

The young star's rally in the second set, when she won the ninth and tenth games to tie the count, brought loud applause from the gallery. Service prevailed for the next three games and then Miss Kendig took four points in succession for the set and match.

Mrs. Anna E. Williams and Miss Helen White advanced to the final in the doubles by default and will meet the Misses Kendig tomorrow morning for the title.

SINGER AT BOUT WEIGHT.

Almost at Peak of Form for Test With Mandell.

Special to The New York Times.

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., July 11.—Al Singer got on the scales after this afternoon's seven-round boxing workout and weighed 134½ pounds. That is what he expects to weigh for Sammy Mandell in the Yankee Stadium next Thursday night.

Three rounds with Marty Goldman, three with Billy McMahon and one with Jackie Schweitzer, preceded by a round of shadow boxing, comprised the challenger's work this afternoon.

Manager Caplin said he will reach the peak of his form by Sunday or Monday and then will taper off in his work.

MANDELL BOXES 6 ROUNDS.

Champion Puts In an Active Day at His Training Camp.

Special to The New York Times.

ORANGEBURG, N. Y., July 11.—Sammy Mandell in his fifth day of glove work boxed six rounds today. He sparred two sessions each with Ralph Lenny, Bobby Risdon and Pete Laratonda.

The lightweight champion feels he requires one or two more days of work such as he performed today before he will reach top form in speed and boxing skill. He believes he will acquire this condition about Sunday.

Coyne to Oppose Pallett in Ring.

Jim Coyne of the Our Lady of Refuge A. C. and Harry Pallett, North Pelham welterweight, will box in one of the two special bouts at the amateur boxing show which the Our Lady of Refuge A. C. will hold for the benefit of the church's building fund at the New York Velodrome on July 23. In the other special Mike Belloise, Our Lady of Refuge A. C. flyweight, will oppose Jimmy Hughes of St. Mary's A. C.

Maracanda-Greenberg Box Tonight.

A six-round bout between Vincent Maracanda and Ruby Greenberg is scheduled as the principal attraction tonight on the boxing card to be conducted at the New Ridgewood Grove S. C., Brooklyn. Supporting this contest will be eight four-round battles.

McSweeney Matched With Moskovitz

Johnny McSweeney, Holy Name Club 135-pounder, and Dave Moskovitz, Ascension Parish House ace, will meet in one of the two special bouts at the amateur boxing show to be conducted by the Good Shepherd A. C. at Dyckman Oval on Wednesday night.

WORLD RECORD SET IN CRICKET TEST

Bradman Scores 309, Not Out, for Australia in Match Against England.

EQUALS HAMMOND'S MARK

Touring Batsman Gets Two Double Hundreds in Consecutive Trials—Tally Is 458 for 3.

LEEDS, England, July 11 (AP).—Don Bradman, brilliant young Australian, beat the world's record cricket test score—R. E. Foster's 287 at Sydney in 1903—in the third test with England, which opened at Leeds today, by piling up the enormous total of 309. He was still unbeaten when stumps were drawn for the day, with the Australian score at 458 for 3.

Other records made by Bradman were a century before lunch, equaling the record of C. G. McCartney of Australia, and two double hundreds in consecutive tests, equaling scores made by Wally Hammond, the English player, in Australia in 1928-1929. Bradman, with A. F. Kippax, put up new figures for a third-wicket stand, beating the 207 of W. L. Murdoch and H. L. Scott, Australians, at the Kennington Oval in 1884.

The visitors used the same team as in the previous matches, with the exception of Jackson for Ponsford, who is ill with gastritis.

Visitors Open Batting.

The Australians, whose captain, W. M. Woodfull, won the toss, opened the batting under ideal conditions. They suffered a disaster when Jackson was dismissed for a single. Bradman and Woodfull raised the Australian score from 2 to 194 before Woodfull was bowled by Hammond after having scored 50.

Bradman raised the total to 200 when he chopped Geary for three. Hammond received the new ball and increased his pace. Kippax twice in one over scraped at him and missed. The umpires denied an appeal against him for a catch at the wicket. Bradman reached his individual 150 with a hit past long on the ropes. Kippax then survived an appeal for leg before on Larwood's bowling. The English bowlers concentrated on Kippax, who was thrown back onto the defensive, making only one run in fifteen minutes.

Bradman's eye, however, was perfectly tuned in and in the next half hour he scored 43 while Kippax was getting twelve. Kippax hoisted the 250 on a boundary off Hammond. Tyldesley gave the crowd a number of laughs. He had to chase six balls to the boundaries. Leyland was tired out and Bradman was severe with him, hitting him for 2, 2, 4, 4 and 1 in an over. Bradman got his 200 on a single off Tyldesley.

Makes a False Stroke.

When he was 202 Bradman made a false stroke, really his first. He lifted a ball just over Tate at mid on. Kippax, was enticed into jumping into one of Tyldesley's donkeydrops. He drove toward Leyland, who made a great attempt to catch the ball left-handed but dropped it after juggling it. The English field was redistributed. Not a solitary slip was used and the English players were scattered far and near. The Australian score at tea time was 305 for two wickets and Bradman and Kippax had been together eighty minutes.

When the score was 340 Duckworth, the English wicketkeeper, passed his first bye. He missed a badly breaking ball from Tyldesley. The pitch began to show signs of wear under Larwood's bowling. Kippax lost the signs of distress he showed when he first came in and the runs came along at a merry rate. Bradman was hitting all round the wicket. When he reached 287 and Foster's record there was sustained cheering from the crowd. All the English players shooks hands with the young Australian.

Kippax Caught by Chapman.

Just before time Kippax was easily caught in the gully by Chapman off Tate's bowling. He had scored 77 and worthily helped Bradman in setting up new figures.

Bradman received another demonstration when he came in at the close of play. After reaching his 300 he cracked the last ball of the day off boundary for his forty-second four. He was surrounded as he entered the clubhouse and had difficulty in cutting an avenue through the enthusiastic crowd.

Miss Stifel Wins From Mother For West Virginia Golf Title

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., July 11 (AP).—Miss Fritzi Stifel, Wheeling, defeated her mother, 4 and 2, today to win the women's West Virginia golf championship.

Mrs. E. W. Stifel, also of Wheeling, put up a brave battle against her golfing daughter, who has been a national figure in tournament play, but Miss Stifel brought her prowess to bear on the incoming nine holes. Mrs. Stifel was only 1 down at the twelfth hole.

U. S. JUNIOR POLO POSTPONED A WEEK

National Title Tourney, Which Will Be Held at Rumson, to Start Next Saturday.

LONG ISLAND PLAY TODAY

Old Aiken to Oppose Freebooters, Oasis Four to Meet Long Island at Meadow Brook.

By VERNON VAN NESS.

The national junior polo championships, which were to have begun today at Rumson, N. J., have been postponed for one week, it was announced yesterday by the United States Polo Association. The injury to Jimmy Mills in the round-robin match at Piping Rock on Wednesday was one of the factors in causing the decision to set back the start of the tourney.

Another was the inability of Nelson Talbott to play and a third was the fact that the Army mounts have been pretty hard-ridden during the week and it was feared they would not be in shape to take the field on Tuesday, when the Army was scheduled to play.

Tossed to Ground by Mount.

Mills was to have ridden at No. 2 on the Old Oaks four, which would have played tomorrow against the Ess Kay riders in the second game of the tourney. But in the game last Wednesday Mills suffered a bruised knee when his mount fell and tossed him to the ground. In recovering his feet the horse kicked Mills. Though not seriously hurt, Mills will not be able to play for several days. Talbott is expected to be able to take part in the series beginning next Saturday.

The draw which had been arranged for the tournament will now have to be revised and probably this will be done early in the week.

A special match will be played on International Field at the Meadow Brook Club today. This will bring together the Old Aikens and the Freebooters. As a matter of fact, the Old Aikens will be represented by only two of its regular four, Elbridge Gerry taking his accustomed place at No. 1 and Stewart Iglehart his old stand at No. 3. But instead of Mills at No. 2, the veteran Jimmy Cooley will ride, while Cocie Rathborne's place at back will be taken by H. C. Phipps, another well-known high-goal veteran.

Harriman, Boeseke to Play.

The Freebooters will have two candidates for the American defense team in its line-up in W. A. Harriman and Elmer Boeseke Jr. Harriman will ride at No. 3 and Boeseke at back. It will be Boeseke's first regular match game since his arrival from California. This match is to begin at 4 P. M.

There will be another match at Meadow Brook today, a first-round encounter in the Hempstead Cups tournament. It will be played at 11 o'clock in the morning and will bring together the Oasis team and the Long Island combination.

The line-ups:

NEW STADIUM TO OPEN.

Uruguay's Bowl, Which Seats 100,000, to House Soccer Tourney.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, July 11 (AP).—South America's largest stadium, now completed, awaits the blast of the referee's whistle which will open the international open soccer tournament Sunday. The world's championship tournament, the first to be held in South America, will open Montevideo's $800,00 elliptical bowl, built to accommodate 100,000 spectators.

Construction was begun in 1928, following the award of the meeting to Montevideo by the Barcelona Congress of the International Football Association. The stadium was finished last week by 1,000 workmen, laboring day and night to complete it on schedule.

The various sections of the stadium have been named "Olympic," "Amsterdam," "Colombes" and "America." The tower will be dedicated as a memorial to the Olympic Games.

A. ROARK DISPLACED IN POLO TEST MATCH

Name Not on List for Eighth International Trial for English Four Today.

CAPTAIN GEORGE AT NO. 1

Balding, Pat Roark and Lacey Also in Line-Up to Oppose Selected Team at Wiltshire.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 11.—Aidan Roark's name was not on the list of those who will play for England in the eighth international trial match at the Beaufort Club, Wiltshire, tomorrow. It was officially announced tonight that England's team would be headed by Captain Richard George of the Indian Army at No. 1 with Gerald Balding at No. 2, Captain Pat Roark, No. 3, and Lewis Lacey, back.

This was taken as an indication that rumors of trouble in the English camp have some foundation, and that C. T. I. Roark, father of the young polo star, so far has been unsuccessful in his attempt to patch up a reconciliation with Captain Charles Tremayne, leader of the English team.

Many are of the opinion that England's chances will not be improved if for any reason Aidan Roark is left off the team to play against the United States at Meadow Brook in September for the Westchester Cup.

England's opponents in tomorrow's match will be Captain Maurice Kingscote, No. 1; Captain H. W. Pilkington, No. 2; Captain Tremayne, No. 3, and Humphrey Guinnes, back.

ROCKAWAY RAMBLERS LOSE TO SMITHTOWN

2-Goal Handicap Aids Victors in 8-6 Triumph in Blizzard Caps Polo Event.

Special to The New York Times.

CEDARHURST, L. I., July 11.—Two goals received by handicap enabled the Smithtown four to score an 8 to 6 victory over the Rockaway Ramblers today in the polo competition for the Blizzard Cups at the Rockaway Hunting Club.

The Ramblers started strongly in the first period and scored three goals, Philip Iglehart, J. T. Mather and R. B. Law accounting for the tallies. For the next three periods the Ramblers went scoreless, while Hardie Scott and M. Kornblum each tallied once for the Smithtown quartet in the third and Kornblum registered another goal in the fourth.

In the fifth chukker, Smithtown outscored the Ramblers, 2 to 1, F. T. Porter and Scott making the goals for Smithtown and Iglehart registering for the Ramblers. The Ramblers retaliated in the sixth, scoring twice on goals by Iglehart and Mather, and at the same time limiting the opposition to one tally, made by E. S. Potter.

Individual scoring honors for the game were captured by young Iglehart, who thrice sent the ball through the Smithtown goal posts.

The line-up:

Smithtown (8).	Ramblers (6).
1—M. Kornblum	1—L. T. Whitehead
2—E. S. Potter	2—P. Iglehart

PIRATES' ATTACK TURNS BACK CARDS

Pound Three Pitchers for Sixteen Hits, to Win, 6-2, and Even the Series.

BRAME HURLS EFFECTIVELY

P. Waner Leads Batsmen With Four Safe Blows—Orsatti Gets Two Triples and Single.

PITTSBURGH, July 11 (AP).—The combination of hard hitting and effective pitching by Ervin Brame enabled the Pirates to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 6 to 2, today and end the six-game series on even terms.

The Corsairs pounded three St. Louis pitchers, Hallahan, Haid and Lindsey, for sixteen hits, while Brame held the Cards to half that number. St. Louis made four errors.

Paul Waner led the attack with a perfect day at bat. He made four straight hits and walked the fifth time. Orsatti drove two triples and a single for St. Louis in four times up.

JERSEY CITY BEATEN.

Loses Second Straight to Toronto, 11-1—Prudhomme Wins in Box.

Special to The New York Times.

TORONTO, July 11.—Toronto made it two straight from Jersey City today by pounding out an 11-to-1 victory. Glen Liebhardt, who relieved Hopkins in the first inning after the latter had walked three men in a row, was hit hard and received poor support.

Johnny Prudhomme kept a dozen Jersey City hits fairly well scattered, good fielding behind him aiding materially in keeping the visitors off the bases. Joe Harris led the Toronto attack with four hits.

LUCAS OF THE REDS SUBDUES PHILLIES

Bears Down in Pinches and Helps to Win His Own Game, 5-3, by Walloping Homer.

TEAMS DEADLOCKED IN 8TH

Singles by Swanson and Cuccinello Put Cincinnati in Front—Both Starting Hurlers Last.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11 (AP).—Red Lucas pitched superbly in the tight places today and aided his own cause with a home run in the ninth inning to give the Cincinnati Reds a 5 to 3 victory over the Phillies in the opening game of their Eastern tour.

The Phillies had plenty of scoring chances, but Lucas bore down each time he was in danger. Philadelphia scored twice in the first inning on three hits, a walk and a sacrifice. They could not count again until the seventh when Davis put a home run into the left-field bleachers.

The Reds cashed in on every opportunity. They counted three times in the fourth on doubles by Walker and Heilmann and singles by Stripp and Ford, then broke the 3—3 deadlock in the eighth on singles by Swanson and Cuccinello.

Both starting pitchers lasted to the end, Lucas giving eight hits, while the Reds collected eleven off Earl Collard.

ORIOLES DEFEAT BISONS.

Hauser Smashes 28th Homer as Mates Win Night Game, 10 to 5.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 11 (AP).—The Baltimore Orioles clouted their way to a 10—5 victory over the Bisons tonight, five home runs providing for most of their rallies. Joe Hauser, home run ruler of the league, boosted his total with his twenty-eighth of the year, while Barton chimed in with two circuit smashes.

Mangum and Williams, Buffalo pitchers, were rapped for eighteen base hits.

Sports of the Times

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By JOHN KIERAN.

THE fight ticket of the future will probably be a little metal gadget to be inserted in your television set at home. The fight may be held in a closed room or studio in Berlin, Hongkong, Port Said or Pernambuco, but the metal "tickets" will be on sale all around the world and the fight fan of Yonkers, N. Y., or Westport, Conn., will simply purchase the metal gadget put out by the promoters, clamp it into his television set, light up a cigar and sit back and see every foul.

What brought this to mind was the announcement that Ted Husing was going to amble along with the golfers at Interlachen in the late stages of the national open and broadcast a blow-by-blow description of the deciding strokes as they were being produced and delivered. This brings championship golf right into the living room and it is a great advance in civilization But it isn't perfect, or anything like it.

Mr. Husing is only one man and can follow only one pair of golfers at a time. An open golf tournament is the most difficult of all sports events to cover, for there are times when even the most expert and experienced observer doesn't know where to look. What an open championship really needs as an observation post is one of those balloons that used to fringe the Front in the days of the World War.

Gene Sarazen made his final brilliant dash for the title at Skokie attended only by his playing partner, their caddies and a handful of intimate friends. Few spectators followed Johnny Farrell in his fourth round at Olympia Fields. It was thought that Johnny was out of it. Watching the favorites, the crowd often misses the winner entirely.

But in the first attempt to broadcast a golf championship on the wing, so to speak, radio gets a break. The break is named Robert T. Jones Jr.

The chief interest at Interlachen lies in the progress of Barrister Bob. All that most people want to know about that championship is how Jones stands at any given moment. That was partially true of other championships in recent years, but this time it goes all the way. With the British open and amateur crowns in his possession, he is shooting at the third of the four great golf titles and the success or failure of Jones at Interlachen is the main point at issue as far as golf fans at large are concerned.

So the radio broadcaster, packing on his back what looks like a wardrobe trunk with a Marconi rig, can stick to Bob Jones and be confident that he has the big story of Interlachen right under his eyes.

How It Started.

Just where science first ambled into the field of sports is a matter of debate and conjecture. Many years ago certain staid and conservative elders were astonished to learn that a chess match was to be played by cable. It was novel and extraordinary to think of a man in Havana playing a chess match with another man in Berlin. But the cables carried the savage thrust of "bishop to king's knight 5" to Berlin and the relentless parry came back across the ocean to Havana, "rook to king 4, exposing check."

It's nothing for followers of the turf to hop aboard a plane in New York, take in the races at Saratoga on a pleasant August afternoon, and fly back to Mayor Walker's bailiwick in time to keep a dinner engagement. Gene Tunney flew from Stroudsburg to Philadelphia to keep an engagement with Jack Dempsey, and from Speculator to New York to meet Tummas Heeney. Such things excite little comment now, but there was a real stir in November, 1916, when a few fellows in flying togs strolled through one of the portals at Palmer Stadium to witness the Yale-Princeton game. They had flown down from New York for the contest, and the pilot and leader of the party was the late Hobey Baker.

Electrical Equipment.

Electric timing came in with automobile racing and doubtless will be used in all track events sometime in the future. In Germany they now have a practical method of timing sprint races with electrical equipment and Lawson Robertson has been advocating its adoption in this country With the experiments in night baseball, electricity has come as an aid to the national pastime in minor league towns.

The radio has been used for broadcasting all sorts of sport spectacles and doubtless the air program on sports will be wider in the future. A few years ago the result of a sprint race at the national track and field championship was not made official until the judges had viewed moving pictures made at the finish line.

There was an intercollegiate air race last year. What television will do to or for sports promoters and sports spectacles is a mystery at the moment, but it will edge into the field in some way. Yes, sir, the world does move.

A Timid Suggestion.

Getting back to golf, broadcasting the play as it goes along is a wonderful improvement, but the program at Interlachen is only a start. When Bob Jones retires from competition the broadcasters will have to make arrangements for covering a dozen contenders at the same time. About a dozen contenders, as a usual thing, are still in the hunt for the open title as the battle goes into the fourth and deciding round.

Even then there is a chance for an outsider to flash a great round of 66 and slip home a secret winner while the loud-speakers are giving out misleading information. Why not equip each golfer with a microphone and let him broadcast his own progress as he strides the fairway or stumbles through the rough?

That would be more like it. There is the matter of wave interference to be settled, but the scientists probably can arrange that. Then those stay-at-homes interested in the fate of that famous golfer John Doe could tune in and get the final rush of John as follows:

"John Doe speaking. I have three 4's to win the open title. I am now about to drive from the sixteenth tee. (Crash!) Just a moment, radio audience, my drive seems to be out of bounds. I'll drive another. (Crash!) Out of bounds again! I am now playing five. (Thud!) That one was smothered and is now resting comfortably in a trap. I will now return you to the clubhouse, where the next voice you will hear will be that of the chairman of the championship committee presenting the cup to Richard Roe, the winner. John Doe signing off."

RUTH HITS TWO HOMERS.

Drives In 7 Runs as Yankees Beat Toronto, 16-11, in Exhibition.

Special to The New York Times.

TORONTO, July 11.—Babe Ruth hit two homers and a double in a seven-inning exhibition game today, which the Yanks won from Toronto, 16-11.

With three mighty shots Ruth drove home seven runs, six of them in the second inning when he hit his first homer, and later in the inning a two-bagger which bumped the right field fence. His second inning homer came with the bases filled.

WHITE SOX TRIUMPH AS CARAWAY STARS

Pitcher Holds Browns to Seven Scattered Safeties and Chicago Wins, 5 to 3.

VICTORS TIE FOR SIXTH

Draw Even With St. Louis in Race—Jeffries of Winners Connects for the Circuit.

ST. LOUIS, July 11 (AP).—The Chicago White Sox went into a tie for sixth place with St. Louis today by defeating the Browns, 5 to 3, behind the steady pitching of Pat Caraway, who allowed seven scattered safeties.

Caraway was in danger only in the second inning, when the Browns bunched their blows to score three runs. Their efforts were futile after that.

Jeffries of the winners hit a home run.

ROBINS AND GIANTS WILL CLASH TODAY

Rivals to Play at Polo Grounds Before Beginning Their Home Stands Against Westerners.

CLARK SLATED TO PITCH

McGraw's Choice Against Brooklyn Left-Hander Uncertain—50,000 Expected at Contest.

By JOHN DREBINGER.

Knowing of no better way to prime themselves for their important and separate tasks ahead, the Giants and Robins will clash at the Polo Grounds today with something like 50,000 highly partisan spectators present, urging their respective favorites on to annihilate the other side without fear or regard.

A Giant-Dodger meeting is always an event, but this year, due to the high social standing Uncle Robbie's nephews have attained, it has suddenly become something of a grand carnival. The Robins, in fact, have climbed as high as they can. They are on top in the National League and it is their business and pleasure at the moment to hold the position against all comers in general and the Giants in particular.

As for the Giants, they are four and a half games away and not at all satisfied. They hope to derive plenty of satisfaction out of the meeting today.

Needless to say, the Giants and Robins would not mind fighting the thing out between themselves right on to the end of the season, but the schedule makers have decreed otherwise and after today's clash the two will be kept apart for a time, the Dodgers moving into their own bailiwick in Flatbush tomorrow to weather an invasion from the West, while the Giants will remain entrenched at the Polo Grounds on a similar mission. The Reds will be the first callers on the Harlem and the Pirates will open the firing in Brooklyn.

In many respects the coming home stand of the two metropolitan entries in the National League looms as the most important period of the present campaign. If the Giants can improve their position during the next three weeks and survive their final swing around the Western loop in August, the final home stand in September would see them holding excellent winning chances. All of which is likewise true of the Robins, who, being already on top, are obviously even better situated.

In view of the circumstances, it therefore seems a trifle unfortunate that one of the two will have to be thrown into reverse today, but then again those are matters that cannot very well be avoided. The left-handed William Watson Clark is expected to be Uncle Robbie's pitching choice for this afternoon, but there remained yesterday considerable uncertainty about the Giant hurler, due to the fact that John McGraw's staff recently has been doing most of its rotating between the bullpen and the mound.

Woman Equals Husband's Score In English Rifle Competition

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 11 (Canadian Press Cable).—Equality between the sexes was illustrated on the Bisley rifle ranges today when Mrs. J. N. Dow of St. John, N. B., had the same score in the same competition as her husband, Lieutenant J. N. Dow, member of the Canadian Bisley team. Both scored 33 out of a possible 35 in the Donegall Challenge Cup qualifier, of seven shots at 200 yards.

MISS MADISON SETS MARK.

Goes 120 Free Style in 1:16.8 for 12th Unofficial World Record.

SEATTLE, July 11 (AP).—Miss Helene Madison, Seattle swimming marvel, set her twelfth unofficial world's record last night, bettering the recognized time of 1:18.6 in the 120-yard free style swim. Her time was 1:16.8.

In the 400-yard breast stroke Miss Eleanor Holm of the New York Women's Swimming Association bettered the world record of 6:10.2 made by Miss Sybil Bauer of the Illinois Athletic Club, swimming the distance in 5.53 2.

Miss Madison has exceeded twelve world's records since last February, when she competed in the national indoor tournament in Florida. She bettered the time for the 100-yard, 100-meter, 120-yard, 150-yard, 200-yard, 220-yard, 300-yard, 300-meter, 440-yard, 500-yard, 880-yard and mile marks. She exceeded four of the records at the national outdoor championships in Los Angeles earlier this month.

HARMON BEATS MIDWAY.

Takes Two Blocks in Cue Match—He Divides With St. Jean.

Charles Harmon broke even with Andrew St. Jean and defeated Andrew Midway twice in the ninth and tenth blocks of his pocket billiard matches at the Strand and Fourteenth Street Billiard Academies, respectively, yesterday.

At the Strand, Harmon won in the afternoon, 125 to 117 in 15 innings, and St. Jean triumphed at night, 125 to 68 in 12 innings. They are playing 14 blocks on the block basis. Each has won five blocks and St. Jean leads in points scored, 1,125 to 988.

Harmon took the lead in his 12-block match at the Fourteenth Street Academy, defeating Midway, 125 to 74 in 27 innings, and 125 to 61 in 20 innings. The match is being contested on the point basis and Harmon leads, 1,065 to 1,038.

Matsuyama Defeats Ward.

Kinrey Matsuyama defeated Jack Ward, 250 to 85, in fifteen innings in an 18.2 balkline game at the Lawler Brothers Manhattan Billiard Academy last night. Matsuyama's high run was 109 and Ward's 20.

Batter Two Cleveland Pitchers to Capture Final of the Series, 11 to 1.

HOYT HURLS FOR VICTORS

Holds Losing Club to Seven Safe Blows—Stone's Triple Starts Detroit on the Way.

DETROIT, July 11 (AP).—The Tigers went on a hitting spree today, collecting eighteen safe blows to win the final of the series from Cleveland, 11 to 1. Brown and Miller were the victims of the assault, while Waite Hoyt was holding the Indians to seven hits.

The Tigers hit Brown safely eight times in the first two innings, scoring three times in each. Stone tripled in the first, scoring two men. Averill made a three-bagegr for the Indians in the seventh, but it did not figure in the scoring.

KEEPING STATE SECRETS.

Even in its modified and self-contradictory form, the resolution adopted in the Senate by a vote of 53 to [illegible], requesting the President to send in all the secret and confidential documents relating to the naval treaty, was an invitation to him to stultify himself. He had already refused to send the papers to the Senate. He had done this on the highest grounds of international good faith and Presidential responsibility. The Senate could hardly have expected him to accept at its hands the humiliation which would have been implied in giving up what he had positively declared to be against the public interest to lay before the Senate. Yesterday he promptly and manfully repeated his refusal. Under a tacit agreement with other nations, as our treaty negotiators were, to hold in confidence private and tentative exchanges of opinion, it would have been a wanton insult to them to reveal publicly what they had written or said in the assurance that it would be kept inviolate. Moreover, as Mr. HOOVER again reminded the Senate, for us to proceed as a nation that would not observe a trust could have no other result than our never being trusted again in an international conference.

While thus with entire propriety and pointed rebuke the President declined to do what the Senate asked him, he renewed the offer, which had been made in the Senate by Senator REED, to permit any Senator overwhelmed with curiosity about the secret memoranda to look at them under the strictest pledge of secrecy. But this was not at all what Senators wanted. A like proposal by Mr. REED was instantly scorned by Senator JOHNSON. What was the use, he angrily demanded, of getting information which a Senator would be bound by oath never to make use of or even refer to? And Senator BORAH, whose support of the treaty has not shown him to be eaten up with zeal for it or for the President, distinctly took the ground that if Mr. HOOVER sent the confidential documents to the Senate it would be for the Senate itself to decide whether they ought to be made public. Furthermore, it was broadly intimated in the course of the Senate debate that anything confided to an executive session of the Senate was almost certain to be an open secret in a day or two, owing to a leak by some indiscreet Senator.

It was not at all the secret documents that the opposition Senators desired. They really desired only to make trouble for the President and Secretary STIMSON, to fill up three or four days with wearisome debate, and to add a few votes, if possible, to their own little handful against the treaty. They will not be persuaded by Mr. HOOVER'S positive and official assurance that there are no concealed understandings of any kind, no promises or commitments whatever, except those that appear on the face of the treaty. On all these matters they profess an ability and a morality and a patriotism superior to those of the President. But to most Americans it will be satisfactory to know that Mr. HOOVER has again, in the face of a querulous Senate, maintained the authority of his office and the dignity of the nation.

THE CHIEF MAGISTRATE ACTS.

What a vigorous and right-minded man in the right place can do to protect the public was quickly demonstrated by Chief Magistrate CORRIGAN this week in arranging for Magistrate EWALD the alternative of resigning at once or facing charges before the Appellate Division and forcible removal. A judge of any court, entangled as Mr. EWALD now is, should resign out of a mere sense of public duty. Obviously, however, his act in vacating the bench until his legal trial was had seemed sufficient to him. It did not seem so to District Attorney TUTTLE after he had examined the Ewald correspondence files, and it emphatically did not seem sufficient to Judge CORRIGAN after the files had been under his eye. So he promptly had a series of talks with persons concerned in the procedure of certifying, hearing and acting on charges looking to removal. Satisfied that he could offer the Magistrate a choice—the objective being to get the local bench cleared of men under such damaging fire—Judge CORRIGAN very forcefully did so. The action was courageous, sure and swift, and New York City will feel more comfortable for the vigilant presence in the Chief Magistrate's office of Judge CORRIGAN.

It is another demonstration of what clear-headedness, high standards and the moral force of prestige can do without the possession of actual legal power. A chief magistrate cannot remove; he can only file charges against his associates. Judge CORRIGAN has no power to make Magistrate EWALD resign. And there might be an incumbent of this office whose promise to file charges wouldn't frighten anybody. But this particular incumbent is known to possess certain qualities: among them the habit of finishing what he starts.

PENNSYLVANIA TRICKERY.

For more than a hundred years the sweet peculiarities of Pennsylvania politics have manifested themselves in many ways. In the May primaries Mr. GIFFORD PINCHOT beat the machine Republican candidate for Governor in sixty-seven counties and by a plurality of some 20,000. Governor FISHER and the Allegheny County Republican leaders said that they would support the winner. Even "SAM" SALUS of the Vare "war group" said affectingly on the day after the primary: "We are a band of brothers." The other war brothers were surprised, though Mr. SALUS'S statement that Mr. PINCHOT was "entitled to Republican support" might be considered reasonably orphic. Still, it was reported and understood that the Vare machine would play the game.

None the less, representatives of Mr. BROWN at once began action in Luzerne County, where the official returns showed a majority of 26,000 votes for Mr. PINCHOT. There, on the recommendation of Pinchotians, with the consent of Brownists and the approval of the County Commissioner, the court authorized the perforation of the ballots in a manner said to be strictly within the law, with the object of detecting counterfeits. Taken from the Luzerne County Court to the Supreme Court, the case is to be heard on Sept. 29. Was perforation such a mutilation as to make the ballots illegal? Obviously, Mr. PINCHOT could not wait till then before becoming the regular Republican candidate. He will therefore run as an Independent candidate.

Thus he will make sure of having a ticket of his own all through the State, and every Republican nominated at the primary can have a place on it if he chooses. This is sound precaution and politics. It is more than that. Whatever be the basis of fact in Mr. PINCHOT'S normally heated remarks about "certain public utilities" and General ATTERBURY and his unfortunate dual official position, the cry that the Governorship should not be "stolen" ought to be effective. The intention of a plurality of the voters to make PINCHOT the Republican nominee was clear. It may be defeated by a legal technicality, but it is irrefutably sound morally. The underlying cause of Mr. PINCHOT'S success in the primary was not prohibition. That was hardly mentioned, and some of his greatest strength was shown in Wet counties. Nor was it his rhetoric about the power trust and the public utilities.

It was his hard kicking against the machine. Now the machine cannot even stick to its own poor rules. His enemies have created for Mr. PINCHOT an issue more powerful and moving than he was able to create for himself. Shall the machine balk "the will of the people"?

LIVING IN MANHATTAN.

Manhattan population in the last ten years shrank by 427,000, or almost the equivalent of a city the size of Minneapolis. What of the future? Here two schools of opinion appear. One foresees a residential population continuing to pour out to the outlying boroughs and the suburbs, and its place taken by industry, business and recreation. A single day's news is concerned with no less than three great freight storage and factory developments on Manhattan that call for the demolition of tenements housing scores of families. Unless the trend that has been operating for the last twenty-five years suddenly changes, most of these displaced families will find their new homes outside Manhattan. The evicted householders may go to join former neighbors in Queens and the Bronx, or may thrust themselves into some corner of Manhattan and crowd out families just higher enough in the income scale to find escape from Manhattan feasible. Actually, the figures of shrinkage for Manhattan Island do not tell the whole story of depletion for the areas south of Harlem. The growth of population in the latter section and in the Washington Heights district has balanced in part the drift from the older sections. The region south of Fifty-ninth Street has been thinning out at a rate much faster than the census figures for the whole borough would indicate.

A minority school of opinion maintains that this process of denudation is not likely to continue indefinitely. It includes the respectable authority of Chairman DELANEY of the Board of Transportation. He does not see Manhattan streets so harking back to rural conditions that we can afford to stop thinking of new subways. Ultimately, we shall need a rapid transit line for every one of the north-and-south avenues, with possibly one or two exceptions. And these lines will be needed for something more than carrying population from other boroughs into Manhattan on business or pleasure. Mr. DELANEY is represented as foreseeing the "rehabilitation" of Manhattan. The basis for that view is the many examples of run-down neighborhoods captured or recaptured for comfortable or well-to-do housing or even for fashion. The middle east side, Chelsea and the earlier Greenwich Village are large-scale instances of what is going on over the greater part of town. In the most unpromising neighborhoods one sees tall apartment houses sprouting up, under the stimulus of low ground values and, presumably, moderate rentals. People have begun to speak of even "the" east side coming back, that region east of the Bowery whose history since the Civil War has been one of successive waves of alien migration of descending economic status. The rehabilitation of the east side may happen, but it will have to come in the absence of one advantage present in other neighborhoods. Midtown First Avenue and Ninth Avenue are near the centre of things in respect to business and amusements. The east side lies off to one corner of the island.

But conceded the return of the east side upon a higher level of living, conceded the rebuilding of other tenement districts, it still is doubtful whether in mere numbers the population of Manhattan will maintain itself. One simple but effective reason is children. The well-to-do families that are taking the place of poor families in the Queensboro Bridge district, on the middle west side and in Greenwich Village are much smaller families.

ACADEMIC OBLIGATIONS.

Recently the American Association of University Professors, through its Committee on Ethics, issued warnings and what are in effect rules concerning outside employment of college teachers. Inquiry into the matter was, of course, provoked by the evidence brought out through investigations by the Federal Trade Commission. In its scrutiny of the acts of several utility companies it discovered that they had been in the habit of employing university professors to write reports for them, or give lectures in their behalf, or serve them for pay in a variety of ways. It was also made public that several power and electric light and gas companies were accustomed to contribute money to various colleges and universities, ostensibly to finance technical research relating to their industries. In all this a certain amount of irregularity became evident, naturally disquieting to collegiate and university authorities. They felt that many of the assertions made in the press on this subject were unfounded and malicious, but wisely concluded that the complaints and the suggested scandal should be carefully looked into.

A report to the Association of University Professors was made by Professor EDWIN R. A. SELIGMAN. The task could not have been assigned to more competent hands. Professor SELIGMAN displays in his report the qualities of discrimination and nice moral judgment which one has encountered in his other writings. First of all, he was painstaking in determining the exact facts in the case, disentangling rumor and misrepresentation from actual happenings. Then he was careful to point out the real nature of the offense, when proved, and the measure of blame which should attach to it. His general conclusions were such as even those whom he felt compelled to criticize or condemn for their course of action could not deny were justified by the evidence and in accord with the nice ethical standards which ought to prevail among university professors.

Engaging in outside work for pay is not indiscriminately forbidden. But there must be no concealment about it. The whole thing must be as honest as day. If a college professor feels warranted in taking pay for giving scientific help to a utility company, he must let the fact be known to all concerned, and must never appear as if he were a voluntary witness in behalf of the concern which employs him. If he is ever called upon to give expert testimony, he should either refuse to do so, as being an interested party, or should let the examiners know in just what relation he stands. Turning to the utilities themselves, Professor SELIGMAN contends that they have a right to draw upon expert aid in the colleges, but insists that they too must conduct everything of the kind openly, so as to avoid the suspicion that they are secretly subsidizing friends at court. In the same line the report of Professor SELIGMAN argues that contributions to university research by utility companies should be in the nature of a lump sum given outright, once for all, and not in the form of an annual subvention, which might seem to be held over the head of the institution as a club threatening punishment if its behavior did not satisfy the company making the gift.

All told, this unofficial endeavor to correct an abuse which the Federal Trade Commission was thought to have uncovered, and to maintain a fine and delicate sense of professional honor, on the part of the college men, is to be regarded as a real service not only to the persons and companies immediately involved but to public morals in general.

FACSIMILE BOOKS.

The ancient who said "How "wretched a thing it is to lose what "few people possess" would have been pleased by the report in yesterday's TIMES concerning the photographing of rare books. No book prized by man should henceforth be permanently lost, as many in the long past have been. An old lover of a certain Greek poet carried some of the latter's poems to the tomb with him to read in the beyond, else not a fragment of this poet's writing would be known today except in quotation by others. The Facsimile Text Society will, however, insure immortality not through the preservation of the single or rare copy of a work by locking it up in a safe or in a tomb, but by multiplying it in copies which will by their very currency defy the thievery and the rust of time.

It will no longer be quite true that things which excel will always be rare, or that things which are rare will always be dear. The collector may have the satisfaction of possessing the rare and dear in the original, while the art of photography will put within reach of the many facsimiles of the most precious and dear, just as the world's greatest paintings are by the same art carried to schools and to the homes of thousands. If DA VINCI could have seen some of the reproductions of his "Mona Lisa," he might have been willing to let FRANCIS I take the original canvas, or perhaps FRANCIS I would have been content with the copy till DA VINCI died. So with facsimile copies of the rarest of books: they will give all save the satisfaction of a sentiment to those who could never see the original but could have the copy at their command.

This same art has been employed by libraries, notably the Huntington Library and the Library of Congress, through subventions from private sources, to procure copies of valuable historical manuscripts, documents and records, especially those among European archives in which the sources of our own history are hidden. But in multiplying books this art is serving more than those engaged in scholarly research. It is giving a more intimate acquaintance with our early cultural life, when titles were few in number and the editions small. According to Mr. DUFFUS'S book on "Books and Their Place in Democracy," published this week, only 1,138 books had been published in the United States up to 1804, and more than 70 per cent of these were foreign reprints. The purely American list is short, and the existence of this society allows the expectation that of these two or three hundred no one deserving to live in its pristine form will be permitted to perish.

OUT OF THE GOLD-RUSH DAYS.

From California comes word that Mrs. LEANNA CHARITY DONNER APP has just died at the age of 95. In the East the name means nothing. In California her maiden name, DONNER, is still remembered because of the ill-fated Donner expedition, of which she was the last surviving member, which crossed the plains in the Winter of 1846-47 and met a series of ghastly disasters in the Sierra almost unequaled among the many tragedies that marked the covered-wagon era in the gold-rush days.

Like other emigrant trains headed for California, the party was made up of families that joined it at various places en route, some coming from Missouri, some from Iowa, and others from other States. Without competent leadership the party tried a new cut-off supposed to shorten the distance to Salt Lake. Unable to force a way through the Rockies, they back-tracked, and finally reached Salt Lake a month late, with their animals exhausted by the detour.

Realizing that speed was essential if they were to get through the Sierra Nevada before the snows, the leaders failed to stay long enough for their animals to recuperate. With bad judgment they went lightly burdened with food. Delays and misfortunes appeared at every turn. The lava beds southwest of Salt Lake proved wearing and slowed up the caravan. One night most of the cattle were stolen by the Indians. Two of the best leaders, REED and SNYDER, quarreled, the latter being killed. REED was thereupon exiled by the group. Game was scarce, and soon they were driven to eating their draft animals.

Worst of all, the snows came ahead of schedule, and began with a blizzard that lasted a week and drove off most of the remaining horses and cattle. With inadequate shelter and practically foodless, the task of getting wood and of hunting game rapidly exhausted the men. An advance party set out to try to push through to California for help. It, too, met with disaster. The snow continued to fall—in the higher parts of the Sierra twenty feet or more on the level is not uncommon. The split-up groups fared no better, and men and children began to die.

Largely through the efforts of REED, the man whom the party had expelled, and who had managed to get through by another route, a rescue party finally fought its way through the snows in the Spring. But calamity had not yet deserted the project, for the food cache which was to help bring the survivors through was rifled by wild animals. At last, with renewed help from the outside, the survivors—mostly women and a few children—finally descended from the frozen Sierra into the flower-decked valley of California. Out of the original party of eighty-seven only forty-eight came through alive, of whom LEANNA DONNER was one. The last eighty years of her life were spent in comfortable obscurity—a sturdy survivor of the pioneer breed.

BERNHARDI AS A PROPHET.

The late General FRIEDRICH BERNHARDI believed that he was a much misunderstood man in England and the United States, where his war books had a much larger sale than on the Continent. "I emphatically deny," he said in an interview at Posen in April, 1915, "that Germany "entertains any idea of world con-"quest or world empire, as is so "often represented." Of his own books he said:

> "Conquest," "empire" and "dominion" appear only in English editions, for whose translations I am not responsible, but which have been used to create an erroneous, false, unjust impression in America and elsewhere.

He contended that he had never been an advocate of war for war's sake, and could not be fairly called a militarist, but admitted that he had taught that war is sometimes a factor in the development of civilization. War could be a terrible thing, a national calamity, nevertheless, from the individual's point of view. Was not the American Revolutionary War a good war? he asked. Was not a moral principle involved in our war with England in 1812?

With regard to England, BERNHARDI declared that he had never advocated nor written of "an aggressive policy" toward that country. Passages in his books had been "willfully distorted," he said. He argued that the United States would have nothing to fear from a triumph of Germany in the war then going on. There would be danger to the United States only if England prevailed, because England would claim "absolute dominion of the seas." She would look with displeasure upon the growth of a great American navy, and "America," he added, "will both want and have a big navy in the future."

One wonders what the German thought of America's agreement to abandon at the Washington Conference the building of battleships that would make her the first navy in the world and of Great Britain's acceptance of parity of fleets. The menace of competition in cruisers perhaps restored his faith in his theories, but they must have been rudely shaken again when Great Britain and the United States, with Japan joining them, agreed to limit armaments, and the danger of rivalry in the building of warships passed. As an authority upon the making of war by disciplined troops General BERNHARDI deserved his reputation, but he could not be accepted as an expert upon the policies of Germany nor upon the relations of the United States and Great Britain.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

More Help for Westchester Parks. Mr. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER Jr. has run true to form in donating land valued at more than $100,000 to the Westchester County Park Commission so as to make possible extension of the Saw Mill River Parkway on the best route.

It was originally feared that his acquisition of the village of East View and the surrounding country might hinder pushing the parkway along the desired lines. But those who so feared had overlooked the work of Mr. ROCKEFELLER on Mount Desert, where, at his own expense, he built miles of road on land which now adjoins or is included in the Lafayette National Park.

The proper routing of the Saw Mill River Parkway is of interest to the thousands who have used the completed portions when visiting points in Westchester and north. Two years ago, in order to help in the work, Mr. ROCKEFELLER gave a valuable parcel of land. His latest gift not only saves the Westchester County Park Commission the cost of the land, but means that the laying down of the roadway will come to about $70,000 less than on the alternate route. Here is a practical gift—ostensibly to Westchester but in fact to all who in future may use this fine road.

Commuters Not Air-Minded. It has been some time since we have been visited by an English writer and had another book done about us. Culture clubs have had to depend this year on native lecturers. But if an English observer appears soon, and if he travels on the Long Island Railroad, he may mark in the following way a curious trait of the local American:

> These railway cars are furnished with many windows, and in the Summer season particularly air would seem to be a necessity. But Americans traveling to and from the metropolis on this railway seem to have a fear of air that amounts to an obsession. Even on days of very high temperature few windows are opened, the passengers preferring to stifle and perspire. When a "commuter," as these creatures are called, finds his window open whilst passing through the subfluminal "tube," a noticeable degree of fright overtakes him; he pulls down the window—when it works—and rarely opens it again. What the rush of air by him would do to him I have never been able to gather.

This comment would be accurate. Only a few hardy souls, however humid conditions are in the tunnel-lodged car, venture to open their windows. Conductors have almost ceased their chant about keeping them closed in the tube. Perhaps there is some tribal explanation in the fact that, on the Long Island Railroad, those who supposedly live out of town to get fresh air avoid taking it until reaching their destinations.

Food Problem and Others in Moscow. Reports on how well things are going in Soviet Russia brought back by American visitors are presumably based on data not related to food conditions. The need for maintaining the "tight belt," which has been the rule for several years, will continue, according to our Moscow correspondent. It is not hunger, says Mr. DURANTY, but it is discomfort and distress. The dazzling statistics of industrial progress exhibited at the Communist party congress were intended in part to make people forget the shortage of food and commodities.

If this shortage is due in considerable degree to a break-down in distribution it does not spell comfort for the future of the Soviet industrial system. The Moscow Pravda prints a savage attack on the collapse of the food co-operatives in the capital. As an example of socialism it is called a scandal and a disgrace, and the government is invited to give its attention to what is called criminal mismanagement. Yet the carting of a city's food from the freight depots to the markets would be a much simpler operation than the management of a nation's industries, its entire economic life.

In return for the "tight belt" to which the Russian people is asked to submit until the five-year-plan factories are built up, the public ought to receive not only factory buildings and machines but actual goods.

Drinking Vegetable Extracts. To insure happiness and health for their families, young wives should learn to be expert cocktail mixers. This is the advice not of a night-club hostess but of a chemist, Dr. IRENE CASE NAMUR. The cocktails, it must be stated at once, are to be made chiefly from fruit and vegetable juices.

Almost any ailment, Dr. NAMUR believes, can be relieved by the proper cocktail, selected for its chemical ingredients. If a weary husband comes home to dinner and shows "a condition of irritability," he should not be pampered by a generous serving of his favorite pie. The sensible modern wife will say to herself that he is suffering from "poor assimilation and an acid condition." What he needs is a half dozen raw oysters to absorb the acidity and the irritability at the same time.

A device for extracting fruit and vegetable juices is a prime requisite for the efficient home. "No husband will ever die of hardening of the arteries if he is properly fed on celery juice cocktails." To make the "vitality" cocktail, the juices of various uncooked vegetables are used, beet for iron, watercress for manganese, "parsley to provide phosphorus for the nerves, carrots to supply raw sulphur and spinach to stimulate the adrenal glands and supply aggressiveness."

The woman who decides to go in for cocktail mixing on a large scale would do well to begin by studying her vegetables and her husband pretty thoroughly. It would be a waste of parsley juice to give it to a phlegmatic husband who "had no nerves," and it might be positively dangerous to feed spinach to a man already inclined to bullying.

CHAMPION.

There seek me not where birds are singing;
Wilt not find me there, my grace.
A drudge am I where fetters clinging
Chain me to my resting-place.

There seek me not where pearls adorn,
And incense wafts its lure, my grace;
Where lives are labored, crushed in scorn,
There I hold my resting-place.

There seek me not where streams are rushing
Over field and dale, my grace.
Where teeth are gnashing, tears are gushing,
There, oh, there my resting-place.

And if thy love be fervent passion,
Come and seek me out, my grace,
And free my heart from its oppression,
Making bright my resting-place.

THE CHAIN COUPON SCHEME.

Postoffice Department May Act in Cases Where Mails Are Used.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In THE TIMES editorial "Something for Nothing" you discussed the coupon-chain sales scheme as applied to movie theatre tickets. You stated that "a couple of years ago several official investigations failed to put an end to the business of giving silk stockings away to women who sold four pairs to friends. It died a natural death from lack of interest or because every possible prospect had finally been caught."

I would like to point out that the investigation and publicity given to the coupon-chain sales scheme some five years ago raised a substantial barrier against it. Silk stockings were not the only merchandise distributed by this method in those days. In the words of Solicitor Horace J. Donnelly at the Postoffice Department, everything, "from golf balls to automobiles for the men, and from kitchenware to lingerie for the women, Italian villas not excepted," was sold by the chain plan.

The merchandise was by no means "given away." In the case of one variation of the plan, that of the Tribond Sales Corporation, which offered five pairs of silk stockings, "worth $10," for $1, the customer had to sell the proposition to three prospective customers, and each of these in turn had to remit at least $3 to the corporation, before the five pairs of stockings would be delivered.

The Better Business Bureau of New York City early issued warnings against the various coupon-chain sales plans and supplied data for news articles on the subject to the New York newspapers and to national press services, and also furnished information to Better Business Bureaus in other cities and to the authorities for their action.

Postmaster General New issued a fraud order against the Tribond Sales Corporation on June 2, 1925, on the recommendation of Solicitor Donnelly, who said: "I find that this scheme is a lottery and is likewise inherently fraudulent." The fraud order's enforcement was delayed by a temporary injunction against it which the Tribond Sales Corporation obtained from the District of Columbia Supreme Court on June 3, 1925, and by a permanent injunction issued on June 14.

The Postoffice Department conducted a legal fight against this injunction, and on May 2, 1927, the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia vacated it, and the original fraud order against the Tribond Sales Corporation was put into effect. The Postmaster General's power to issue a fraud order against the coupon-chain scheme was upheld when the United States Supreme Court refused to grant the Tribond Sales Corporation a writ of certiorari to review the decision of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia.

You stated in your editorial that a new form of the original coupon-chain plan has recently been developed, which offers a housewife a book of four coupons at 25 cents each, good for several dollars' worth of motion picture admissions at local box offices, provided the housewife gets four of her friends to purchase the coupons and send in their own dollars for a book of them also.

I have no doubt that, if the mails are used, the powers of the Postoffice Department can be invoked against any variation of the chain-coupon scheme, just as it was in the earlier case.

A CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS.

State Department of Labor Offers Experience to Students.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The Bureau of Employment of the New York State Department of Labor needs volunteers, young college men and women, to help find work for the unemployed. The work these volunteers will be asked to do is twofold, interviewing applicants and visiting employers to secure jobs for workers. Since February, although the unemployment situation is practically unchanged, the bureau has doubled the number of placements, and we could again double this figure if we had more people on our staff to sell the service to employers.

Our appropriation does not allow us to offer salaries for this work, but what we have to offer these students of economics and sociology is something tuition fees cannot buy. Volunteer representatives of the Bureau of Employment get a cross-section of life and labor that will give a practical human edge to the theories they get in their college courses. Here is an opportunity to perform a valuable public service and in addition to get a better insight into the industrial situation than could be pried out of textbooks.

So far two post-graduate students of the New York School of Social Work, an Antioch sophomore and a graduate student at Teachers College, have volunteered their services and have been busy in work of the bureau. We could make use of many more.

Here is a way to do a bit during the Summer leisure of the college year. Students who are interested can secure further details from Fritz Kaufmann, Chief of the State Bureau of Employment, 114 East Twenty-fifth Street.

STEINBRINK DIFFERS ON INQUIRY METHOD

Brooklyn Leader, at Odds With Maier, Insists That Legislature Should Name Commission.

FAVORS SMITH FOR BOARD

Sees Effective Investigation of City as More Important Than Move to Embarrass Governor.

Meier Steinbrink, Republican leader of Brooklyn, demanded yesterday that the Legislature take the initiative in bringing an investigation of New York City's government by offering to pass a bill at a special session which would require the Legislature, not the Governor, to name the members of an investigation commission. He recommended further that the Legislature appoint its own committee to conduct an inquiry if the Governor refused to approve such a bill.

This position is in direct opposition to the announced policy of William Maier, chairman of the Republican State Committee, who has insisted that the Governor alone should undertake such an investigation. Mr. Steinbrink's proposal also differs, but in a lesser degree, from the plan of Majority Leader Knight of the Senate and Speaker McGinnies of the Assembly, who favor a legislative inquiry only if the Governor refuses to act.

Suggests Course of Action.

Mr. Steinbrink will forward his recommendations today to Mr. Knight and Mr. McGinnies. He issued a statement yesterday after a meeting of the subcommittee on State affairs of the Kings County advisory committee asking for the following concrete procedure:

"A continued demand on the part of citizens and citizen organizations upon Governor Roosevelt to call the Legislature in extraordinary session for the purpose of authorizing an investigation of the affairs of the city of New York.

"The passage of a bill by the Legislature naming a non-legislative commission, composed of men like Norman Thomas, Alfred E. Smith, John W. Davis, former Governor Charles S. Whitman, Emory R. Buckner, Justice James C. Cropsey and Leonard Wallstein, to carry on the investigation if Governor Roosevelt does not want to assume the responsibility of naming the commission.

"The taking of a recess by the Legislature of ten days after the passage of the bill to await the Governor's action; and if the Governor vetoes the bill the passage of a resolution for a legislative investigation of the affairs of New York City."

Would Assure Inquiry.

Mr. Steinbrink bases his stand on the fear that "an opportunity for relief may be lost again in a controversy over collateral issues." He continued:

"The public is not interested in buck-passing. It is perfectly capable of forming its opinion of officials who engage in that practice at critical times.

"The Republican party can best serve its own interests not by proving what everybody knows about Governor Roosevelt but by seriously concerning itself with an effort to protect taxpayers, rent payers and citizens of this city from this unchecked reign of graft which is worse than it has been at any time since the days of Tweed."

The Kings County leader said that he would call a special meeting of his executive and advisory committees in a few days to ask these bodies to take action on his recommendations.

He asserted the bill which he proposes "should specifically name the commissioners, giving the Governor the power to fill the vacancies of any who decline or are unable to serve.

"I would propose," he continued, "five distinguished citizens of New York City, keeping in mind primarily that we must have men of unquestioned fearlessness and absolute independence of any control by Tammany Hall.

"The reason why I suggest a non-legislative commission is not because I think it is important or even necessary to put this issue up to the Governor personally either by approval or a veto of the bill. That in my mind is an unimportant feature of this situation.

"The public has already formed its opinion of Governor Roosevelt and nothing further is necessary to emphasize the unsoundness of his position in this matter. I make the suggestion solely because this method of appointing a commission will provide for a much wider range of selection in respect to personnel.

Wants Board of Local Men.

"If we have a legislative committee we must either have it predominantly up-State with its consequent disadvantages resulting from lack of familiarity on the part of the members with the affairs of the city of New York and the inherent prejudice on the part of the people of this city to being investigated by non-residents; or a majority of the personnel must come from Republican legislators of this city, who are few in number and will be occupied in campaigns for re-election.

"If, however, the Legislature assumes responsibility for the selection of the commission by specifically naming the members in the bill they will be given the opportunity to name such men as former Governor Smith and Norman Thomas, as has already been suggested. There are such distinguished Republican investigators as Mr. Justice Cropsey, Mr. Whitman, Mr. Buckner and Mr. Wallstein. I could name many others."

William D. Bosler, president of the Hollis Republican Club in the Fourth Assembly District, Queens, one of the largest districts in the city, made public yesterday copies of a letter he has sent to Governor Roosevelt requesting "a general investigation into the conduct of the City Government of the city of New York." He asks that the Governor convene the Legislature in "session extraordinary" to appoint a committee for the inquiry.

Mr. Bosler was an Assistant District Attorney of New York County under Governor Whitman and an Assistant United States Attorney under Secretary of State Stimpson. He was one of the original Hoover supporters in Queens and frequently has appeared as a speaker for the National Security League. He writes:

"The situation that exists in this city at the present time is unparalleled. Our entire system of local government has become so permeated with dishonesty that the average citizen has lost faith in the application of the principles of popular government. The scandals that have marked the conduct of various public officials in this city during the past five years surpass anything ever done by Tweed."

Internationally Known Bookmaker Had $869,125 in Cash and $1,780,774 in Securities.

FAMILY GETS FORTUNE

Mrs. Sarah Dean Platt's Estate in Westchester Appraised at $579,680.

John Walters, noted bookmaker, who handled bets for William C. Whitney and other prominent sportsmen, left a net estate of $2,600,024, according to a transfer tax report filed in the Surrogate's Court in Brooklyn yesterday. Walters, who began his career selling programs on race tracks, died in Paris Feb. 12, 1929, with an international reputation as a judge of horses and as a shrewd financier.

He was known to two generations of American sportsmen and handled millions of dollars in wagers in a season. When the Prince of Wales visited Belmont Park a few years ago Walters took his wager on Epinard, the famous French race horse, which lost.

Walters's principal assets, the report disclosed, were cash holdings, which amounted to $869,125, and stocks and bonds valued at $1,780,774. He had $104,000 in a safe deposit box in the National City Bank, $75,000 in another box and bank accounts in sixteen separate banks in this city and Saratoga Springs. He had real estate holdings valued at $75,000 and mortgages, notes and accounts amounting to $141,750.

The principal stock holdings, according to the report, were 1,167 shares of North State Power Company common, $182,343; 1,000 Vanadium Corporation of America, $111,250; 1,400 United States Steel common, $245,252; 2,000 Standard Oil of New York, $80,250; 356 Electric Bond and Share Securities Corporation common, $91,848; 1,000 Fleischmann Company common, $75,000; 116 Mechanics Bank, $60,320; 500 National Biscuit Company common, $92,250; 1,000 National Power and Light common, $53,000; 600 Corn Products Refining Company preferred, $85,875.

Mrs. Helen M. Walters, the widow, of 308 Clinton Avenue, received realty valued at $18,000, personal effects amounting to $1,200 and a life interest in $250,000. Bequests of $572,706 were given to four children—John W. Walters of 780 St. Mark's Avenue, Brooklyn; Mrs. Ethel Bampton of 44 Butler Street, Brooklyn; Miss Edith F. Walters and Miss Constance Walters of 308 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn. He left smaller legacies to other relatives and friends.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 11.—The net value of the estate of Mrs. Sarah Dean Platt, the widow of Justice William Popham Platt, is $579,680, according to a report filed this morning with the Surrogate by James J. Fleming, appraiser for Westchester County in the State Tax Transfer Department. The entire estate was left to her son, Stuart Dean Platt. The bulk of the estate was in realty, which was valued at $439,463, and the remainder was made up of personal effects amounting to $169,700. In the personal effects was a portrait of George Washington painted by the celebrated Colonial artist Rembrandt Peale, which was valued at $7,500. A stamp collection was valued at $700.

GOV. GREEN TO RUN AGAIN.

Michigan Executive Will Oppose Ex-Governor Groesbeck.

Special to The New York Times.

LANSING, Mich., July 11.—Rather than allow the Republican Gubernatorial nomination to go to former Governor Groesbeck Governor Green will become a candidate for a third term.

He declared today that he will file petitions now in his office the moment it becomes certain there is no candidate in the field strong enough to defeat Mr. Groesbeck.

"I do not want to run," Governor Green said. "I have served Michigan to the best of my ability for four years and I want to retire. But I cannot step aside if my successor is to be a man who will destroy everything worth while accomplished during my administration."

Governor Green defeated Ex-Governor Groesbeck four years ago when the latter ran for a fourth term.

Shortly before Mr. Groesbeck announced his intention of running, an attempt was made to draft Governor Green. A delegation visited him in Lansing and presented petitions bearing 1?,000 names.

WILL SIT IN MEXICO CITY.

Claims Commission to Continue Sessions Suspended for a Year.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Through an agreement with Mexico, the General Claims Commission of the United States and Mexico will resume its meetings next month in Mexico City, the State Department announced today. The commission has held no sessions for over a year, due to a vacancy in the neutral membership, which recently was filled by the appointment of Señor Horacio Alfaro, former Foreign Minister of Panama. The commission considers claims arising between 1868 and 1927, except in the periods of revolution.

Claims numbering 2,781 on behalf of Americans, involving $516,649,267, have been filed with the commission, and 836 for a total of $245,158,395 on behalf of Mexicans. Fred K. Nielson, former solicitor of the State Department, is the American member of the commission.

Portes Gil Due in Havana Tuesday.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HAVANA, July 11.—Cablegrams received at the Presidential Palace this morning announced that former President Emilio Portes Gil of Mexico would arrive in Havana next Tuesday, accompanied by his family, and stop several days, on the way to Europe.

WILBUR OFF TO START COOPERATIVE OIL PLAN

Secretary Goes to California to Lay Unit-Operation Before Kettleman Hills.

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP).—Secretary Wilbur was en route to California tonight, vested with Congressional authority to enter unit-operation agreements for the development of the Kettleman Hills oil field—an operation plan which, he hopes, will be adopted generally by producers, with a resultant "stupendous conservation of a great national resource."

Legislation enacted in the closing days of Congress, at the request of the Secretary, permit him, together with permittees or lessees of government lands, to enter cooperative development agreements, as opposed to individual operations, to eliminate wasteful competitive development.

Secretary Wilbur expressed confidence that the plan can now be consummated, with an ultimate saving in the Kettleman Hills field of $1,000,000,000. The government holdings are about 30 per cent of that field.

The success of the Kettleman Hills unit-operation plan, the Secretary said, will set an example to the oil producers throughout the country and demonstrate to them the greater returns and savings to be effected. If adopted generally, he said, the system might result in doubling the value of the nation's oil fields.

Under the unit-operation plan all interested parties to the agreement benefit mutually from the wells drilled. Oil is brought up only when there is a market for it. Without the cooperative plan, Mr. Wilbur explained, the operators each try to get their wells down first.

"The man who gets his well down first and who sucks the hardest," he said, "is the man who wins."

Adjacent lands in the pool are thus drained by the well in operation.

The competitive system, the Secretary said, brings about production regardless of demands and with attendant great waste of oil and gas. As an example, he said the gas from the first well drilled in the Kettleman Hills field has been piped to San Francisco and is supplying virtually all of the northern half of the State of California. If a thousand such wells were developed in a year, which might happen under competitive drilling, "it is obvious that no present use could be found for the gas and it would be wasted."

WALKER ENDS FISHING; DISAPPEARS ON YACHT

Florida Steams From Montauk Toward New London—Sea Too Choppy for Swordfish.

Special to The New York Times.

MONTAUK, L. I., July 11.—Barron Collier's 180-foot yacht Florida, with Mayor Walker on board, steamed out of Lake Montauk today and as she disappeared over the horizon apparently was bound for New London. The Mayor's sudden departure came as a surprise here, for it was reported that he would go in search of swordfish off Montauk Point again on Saturday, following his fishing trip yesterday with Captain Charles Thompson in his cruiser Montauk.

Mayor Walker did not come ashore during his visit here; he transferred from the Florida to Captain Thompson's cruiser in the harbor, and upon his return from the fishing grounds went alongside the Florida and did not come to the yacht club dock.

Last year Mayor Walker was on a successful swordfishing trip here with Captain Thompson and he appeared eager yesterday to land another one.

The ideal swordfishing weather, however, is a dead calm sea and Captain Thompson said today that the water was too choppy. It is expected here that as soon as the sea calms the Mayor will return for more fishing.

The Mayor sent his regret at being unable to welcome the Negro Gold Star Mothers at City Hall yesterday in a telegram from Montauk, L. I. He is not expected at City Hall before Monday. His appointment of four magistrates to fill existing vacancies, which has been in abeyance for about two weeks, probably will be announced some time next week.

$40,000 IN JEWELS TAKEN IN GREENWICH

Sneak Thieves Rob Home of M. D. Truesdale, Son of Lackawanna Chairman.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., July 11.—Sneak thieves obtained jewelry valued at between $30,000 and $40,000 from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melville D. Truesdale on the Stanwich Road here sometime within a few days, it was learned tonight. Mr. Truesdale, a broker, is the son of William H. Truesdale, chairman of the board of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Truesdale returned home today, after several days' absence, and reported their loss to the police this evening. Although five servants, staying in the house, had reported nothing wrong, the police said they believed the jewels were stolen on Wednesday. They did not reveal their reasons for placing the theft on that date.

The thief or thieves obtained entrance by a door carelessly left unlocked by one of the servants, according to the police, who said that there was nothing to show that entrance had been forced. The jewelry was taken from Mrs. Truesdale's bedroom, locked in a jewel box.

The jewelry consisted principally of necklaces and rings, the police were told. They obtained a list of it and immediately prepared to broadcast it to all pawn shops and jewelry stores in this and neighboring States.

Mrs. Truesdale was Miss Alice Bulkley Moss, daughter of Mrs. Frederick W. Moss of New York, before her marriage to Mr. Truesdale. Their marriage, on May 12, 1917, took place ahead of its scheduled date, as Mr. Truesdale had enlisted in the Naval Coast Defense Reserve and was about to be called out. He is a graduate of Yale in the class of 1915.

CARL SCHURZ FUND OF $500,000 FORMED

Gets Charter in This State to Promote Cultural Relations With Germany.

TO AID STUDENT EXCHANGE

Will Encourage Teaching of German—Rosenwald and Warburgs Among Directors.

The Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation, Inc., has been chartered in this State to promote cultural relations between the United States and Germany, it was announced yesterday. An initial capital of $500,000 has been subscribed for the movement and in accordance with the suggestions of Julius Rosenwald and Paul M. Warburg, the foundation will use the principal as well as the interest.

The purposes of the organization are to promote the interchange of students, professors, scholars and lecturers between the two countries; to encourage the teaching of German here and to foster the interchange of literature. The life and work of Carl Schurz is to be held up as an example of how loyalty to great ideals can serve the best interests of both nations.

The principal promoters of the organization, in addition to Messrs. Warburg and Rosenwald, are Ferdinand Thun of Reading, Pa.; Felix Warburg, Henry Janssen, and Gustave Oberlander of New York. Wilbur K. Thomas, who was for many years secretary of the American Quaker Relief organization, has been named executive director and national headquarters have been established in Philadelphia.

The directors of the foundation are as follows:

Dr STEPHEN P. DUGGAN, New York.
RUDOLPH ERDSLOH, New York.
HENRY GOLDMAN, New York.
EUGENE HEINIGSON, New York.
GEORGE McANENY, New York.

THREE SERVICES JOIN IN HONORING NEVILLE

Army and Navy Aid in According Full Military Rites at Burial of Marine Commandant.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Major Gen. Wendell C. Neville, Commandant of the Marine Corps, was buried with full military honors this afternoon in Arlington National Cemetery.

As the body was lowered into the grave in a plot just below the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier three volleys of musketry were fired by a detail of marines, while thirteen gun salutes boomed out from army batteries at Fort Myer and from the cruiser Richmond, which came to the Washington Navy Yard for the funeral as a mark of respect from the navy.

Funeral services, at which only relatives were present, were held at the Commandant's house at Marine Barracks, with Captain Sydney K. Evans, chief of navy chaplains, officiating.

At the gate of Fort Myer the funeral cortege was met by a military escort consisting of the Marine Band, the Navy Band, two troops of cavalry from Fort Myer, a battalion of marines from Quantico, Va., and a battalion of bluejackets from the Richmond. Flags were at half-staff throughout the day at the Navy Department, the Washington Navy Yard and the Richmond.

The honorary pallbearers were Ernest Lee Jahncke, Acting Secretary of the Navy; Rear Admirals J. V. Chase, W. A. Moffet and M. M. Taylor; Major Gen. Smedley D. Butler, Brig. Gens. Ben H. Fuller, Rufus H. Lane and Hugh Matthews, and Colonel Rush H. Wallace, all of the Marine Corps; Major Gen. Preston Brown of the army, and William T. Saunders of Chevy Chase, Md., who was a classmate of General Neville at Annapolis.

Mrs. Lydia Geer.

Special to The New York Times.

FREEPORT, L. I., July 11.—Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 A. M. at Fulton's Parlors on West Merrick Road for Mrs. Lydia Geer, 52 years old, who died unexpectedly of a heart attack yesterday while visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Samuel Geer, here. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Mrs. Geer lived in Westfield, N. J. She is survived by her husband, Henry Hall Geer; two daughters, Mrs. Marion Rose and Mrs. Margaret Nickles of Westfield, N. J., and a son, Henry H. Geer Jr. of Los Angeles, Cal.

William Valentine Hill.

MRS. E. S. ROGERS DIES IN BUFFALO

Descendant of Two Distinguished Colonial Families Was 74 Years Old.

ACTIVE IN CIVIC AFFAIRS

John Alden and First Governor of Connecticut Among Her Ancestors.

Special to The New York Times.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 11.—Funeral services will be held Monday at the family home, 309 North Street, for Mrs. Eleanor Silliman Rogers, a descendant of two distinguished Colonial families, who died at her home early today. She was 74 years old.

Mrs. Rogers was a daughter of Professor Benjamin Silliman 2d of Yale and Susan Forbes Silliman. She was of the seventh generation removed from John Alden and Priscilla Mullins, Mayflower Pilgrims, and in another line was a great-great-granddaughter of Jonathan Trumbull, first Governor of Connecticut and a personal friend of George Washington, and to whom Washington often turned to raise money for the Continental Army.

Mrs. Rogers was born in New Haven. From 1879 to 1883 she was a student in the Yale Art School. Since 1890 she had lived in Buffalo, gaining prominence for her part in many social, philanthropic and religious activities. She belonged to the First Presbyterian Church, was a trustee of the Buffalo General Hospital from 1913 to 1929, a director of the Twentieth Century Club in its earlier years and a charter member of the Buffalo chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She leaves her husband, William A. Rogers; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Dwight Hillis of Bronxville, N. Y., and two sons, William Silliman and Alden Rogers.

In 1901 Mrs. Rogers was vice president of the board of women managers of the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo and a member of the executive committee and the committee on entertainment.

CLERGYMAN DIES IN SLEEP.

Dr. C. E. Rice of Boston Was to Have Conducted Service Yesterday.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., July 11.—The Rev. Dr. Clarence E. Rice was found dead in his apartment at Trinity Court today. He was to have conducted the noon service at St. Paul's Cathedral and when he did not appear his son, the Rev. Otis R. Rice of Trinity Church, was notified and on going to the apartment found he had passed away in his sleep.

Dr. Rice was a clergyman of both the Episcopal and the Universalist churches. He had held pastorates in Springfield and Washington. For seven years he had been a missionary of the Universalist Church in Japan, returning from there about twenty years ago. He was graduated from Tufts College in 1887 and received his degree from the Divinity School in 1908.

Surviving Dr. Rice, besides his son, are two brothers. His wife died about a year and a half ago while on a trip to Egypt.

LADY CAROLINE JEBB.

Widow of Noted Cambridge Professor Dies at 90 in Erie, Pa.

ERIE, Pa., July 11 (AP).—Lady Caroline Lane Jebb, 90 years old, widow of Sir Richard Claverhouse Jebb, died tonight after having fractured her hip in a fall three weeks ago. Her body will be taken to England for burial beside that of Sir Richard, who died in 1905.

Lady Caroline's first husband was Lieutenant Adam J. Slenner, who served in the Civil War. After his death she was married again in 1874.

Sir Richard was a member of Parliament from Cambridge, where he had been Regius Professor of Greek, and was the author of well-known works on Greece and Greek literature.

ASSOCIATES TO HONOR CHARLES J. DUNLAP

Members of Westchester County Historical Society Will Attend Funeral of President Today.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., July 11.—Funeral services for Charles J. Dunlap, lawyer and president of the Westchester County Historical Society for eight years, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church here.

The Rev. Edward L. Junkin is expected to officiate in the church, which was completed about six months ago, largely through the efforts of Mr. Dunlap.

The Historical Society of the county will attend the funeral in a body.

He had for years collected Indian relics and was an authority on the subject. He devoted a great deal of study to the Siwanoy Indians and the evidences of their life here. The Indian image stone on the grounds of the Huguenot and Historical Association received his particular attention. The Indian caves in the county and the Indian caves on Croton Point also were examined.

Under his leadership the historical society grew rapidly. The organization has marked historic spots, has acquired and maintained a farmhouse of the Revolutionary period, has held many lectures and pilgrimages to encourage historical understanding, and has issued a periodical publication and a series of annual volumes.

In 1903-1907 he was justice of the peace for New Rochelle and acting city judge, but sought no other political preferment.

In addition to the activities cited, Mr. Dunlap was director of the Huguenot and Historical Association and secretary of the American History Club, both of New Rochelle. He was a member of the New York Historical Society and of the New York State Historical Association. He also was a member of the New York State Bar Association, the Westchester County Bar Association and the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, the Princeton Club of New York and the Wykagyl Country Club. His country home was at Fine View, Jefferson County, N. Y.

On Oct. 15, 1903, Mr. Dunlap married at Shelbyville, Ky., Agnes L. Caldwell, who survives him.

THE REV. LYMAN ROLLINS.

War Chaplain of the 26th Division Dies as Result of Battle Wounds.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., July 11.—The Rev. Lyman Rollins, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church here, died at his home in Lebanon today as a result of wounds and gas poisoning received in the World War.

Chaplain Rollins, as he was familiarly known, was born in Concord, N. H., a son of Lyman and Ellen Carter Rollins, on April 21, 1881.

He served as chaplain of the Fifth Massachusetts Regiment on the Mexican border in 1916. On his return, he resumed his pastorate at Marblehead but acted as recruiting officer, and was called into active service in the Spring of 1917 and served as chaplain of the 101st Infantry of the famed Twenty-sixth Division for twenty-one months in the front line trenches, where he was gassed three times, wounded twice and shell-shocked. He received three distinguished service decorations and was the first American to return wearing a foreign decoration.

On his return, Mr. Rollins resumed his preaching at Marblehead for a few months when his health forced his resignation and he came to Canaan, N. H., to regain his health. About six years ago he became rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church here.

The funeral will be held at St. Paul's Church here Sunday afternoon at 2:30 (Standard Time). The body will be taken to Concord, N. H., where a military funeral will be held at 2 o'clock (Daylight Saving Time) at St. Paul's Episcopal Church there. Burial to be in the family lot in Blossom Hill Cemetery in Concord.

MRS. ALBERT W. RUSSEL.

Funeral of Cleveland Civic Leader Will Be Held Today.

Special to The New York Times.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 11.—Funeral services for Mrs. Albert W. Russel of Gates Mills, Ohio, and New York, who died in St. Luke's Hospital in New York Thursday, will be held at the Russel Summer home in Gates Mills tomorrow afternoon, it was announced here today.

Mrs. Russel, one of the city's well-known social and civic leaders, had been in ill health for several months. She had been confined in the New York Hospital since her return from Florida last Spring. Mrs. Russel's family name was Sarita Oglebay. She was born in Wheeling, W. Va., on Oct. 13, 1882. Her father, the founder of Oglebay, Norton & Co., died here in 1926. Her mother died in April, 1916.

Mrs. Russel was a member of the womens' committee of Lakeside Hospital. Her principal interest, however, was in the operation of Oglebay Park at Wheeling, which her father gave the city. The park was the home of her father, valued at $1,000,000. Mrs. Oglebay gave $75,000 to the city of Wheeling to operate the park.

Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery. A group of leading Cleveland business and professional men will be pallbearers at the funeral tomorrow afternoon.

GORDON CONGDON KING.

Author of Children's Books Dies of Pneumonia After Short Illness.

Gordon Congdon King of 323 West Twenty-second Street died yesterday in the Park East Hospital, after a nine days' illness, of pneumonia. He was 36 years old. His widow, Clara Weiss King, a lawyer, and a son survive.

Mr. King was the author of "Horatio's Story," a novel, and of "The Ostriches," a privately printed play. He edited Herodotus for children and he recently completed a fantasy for children, "A Trip to the Moon." From time to time he had contributed to newspapers and magazines. Critics have watched Mr. King's work with interest. In his books for children he developed a new approach to young readers, treating them as capable of absorbing serious facts which are presented clearly. Mr. King was a graduate of Harvard and a member of the Harvard Club of this city.

AIRPORT INDICTED AS PUBLIC NUISANCE

Dust From Armonk Field Said to Endanger Health and Comfort of Neighbors.

CASE IS FIRST OF ITS KIND

Grand Jury Action Follows 6 Weeks' Deliberation—Conviction Might Close Westchester Port.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 11.—Objections by residents near Westchester County's only airport at Armonk to the dust said to be raised by the airplanes have resulted in the indictment of the Westchester Airport Corporation on charges of maintaining a public nuisance, it was revealed today by District Attorney Frank H. Coyne. The summons, served late yesterday on Daniel J. Barrett Jr., president of the corporation, is returnable before Judge Frederick P. Close in County Court on July 22.

The indictment charges that the dust raised by the taking off and landing of planes "endangers the comfort, repose, health and safety of a considerable number of persons."

The airport could be closed by a separate court procedure if the corporation were convicted on a public nuisance charge, District Attorney Coyne said, but he knew of no precedent for the indictment of an airport on similar charges.

"We do not wish to interfere with the progress of science or the art of transportation as represented by the airplane," said Mr. Coyne, "but we must make some adjustment to protect those citizens who have a just cause for complaint."

About twenty residents of Armonk charged that last Summer their homes were constantly enshrouded in clouds of dust raised by the airplanes. The charges were heard before a justice of the peace and led to the oiling of portions of the field, but, according to the residents, conditions were not much improved.

The dust, they say, is so bad that they cannot leave doors or windows open in hot weather. The grand jury had the complaints under consideration for six weeks, and a committee of the jury visited the airport several times with Chief Assistant District Attorney Walter A. Ferris of Port Chester before the indictment was handed up.

The maximum penalty upon conviction for the charge made in the indictment is $500 fine and imprisonment for one year.

The Armonk field has been Westchester's only airport since the Atlantic Airways field between New Rochelle and Scarsdale was closed as the result of an injunction suit brought by the neighbors, who objected to the noise of the planes and the crowds. Several other attempts to establish air fields in Westchester have met with antagonism.

Feeds Phone 3 Nickels in Vain, Wrecks Booth, Hits Policeman

When Fred Roth, 24 years old, of 2,845 Waterbury Avenue, the Bronx, put three nickels into a pay telephone yesterday and nothing happened he proceeded to go places and do things. From the telephone booth in a United Cigar store at 580 Ninth Avenue Roth went rapidly but involuntarily to Jefferson Market Court.

Among the things he did the police list his forcible removal of the door from the phone booth and his sudden delivery of a punch on Patrolman Victor Balluff's nose.

Magistrate Gotlieb held Roth in $1,000 bail for a grand jury hearing on a charge of felonious assault. He also was held in $500 bail for Special Sessions on a complaint of malicious mischief preferred by the telephone company. Roth complained that he did not get back his nickels and did not receive any service, not even "Excuse it, please."

FIGHT AIRPORT AT SCHOOL.

Wayne (N. J.) Board Fears Low Flying Would Imperil Pupils.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., July 11.—The Court of Chancery was asked today by the Board of Education of Wayne Township, Passaic County, to restrain the Board of Freeholders from constructing an airport on the Hamburg Turnpike adjacent to a public school.

Two reasons were advanced for the request: One that a dangerous condition would be created by planes flying over the school at low altitude, and, second, that the hum of motors and other noises of aircraft operation would distract the attention of pupils and teachers from the school work.

CURTISS HAS OPERATION.

Aviation Pioneer Rests Comfortably After It in Buffalo Hospital.

Special to The New York Times.

BUFFALO, July 11.—Glenn H. Curtiss, aviation pioneer, was operated on for appendicitis early today in the Buffalo General Hospital and tonight was "resting comfortably and gaining strength slowly," according to his surgeon and friend, Dr. Thew Wright of Buffalo, who performed the operation. Dr. Wright called the operation "quite successful."

Mr. Curtiss was brought here Thursday from his home at Lake Keuka, N. Y., where, since July 4, he had suffered two appendicitis attacks. Immediately after the operation he was taken to his private quarters in the hospital, where Mrs. Curtiss had been awaiting word of his condition.

When Mr. Curtiss is discharged from the hospital he will face action in Rochester in a suit filed by the Herring-Curtiss Company involving $1,000,000 over patent rights.

FLINT, MICH., GETS FLIGHT.

Capt. Endresz Will Start There for Budapest in August.

Special to The New York Times.

FLINT, Mich., July 11.—Bishop Airport here will be the starting point for the flight to Budapest by Captain George Endresz, sponsors of the flight announced today, after the aviators who will make the trip had inspected the field and declared it adequate for the take-off.

The fliers plan to refuel their plane in the air, if possible, at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, and continue a non-stop flight from Flint to Budapest. The flight plane, named Justice for Hungary, is being constructed by the Lockheed Company in Los Angeles, and the fliers will go to the Coast next week to bring the plane to Detroit and then to Flint for the final preparations for the flight. The start is tentatively scheduled for some time in August.

SHOT DEAD IN MOTT ST.

Alleged Bootlegger Victim of Four Bullets—Killer Escapes.

Domenico Barone, 42 years old, of 1,173 Seventy-first Street, Brooklyn, described by his brother as an olive oil salesman and by the police as a bootlegger, was shot four times and almost instantly killed as he was walking north in Mott Street in front of a café at No. 161 yesterday afternoon. The slayer, who had been waiting in a hallway across the street, disappeared into a cellar at 163 Mott Street and escaped.

Albert Barone, brother of the slain man, appeared on the scene a few minutes later and identified the body. He was questioned as to how he happened to come along just then, but offered no explanation, the police said.

GUILTY IN 4-CENT SLAYING.

New Haven Man Is Convicted After Quarrel Over Change in Store.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 11 (AP).—A jury in Superior Court today found Anthony Manganello guilty of murder in the second degree for the slaying two years ago of Giovanni Cirillo, a neighborhood storekeeper, in a quarrel over 4 cents change.

Sentence will be imposed next Tuesday.

GIRL, 11, DIES IN FALL OF 30 FEET IN PRANK

Crashes Through Skylight to the Floor of Gymnasium at Church Centre Here.

WAS HIDING FROM TEACHER

Joined by Four Other Children in Scheme After They Were Left Alone in Room Momentarily.

While playing a good-natured prank with four companions upon their teacher yesterday morning, Stella Nicholich, 11 years old, of 513 West Forty-fourth Street fell through the skylight of the gymnasium at the Union Methodist Episcopal Church Social Centre, 233 West Forty-eighth Street, and was killed when she struck the hardwood floor thirty feet below.

Stella and the four other girls, Lillian Patterson, Christine Curry, Anna Tieja and Catharine Keating, all of whom live in the neighborhood, were attending a geography class conducted by Miss Frances J. Tate at the vacation study session of the centre. When Miss Tate stepped from the room for a moment Stella proposed that they hide. The Patterson child protested, but was overruled, and all joined gleefully in the prank.

Stella unbolted a heavy door at the rear of the room, which was on the third floor of the building, and stepped out onto the glass roof of the gymnasium adjoining. Just as the other little girls were about to follow her the glass gave way and the child crashed through to the floor below. Miss Tate, hearing the screams of the frightened children, rushed back into the room. When she saw what had happened she fainted.

Others in the building summoned medical aid. Dr. Broroff of Flower Hospital declared the child had been killed instantly. He then attended the teacher, who had become hysterical.

The pastor of the church, Dr. C. Everett Wagner, notified the dead child's mother. The father is a laborer. Detectives investigating reported that there had been no negligence by the teacher. The children had been told not to leave their seats while the teacher was out of the room.

TOWN AIDS 15 PUPILS WHO FAILED IN TESTS

Valhalla, Feeling "Disgraced," Votes $500 to Send Them to Summer School.

Special to The New York Times.

VALHALLA, N. Y., July 11.—Charges that the town of Valhalla has been "disgraced" and is governed by a "closed corporation" were bandied back and forth at a meeting of the taxpayers of School District 5 here this evening at which they approved an appropriation of $500 to send to Summer school in White Plains the fifteen members of the graduating class at the Junior High School who failed to receive their diplomas.

All twenty-five members of the class failed in the State Regents examination in algebra and fifteen of them incurred enough other deficiencies to fail of graduation. Speakers at the meeting charged that the children had had four or five different teachers in algebra during the year and attacked the school board for reappointing a year ago Principal Reuben C. Hilliard, who has since been dismissed.

ARENTS AND WIFE SAIL.

Parents of Budapest Poison Victim Leave on Ile de France.

Mr. and Mrs. George Arents, parents of Mrs. Dorothy de Konkoly-Thege, who died in Budapest last Sunday after taking poison accidentally, sailed last night on the French liner Ile de France. They said they would consult with their son-in-law to decide whether or not Mrs. Konkoly-Thege would be buried in Hungary or here.

Others on the Ile de France included Frieda Hempel, opera star; Colonel William Easterwood of Dallas, Texas; Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico and Walter M. Head, president of the Foreman-State National Bank of Chicago. Jean Tillier, recently appointed head of the French Line in the United States, sailed to confer with officials in France.

JAIL BREAK TIP BY WOMAN.

Her Warning Causes Sheriff to Increase Guards at Middlesex Prison.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 11.—A tip received by Sheriff Bernard M. Gannon from a local woman to the effect that a jail break was to be attempted soon at the Middlesex County jail here resulted in the placing of two extra guards around the jail. The sheriff's informant said that she had overheard a conversation in which it was mentioned that youthful Perth Amboy gangsters would make an effort to obtain the release of Martin Leone from the county jail.

Sheriff Gannon forthwith ordered Warden Alfred Puerschner and his aide, George Anderson, on twenty-four hour service and placed two guards on patrol duty outside the jail.

Leone was brought to the county jail from Perth Amboy, where he attempted to break jail by sawing the bars of his cell. He was arrested for a hold-up in Perth Amboy.

DR. LIVA HEADS BOARD.

New Jersey Medical Examiners Hold Election—84 Become Physicians.

Special to The New York Times.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 11.—Dr. Arcanagelo Liva of Rutherford, N. J., was elected president at the conclusion of the annual meeting here of the State Board of Medical Examiners today. Dr. James J. McGuire, Trenton, was named secretary and Dr. Robert M. Colborn, Newark, treasurer.

New Jersey has eighty-four new physicians as a result of the June examinations, the board announced. These include sixty-six medical doctors, two chiropractors and sixteen osteopaths. The examinations were taken by eighty-seven applicants.

June State Factory Employment Hit Low Mark; Declined 14 Per Cent, to 86.7, From October

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 11.—The index number of factory employment in New York State dropped to 86.7 in June, the lowest point ever recorded, according to a statement issued today by Miss Frances Perkins, State Industrial Commissioner.

The number of workers employed in factories was nearly 2 per cent less in June than in May, she reported.

The net decrease of factory workers from October to June was 14 per cent. This decrease is more than twice as great as the decrease from October to June of any other years excepting 1920 to 1924.

Metal, clothing and textile industries laid off a large number of workers from the middle of May to the middle of June. Decrease in the clothing industry amounted to 4 per cent and in the textile and metal industries to 3 per cent. Manufacturers of paper and paper goods and the printing industry reduced their forces by 2 per cent. Furs, leather and rubber goods also showed a decrease.

Only three of the eleven main industry groups reported increased employment. These were foods, water, light and power, and stone, clay and glass. Most of the food increase was in the canneries, and bakeries employed more hands in June. All other food industries showed a decrease.

The largest decreases in the metal group were reported by the automobile and automobile parts industries and by the pig iron and rolling mill divisions. Most concerns making autos and parts were laying off workers. The decline in employment in New York City was somewhat greater than it was for the State as a whole. Clothing industries laid off 8 per cent of their May force.

In Rochester the men's clothing factories were taking on workers.

PROXY TANGLE TOLD AT STEEL HEARING

Broker's Deposition Says He Once Was Not Sure Whose Account He Handled.

REPORT BETHLEHEM DENIAL

G. M. P. Murphy Declares He Was Informed It Would Not Buy to Further Youngstown Merger.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 11 (AP).—The trial of the injunction suit to halt the merger of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation included the hearing of depositions today before the week-end adjournment.

Most of the depositions, which were read into the record by anti-merger attorneys representing the Cyrus S. Eaton interests, concerned the stock transactions which took place during the Spring proxy battle over the merger and were presented in an effort to show that much of the stock was illegally voted at the stockholders' meeting on April 8.

In one of the depositions Grayson M.-P. Murphy, New York stock broker, testified that at one time during the battle for voting stock he was unable to determine whether the account he was handling was that of Elton Hoyt 2d, a group of individuals or of Pickands, Mather & Co., ore firm.

Mr. Hoyt is a partner in Pickands, Mather & Co., which, according to testimony in the trial, purchased several millions of dollars worth of Youngstown Company stock.

Mr. Murphy said he had been told by an officer of the Bethlehem Corporation that the latter concern could not enter into any of the transactions. It was brought out yesterday through the testimony of H. G. Dalton, another partner in Pickands, Mather & Co., that Bethlehem lent his firm $800,000 to replenish some of the money spent for stock.

Others whose depositions were read are John Pennypacker, a junior partner in the Murphy firm; Samuel E. Boole, Cleveland partner in Pickands, Mather & Co., and John Tod, vice president of the Youngstown company. The testimony contained in their affidavits was made public several months ago.

ADMITS YEAR-OLD MURDER.

Prisoner, Taken in Another Case, Confesses Killing, Police Say.

The purchase of a tear gas pistol by a man who lived at a rooming house at 310 West Eightieth Street under the name of Frank De Mayo, led the police yesterday to the solution of a murder committed more than a year ago.

When Detective John Lind received the routine notification of the purchase he went to the rooming house and arrested De Mayo for violation of the Sullivan law. De Mayo was taken to headquarters and fingerprinted. It was discovered that he was Frank Crisafi, wanted by the police in connection with the murder of Anthony Federici, who was shot and killed at 189th Street and Belmont Avenue, the Bronx, on May 27, 1929.

The prisoner was sent to the Bronx for questioning. According to Assistant District Attorney Samuel A. Foley and Inspector Henry Bruckmann he admitted having fired the shots that killed Federici. He gave the names of two men, one of whom, he said, had incited him to commit the murder. He said the shooting followed a drunken argument, the police asserted.

SLAYER OF GIRL DIES.

Meakle, Compact Killer, Is Victim of Self-Inflicted Wound.

Special to The New York Times.

PATERSON, N. J., July 11.—Roderic Meakle, 28-year-old violinist, who a week ago killed Miss Jennie Brauer and afterward fired a revolver bullet into his own head in a suicide compact near Echo Lake, N. J., died in St. Joseph's Hospital here this afternoon. Pneumonia, in conjunction with the head wound, was announced to be the cause of death.

Two State troopers, nurses and Chief County Detective Fred Senz were at the bedside, but no members of Meakle's family. Meakle, though shot through both temples, managed to stagger into a swamp after the shooting and later came back to the scene of the murder to give himself up. He had been unconscious for several days before dying.

FIRE DAMAGES WAREHOUSE.

Tugs and Fireboats Fight Blaze at B. & O. Piers at St. George.

Fire of undetermined origin damaged the warehouse connecting Piers 5 and 6 of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at St. George, S. I., shortly after 2 P. M. yesterday. The blaze was subdued within thirty minutes by six fire companies under Acting Deputy Chief John Spencer and Battalion Chief Daniel O'Leary. Firemen ran ladders into the shallow water beneath the piers and played hose on the flames. Fireboat 223 from Brooklyn and 51 from St. George, as well as several Baltimore & Ohio tugs, fought the fire from the bay.

T. F. Gorman, lighterage superintendent of the railroad company, estimated the damage at less than $3,000. It is thought that a lighted cigarette or a spark from a locomotive caused the fire.

TUTTLE INQUIRING INTO SUTRO & CO.

Acts on Complaints Relating to Manhattan Electrical Supply Stock.

TO SEE WITNESSES TODAY

Postoffice Inspectors Cooperating, He Says—Hopes for Complete Information Soon.

Acting on complaint received at his office from sources which he declined to reveal, United States Attorney Tuttle announced last night, he had begun an investigation of the affairs of Sutro & Co., the brokerage house that was deprived on Thursday of membership in the New York Stock Exchange through the suspension for three years of James H. McGean, the firm's floor member.

The complaints, according to Mr. Tuttle, relate to transactions in stock of the Manhattan Electrical Supply Company. Pool operations, in this stock, according to Watson Washburn, Assistant State Attorney General, recently caused a sharp decline in the stock and a loss of $6,000,000 to the public.

Mr. Tuttle's statement follows:

"We have received complaints here regarding Sutro & Co., particularly in reference to the Manhattan Electrical Supply Company. We have taken up an investigation and are interviewing witnesses. Postoffice inspectors are cooperating. Counsel representing the participants have also called. Within the next several days we hope to get important and complete information concerning what occurred."

Mr. McGean was suspended from the Exchange after its governing committee had found him guilty of failing to "use due diligence" in preventing improper transactions in the stock of the electrical company. The Exchange charged that "transactions to buy and sell the same security were executed at the same time, and at the same price, and in the opinion of the governing committee did not involve a change of ownership."

In a statement issued by Sutro & Co. it was explained that the transactions complained of had been conducted by the company's Forty-fourth Street branch, headed by Brinton Buckwalter, who was a partner until June 24, in behalf of Charles H. McCarthy, a client. McCarthy and others were named in an application made by Mr. Washburn on June 7 for an order to restrain them from dealing further in securities.

Mr. Tuttle said he had assigned George J. Mintzer, head of the criminal division of his office, to conduct the present investigation. He added that the questioning of witnesses would be continued today, but he declined to tell who had been questioned or who would be questioned.

SCORES CITY'S MOTOR FUEL.

W. H. Allen Sees Peril in Gasoline Used by Fire Department.

William H. Allen, director of the Institute for Public Service, issued a statement yesterday suggesting an investigation by Governor Roosevelt or the State Legislature into the quality of motor oil and gasoline used by the city Fire Department.

"The very city service which needs the best grades of gasoline and motor oil, the Fire Department, has for ages used the poorest grades," the statement said. "By poorest is meant unsafest and most injurious, not merely least stylish. These poorest grades waste money, injure expensive apparatus and endanger both life and property. Whether the motive is graft or personal favor or to avoid thinking and acting is immaterial. For permitting such official abuse and negligence the Mayor would be removed if the same standard were applied as removed Borough President Ahearn.

"The Mayor's Fire Department has been using oil its officers, high and low, must have known was a menace and a fraud when in fire motors. The Mayor's purchase department has been buying it. A State inquiry, or for that matter any local newspaper, could learn in an hour how many higher-ups have known this practice and whether the Mayor's files show that complaints have been sent to him."

GERMANS PLAN OCEAN HOP.

Would Fly From Orkney Islands to America by Way of Greenland.

KIRKWALL, Orkney Islands, July 11 (AP).—Two Germans, Wolfram Hirst and Oscar Veller, informed Fred Buchanan, German Vice Consul here, today that they intend to undertake a flight some time this month from Kirkwall to North America by way of Iceland and Greenland.

They will use a lightweight Klem plane. The date of their arrival at Kirkwall has not been fixed definitely, but in their letter the fliers asked if there were any suitable landing places near the town and mentioned July 20 as a tentative date.

59 Students Will Study Abroad.

WILMINGTON, Del., July 11 (AP).—The eighth group of students to be sent to France for a year of intensive study under the University of Delaware's foreign study plan will sail from New York on July 18. This group will be made up of fifty-nine students from thirty-one colleges and universities and will be composed of forty-five women and fourteen men.

VANITIES' FAN DANCE DENOUNCED IN COURT

Police Censor Is Willing to Demonstrate It to Magistrate, but Has No Fans.

ANOTHER HEARING TUESDAY

Carroll Must Also Answer Then a Suit of Shuberts to Ban Mermaid Scene.

While a police officer took the witness stand in crowded Jefferson Market Court yesterday and carefully explained why in his opinion the fan dance and fashion model scenes from the "Vanities" at the New Amsterdam Theatre were unfit for presentation to the public, Earl Carroll, producer of the revue, faced a $100,000 civil suit involving a third scene—mermaids sporting along the ocean's bed.

Next Tuesday morning, in Supreme Court, counsel for Carroll must meet an application by the Shubert Theatre Corporation for an injunction temporarily restraining him from continuing his under-sea ballet, a theatrical illusion similar to a scene in the Shuberts' "Artists and Models." The Shuberts say they paid 30,000 francs to the Folies Bergere in Paris for exclusive rights in North America to the mechanism which creates the illusion.

Carroll, his comedian, Jimmie Savo, and the eight "Vanities" girls made their second appearance in court yesterday as defendants for having participated in an "obscene, indecent, immoral and impure" performance. When the case was called, Magistrate Maurice H. Gotlieb stood behind his bench, pounded his gavel and ordered silence.

Court Critisizes Spectators.

Court attendants cleared the space between the railing and the bench of all persons except those directly concerned with the case and the magistrate, looking about the crowded court room, remarked, "I see here a lot of young men and boys who would be better off either at work or looking for jobs."

He then ordered the single row of seats inside the railing cleared. "Let these women sit down," he declared, sweeping his gavel over the heads of the defendants. "I said, the women will sit down. There must be some order here."

With these efforts by the magistrate over, the dingy court room became quiet. Standing spectators at the rear stopped shuffling their feet, the seated audience stopped whispering, the eight "Vanities" girls, in their silk stockings, furs, Panama hats and colorful dresses were comfortably seated in a row.

Acting Captain James J. Coy, neatly dressed in a blue civilian suit, took the stand and cleared his throat. He had seen the "Vanities" several times and had assisted in serving the warrants at the theatre after the matinee performance Wednesday afternoon. Assistant District Attorney Louis Wasser put one foot up on the platform which supported the captain's chair, rested his arms on his knee and began his questioning:

"Did you visit premises 212 West Forty-second Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the eighth day of June, 1930?"

The captain said that he had, with Sergeant James Powers, and they had sat in the tenth row of the theatre. The program which had been handed to him was put in evidence and the Assistant District Attorney asked if he had noticed any signs outside the theatre. The magistrate urged, "Let's get to the inside."

The prosecutor hurried to the scene entitled "Field of Daisies." Captain Coy said he had seen rows of girls, all lying flat on their backs, waving white fans. Then he had seen Miss Faith Bacon enter.

Magistrate Gotlieb glanced at the complaint. He wanted to know which girl Miss Bacon was. She stood up, rather timidly, and tucked a bit of blonde hair beneath her hat. Captain Coy said there could be no mistake, that she was the girl. He had seen her come onto the stage carrying two feather fans and "absolutely nude," just as the complaint stated.

Offers to Demonstrate Dance.

She danced and kept drawing one fan after the other down in front of her, the witness said. On his cross-examination he added, "If I had two fans I'd show you just how it was done." The police censor admitted that Miss Bacon was well covered by the fans, which were "about four feet long and one foot wide at the widest." It was when she turned and he saw her profile that he could see she was giving an "indecent performance."

Mr. Wasser progressed to the twelfth scene, wherein five girls in evening dress posed as wax fashion models. It was in this scene, the police censor testified, that the comedian removed Miss Frances Joyce's stockings. There was considerable testimony concerning the length of feminine hose and then Captain Coy described another part of the scene, which also involved Mr. Savo and his difficulty in arranging Miss Kay Carroll's fashion display.

Louis Vorhaus, counsel for Carroll, then took up the cross examination. He brought out that although Captain Coy had witnessed the "Vanities" before the day of the arrests, neither he nor any other member of the Police Department had suggested to Earl Carroll or his brother, Norman, that changes be made in the performance. He was unsuccessful, because of objections from the Assistant District Attorney, in getting the officer to testify that this was contrary to the "established" policy of former District Attorney Joab H. Banton. In the colloquy which his attempt brought about, Mr. Vorhaus said, "We deny that there was any nude woman or women in the show."

Counsel then brought out that Captain Coy had actually sat in the twelfth row, instead of the tenth, and during the fan dance a gauze curtain was stretched between the players and the audience. Asked if he could tell, through a curtain and from the twelfth row, whether or not Miss Bacon wore dancers' tights, the witness replied, "Well, it is a matter of vision. My eyes are pretty good." He said he wore glasses only when reading.

Captain Coy admitted that on Wednesday he was backstage before the execution of the warrants and that at that time Mr. Vorhaus had said to him, "If you deem anything objectionable let us know, as the management wants to cooperate with the city authorities." The officer said he was at the theatre Wednesday night and would have made summary arrests had the fashion model scene not been omitted and the fan dance modified.

On cross-examination Benjamin J. Rabin, counsel for the young women, asked Captain Coy, in connection with the fan dance, whether or not he had ever watched "interpretative dancing." The censor had never seen Isadora Duncan perform, but he had seen Pavlova. He was skeptical as to whether or not Miss Bacon's work should be termed "interpretative dancing." "I never saw a dance like that before in my long experience around Broadway," he said.

Court Halts Dispute of Counsel.

A wrangle between defense counsel and Mr. Wasser caused the magistrate to pound his gavel and demand that the taking of testimony proceed. He changed his mind, however, and saying that "three hours' work in this court is enough for one morning," declared the case adjourned. "There is a great deal more business just as important as this case to be attended to," he said.

Mr. Wasser objected to the adjournment on the ground that the "Vanities" performances are continuing while the case is in court, whereat Mr. Vorhaus exclaimed with emphasis, "The attitude of the District Attorney here indicates that he is serving some private interest."

Magistrate Gotlieb advised counsel that he should apologize for making the statement. To Captain Coy he said, "If there is anything lewd or obscene in this play you know your duty, don't you, officer? Bring them to court again." Captain Coy replied, "Yes, sir."

After Mr. Carroll had again been paroled in the custody of counsel and the other defendants continued at liberty under bail, Mr. Vorhaus and Mr. Wasser shook hands pleasantly. "To show you I'm not vindictive, I could have objected to parole for Carroll," the latter said. The case was adjourned until Tuesday at 2 P. M. in Essex Market Court.

The civil suit against Mr. Carroll involves a scene with the title "On the Bed of the Ocean." In an affidavit attached to the summons and complaint, Lee Shubert charges that "precisely the same novelty and illusion" is effected in the "Vanities" scene as in "Sirens in Ceylon" from "Artists and Models." Mr. Shubert describes the mechanism as a large mirror at a forty-five degree angle to the stage in which are reflected the players, who lie on scenery stretched over the stage floor, and a revolving disk.

The accusation is made that although Mr. Carroll was warned of the intention of the Shuberts to "fully protect their rights," he made no reply.

Alfred Beekman, counsel representing Mr. Carroll, said concerning the action: "There is no foundation for a legal claim, as this particular illusion has been used generally and is not a patented device or mechanism. We believe the court will not sustain a claim of ownership."

The order to show cause was signed signed by Supreme Court Justice Louis A. Valente.

French Chamber Uses Movies To Press Facts on Legislators

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 11.—Moving pictures were used today for the first time in the French Parliament as a means of informing the Deputies on matters relating to legislation.

A special room in the Chamber of Députies has been equipped for the exhibition of pictures, and members of the Chamber today saw scientific films, one showing bacterial life and another depicting the technical details of naval armament.

To another group were shown a number of films which had been rejected by the censor and which the Deputies will be asked to release for public exhibition.

LOOTS 4 TUCKAHOE HOMES.

Burglar Tries to Enter Three More —Locks Woman in Closet.

Special to The New York Times.

TUCKAHOE, N. Y., July 11.—A lone burglar broke into four homes in Tuckahoe last night, locked one woman in a closet for forty minutes, attempted to enter three other homes and escaped with several thousand dollars in jewelry and cash.

The first report of the burglar, of whom there is evidence to connect him with all seven cases, came from a small girl who telephoned to police headquarters and summoned policemen to the home of Mrs. Maxwell H. Burton at 111 Sagamore Road. Mrs. Burton had been locked in a closet at the point of a pistol while the thief ransacked the apartment. She must have fainted, for she regained consciousness in her living room and called to the child outside to summon police. The apartments of M. E. Jones, John M. Williams and Newton Y. Nichols also were broken into. Nichols's home was ransacked. Three other householders reported that their homes gave evidence of attempted burglaries.

The burglar evidently spotted what he thought would be empty apartments by the presence before the doors of new telephone books distributed yesterday.

RAISES INJURED DETECTIVE.

Mulrooney Lauds Policeman, Shot in Fight With Two Robbers.

Detective Paul D. Higgins of the Parkville station, Brooklyn, who was shot and seriously wounded in a fight in which he killed one hold-up man and wounded another April 6, was taken from the Coney Island Hospital to Police Headquarters yesterday and carried to the line-up, where Police Commissioner Mulrooney promoted him from third grade to first grade rank.

Commending him for a "very valorous, intelligent and courageous piece of work," Commissioner Mulrooney said that it was with the "greatest delight" that he promoted Higgins. The promotion carries with it a salary increase of $1,000 a year. Higgins, who has been in the department for ten years, lives at 572 Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn. He was so badly wounded in the hip that he may never be able to walk without a limp.

MRS. MULROONEY SAILS.

Wife and Daughter of Police Commissioner Leave for France.

Among the passengers who sailed last night for Antwerp, Plymouth or Cherbourg on the Red Star liner Laplan were Mrs. Edward P. Mulrooney, wife of the Police Commissioner, and their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Mulrooney, who recently was graduated from Albertus Magnus College, New Haven. They will disembark at Cherbourg. Many friends were at the ship to see them off. The Commissioner said his wife and daughter would spend several months in France.

Also on board were ten members of the United States rifle team on their way to Antwerp to compete in the international matches for the Argentine trophy. The team is under the management of Major Julian S. Hatcher, U. S. A.

HERRICK GETS WRIT IN PARK AV. RAID

Goes to Jail for Short Period So Attorney Can Start Habeas Corpus Action.

CASE TO BE ARGUED TODAY

Hearing Sought to Force Police to Disclose Any Evidence of Gambling They Have.

George Herrick, arrested as the operator of a gambling house in his apartment at 270 Park Avenue, will know today whether or not he must stand trial on the charges, or whether he will be cleared of the complaint, because of the failure of the police to produce, at the hearing in the magistrate's court, the gambling devices they say they found when they raided his home. A writ of habeas corpus was issued yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Louis J. Valente. It is returnable this morning at 10:30 and, if sustained, Herrick stands acquitted of the complaint.

To get the writ Herrick had to be in jail. Together with his valet, William Sullivan, who is held on a similar charge, he was surrendered to Warden Robert Barr at the Tombs, while his attorney, Bernard H. Sandler, applied for the writ. He made his application on the stenographic record of the hearing before Magistrate Jean Norris, following Herrick's arrest.

After Justice Valente had signed the writ, Mr. Sandler, accompanied by Herrick's wife, Mrs. Marion Herrick, and Charles Lark, attorney for Dr. Charles Paterno, owner of the Park Avenue building, went to the Tombs to obtain the release of Herrick and Sullivan. When money for the bail was requested, Mrs. Herrick produced a $1,000 bill. Half an hour later both were liberated.

The application for the writ was made in Justice Valente's chambers, where it will be argued today. The anteroom was crowded with reporters, photographers and friends of Herrick. Earlier in the day Herrick and his wife posed for photographers and answered several questions.

Herrick, small and slim, seemed to enjoy the entire procedure. He denied that he had ever been arrested before, although the police gave out the record of a man answering his description as having been arrested on three other occasions. In each instance, however, the man was acquitted.

Mrs. Herrick said that the lease on her apartment would not expire for another three years. She did not expect to renew it, she said, but hoped that she and her husband would go to live in Europe. She said they intended to go to Deauville as soon as the charge against her husband was disposed of. Mr. Lark asserted that Herrick's credentials and references were carefully investigated before the apartment was leased to him. Asked if he recalled the profession given by Herrick, and if it was investigated, he said he didn't. Herrick told the police he was a broker.

A policeman is still on duty in the Herrick fourteen-room apartment. Mr. Herrick, questioned as to why he rented such a large apartment for himself and his wife, declared that five of the rooms were occupied by four of his servants. These servants would remain there while their employers went to France, Mrs. Herrick declared.

DENY FALSE S O S CALL.

Coast Guard and Navy Radio Say Yacht Rumor Was Not Liquor Plot.

The Coast Guard, Naval Communications and the Radiomarine Corporation headquarters in New York all denied having any record yesterday of an S O S call purported to have originated on Thursday night aboard the Barron G. Collier yacht, Florida, the report of which caused Coast Guard vessels to proceed to the Montauk Point vicinity to investigate. The Coast Guard denied that a false S O S was suspected to have come from rum-runners who planned to land a cargo of liquor while the vessels were occupied in investigating the call.

The Coast Guard representative said the report that the Florida was aground off Montauk Point came to that organization through various telephoned messages and The Associated Press. The navy station representative said no S O S calls had been entered in the log book of calls.

From another source it was reported that the excursion boat Evangeline had sent out a C Q call at 11 o'clock Thursday night, saying it was on fire. One of the city fire boats went to the rescue. The call was not an S O S.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 11.—Lieut. Commander L. T. Chalker, chief of staff, Section Base 4, United States Coast Guard headquarters here, said tonight that he knew nothing of a hoax message in connection with a report yesterday that a yacht was aground. He said that a yacht was reported from New York to be in need of assistance near Montauk Point and a patrol ship was dispatched.

WRECKED PLANT ILLEGAL.

Fireworks Factory Where 4 Were Killed Had No Permit in 17 Years.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., July 11.—In a report submitted by Deputy Labor Commissioner Charles Weeks to Commissioner Blunt, it was revealed today that investigation of the explosion of July 5 at Neptune, which cost four lives, showed that the fireworks manufacturing plant involved had been operated for seventeen years without a permit.

In admitting that he had been engaged in the fireworks business for seventeen years, Frank Cimino, owner of the plant destroyed, at first said he had a permit, according to Mr. Weeks, but an examination of the record disclosed that the plant was not registered with the department. Other violations of the law reported included inadequate safeguarding of finished stock and failure to enclose the building properly.

Improper storage of black powder and carelessness by persons on the premises or in the vicinity were advanced by Mr. Weeks as the probable cause of the explosion.

EXPRESS ROAD'S COST PUT AT $40,000,000

Officials Say Land on Seven Miles of Route Will Have to Be Condemned.

BROOKLYN PLANS IN TODAY

Fourth, Vanderbilt and Union Avenues Said to Be Keys in That Borough.

STARTING POINT INDICATED

Expected to Be at Grand Army Plaza—Harvey Outlines Plans for Connecting Links.

When Borough President Hesterberg formally files his plans for the Brooklyn route of the Brooklyn-Queens express highway today with the Board of Estimate, the complete plans for this traffic project to connect various interborough vehicular arteries of the regional plan will be made public, it was announced yesterday by Mr. Hesterberg.

Private lands on seven miles of the route will have to be condemned before the work can be started, it was learned from official sources. The condemnation proceedings would bring the cost to well over $40,000,000, it was said.

Work on the Brooklyn plans was being rushed to completion yesterday at the Brooklyn Borough Hall by Philip P. Farley, Mr. Hesterberg's consultant engineer.

The motor parkway will furnish a direct route between the proposed Staten Island-Brooklyn vehicular tunnel and the Triborough Bridge that will link Queens, the Bronx and Manhattan. Connection between this highway and the Thirty-eighth Street vehicular tunnel which will join Manhattan to Queens also will be made.

Key Avenues in Route.

Although Mr. Hesterberg would not reveal the exact routes through Brooklyn until today, when the plans have been filed, it was learned from authoritative sources that Fourth, Vanderbilt and Union Avenues are the keys in the plan. According to this information, which Mr. Hesterberg's office refused to confirm, the route actually would start at the Grand Army Plaza near Prospect Park.

Motorists traveling from the proposed Staten Island tunnel, which would enter Brooklyn in the Fort Hamilton district, would reach the Grand Army Plaza by way of Fourth Avenue. Fourth Avenue, it was said, would be connected with Vanderbilt Avenue by a viaduct over St. John's, Lincoln or Berkley Place. This would allow traffic to avoid the congestion in the vicinity of the Long Island Railroad's Atlantic Avenue station.

Vanderbilt Avenue would take the automobiles into the Navy Yard district. Although the exact route from Vanderbilt Avenue into Queens could not be learned, it was said that Union Avenue and Richardson Street in the Greenpoint section would be the connecting link with the Queens end of the highway.

The Crosstown Boulevard would then cross Newtown Creek on a bridge and over the Sunnyside Yards of the Long Island Railroad, crossing Northern Boulevard, Thirtieth, Twenty-eighth and Twenty-fifth Avenues, Queens, and enter Astoria Boulevard, which will extend to the Triborough Bridge.

Connection With 38th Street Tunnel.

The connection with the Thirty-eighth Street vehicular tunnel will be made by way of Borden Avenue, Queens. Another connection whereby the motorist could reach the crosstown highway from Williamsburg Bridge is also contemplated. This would be made by way of Bushwick Avenue and South Fifth Street.

In Brooklyn the highway will be from 220 to 360 feet wide to provide room for landscaping. In Queens it will have a width varying from 160 to 175 feet.

Wherever the route does not avoid crossing congested streets, viaducts and underpasses will be built so that the traffic can proceed at a maximum speed. As planned at present there will be eight lanes of traffic.

J. Franklin Perrine, engineer of the Queens Planning Commission, said the crosstown highway would be one of many highways serving the Triborough Bridge. He pointed out that the development of a new highway system in Queens would permit traffic to avoid Manhattan congestion in passing from the Bronx, Westchester and upper New York State to Long Island.

Mr. Perrine added that the Crosstown Boulevard also would furnish a main traffic artery through the industrial sections of Long Island City, Greenpoint and Williamsburg.

Six Links Proposed by Harvey.

Borough President Harvey of Queens said that the interborough highway was the first major north and south route recommended by the Queens Planning Commission to take form in definite plans. He said he would propose the following six other north and south traffic connections:

A connecting boulevard from the Triborough Bridge approach in Astoria to Elmhurst to accommodate traffic for Jamaica, Woodhaven and southern Queens.

The improvement of Woodhaven Boulevard, which will develop the present route to Cross Bay Boulevard in the Rockaways and connect with the Triborough Bridge and the Thirty-eighth Street Tunnel.

The proposed Van Wyck-Rockaway Boulevard route to the South Shore, tying the Queens Boulevard with Linden Boulevard and the Sunrise Trail.

A route that will include 149th Street, Parsons Boulevard, 163d Street, 164th Street, New York Avenue and the Springfield Boulevard viaduct to give direct access from Whitestone to the Rockaway Peninsula.

A direct connection from Long Island Sound and the proposed Bronx-Whitestone crossing to the southeastern corner of Queens, to intersect with all the east and west traffic arteries in Queens coming from Nassau County.

A belt line highway running from Northern Boulevard in Little Neck to Rockaway Boulevard.

POINTS OUT NEEDS OF CITY HOSPITALS

State Charities Report Asks for Three New Buildings in Brooklyn.

NOTES IMPROVEMENTS ALSO

Dr. Greeff Says He Has Already Anticipated Recommendations Made by Association.

A new chronic hospital for Brooklyn, a new nurses' home for Kings County Hospital, a new isolation building and better staff house for the Kingston Avenue Hospital in Brooklyn and better care for the "low grade cripples" at Randall's Island are among the recommendations made by the State Charities Aid Association through a memorandum drawn up by Homer Folks of the association's staff and submitted yesterday to Dr. J. G. William Greeff, Commissioner of Hospitals.

The report was drawn up after an investigation of ten hospitals had found that conditions in all of the institutions were greatly improved over what they had been a short time ago. Dr. Greeff, commenting yesterday on the criticisms and recommendations, said that virtually every suggestion for improvement had been anticipated by his department, so that plans were already being formed to carry out most of the changes advocated by the State Charities Aid Association.

New Buildings Offered.

At one point the report comments, "The question that arises in one's mind after visiting Randall's Island is how the institution can be run with the building of the Triborough Bridge going on overhead." On this issue Dr. Greeff said yesterday that Commissioner of Plant and Structures Albert Goldman had "generously offered to erect new buildings for hospital uses on Randall's Island where the Triborough Bridge will cross instead of just removing the old buildings to other locations on the island."

Referring to the association's request for more cottages for a farm colony, Commissioner Greeff said that a recent appropriation of $300,000 was already being spent for more cottages, and that segregation was taking place "as rapidly as possible." Plans were already in progress, he said, for further improvement at Metropolitan Hospital, which would add 250 beds, screen the balconies and enclose the roof for a solarium, X-ray room and other uses.

In adition to outlining the need for a chronic hospital for Brooklyn and some of the improvements specifically commented on by Dr. Greeff, the report comments in part:

Overcrowding in Kings Hospital.

"If water and bathing facilities could be placed in the nursery at Kings County Hospital without delay it would be most gratfying. We found the women's wards fearfully overcrowded, due to the great number of long-term and chronic patients. A great improvement was observed in the personnel of Kingston Avenue Hospital. Queensboro Hospital should be twice or three times as large as it is, so that all the contagion in Queens could be cared for.

"The new south wing of Metropolitan Hospital is well equipped and modern. The children's wing is still far from ideal. Very little isolation is possible. There are no screens in the balcony windows; flies swarm everywhere.

"Bradford Street Hospital, Brooklyn, leaves the impression of a morning and evening clinic, not a hospital. Since the eight hospital beds on the second floor have not been used in the last ten or fifteen years, the hospital is more like a dressing station. Only local anesthetics are given. An outstanding need at this hospital is a social service nurse. It is understood that this has been requested, and it is hoped that one will be supplied in the near future."

Special mention was made in the report of the all-around improvements at Coney Island Hospital, especially the increased number of nurses. Commendation was also given for improvements at Kings County Hospital.

ASKS END OF 'PROXY' UNION.

Actress Says She Was Married in Busy Sister's Stead.

Audrey B. Sherry, who is in a Texas Guinan show at Lynbrook, L. I., filed suit in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn yesterday for the annulment of her marriage, which she said was a "proxy" ceremony performed in her sister's name at the request of her sister, who was too busy to be there herself. Miss Sherry says her sister, Nedra Baker, a clothing model, left on a honeymoon with the husband immediately after the ceremony.

The defendant in the action is Ernest Sherry, whose address was not disclosed. They were married on Jan. 22, according to the petitioner, who says she never lived with Sherry after the wedding ceremony and that she filed suit because friends believed that she, and not her sister, was Sherry's wife.

JARDINE IS CHOSEN MINISTER TO CAIRO

Ex-Secretary of Agriculture Likely to Be Transferred to Another Capital Later.

SWENSON TO QUIT POST

Hoover Is Expected to Accept Resignation of Envoy to Norway in Short Time.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—William M. Jardine of Kansas, Secretary of Agriculture in the Coolidge Cabinet, has been selected by President Hoover to be Minister to Egypt, and it is expected that his nomination soon will be sent to the Senate, as advices have been received from Egypt that the Kansan would be persona grata.

There is an intimation that Mr. Jardine may not remain at the Egyptian post any length of time, but will be later transferred to another capital, when some proposed changes are made in the foreign service.

Mr. Jardine was president of the Kansas State Agricultural College when President Coolidge nominated him head of the Department of Agriculture. He is a recognized authority on agricultural matters, and before he became connected with the Kansas agricultural institution was assistant to the chief of the department of agronomy at the Agricultural College of Utah. Previously, he was assistant United States cerealist in charge of dry land grain investigations.

He is 52 years old and a native of Idaho.

After he retired to private life, when President Coolidge left office, Mr. Jardine continued to live in Washington. He was for a time the executive of the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers' Association, with headquarters here.

President Hoover is expected to accept soon the resignation of Laurits S. Swenson as Minister to Norway and appoint a successor who has practically been decided upon, although his name has not been disclosed.

Mr. Swenson submitted his resignation when Mr. Hoover entered the White House. He has been Minister to Norway since 1921 and previously held the same post from 1911 to 1913.

Born in Minnesota in 1865, he is a resident of Minneapolis and was active in educational work and later in banking until he was appointed Minister to Denmark in 1897. He resigned in 1905 and then was appointed Minister to Switzerland in 1909, being transferred to Norway two years later.

MOONEY WITNESS FOUND IN BALTIMORE

McDonald Calls His Testimony in Bombing Trial False—Now Ready to "Undo Wrong."

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 11.—John McDonald, object of a nation-wide search in a renewed effort to obtain a pardon for Thomas Mooney, was located in Baltimore tonight.

Recognized by John C. Taeuber from a newspaper photograph as a former boarder at his home, McDonald was taken into custody by the police at 8 P. M., and soon afterward issued a statement in which he reiterated a statement made several years ago that his testimony in the trial of Mooney and Warren K. Billings was perjury.

Mooney and Billings are now serving life sentences for the bombing of the Preparedness Day parade in 1916 that took a toll of ten lives. At their trial McDonald, a principal witness for the State, testified that he had seen them carrying a suitcase near the scene of the parade.

Held for investigation, McDonald made this statement:

"I, John McDonald, aged 58 years, residing in Baltimore City, testified as a witness for the State of California versus Thomas Mooney and Warren K. Billings. I never saw Mooney until taken to the Hall of Justice in San Francisco and was told by an officer that this was Mooney (pointing him out to me).

"My testimony in the various cases was untrue and false. I desire to undo the wrong done by me in sending Mooney to prison, regardless of personal consequences. The authorities got me to testify that I identified Mooney, but this in an absolute falsehood."

HEAD OF HOME FOR AGED INDICTED FOR ATTACK

The Rev. Herbert Coenen Pleads Not Guilty of "Inhumane Treatment"—Inquiry Starts.

Special to The New York Times.

PATERSON, N. J., July 11.—The Rev. Herbert Coenen, owner of St. Paul's Home for the Aged at Pompton Lakes, appeared before Judge William B. Harley in Court of Special Sessions here today after a grand jury had found an indictment against him for assault and battery upon Julius Grimm, 79 years old, an inmate of the home.

Mr. Coenen pleaded not guilty to the charge of attacking the aged man on three occasions, elected a jury trial and was remanded on bail of $500.

The State Department of Institutions and Agencies is investigating the home as a result of charges of "inhumane treatment," said to have bene made by Mrs. E. Teischinger, a daughter of Mr. Grimm, who lives at 547 Cauldwell Avenue, the Bronx.

Prosecutor J. Vincent Barnitt of Passaic County, who submitted the case to the grand jury, said that Mr. Coenen recently ejected Mr. Grimm from his institution after obtaining an order committing the patient to the State Hospital for the Insane. Mr. Grimm's daughter, according to the prosecutor, appealed to the county physician in Passaic, Dr. William A. Norval, who pronounced her father sane and ordered that he be admitted to the home.

Mr. Barnitt added that admission would be sought for Mr. Grimm at the Union County Almshouse. He came from Cranford in Union County. His wife, who is 78 years old, is at the home at Pompton Lakes.

Archduke Leopold Goes to Jail Voluntarily In Move to Hasten Napoleon Necklace Trial

Archduke Leopold of Austria, at his own request, was committed to the Tombs yesterday by Judge Rosalsky in General Sessions in an effort to speed his trial on grand larceny indictments in connection with his alleged participation in the unauthorized sale last Feb. 1 of the $400,000 diamond Napoleon necklace, which was the property of his aunt, the Archduchess Marie Therese of Austria.

Leopold was surrendered to the court by a bondsman who had furnished $7,500 bail for him last April when he pleaded not guilty to the indictments, which also include as defendants Charles L. Townsend, who posed as a former Colonel in the British Colonial Secret Service, and the latter's wife, Gervez Baronti Townsend, who had represented herself as a Princess. The Townsends had fled the country before a grand jury began investigating Townsend's sale of the necklace for $60,000 to David L. Michel, a jeweler, at 2 West Forty-seventh Street. The necklace was the gift of Napoleon Bonaparte to Empress Marie Louise in 1811.

Jacob Gilman, as counsel for the Archduke, told Judge Rosalsky that his client was anxious for a speedy trial, not alone to clear his name of the stigma of the grand larceny charges, but also because he wished to return to Austria as soon as possible in connection with agitation there for the restoration of the monarchy and to participate in arrangements for the disposition of the estate of his brother, Archduke Ranier, who died recently.

"Archduke Leopold has received many cablegrams from Austria in connection with the settlement of his brother's estate," Mr. Gilman continued. "The Archduchess Marie Therese does not desire that my client be punished, but he will not consent to the withdrawal of the charges unless he is vindicated."

Mr. Gilman then declared that he had visited Mr. Hastings on several occasions in an effort to have the trial called immediately, but the prosecutor explained that bail cases were not called for trial in General Sessions in the Summer months, the courts being used only for trials of defendants in the Tombs who had been unable to furnish bail.

"I am satisfied, after looking over these indictments, that there is more to this case than has been said," replied Judge Rosalsky. "Since the defendant wishes to be incarcerated, he'll have to be accommodated. He is not entitled to any preference under the law. He'll have to take his turn with other prisoners as to when his case will be called for trial."

Before his client's arraignment, Mr. Gilman issued a statement in which he said Mr. Hastings had informed him that it was not likely the Archduke would be called for trial until after October.

Complications in connection with the Archduke's desire for an immediate trial had arisen, Mr. Gilman went on. Mr. Hastings had said that if the Archduke failed to appear when the case was called through absence in Austria, the bail would be forfeited. The lawyer added that his client's stay in this country, under the immigration laws, would expire on Aug. 23, and that when Mr. Gilman had communicated with the immigration authorities regarding a hurried trip to and from Austria in advance of the trial, he had been informed no assurance could be given that the Archduke would be permitted to re-enter this country, regardless of the fact that he was under bail to appear for trial.

SCIENCE MAKES RAT 5 DAYS OLD AT BIRTH

Dr. R. G. Harris Says New Hormone Extract Produced Young 48% Heavier Than Normal

AND OVERCAME STERILITY

Experiments Also Made on Rabbits—Tests to Be Continued, Cold Spring Harbor Gathering Hears.

Special to The New York Times.

COLD SPRING HARBOR, L. I., July 11.—Results of experiments with an extract developed from the hormone of a sow, which achieved the double purpose of making sterile rats fertile and causing their young to be born five days more mature, were revealed here today in a lecture before a gathering of scientists at the Cold Spring Harbor Biological Laboratory.

The hormone, technically known as corpus luteum, was first isolated a year ago at the laboratories here by Dr. Reginald G. Harris, director of the laboratory, and Dr. J. J. Pfiffner, and, in another set of experiments, by Dr. George W. Corner of the Rochester (N. Y.) Medical School, and Dr. Willard M. Allen. Dr. Harris described experiments with rats while Dr. Corner told of similar application of the hormone on rabbits.

"Seven female rats which had been sterile received corpus luteum," said Dr. Harris, "and every one of them later gave birth to young. We have not yet tried the method on other animals and consequently are not in a position to make any predictions. But naturally, we intend to carry the experiments further."

While the normal period of gestation for rats is twenty-one to twenty-two days, Dr. Harris continued, corpus luteum delayed birth for about five days. In such cases the rats were larger and more developed, he said; in fact, indications were that they were born five days old, behaving generally as a normally born five-day-old rat would. The heaviest among the offspring was about 48 per cent above the normal weight at birth.

While normally rats, mice and kittens are extremely helpless at birth, unable to move or to support their own weight, Dr. Harris added, these rats were able to support their weight to some extent.

75,000 ON VACATION TODAY.

Western Electric to Close Three Plants for Two Weeks.

Special to The New York Times.

KEARNY, N. J., July 11.—Seventeen thousand employes of the Western Electric Company here will go on a two weeks' vacation when the whistle blows at noon tomorrow. The plant is the largest telephone equipment manufacturing plant in the country. A skeleton crew will remain on duty to handle emergency orders nad keep the machinery in operating condition.

Two other plants of the company, one at Hawthorne, Ill., and the other at Breezy Point, a suburb of Baltimore, will likewise shut down, making a total of 75,000 of the company's workers on vacation at the same time.

An official of the company said it was found to be more efficient to close all the plants at the same time than to spread vacations over the Summer and operate with reduced forces.

A similar schedule will be put into effect at the same time at the Hyatt Roller Bearing Company, a subsidiary of General Motors, at Harrison, N. J., where 1,300 workers will start their vacations simultaneously, 100 others remaining at work as an emergency force.

$100,000 DAMAGES ASKED OF CHRISTY

Gallery Sues Artist, Alleging He Cut Rate on Portrait of One of Its Clients.

CHARGES PRESTIGE IS HURT

He Denies Cause for Action—Move Now Under Way to Fix Fee Basis in Such Cases.

On the ground that Howard Chandler Christy made an agreement with Portrait Painters Gallery, Inc., to paint the portraits of persons sent to him by the gallery for not less than $4,500 and give the gallery a third, and then painted one for $2,500 and gave the gallery nothing, he has been sued for $100,000 damages. The suit came to light yesterday when Mr. Christy applied to dismiss the complaint on the ground that no cause of action was stated.

The complaint alleges that when the Portrait Painters Gallery, Inc., sent Mrs. Albertine Holmes to Mr. Christy for a sitting and he did the picture for $2,500 he caused it to be known among the gallery's patrons that the prices it quoted were not authentic and that they could do better by dealing directly with the artist. The gallery alleges that it has had a similar agreement with other painters for years, and that they have observed it, as a result of which the gallery has gathered a cultivated, distinguished and discriminating clientele.

In connection with the Christy suit, which will be argued soon in the Supreme Court, it was said yesterday that the American Art Dealers' Association, comprising a number of the leading galleries, and the American Artists' Professional League have had committees working for some months to evolve a standard written contract between galleries and artists. This contract form is expected to relieve the present uncertainty in the matter of commissions to be paid for work done by artists for persons sent them by the galleries after seeing their work in the galleries. In the present suit, it is said, the agreement between the Portrait Painters Gallery, Inc., and Mr. Christy was oral.

The committees have not reached a decision as to the form of the standard contract, but it was said by a member of the artists' committee that the document to be adopted is expected to define the commissions to be charged by dealers and the fixing and maintenance of prices by artists.

Mr. Christy has been a noted illustrator for years and recently has acquired a reputation as a portrait painter. His works have been exhibited in the Portrait Painters Gallery, Inc., of which Thomas J. Gerrity Jr. is president and Alfred Pack is vice president.

TWO HURT AS LIFT DROPS.

Elevator in Wall Street Building Falls Five Stories.

Two passengers were thrown to the floor and slightly injured yesterday when an elevator dropped from the sixteenth to the eleventh floor in the thirty-story building at 37 Wall Street shortly after 5 P. M.

They were Samuel Fannell, 34 years old, of 511 Clinton Avenue and William Daley, 64, of 453 West Fifty-second Street, both of whom were taken to the Broad Street Hospital suffering from injuries to their right knees. William Lumkitrick, operator of the car, who was the only other person in it, escaped uninjured.

HONEST MAN BRINGS ARREST OF 'DIOGENES'

"Philanthropist," Seeking Two to Distribute $9,000 to Poor, Runs Afoul of the Law.

CARRIES CASH IN BUNDLE

But Drops It When Detectives, Called by His Prospective Agent, Appear—Aide Arrested With Him.

A philanthropist walked in Central Park yesterday afternoon searching for two honest men whom he could delegate to distribute $9,000 to New York's poor. The day was warm and he was tired of walking. He saw two men sitting on a bench near the East Drive at Seventy-second Street and approached them.

"Pardon me, gentlemen," the philanthropist said. "I am a stranger here and I have had a long hunt to find two honest men. It may be that you're just the men to help me. If you are there's $500 in it for each of you."

Temistocle Freppoli, 38 years old, of 1,065 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, nudged his companion, Harry Masley of 411 East 172d Street, and asked politely what they could do to aid.

"My sister recently died in California," said the philanthropist. "Knowing that I had enough money—indeed, more than enough money—for my own use, she willed $10,000 of her estate for distribution among the poor of New York City. It is my duty to see that it gets to them."

He paused, drew a short bottle from his pocket and drank from it. He offered the bottle to Mr. Masley, who refused it. Mr. Freppoli accepted.

"Gentlemen," the philanthropist continued, when he had measured off Mr. Freppoli's drink with his eye and returned the bottle to his pocket, "in the bundle which I have here is that $10,000. I am eager now to get rid of it, and I think you are just the men to take it off my hands."

Mr. Freppoli asked if they might see the money. Its possessor looked about him cautiously, then tore a corner from the newspaper-wrapped bundle in his hand. The edge of a $50 note was visible.

Mr. Freppoli broke the happy silence.

"I am sure," he said, "that we are the men for you."

"Very well," said the philanthropist, "then let's get down to business. How can you prove to me that you are honest men?"

Two Show Bank Books.

"Masley," Freppoli said, "it's a good thing that when I agreed to meet you here today I told you to bring your bank book. Now we both have proof."

He showed the philanthropist his own bank book. A balance of more than $30,000 was recorded. Masley apologized for his. He was a clerk out of work and had only $1,200. But the philanthropist was equally dissatisfied with both of them.

"Bank books will hardly do," he said. "I must see the money. You see, I have the cash here myself."

Mr. Freppoli agreed with him. He whispered to Mr. Masley that this was their great chance. Mr. Masley said he supposed that it was and the group separated so that Masley and Freppoli might get some cash.

But on his way to the bank Mr. Masley decided to stop off at the East Sixty-seventh Street police station and get some advice. He spoke to Detectives William Dillon and Leo Hayes, and they thought they would like to meet the philanthropist.

Detectives Hide in Bushes.

So the three men went back to the park, but as they neared the meeting place the detectives withdrew into the bushes and Masley went on alone. Masley carried in his hand a bundle that the detectives had given him and that he was to offer as money. Freppoli was already there.

Just as Masley handed the bundle to the philanthropist the detectives came out of the bushes and said "Hello." Mr. Freppoli seemed to recognize the detectives and became pale and sat down on the ground. The philanthropist recognized them, too, and he threw away Mr. Masley's bundle and his own bundle that had been sent him by his sister in California and ran away.

But the detectives caught him and took him and Freppoli to the station house. There Masley again told his story of having met Freppoli in the park on Thursday and of how Freppoli had told him that he would find work for him if he would bring his bank book with him at a meeting the next day. The detectives told Masley that Freppoli and the philanthropist were friends. All but $200 of the $10,000 was stage money, they said.

Then they locked up both Freppoli and the philanthropist, who said he was Jacob Dolish, 40 years old, of 503 West Twenty-third Street. Masley is to appear against them when they are arraigned on charges of attempted grand larceny.

DRUNKEN DRIVER KILLS THREE AT NEWBURGH

Gets Year for Intoxication and With Seller of Liquor Faces Manslaughter Charges.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., July 11.—A wild ride by an intoxicated taxi driver cost the lives of three men last night when his car ran into the men waiting in the street for a bus.

The driver, Alexander Duff, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated when arraigned in court today and was sentenced to a year in prison. He will be charged with manslaughter under indictments which District Attorney Lemon is preparing for submission to the grand jury on Wednesday.

Patrick O'Meara, keeper of a saloon in which Duff said that he bought three drinks before crashing into the crowd, was arrested on orders from the District Attorney and will be jointly charged with manslaughter, second degree, as an accessory before the fact.

Duff, whose only previous police record shows public intoxication, faces thirty years in State prison if convicted.

After leaving O'Meara's place, Duff told the police, he did not remember driving on Water Street. His heavy sedan sideswiped a parked car, causing the sedan to run onto the sidewalk. Duff returned it to the roadway and continued at a speed estimated between forty and sixty miles an hour.

Republicans Need Dignity, Democrats Cash, Rogers Says

To the Editor of The New York Times:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 11.—The Republicans are trying to get rid of the chairman of their national committee. They can't throw him out—he knows where the body is buried.

The next time they hire one his contract will have a two weeks' cancellation clause in it. They think this fellow don't add the proper class to the party.

The Republicans want a man that will lend dignity to the office, and the Democrats want a man that will lend some money. Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

BRITISH GUEST HERE FOR BAY STATE FETE

Warden A. L. Fisher of New College, Oxford, Will Attend Tercentenary Celebration.

HIS BROTHER IS WITH HIM

Vice Admiral Sir William Fisher, Expert at London Conference, Praises Our Delegates Highly.

The Right Honorable Herbert A. L. Fisher, warden of New College, Oxford University, since 1925 and British delegate to the League of Nations from 1920 to 1922, arrived yesterday on the Cunarder Berengaria to be chief guest of the State of Massachusetts at the Massachusetts Bay tercentenary celebration at Boston.

He was accompanied by his brother, Vice Admiral Sir William Fisher, who commanded the battleship St. Vincent at the battle of Jutland in the World War. He was met at Quarantine by Edward A. McLoughlin, representing Governor Frank G. Allen of Massachusetts. They will leave for Boston early today.

Warden Fisher still believes that England will be better off by continuing to have free trade than by adopting a protective policy. He said industrial conditions in England were different and expressed the opinion that trade would be better when the present industrial and financial slump was over. Unemployment was bad in England, he said, but he did not think it would get any worse.

Tells of Old Settlements.

Speaking of the tercentenary celebration in Boston, Warden Fisher pointed out that Massachusetts and New College, Oxford, had a bond in common which is only slightly known in this country.

"In 1622," he explained, "the Rev. John White, rector of Holy Trinity Church, Dorchester, who was also a graduate of New College, having great pity for the unemployment in England, arranged to send to Massachusetts a colony of fishermen and their wives to develop the cod fishing industry. The colony reached Cape May in 1623 and remained there until 1626, when, through sickness and hardships, the enterprise was disrupted.

"Then the Rev. John White, still concerned for the misery of the unemployed in England, conceived the idea of forming a farming colony in New England similar to the colony at Plymouth, where the strength of the enterprise came from agricultural pursuits.

"The clergyman went to London, and with several other philanthropically-inclined individuals and many hard-headed English business men they created the program which later, in 1630, became the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

"I think these facts are but slightly known, and now that I am here I mention them. By this connection you can well see that New College feels a relationship with Massachusetts; one that goes to the roots of our joint existences."

Warden Fisher visited New York six years ago, but his brother has never been here before. The latter was one of the naval experts at the recent naval disarmament conference in London, but declined to discuss it beyond remarking that the American delegates were charming people.

Praises Our Delegates.

The Admiral, who is an active member of the Admiralty Board, added that he doubted if a more gifted group of men had ever crossed the ocean for so important an engagement.

Another passenger on the Berengaria was Dr. Henri Masaryk-Revillion, son-in-law of the President of the Republic of Czechoslovakia, accompanied by his wife. He will visit the important clinics in New York, Baltimore, Chicago and Rochester, Minn. His wife lived here in exile during the World War, leaving in 1919 with her father when he was invited to become President of the new republic.

Also on the ship were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Parsons, who have been in England. Mrs. Parsons is a daughter of Hendon Chubb.

Harley L. Clarke, president of the Fox Film Corporation, was also aboard the Berengaria and was taken off at Quarantine by special customs permit, to attend a board meeting.

The Cunarder made the trip with three propellers, but was only five hours behind her usual schedule, having lost one hour a day.

TO DROP RUFFU CHARGES.

Atlantic City Prosecutor Will Nolle Prosse Indictments.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 11.—Louis Mallin, Second Assistant Prosecutor, announced today that all remaining indictments against the late Mayor Anthony M. Ruffu Jr. would be nolle prossed

Fourteen indictments against the late Mayor were handed down by the jury. The Mayor was acquitted on the four deemed by the prosecution to be the strongest.

The Assistant Prosecutor declared that the remaining indictments against John W. Conway, deposed Building Inspector, charged with extortion, and those against Conway, John Doughty, Frank Weber and Brazier T. Booy, charging them with conspiracy and perjury and attempting to prevent the due administration of the law, would be tried.

SEEKS RULE TO END CASES LIKE RYDER'S

Washburn Asks Governors of Stock Exchange to Verify Standing of Members.

CITES FALSIFIED ACCOUNTS

Independent Audit Would Have Prevented Loss to Woody & Co. Customers, He Asserts.

52 BROKERS SUMMONED

Wall Street Houses Are Ordered to Produce Records of All Ryder and Bailey Deals Since 1928.

A communication was addressed to the New York Stock Exchange yesterday by Assistant Attorney General Watson Washburn, in charge of the State Bureau of Securities, after his investigation of the wrecking of the brokerage firm of Woody & Co., urging the Exchange to make independent audits to verify the questionnaires through which it now supervises the stability of its members.

The communication accompanied a copy of a temporary injunction obtained by the securities bureau yesterday to prevent further stock trading by Harold Russell Ryder, who has already admitted stripping his partners and their customers in Woody & Co. immediately after it was formed last November, in order to satisfy a $2,000,000 claim made against him personally by Frank Bailey, banker.

Cites Secret Ryder Withdrawals.

Mr. Washburn wrote to Richard Whitney, president of the Stock Exchange, that Mr. Ryder's secret withdrawals of assets from Woody & Co. had reached $432,826 in cash and 1,000 shares of Electric Bond and Share on Dec. 31, 1929, by the end of the first month of the concern's existence, when it filed its answers to the first questionnaire of the exchange.

"The questionnaire included these assets in a fictitious safekeeping account with Gilchrist, Bliss & Co.," Mr. Washburn wrote. "Any independent audit would have disclosed the fiction and the precarious financial condition of Woody & Co. at that time, and the danger of loss with which 175 customers are now faced would have been averted.

"This case seems to indicate the further necessity of a more rigid check upon the accuracy of the questionnaires by an independent audit. I hope that the Stock Exchange will be able to work out some method of accomplishing this result, which will lessen the risk of recurrence of the present unfortunate case."

According to the injunction application, Ryder, by persuading his partners to let him handle all dealings with Gilchrist, Bliss & Co., through which Woody & Co. cleared, was able to produce fictitious statements of the condition of a "securities safekeeping" account which he credited on paper with the assets he was converting to his own use.

This "safekeeping" account rose to $719,835 on Jan. 31, to $1,225,339 on Feb. 28, to $1,577,627 on March 31, to $1,961,171 on April 30 and to $2,043,131 on May 31. The fictitious balance, according to the injunction application, represented Mr. Ryder's "wrongful withdrawals" on June 1, when Woody & Co.'s actual account with Gilchrist, Bliss & Co. was "so depleted and undermargined that Mr. Ryder sold without his partners' knowledge more than $1,000,000 of securities belonging to the customers of Woody & Co.," thereby reducing the effective balance to $90,000.

This was the balance actually discovered when Mr. Ryder's partners, Charles L. Woody Jr. and Lucien A. Hold, in need of funds, asked Gilchrist, Bliss & Co. directly to transfer part of the supposed $2,043,131 balance from the "securities safekeeping account" for which Mr. Ryder had brought them statements. Woody & Co. went into bankruptcy on June 19.

According to the securities bureau, Mr. Ryder knew last January that Woody & Co. were insolvent and becoming more so as his withdrawals accumulated, but he continued to solicit new customers and to spend at the rate of more than $40,000 a month.

Hearing on Writ July 22.

Justice Humphrey set July 22 for Mr. Ryder to show cause why he should not be restrained permanently.

Meanwhile, the bankruptcy inquiry which has been proceeding before Federal Referee Henry K. Davis at 140 Nassau Street, was adjourned yesterday until 2 P. M. Tuesday. Instead of the public examination scheduled for yesterday, attorneys for the receiver are to confer today with Mr. Bailey, who has already admitted exacting more than $2,000,000 from Ryder for stock losses.

While Mr. Ryder and Mr. Bailey disagree in their testimony so far as to the reason for this repayment, Mr. Bailey has already conceded a moral as well as legal obligation to return some of the $2,000,000.

The return by Mr. Bailey of cash and equities amounting to more than $1,000,000 is under discussion.

An order was obtained yesterday from Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard by Samuel H. Kaufman and Milton P. Kupfer, counsel for the Irving Trust Company, as temporary receiver, directing fifty-two brokers to produce all records of orders executed for Ryder or Mr. Bailey since July, 1928.

The names of these fifty-two brokers were supplied to the receivers yesterday by Ryder as part of the cooperation which he decided to give to the receiver after two weeks of deliberation.

The brokers are:

Donald C. Appenzellar, Frederick S. Allen and Crawford Hill of Appenzellar, Allen & Hill, 55 Broadway.

Hunter van B. Berg, Beverley N. Eyre, John Kerr, William M. Newson and William R. Knobloch of Berg, Eyre & Kerr, 50 Broadway.

MEXICAN DEBT DEAL PROGRESSING HERE

Lamont Says Bankers Are Hopeful of Reaching Settlement With de Oca.

$400,000,000 IS INVOLVED

Finance Minister Is Honored at Dinner Given by the Mexican Chamber of Commerce.

Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., chairman of the International Committee of Bankers on Mexico, announced last night at a dinner in honor of Luis Montes de Oca, Mexican Minister of Finance, that the negotiations here between the Mexican Minister and the bankers toward a new settlement of Mexico's foreign debt were progressing favorably.

The negotiations involve a total debt of $400,000,000, as political disturbances in Mexico has compelled that government to omit payments on the debt since early in 1928.

The dinner at which Mr. Lamont spoke was given by the Mexican Chamber of Commerce of the United States at the Biltmore and was attended by many members of the Mexican colony here, as well as Americans interested in Mexico. It drew from Señor Montes de Oca as well as from Mr. Lamont an expression of gratification at the cordial way in which the discussions were being carried on.

Pays Tribute to Mexican People.

Mr. Lamont paid high tribute to the Mexican Finance Minister and to the character of the Mexican people as he had learned it on his several missions to that country.

"We who are carrying on these conversations with the Mexican representatives have a certain credo," he said. "We believe in Mexico. We believe in the reasonable capacity of her resources. Above all, we believe in the honor and the high intentions of her present government and in the fulfillment of these intentions by the Finance Minister whom we have the honor to greet tonight."

Mr. Lamont spoke of his happy memories of Mexico, of the beauties of the country.

"It seems to me," he continued, "that any people with such love of beauty and with the mental agility which is so apparent have a fine destiny. We of the North perhaps pride ourselves too much upon our go-getism. I am not sure that the people of Mexico have not learned much more of the art of living than we know."

Mr. Lamont said it would be inappropriate for him to speak in detail of the discussions between the Finance Minister and the bankers but that he had been authorized by the Minister to say that they both entertained hope of a favorable outlook. He explained that the discussions centred largely around the question of Mexico's reasonable capacity to pay and had been carried on in a spirit of great candor and friendliness on both sides.

"There has never been any claim by the Mexican State against the validity of the bonds," Mr. Lamont continued. "The situation simply has been owing to political difficulties in Mexico."

Mr. Lamont concluded with a tribute to the clarity, justice, capacity and patriotism shown by the Minister in the negotiations.

Political Life "Normalized."

Señor Montes de Oca was equally cordial in his references to Mr. Lamont.

"After many hardships," he said, "Mexico has normalized her political life. She has attained a stability which makes us confident of solving the other problems confronting the country."

Señor Montes de Oca described the efforts which President Ortiz Rubio is making to bring about the economic reconstruction of Mexico, especially by a program of increasing production, and he expressed confidence that improvement would be noticeable in the very near future.

Roberto Riveroll of the National Bank of Mexico spoke briefly of the debt of the Mexican National Railways, which also is being discussed at the meetings here, and he described the career of Señor Montes de Oca. Walter Ewing Hope, Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury, presented the greetings of Secretary Mellon to the Mexican official. Charles B. Williams, president of the Mexican Chamber of Commerce, presided.

SILENT ON MUSIC CENTRE.

Stokowski Says It Is Too Soon to Reveal His Plans as to Radio.

Leopold Stokowski, conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra, whose engagement as musical director of the projected entertainment centre to be built by the Rockefeller interests and operated by the Radio Corporation of America between Forty-eighth and Fifty-first Streets and Fifth and Sixth Avenues, was reported a few weeks ago, has just replied to a query "that it is too soon to make a public statement regarding radio work" and that he "will be glad to answer questions when the time is ripe."

Mr. Stokowski returned to this country on July 3 in the Europa. In an interview then he said that he had spent some of his time while abroad studying radio methods and the construction of concert halls, stages and lighting. In recent years he has also been in frequent consultation with radio and acoustical engineers on this side, and expressed himself on occasions as being deeply impressed with the unbounded musical and entertainment potentialities of broadcasting.

Arthur Judson, manager of the Philadelphia Orchestra, pointed out at the time of the report that the conductor's present contract still had four years to run and that he could not conduct symphony concerts for the new amusement centre until this contracts had expired. According to the present plans, the projected entertainment centre will take about three years to build.

Admits Escaping From Florida Jail.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HAVANA, July 11.—Edward M. Reed, an American who is being held here in connection with the shooting and wounding of a Havana policeman who surprised a gang which he believes was about to rob a business establishment, has admitted that he is Ira MacHolm, who escaped from prison at Jacksonville, Fla., while serving a fifteen-year sentence for robbery. The police have arrested one other member of the international gang, and a search is being made for the others, in whose rooms were found full sets of burglars' tools and revolvers.

ALL RUSSIAN PROGRAM PLAYED AT CONCERT

Moussorgsky's 'Pictures at an Exhibition' Is Given for First Time at Stadium.

An all Russian program was presented last night at Lewisohn Stadium by the Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra, Willem Van Hoogstraten conducting. The program included "The Russian Easter" overture by Rimsky-Korsakoff, several selections by Moussorgsky and the Fourth Symphony of Tchaikovsky.

The principal feature of the evening was the first performance at the Stadium of "Pictures at an Exhibition," by Moussorgsky. It represents a musical visit to an exhibition of paintings and consists of ten sketches inspired by the work of a friend of the composer. They vary from a vision of an old medieval castle, through the somber vaults of catacombs and conclude with a musical picture of the painter's design for the great gate at Kieff. There is also an atmospheric reproduction in music of a scene in the Tuileries and the market-place in Limoges. The composition, which lasts for about half an hour, was originally written for the piano and arranged for the orchestra by the French composer, Maurice Ravel.

The program also included "A Night on Bald Mountain" by the same composer, which depicts a scene of witches and devils during the Slavic Walpurgis Eve. At the height of the revels, after celebration of the Black Mass and the Witches' Sabbath, the spirits are dispersed by the sound of a village church bell.

The program for tonight is to consist of the overtures to Beethoven's "Coriolanus" and Weber's "Oberon," Mozart's "Jupiter" symphony, Johann Strauss's "The Beautiful Blue Danube" waltz, Richard Strauss's tone poem, "Don Juan" and "Wotan's Farewell" and the "Magic Fire Scene" from Wagner's "Die Walküre."

TICKET SALE BY WIRE IS NEW THEATRE PLAN

League at Meeting Monday to Discuss Project to Add Telegraph Charge Only to Price.

The possibility of an arrangement between the League of New York Theatres and the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies whereby telegraph offices would serve as "box offices" for legitimate playhouses is being discussed and will probably come up for consideration at a meeting of the theatre league on Monday afternoon.

Harlow D. Savage, executive secretary of the league, said yesterday that the plan, as outlined to him, sounded "very promising" and that he hoped to receive detailed proposals from the telegraph companies to present at the meeting.

At the Postal Telegraph Company it was said that the plan to utilize telegraph offices for the reservation and purchase of tickets at box office prices, plus the telegraph charge, had been proposed to Arthur Hopkins, president of the League of New York Theatres. Mr. Hopkins, it was stated, had expressed interest in the proposition and had promised to invite Postal representatives to a meeting of the theatre organization. It was also said that the plan had been discussed with George White and officials of Laurence Rivers, Inc., producing firms which are not members of the league.

A representative of the Western Union said that there was nothing definite as yet as to his company's participation in the plan, but that if it became effective it would be an extension of the "shoppers service," which the Western Union has maintained for some years.

SETS ALTITUDE MARK, BUT LOSES HER SENSES

Ruth Alexander Lands Safely After a Long Fall in Attempt at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 11 (AP).—Losing consciousness today when five miles above the earth, Ruth Alexander, young San Diego flier, awoke to find herself gliding to the landing field still 18,000 feet below. A few minutes later she was informed she probably had set an altitude record of about 26,600 feet.

The record for light planes piloted by women was 20,000 feet, set by Miss Alexander July 4 in the same 90-horsepower low-wing monoplane.

Exhaustion of her oxygen supply was the explanation given by the flier for her lapse from consciousness when she landed, still dazed, at Lindbergh Field.

"The last thing I noted was 22,000 feet," she said, pointing to the shakily penciled numbers on a sheet of cardboard attached to the instrument panel of the plane. "My oxygen was pretty low and I was still climbing.

"Then I looked at my altimeter and it showed 18,000 feet. I couldn't realize what was wrong and thought that something was haywire with the instrument. I looked at my oxygen; I still had the tube between my teeth and was holding the stick in my hand—but the oxygen was gone. Then I realized I had been 'out.'

"The plane was in a gentle bank, slowly settling. It didn't feel so good without any oxygen, so I dived pretty sharply to about 7,000 feet and then came down more slowly."

UPLAND PARK RULING AUG. 5

Appeal Planned if Awards for Land Are Not Modified.

Supreme Court Justice Leander B. Faber, whose tentative awards of $79,900 for the proposed Upland Park addition have aroused a storm of protest from Jamaic owners who are to be assessed for the money, will render a decision on Aug. 5, it was learned yesterday. The protesting groups plan to appeal to a higher court if Justice Faber decides against them.

Henry C. Frey, attorney for the protestants, announced that the city did not act illegally in the proceeding, because search of the records had disclosed that a petition asking the city to acquire the land and bearing the names of more than fifty property owners in the vicinity had been approved on June 5, 1924, by the local board and referred to the Board of Estimate, where it was also approved.

2,000 AT CEMETERY TO SEE 'GHOST' WALK

West Long Branch Police Close the Grounds, but Crowds Wait in Cars Outside.

RAIN FAILS TO ROUT THEM

Firemen Sworn as Deputies to Keep Throng Away—Autoists Reported Seeing Spectre Last Sunday.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 11.—A crowd of 2,000 "ghost hunters" stormed the gates and walls of Greenwood Cemetery here tonight on the chance that they might see a spirit walk among the trees. The crowd seemed in the grip of mob hysteria and remained at the cemetery in the hope of being horrified despite a terrific rain and electrical storm and efforts of the police to discourage it.

This is the sixth night of a "ghost scare" that has set the nerves of the townspeople on edge. Last Sunday a party of young men and women drove wildly into town and told of a tall, white spectre that bounded among the trees of the old cemetery. Interest grew swiftly and every midnight since has seen a larger crowd at the cemetery waiting for the ghost to walk again.

Tonight the crowd started gathering early. By 9 o'clock there were more than 1,000 at the cemetery sitting in automobiles outside the walls. Those who had gone on previous nights had been accustomed to keep the watch within the cemetery. But last night, when some one had shouted that the ghost was walking and women had screamed and fainted and men had run, several of the old tombstones were knocked over. Tonight Chief of Police Robert Hoyt, who saw no ghost but is angered about the tombstones, ordered the cemetery cleared.

The steadily increasing crowd waited quietly throughout the early evening, but shortly after 9 o'clock lightning flashed across the sky and a heavy rain fell. A few automobile drivers attempted to get back to town but the roads near the cemetery were so blocked by other cars that they could not get through.

At the height of the storm several women in cars parked in a lane that runs between the Greenwood Cemetery and a second burial ground screamed that the doors of vaults near them were swinging as the lightning flashed. This roused the crowd into action and they tried to get into the cemetery to look at the vaults.

Chief Hoyt, with eight men to aid him, tried to keep them beyond the walls, but found that impossible. A call was sent to town and twenty volunteer firemen rushed to the cemetery. They were sworn in as police deputies and ordered to keep the cemetery cleared.

So far, although there have been many false alarms, no one tonight has seriously asserted he has seen the ghost. It is supposed to hover frequently over the centre tombstone of the Burchell plot, owned by one of the town's oldest and most prominent families.

WILLIAM III STATUE SOLD TO JUNK DEALER

'King Billy' Had Stood for Half a Century as Challenge to Irish Inhabitants.

BOYLE, County Roscommon, Irish Free State, July 11 (Canadian Press.)—The statue of William III, King of England and Prince of Orange, erected by an Earl of Kingston fifty years ago, has reached the last stage of its career. It has been sold to a metal dealer for a few shillings and will be melted down and used for building purposes.

The statue, which originally stood on the bridge in the centre of this little town, was known locally as "King Billly." For half a century it has stood as a challenge to the inhabitants, few of whom adhere to the same faith as did William. Many a time in recent years the statue has been tarred and feathered and painted in the new national colors overnight.

It was thrown into the River Shannon, from which it was retrieved, painted white and set up on a high monument in the local tennis club grounds by Orange partisans. There it was left undisturbed for a time, but one morning local police found "King Billy" minus a head. Once, at the height of Republican agitation, a branch was placed in one hand and a De Valera flag in the other.

A year ago "King Billy's" battered form was thrown from the pedestal in the tennis grounds and remained a long time on the ground. Now the Town Council has agreed to sell it to the metal dealer.

AMOS 'N' ANDY OFF THE AIR.

Are on Their Way to Hollywood, Where They Will Broadcast Again.

Amos 'n' Andy will miss their radio rendezvous with the nation's listeners tonight for the first time since they began the current series of sketches over the WJZ network.

They left last night for Hollywood, where they will become movie actors in a picture to be called "Check and Double Check." They hope to arrive in Los Angeles on Monday in time to go on the air as usual at 7 P. M., Eastern Daylight Saving Time. They will broadcast on schedule from Los Angeles for the next two or three months.

The program director of WJZ has what he terms a surprise program in store for listeners tonight in place of Amos 'n' Andy, the Kingfish, Lightning, Madam Queen and Ruby Taylor.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Joe Lewis, comedian; Tashamira, dancer, and Ned Wever have been engaged for "The Second Little Show," now in rehearsal and scheduled to open at the Royale Theatre the last week in August.

"The Friars Road Show," recently seen in Asbury Park and Atlantic City, will give two more performances at Long Beach and Brighton Beach to aid the treasury of the Friars Club. Under the stage direction of S. Jay Kaufman, the show will be presented a week from tonight at the Castle Theatre, Long Beach, and the following evening, Sunday, July 20, at the Brighton Theatre, Brighton Beach.

"Kebec," a play by Cyrus Wood, may be presented on Broadway in the Fall by Albert Bannister, whose production of "Stepping Sisters" is at the Royale Theatre.

Fannie and Kitty Watson have been added to the vaudeville bill opening today at the Palace.

THE SCREEN

A Party on Long Island.

LET US BE GAY, with Norma Shearer, Rod La Rocque, Marie Dressler, Gilbert Emery, Hedda Hopper, Raymond Hackett, Sally Eilers, Tyrrell Davis, Wilfred Noy, William O'Brien and Sybil Grove; news reel and stage presentation. At the Capitol.

Rachel Crothers's brief history of the life that is lived along certain shores of Long Island has come by devious methods to the screen at the Capitol. It has come fairly complete—perhaps more than that—with the dowager and the divorced Browns up to their old tricks. It is a mirthful affair, eight reels (or is it?) of carefree madness. Then there is an ending, a happy ending. Life continues on Long Island . . .

The Browns were married for a time and then they were divorced. Kitty sought the expansive atmosphere of Paris and Bob presumably roamed the Island fastnesses. Ultimately they were brought together under the same roof. What happened is obvious—especially when other men were present and other women. But Long Island is like that; after a week-end of dialogue and misunderstanding, there is always a happy conclusion. And a change at Jamaica.

As a plot the theme of "Let Us Be Gay" has been noted by numerous stage contributors since Shakespeare. Young men are always meeting young women—say, of Westchester—when they climb from the white-tiled pools near Babylon. What makes the meeting of the surprised Browns particularly gay is, therefore, not so much that they did as how. And under that heading come, first, the writings of Rachel Crothers and then the acting of Norma Shearer, Marie Dressler, Rod La Rocque and Gilbert Emery. And others.

Miss Crothers apparently admits that there's nothing new under the Island sun. She so gives up pretensions and concentrates on characterization. Mrs. Boucicault smoked cigars in the play; she doesn't in the film—for reasons that are obvious, if not good. She still calls loudly, however; she still has her faculty for making deep, sinister remarks; she still denies eccentricity. And so, as an example of Miss Crothers's contribution to the play, she is far above the mere proprietor of the Long Island home in which the Browns meet again.

The four main personages noted above are all excellent in their rôles; but if one stands out among the rest it is Miss Dressler—as the dowager. She stamps around her house, argues with the butler, sets her plots, and ultimately is "more than subtle"—as she claims. She does it all with an expression and an air that is practically Southamptonian. Miss Shearer makes eyes and attaches men's hearts to her sleeve with the most casual of gestures.

The ending of "Let Us Be Gay" is unfortunate. It comes abruptly, and with tears and a manner of "I won't do it again." It does not fit in well with what has gone before; it is not in keeping with the characterization. Kitty is one minute laughing at her former husband and the next is agreeing to start all over with him. She, the Long Island Lorelei, the young lady who had been asked by Mrs. Boucicault to rescue her granddaughter from the toils of Bob. Sic transit.

The Capitol's stage show is something called "Dizzy Daze" and in it are Herman Timberg, Barbara Blair, Leo Chalzel, Sammy Timberg, the Capitolians and a group known as "Chester Hale's Dizzy Debs." The theatre has gone Island even to its stage.

Portrait of an Engineer.

A MAN FROM WYOMING, with Gary Cooper, June Collyer, Regis Toomey, Morgan Farley, E. H. Calvert, Mary Foy, Emil Chautard, Ed Deering, William B. Davidson and Ben Hall; news reel and stage presentation. At the Paramount.

This is a story of how romance came to war-torn France. It is the history of just an engineer from Wyoming and a poor little rich girl. Meeting on the battlefields, they fall in love. They marry secretly, although happiness is not to last. For soon the wife thinks her warrior husband dead and seeks to drown her sorrow in forced gayety. He leaves the hospital and goes to another one in Nice. He sees here there; he does not understand. * * *

But, to start at the beginning: Jim Baker builds bridges and only incidentally rides narrow cables over chasms. At the opening of the war he enlists, for Jim is always one to love a fight. In France he is a Captain of engineers. His way presently crosses that of Patricia Hunter (Pat, for short), who is in the Red Cross or something, and just at the moment is away without leave. Jim arrests her. Big, rugged Jim, the bridge-builder.

After just a few short hours Jim sends his charming little prisoner back to the base. But late that night, when all is still, she returns to him and says that youth is youth and happiness is happiness. They seize the hour, without the Latin tag, and (possibly as a concession to the board of censors) decide to get married. The honeymoon is short; alas, the gods of war decree that Jim must build more bridges. He departs for same.

Then one day Pat reads the casualty list and finds her husband's name. She breaks down, fainting at her own court-martial for having been A. W. O. L. The other girls don't know and they tell her to pay no attention to courts, but to be gay. She decides on this just before her transfer to a hospital at Nice. When Jim hobbles to her home she is surrounded by champagne, music and men. The bridge-builder thinks she has forgotten, that she doesn't love him, that she is too used to wealth, anyway. They part.

The Captain, of course, leaves the hospital before he is well and hurries to the front. He is there just long enough to hear of the armistice, to return after that to the old headquarters where he and Pat once were so happy. And there she is, all ready to go to Wyoming. They don't say much to each other, but their actions show that nevermore will a misunderstanding occur.

Gary Cooper takes the part of Jim and June Collyer is Patricia. She is very pretty, of course, and it was one of her conversational remarks that perhaps best described "A Man From Wyoming." About something else altogether, she said:

"It isn't the heat; it's the stupidity."

The Paramount, at all events, is cool.

The stage presentation is called "Sky High"—a Frank Cambria production. Those featured in it are Maud Hilton and Connie Almy, the Campus Four, Paul and Ferral and the Fred Evans Fliers. Many of them sing and practically all of them dance. Oscar Baum conducts the orchestra.

"LAWFUL LARCENY" SHOWN.

Lowell Sherman and Bebe Daniels Appear at the Globe.

LAWFUL LARCENY, with Bebe Daniels, Lowell Sherman, Kenneth Thomson, Olive Tell, Furnell B. Pratt and others, adapted from the Samuel Shipman play and directed by Lowell Sherman; program of sound shorts, including newsreel and cartoon. At the Globe.

The reliable Lowell Sherman, who usually can be depended upon to bolster any film, does as much for "Lawful Larceny," the attraction at the Globe, in which Bebe Daniels does well by her part and Kenneth Thomson emerges as an increasingly able performer.

The picture is an adaptation of the play by Samuel Shipman and tells of the successful efforts of a wife to regain money and securities from a woman who has mulcted them from her gullible husband. The dialogue is filled with pseudo epigrammatic expressions that, at moments, sound like inane vaudeville philosophy. But when the characters are more themselves and leave the imprint of their own personalities on their parts the picture picks up considerably.

Lowell Sherman, for example, as a crook out "to do in" another (the woman who makes a practice of fleecing men) when he says things one is sure were inserted by himself, is capital. When he resorts to the fast passages of stilted dialogue he is not so good. Olive Tell, as the adventuress, declaims in an artificial manner supposed common to women of her sort.

Despite the innumerable vague insinuations that start and end nowhere as, "you mean that she—," or "and that house is—?" the film is fairly diverting and fast moving enough to be pleasant entertainment for an hour or so.

Needless to say, the wife regains her husband's lost fortune by becoming the other woman's secretary and eventually wins from her the man she loves. Everything is happy toward the end, and there is moonlight, but no roses.

'SWEET MAMMA' AT STRAND.

Alice White Succeeds in Breaking Up Gang of Crooks.

SWEET MAMMA, with Alice White, David Manners, Kenneth Thomson, Rita Flynn, Lee Moran, Richard Cramer and Robert Elliott, directed by Edward Kline; program of sound shorts including newsreel. At the Warners' Strand.

The large-eyed Alice White, of the vapid stare succeeds in breaking up a gang of crooks this week on the screen of the Strand. "Sweet Mamma," the title of this film, may have nothing to do with the contents of the picture, but it succeeds in being as irrelevant as the photoplay is innocuous.

"Sweet Mamma" is filled with a flavor of peculiar, romantic sentiment that crops up at irregular intervals. For example, when the hero, David Manners, takes Miss White in his arms to kiss her she looks soulfully up at him and whispers lovingly, "You big bozo!"

She also tells him that his newly acquired business of being an accomplice to a racketeer, who forces him to wear dinner clothes and lounge in modernistic rooms that were probably built in an armory, "is not respectable." This from one who was a late member of the Merry Maids Burlesque Company.

The boy goes wrong, and, in an effort to put him on the right path and capture the leader of the gang, the girl takes a job in the night club which the gang leader owns. The girl tips off a proposed hold-up, and the boy, to shield her, confesses that he squealed. The gang is about to force him to jump from a penthouse roof when the marines—or was it the homicide squad—break in on the scene and save the day.

The ghosts of almost all the past Broadway and racketeer films crop up at some point in this photoplay. It is nice to meet old friends again.

ASBURY PARK THEATRE HOLDS GALA OPENING

Stage and Screen Stars and Motion Picture Executives Take Part in Celebration.

Special to The New York Times.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 11.—With "Buddy" Rogers, Nancy Carroll and Ed Wynn appearing in person on the bill, and theatrical and social celebrities filling the audience, the new theatre here, the Asbury Park Paramount, was opened tonight. The entire proceeds of the performance will be donated to Monmouth County charities by the Paramount-Publix Corporation, which has leased the house for ten years. Summer colonists from the North Jersey shore were present.

Paul Ash and his orchestra, with Victor Moore, "Ginger" Rogers, the four Marx brothers and others appeared in the stage show, while Adolph Zukor, Jesse Lasky and other motion picture executives attended the opening.

The theatre, which seats 2,000 persons, is part of the $3,000,000 convention hall which has been completed after twelve years of planning.

W. H. HILL MARRIES A FORMER ACTRESS

Organizer in Hoover Boom in This State Weds Miss Anne Sands at Paul Smith's.

A BINGHAMTON PUBLISHER

Bride, a Graduate of Powers Drama School, Sang Leading Musical Comedy Roles.

Special to The New York Times.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 11.—Announcement was made here today of the marriage yesterday of William H. Hill, one of the organizers in this State of the boom for Herbert Hoover for President, to Miss Anne Sands, a former actress, of New York City. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Peters at Paul Smith's in the Adirondacks.

Mr. Hill, who was a widower, is the publisher of The Binghamton Sun. He gained nation-wide attention in the Republican Presidential campaign in 1928 through his work in behalf of the President. His home is in Johnson City, a suburb of Binghamton. It was also announced that the couple would spend their honeymoon in the Adirondacks, returning to the Hill home, West Lawn Farms, early in the Fall. Mr. Hill's first wife, who was Miss Maud Evelyn Johnson, died in 1915. They had two children.

Mrs. Hill, a graduate of the Powers School of Dramatic Art in Boston, is a native of Vermont. About five years ago she retired from the stage, after having sung in the leading rôles in "The Poor Little Ritz Girl," "Love Birds" and "Little Jesse James." She made many visits to Johnson City before her marriage to Mr. Hill.

Mr. Hill served in the State Senate as the representative of the Broome-Delaware district and later was a Representative in Congress. He is also a member of the board of the Bank of Manhattan in New York City.

MISS LOWMAN TO WED WILLIAM JARDINE JR.

Daughter of Aide to Mellon Is Engaged to Son of Former Secretary of Agriculture.

Special to The New York Times.

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 11.—The Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Seymour Lowman of Elmira and Washington announced today the engagement of their youngest daughter, Miss Katherine Lowman, to William M. Jardine Jr., son of former Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. William M. Jardine of Washington. The wedding will take place late this Fall.

Miss Lowman made her début in Washington last Winter. She is a graduate of the Emma Willard School, Troy, N. Y., and also attended the National School of Applied and Fine Arts, Washington. Mr. Jardine is connected with the Radio Commission in that city.

Other Engagements

Lisle Cannon—Phippen.

Special to The New York Times.

EAST ROCKAWAY, L. I., July 11.—Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lisle Cannon of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Virginia Lisle Cannon, to William Phippen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Phippen of Brooklyn. Miss Lisle Cannon is a graduate of the class of 1930 of the Lynbrook High School and received honors in scholarship and athletics. The date of the marriage has not been set.

Lewis—Lorenzo.

Special to The New York Times.

HAMDEN, Conn., July 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Lewis of Hamden have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Annette Lewis, to Lieut. Commander William J. Lorenzo, U. S. N.

Miss Lewis was graduated from the New Haven Normal School in 1928 and has been teaching in Waterford and Montville.

Lieut. Commander Lorenzo was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1915. He is now with the submarine division in New London.

2 MINERS DIE IN FALL OF 2,000 FEET IN CAGE

6 Are Injured, When Fire Causes $1,000,000 Loss in the Homestake Mine.

LEAD, S. D., July 11 (AP).—Two miners were killed and six were injured in a fire that destroyed three buildings at the Homestake Gold Mine last night.

Scotty East and Sidney Wellman were the miners killed. They were in the elevator cage when the engineer at the top of the shaft had to run from the flames. They dropped 2,000 feet to the 2,300 foot level of the shaft.

The fire was confined to the surface levels.

About 600 men at work in the mine were brought to safety by means of ladders and hoists.

The damage to the Homestake Mine was more than $1,000,000. The mine, in the northern Black Hills, is the largest producer of gold in the United States.

The buildings destroyed were the Ellison hoist, at the top of the largest shaft, the pressure room and the dry room, where the miners change their clothes.

The fire is believed to have started from an oil explosion in the compressor room. The hoist was the principal one of the company properties and one of the largest in the country.

New Jersey to Honor War Hero.

EAST ORANGE, N. J., July 11.—Harry N. Wildnauer, 120 North Clinton Parkway, East Orange, is to receive the State's Distinguished Service Medal at Camp Larson, Seagirt, Sunday, he was informed today in general orders from the Adjutant General's office. The medal is to be awarded for extraordinary heroism in the Boise de Consenvoye, in the campaign north of Verdun Oct. 10 and 11, 1918.

EAST HAMPTON, L. I., July 11.—The Hampton Players in their first East Hampton appearance of the season presented "Let's Get Married," the comedy by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, before a large audience this evening at the private theatre on the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herter at Georgica.

In the audience were:

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenso E. Woodhouse, Dr. and Mrs. Shepard Krech, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Scott McLanahan, Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Eltinge F. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. George Ethridge, Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Wurzburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ellery James, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dickerman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Seaman, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Ordway, Miss Ruth B. Moran, Mrs. Theron G. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Pynchon Jr. gave a dinner this evening for their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. Stapley Wonham of Greenwich, Richard Ehret Jr. of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brewster Jr. of Baltimore, and also Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tucker of Mill Neck, L. I.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Powell of Southampton and Mrs. Boothe Brokaw, Mrs. Cobb Chapman, Mrs. Seymour Helm, Charles Baskerville, Donald Freeman, Stephen Brody and W. F. Comstedt.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick K. Hollister entertained at dinner in honor of Mrs. Herbert Parker of St. Louis, who is the house guest this week of Mrs. Henry Dater.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Perot gave a dinner tonight at Blue Horizons, their place on Lily Pond Lane, afterward taking their guests to the performance of the Hampton Players.

Many of the East Hampton colony will attend the race meeting tomorrow at the Southampton Riding and Hunt Club.

East Hampton owners who will have horses competing in the race meet are Robert Appleton, Alfred D. Bell, Scott McLanahan, August Rust-Oppenheim, Mrs. William D. Duryea, Mrs. Grace Patterson and Newell J. Ward Jr.

The annual invitation yacht race at the Devon Yacht Club tomorrow will bring nearly a hundred yachtsmen to the club, with the four-cornered race between the Star Class boats of the Sebonac, Devon, Shelter Island and North Fork Yacht Clubs competing. Preceding the race the officers of the Devon Yacht Club will entertain the visitors at luncheon. On the reception committee are Dr. Ogden M. Edwards Jr., commodore; Harry L. Jefferys, vice commodore; Dickson B. Potter, rear commodore; George L. MCAlpin, Chester Cloud, Henry R. Sutphen and Sturtevant Erdmann.

MISS LACY TO WED TODAY.

Marriage to E. S. Chappelear Will Take Place in Brookline.

Special to The New York Times.

BROOKLINE, Mass., July 11.—Miss Margaret Lacy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Francis Lacy of Allston, will be married to Edgar S. Chappelear, vice president of the Bankers Trust Company of New York, in St. Aidan's Church here at 9:30 tomorrow morning. The Rev. Dr. John T. Creagh, the rector, will perform the ceremony. A wedding breakfast will be held in the Hotel Somerset. The couple will tour Europe for two months and will be at home at 775 Park Avenue, New York, after Oct. 15.

Miss Lacy will be attended by her sister, Marion, and Richard Power of New York will be best man. Miss Lacy has been a buyer for William Filene & Sons Company of Boston for several years. The bridegroom is a graduate of Exeter, Dartmouth and the Harvard School of Business Administration.

Macklin—Cross.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, July 11.—The marriage of Miss Emily Stewart Macklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Macklin, to Ensign John H. Cross, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cross of Canandaigua, N. Y., will take place on July 26 at Mount Nebo, Ilchester, Md., the Summer home of Miss Macklin's parents.

MOTORIST PAYS RAILROAD.

Central Vermont Again Gets Damages for Injury to Engine.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., July 11 (AP).—For the second time within as many months, the Central Vermont Railway has succeeded in collecting from a motorist who was incautious enough to try conclusions with one of the line's locomotives.

Announcement was made today by Horace T. Powers, attorney for the railroad, of the settlement out of court of an action against George H. Smith of West Berlin for $19.60 for repairs to a locomotive damaged by Smith's automobile.

The railway contended that Smith drove onto a crossing north of Riverton station, despite the warning of the crossing bell and semaphore, supplemented by the train's whistle and bell. The automobile was badly damaged, but Smith was uninjured in the collision.

Garden Exhibits to Aid Charity.

Special to The New York Times.

PORT JEFFERSON, L. I., July 11.—Miss Lucile Thornton of St. James and Mrs. Henry J. S. Hall will show their gardens on next Thursday for the benefit of the Society for Lending Comforts to the Sick, which is raising money to endow a bed in the Mather Hospital at Port Jefferson. The garden tea for the event will be held at the home of Anna Blydensburgh, Middle Country Road, Smithtown Branch.

Codding Picked as Sullivan Aide.

Arthur Codding of 200 Dyckman Street, chief clerk of the Washington Heights magistrate's court, was appointed yesterday as secretary to Commissioner Frank X. Sullivan of the Board of Transportation to succeed John H. Ertz, who resigned to become a deputy commissioner of the Department of Public Welfare. The post carries a salary of $4,800. Mr. Codding will begin his duties on July 16.

SHANGHAI, July 11 (AP).—Temperatures near the century mark are causing widespread suffering among the poorer classes of the Yangtse Valley. Shanghai's poor are sleeping on sidewalks and in gutters to escape the heat.

CHARLOTTE STEERS MARRIED IN GARDEN

Weds Paul Van Winkle at Her Parents' Home, Ridgmour, Gedney Farms.

FATHER GIVES HER AWAY

Bishop Arthur S. Lloyd Performs Ceremony—Couple to Take Honeymoon Trip to Bermuda.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 11.—The marriage of Miss Charlotte Steers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton I. Steers of Ridgmour, Gedney Farms, N. Y., to Paul Van Winkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Van Winkle of Scarsdale, took place this afternoon in the garden of the home of the bride's parents.

Members of the families and a few intimate friends attended the ceremony, which was performed by Suffragan Bishop Arthur Lloyd of the diocese of New York. A small reception followed.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, had her sister, Mrs. George Van Trump Burgess, as her matron of honor and only attendant. Douglas Barber of White Plains was Mr. Van Winkle's best man.

The bride attended Tower Hill School in Wilmington, Del., and Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville. Mr. Van Winkle was graduated from Lehigh University with the class of 1929 and is a member of Chi Phi fraternity. He is associated with the Irving Trust Company of New York City.

The couple will sail tomorrow morning for a wedding trip to Bermuda. After their return they will live in Fleetwood.

MRS. GOELET TO GIVE BALL IN NEWPORT

Party Will Officially Open Ochre Court, Her Villa, Which Has Been Renovated.

FLOWER SHOW A SUCCESS

Sale at Home of Mrs. John Elliott Is to Be for Welfare Work of Dr. Grenfell in Labrador.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 11.—The first big ball of the season is to take place on Saturday evening, Aug. 16, at Ochre Court. On this occasion Mrs. Robert Goelet will open officially the villa that was formerly the home of the late Mrs. Ogden Goelet and which since the close of last season has been undergoing renovation.

The Nautilus Club is opening for the season this evening.

The annual flower show at the Casino that closed on Thursday evening was one of the most successful exhibits of the kind that has ever been given in Newport. It far exceeded either of three previous ones that have been given at the Casino under the joint auspices of the Newport Garden Association, the Newport Horticultural Society and the South County Garden Club.

Mrs. Daniel B. Fearing, who was chairman of the show committee this year, yesterday expressed her pleasure over the success of the show and extended thanks to all who assisted.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt have concluded a brief visit in Newport on their yacht Ara.

Commodore Vincent Astor and former Commodore Arthur Curtiss James again yesterday had parties out on the Nourmahal and Aloha for the races between the cup defender candidates.

A sale will be held next Friday afternoon at Lilliput, the home of Mrs. John Elliott, for the benefit of the work of Dr. Wilfred C. Grenfell in Labrador.

The patrons and patronesses include Mrs. Nicholas Brown, Mrs. Daniel B. Fearing, Mrs. T. Shaw Safe, Admiral and Mrs. William S. Sims, Dr. and Mrs. Roderick Terry, Dr. Henry Barton Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. John du Fais.

Commendatore Emmanuele Gazzi, Italian Consul General of New York, is to be a week-end guest of Mrs. George Mesta at The Rocks.

The patronesses for the concert to be given by Miska Merson, Hungarian pianist, at the Art Association on July 21, under the patronage of Count Széchényi, Hungarian Minister, and Countess Széchényi, whose guest he is, include Mrs. Gibson Fahnestock, Mrs. Richard P. Worrall, Mrs. Henry P. Perry, Mrs. Henry F. Michell, Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. T. Shaw Safe, Mrs. Reginald Norman, Mrs. Walter B. James and Mrs. E. D. Pearce. Mrs. Vanderbilt Sr., Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James, Mrs. Harrison Morris and Countess Széchényi have taken boxes.

The wedding of Miss Hope Bennett, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Bennett of New York, and Walter Francis Wyeth Jr. of West Newton, Mass., is to be a Newport event, probably next June. It had been said that the wedding would take place this Summer, but Mrs. Bennett said yesterday that this was incorrect. Dr. Bennett and his family are at their Summer home, Wildacre.

Swanhurst, the former Summer home of the late Mrs. George L. Rives and now owned by the Art Association of Newport, which supervises there the Swanhurst School of Arts, yesterday afternoon was the scene of the annual fair given for the benefit of the Woman's Aid of the Newport Hospital.

Mrs. William R. Hunter, president of the aid, acted as chairman of the fair committee assised by Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Mrs. Moses Taylor, Mrs. Edgar Phelps and Mrs. Livingston Hunt.

Electrical Appliances Increase Consumption

The many labor-saving, electrical household appliances which have come into vogue in recent years have opened up enormous commercial possibilities for the electric light and power industry. Approximately 30% of the electric energy now required for domestic purposes is consumed by electrical household appliances. The decided trend toward the extension of their use is destined to further augment central station output.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks Move Irregularly Lower—Wheat Declines to New Low for Year.

Having advanced for three successive days, the stock market yesterday proved vulnerable to the pressure of profit-taking and renewed short-selling. Opening prices were generally higher than the previous day's closing; but when selling appeared the market turned dull and moved irregularly lower. During the last hour the recession became somewhat more pronounced, and final prices were the poorest of the day.

The volume of business done again showed a marked shrinkage on the reaction, yesterday's turnover being only about three-quarters of the previous day's. This tendency for volume to fall off when prices decline and to expand on rallies has been noted in Wall Street as an encouraging sign. Although the general course of prices was downward throughout the day losses at the end were small and the average price of representative issues retained most of Thursday's enhancement.

The bond market again showed improvement, although foreign issues were in somewhat less favor. The high price paid for the Treasury's issue of $50,000,000 bills, which were sold on an average yield basis of 1⅞ per cent, gave further evidence of the keen demand among the banks for short liquid investments. It is evident that such low yields must ultimately stimulate a better demand for fixed interest-bearing securities of less exalted merit but greater return.

In the commodity markets weakness prevailed. Wheat prices were almost 2 cents higher at one time on reports of extensive damage to the crop in the Northwest by the continued heat and drought. News of rainfall in Canadian wheat territory quickly reversed the market, however, and prices sank to fractional new lows for the season, finishing about 2 cents below the previous close. July wheat ended the day at 86½ cents a bushel, having at one time touched 85⅞ cents. Corn was somewhat higher, the official crop report having been regarded as more favorable to that grain than to wheat.

Cotton felt the influence of lower wheat and stock prices. Although reports continued to come in of extremely hot weather, it was felt that that development had already been discounted. A decline of over a quarter of a cent left final prices 29 to 36 points lower. Local spot finished at 13.10 cents, a drop of 20 points.

The money market gave signs of having completed the readjustments incident to the mid-year settlements and the holiday currency demands. The official call money rate fell to 2 per cent, once more, after renewing at 2½ per cent and Federal funds were quoted at 1½ per cent.

Foreign exchanges were slightly reactionary, with the exception of the Swiss franc, which again moved into new high ground for the year to date. The strength in Swiss francs may be the result of remittances to the Bank for International Settlements, although there is no definite indication whether this is so or not. The new international bank cannot fail, of course, to be an important factor in exchange movements in the future.

GAIN FOR BANKING GROUP.

Marine-Midland Corporation's Resources Up $107,103,398.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 11 (AP).—Total resources of the Marine-Midland Corporation, a banking group, on June 30 were $628,059,991, representing an increase of $107,103,398 since Dec. 31, 1929, the semi-annual consolidated financial statement issued here today discloses. Estimated net revenue for this period is $1.05 a share on 5,529,000 shares.

Deposits of June 30 were $506,913,063 after giving effect to the acquisition of the Marine-Midland Trust Company of New York, an increase of $75,439,840, while surplus increased to $29,910,000 from $19,670,000. Undivided profits were $18,528,783, an increase of $2,463,425.

Marine-Midland has banks in New York City, Buffalo, Rochester, Niagara Falls, Jamestown, Binghamton, Troy and other cities in New York State.

BANK RATE CUT IN ATLANTA.

Federal Reserve Board Announces Reduction From 4 to 3½%.

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP).—The Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta has reduced its rediscount rate from 4 per cent to 3½ per cent, effective tomorrow.

The new rate, announced here by the Federal Reserve Board, is effective on all classse of paper of all maturities. The board offered no comment.

Will Sift Vineland Trust Closing.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., July 11.—Acceding to the request of Supreme Court Justice Donges for appointment of a special prosecutor to determine whether there had been criminal responsibility in connection with the closing of the Vineland Trust Company, Attorney General Stevens today named Duane E. Minard, one of his assistants, to handle the matter.

Bankers to Discuss Mergers.

The question of bank mergers and resultant problems of personnel will be discussed at the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association in Cleveland on Sept. 29. Branch and group banking will also be discussed, as well as investment and corporate trusts.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

News, Comment and Incident, On the Stock Exchange and In the Financial Markets.

Stocks pursued an uneven course yesterday, displaying quiet strength in the morning and then pointing downward in the late dealings. The volume on the Stock Exchange was 1,525,570 shares, compared with 2,167,050 shares on the day before. The selling which developed in the afternoon coincided with fresh weakness in the commodity markets, so Wall Street naturally assumed that the two movements were correlated. At any rate, there was no other apparent explanation for the reaction in the stock market. Speculative interests considered it significant that the pace of trading slackened sharply as weakness developed. Among the market leaders which ended the day behind minus signs after moderate strength in the morning were United States Steel, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Consolidated Gas, J. I. Case and Air Reduction. The net losses, however, were small.

Radio's Report Awaited.

It is expected now that the Radio Corporation's report for the first half of the year will be mailed to stockholders on or before Aug. 15. Unusual interest will attach to the statement in view of the absence of a report covering the first quarter of the year, the first periodical report to be omitted by the company since its formation. The first seven months of the year have witnessed the liquidation of excess inventories, the reorganization of the company into a manufacturing as well as a merchandising enterprise and preparation of new production schedules for the Autumn season.

End of the Mid-Year Strain.

The reappearance yesterday of a rate of 2 per cent for call money at the money desk of the Stock Exchange signified the completion of the period of firmer money brought on by the mid-year demands upon the market. Outside the Exchange 2 per cent money has been available for several days; yesterday none could be lent at that figure, and even at 1½ per cent the demand for funds was light. A striking indication of the extent of the ease in credit was provided by the price of Federal Reserve funds, which dropped to 1½ per cent, the lowest figure on record.

Austrian Loan Near.

Arrangements for an international loan to Austria, which have been reported in dispatches to be under discussion, are understood to be nearing completion. It is expected that the final plans will be drawn up early next week and the bonds offered soon thereafter in several markets. The amount of the loan is generally estimated at about $60,000,000, of which less than half is likely to be offered in New York.

***

Our Trusts Abroad.

Some investment trust executives here report that they are selling substantial blocks of their stocks abroad, particularly in England. A few of these issues are traded on the London Stock Exchange, while others are traded on a basis similar to our over-the-counter transactions. It is pointed out that England offers a ready market for these securities because investors there are accustomed to the trust idea.

***

Providing a New Outlet.

The offering of $15,000,000 of bonds by the Reading Company, presumably to finance part of its electrification, called attention in railroad circles yesterday to how the railroads, which always have provided a large amount of buying for coal, steel, manufacturing and other industries, steadily increase the scope of their buying. The outstanding electrification of the country is the $100,000,000 project of the Pennsylvania, and it apparently is the first of a number of such moves due from time to time. Because the equipment companies have improved their products so that the amount done by a unit steadily increases, and because the railroads use these improved units more efficiently than ever before, demand for steam locomotives has declined in recent years. Electrification, however, will supply a new outlet for railroad capital funds which will tend to offset the changes in the older equipment field.

A Sidelight on Bond Buying.

One explanation for the steady advance in United States Government obligations during recent weeks, while only moderate gains have been made by other bond groups, is that many banks and institutions have adopted a policy of employing their funds temporarily in readily marketable securities so that with any change in the complexion of the money market and in stocks they will be in a position to step in without delay. Certainly the buying of general bonds by banks has not been heavy, although this week the purchases of high-grade railroad bonds by institutions have carried prices well up from the recent lows. Short-term obligations of all kinds are at a premium, reflecting, of course, the current money market.

Steel's Floating Supply.

The decline of almost 300,000 shares in the floating supply of the common stock of the United States Steel Corporation during the second quarter of this year indicates substantial buying for investment purposes in that period. Steel common now in brokers' hands is 18.57 per cent of the amount outstanding, which is the smallest percentage since these records were started a few years after the organization of the company. The previous low point was 20.4 per cent at the end of the June quarter in 1924.

Believe Worst Has Been Seen.

Several chief executives of electric and gas companies have had occasion in the last few days to express publicly the opinion that the bottom of the depression has been reached. This, it is pointed out, applies as much to general industry as to the sales of power, current or fuel, which are measuring sticks of the former. While the seasonal trend of the utility business is expected to continue moderately downward, as in past years, it is the abnormal falling off in electric and gas output that is seen by utility men as having spent its force, and production for the rest of the year is expected to run abreast of 1929.

MONEY.

Friday, July 11, 1930.

Money market was quiet and steady. On the Stock Exchange, day loans renewed at 2½ per cent, followed by a cut to 2 for new funds. There were reports of cheaper accommodation in the Street trading when the minimum rate on the board was established, but the rumors could not be confirmed. Supply appeared just as ample as it had been all along, but demand remained light. Time money was dull, except for a little four months' money at 3 per cent. Acceptances and commercial paper were dull and unchanged.

$3 A SHARE EARNED BY TRANSAMERICA

Consolidated Net Profit in 1929 Was $67,316,000, Report, Issued Today, Says.

CUT IN DIVIDEND PLANNED

Reduction in October Quarterly From 40 to 25 Cents in View—Assets $1,167,116,000 on Dec. 31 Last.

The annual report of the Transamerica Corporation, the world's largest bank-holding company, issued today to its 185,000 stockholders, shows that its assets, consisting predominantly of bank holdings, totaled $1,167,116,000 on Dec. 31, 1929, the end of its fiscal year. The report covers the various financial, industrial and commercial holdings of the corporation in this country and abroad. It discloses that its consolidated net profit for 1929 was $67,316,000 in 1929, equivalent to approximately $3 a share on the stock outstanding on Dec. 31. There were outstanding on June 30 approximately 24,000,000 shares of $25 par value each.

The report says the company's management will recommend to the board of directors that the October quarterly dividend be cut to 25 cents a share, compared with the present quarterly payment of 40 cents a share. The corporation will distribute a 40-cent dividend on July 25, together with a 3 per cent stock dividend declared last March. Extra stock dividends of 1 per cent each were also paid in January, 1930, and October, 1929, and a 150 per cent stock dividend was paid in September, 1929. The policy of the corporation in the future will be to declare extra stock dividends "in round amounts as they deem advisable," instead of quarterly as heretofore, the directors have indicated.

Explains Dividend Cut.

Commenting on the dividend reduction, the report says:

"It would be lacking in ordinary business prudence to ignore the fact that current market conditions and the generally prevailing economic situation make it unreasonable to expect the corporation for the immediate future to duplicate the considerable earnings realized during the past several years from the purchase and sale of securities. Accordingly the management will recommend to stockholders that the October quarterly dividend be 25 cents a share, believing that a conservative dividend policy is in the best interest of the corporation and its stockholders. The management, however, anticipates that the earnings of its banks and affiliate institutions and of its other controlled compaines will, as time goes on, progressively increase and yield a larger return to your corporation."

Since Jan. 1, 1930, the report shows, Transamerica and its subsidiaries have increased their stock ownership in the Bank of America National Association and in the Bancamerica-Blair Corporation from 50.9 per cent to 59.35 per cent; have acquired 100 per cent control of the Occidental Life Insurance Company; purchased a minority interest in General Foods Corporation; taken over the First National Bank of Portland, Ore., and obtained, through interchange of shares, an important minority interest in Union des Mines, a large commercial bank in France.

Transamerica's principal holdings of bank stocks are as follows, the report says:

	Percent Owned.
Bank of America N. A. (New York) and Bancamerica-Blair Corporation	59.35
Bank of Italy N. T. & S. A. (California) and National Bankitaly Company	99.66
Bank of America of California and America Investment Company	98.00
First National Bank (Portland, Ore.) and Securities Savings and Trust Company	50.5
Banca d'America e d'Italia (Italy)	57.02
Ameritalia Corporation	69.79

The four American banks named, exclusive of their securities affiliates, had deposits of more than $1,500,000,000 on June 30. The Bank of Italy has more than 1,500,000 depositors.

Development Is Planned.

Elisha Walker, chairman of the board of the corporation, who signed the report, said:

"Under the leadership of A. P. Giannini the corporation has been most successful in building up the greatest bank holding company in this country. The new management intends to develop the corporation along similar lines, but, in addition, plans to enter other fields by acquiring and holding large interests in important industries in this country and abroad."

Gasoline Price Is Cut to Zero By One Seattle Service Station

SEATTLE, Wash., July 11 (AP).—Gasoline prices at one service station here dropped to nothing today when five gallons were given with every oil change.

Others were charging 5 cents, 3 cents of which represented the State tax. The general price was from 8½ to 9½ cents.

INVESTORS' HOLDINGS IN U. S. STEEL INCREASE

Corporation Reports Decline of 293,827 Shares in Floating Supply in Quarter

There was a decline of 293,827 shares in the floating supply of the United States Steel Corporation's common stock during the second quarter of this year, according to statistics compiled by the company showing that holdings of the issue by investors increased by that number of shares.

Brokers' holdings of United States Steel common totaled 1,589,834 shares on June 30, which is 18.57 per cent of the total number of 8,560,876 common shares outstanding on that date, comparing with 1,883,661 shares, or 22 per cent of the same total outstanding on March 31. This also compares with 2,029,540 shares, or 25.27 per cent of the total of 8,030,307 shares of common stock, held in brokers' names on July 31, 1929.

Investors' holdings of the stock totaled 6,971,042 shares, or 81.43 per cent of the total, on June 30, comparing with 6,677,215 shares, or 78 per cent, on March 31, and with 6,000,767 shares, or 74.73 per cent, on July 31, 1929.

Comparisons with June 30, 1929, are impossible, due to the offering of additional common stock through rights early last Summer. While much of the new stock had been paid for by June 21, it had not been issued at the end of that month because of the time required in making out the certificates.

Holdings of United States Steel preferred stock by brokers totaled 252,771 shares, or 7.01 per cent of the total, on June 30, 1930, against 245,049 shares, or 6.80 per cent, on March 31, 1930, and 225,330 shares, or 6.26 per cent, on July 31, 1929. Investors held 3,350,040 preferred shares, or 92.99 per cent, on June 30, against 3,357,762 shares, or 93.20 per cent, on March 31, and 3,377,481 shares, or 93.74 per cent, on July 31, 1929.

PENNSYLVANIA OIL CUT 15C A BARREL

South Penn and Tide Water Pipe Line Prices Down 50% From Year Ago.

PLAN MORE CURTAILMENT

Oklahoma Producers Also Propose Further Curb in Output as Refiners Reduce Runs.

The South Penn Oil Company yesterday reduced the prices of all grades of Pennsylvania crude oils 15 cents a barrel. The Tide Water Pipe Line Company made a similar reduction in the Bradford field in Pennsylvania and the adjacent Allegany field in New York.

The new prices are the lowest in years for Pennsylvania grade oils and are approximately 50 per cent below those prevailing one year ago. The reduction is said to be due to the continued excess production of Pennsylvania grade oils and other factors, including the introduction of improved refining processes through which lower grade crudes can be manufactured into better lubricating oils. Also, the crude produced in the Oklahoma City field has a high lubricating value.

More stringent curtailment agreements are being considered by Pennsylvania producers in an effort to stem the downward trend in prices. It is reported that a 50 per cent curtailment has been agreed upon by producers for July and August in the Bradford and Allegany fields, the two most important sources of Pennsylvania grade crude oils. Drilling operations are reported to be slowing down in both fields, and it is estimated that no more than fifty strings of tools will be running at the end of July.

Following the cut in prices about two months ago, producers in the Bradford and Allegany fields agreed to curtail their outputs. In June the daily average combined runs of these fields amounted to 35,500 barrels, against 41,043 barrels in May and 42,311 barrels in April. Based on the April production the curtailment agreement has resulted in a decline of 16.5 per cent.

The new prices for Pennsylvania crude oils in the various pipe lines follow: National Transit, $2.05 a barrel; South West Pennsylvania Pipe Lines, $2; Eureka Pipe Lines, $1.90, and Buckeye lines, $1.75. The last previous change was a reduction of 5 to 10 cents a barrel, made on June 17.

The oil producers in Oklahoma have been called to meet at Tulsa on July 15 to decide on plans for a further curtailment of crude oil output in that State by approximately 20 per cent, it was reported from Oklahoma City yesterday. This meeting has been called by the proration committee of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

The allowable output of Oklahoma was recently fixed at 650,000 barrels daily during the third quarter of the year. The suggested 20 per cent additional restriction, if adopted, will reduce the output by 130,000 barrels daily, bringing the total allowable output of the State to 520,000 barrels.

The new curtailment proposal in Oklahoma is understood to be due to the piling up of crude oil as a result of the recent decisions of some important refiners to reduce their crude runs through stills by about 15 per cent.

MARKETS IN LONDON, PARIS AND BERLIN

Improvement Continues on the English Exchange—Credit in Abundant Supply.

FRENCH STOCKS ARE FIRM

Quotations Keep in Narrow Range at Dull Session — German Boerse Irregular.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 11.—The stock market had another good day today, with gilt-edge securities setting the pace and international issues following. The 5 per cent war loan advanced ⅛ to £103½ and the funding loan rose ⅛ to £91¼. Other government stocks also improved.

A sharp rally occurred in Cables and Wireless stocks, the A ordinary rising 3 points to £26, the B ordinary 1 point to £12 and the preference 1½ to £77¼. Automobiles showed widespread weakness, but Ford remained steady at 64s. Among other transatlantic shares International Nickel rose ¼ to $25, Brazilian Traction ¼ to $40½, while General Electric advanced 1½d to 50s 9d and Hydroelectric ⅝ to $39¾. Columbia Graphophone at £3 9-16 and His Master's Voice Gramophone at £3 7-16 both were strong.

Among the shippings Cunard weakened slightly to 19s 6d, but Furness-Withy was firmer at 33s. Oils were still very quiet, with small gains by Royal Dutch at £32¾ and Shell Transport at £4 23-32. Rhodesian coppers were neglected and prices declined. Diamonds were dull in the South African market, De Beers falling to £7. The price of tin recovered £3 12s 6d a ton, but failed to stimulate shares.

Money was abundant in Lombard Street, where the overnight rate fell to 1¼ per cent. Discount rates stiffened after a weak start until three-month bills were quoted at 2⅜ per cent. Sterling declined to $4.86 7-16. The Bank of England gained gold on balance, however, owing to the release, presumably on Argentine account, of £600,000 in sovereigns.

Steady but Quiet in Paris.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 11.—The Bourse closed today for the three-day holiday over the national celebration Monday. The session, lacking any semblance of activity, showed no wide variations in quotations. Following the recent gains the opening was slightly irregular, but during the remainder of the day most shares were firm and a good many made up the slight losses sustained at the opening.

Rentes, like other leading securities, were quiet but firm, closing as follows: The 3 per cents, 87.20; 1918 4s, 100.85; 1920 amortizable 5s, 133.27; 1928 5s, 103.50; 1920 6s, 102; 1927 amortizable 6s, 105.80.

Prices Irregular in Berlin.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, July 11.—The Boerse exhibited extensive nervousness today in contrast to the firm tone displayed yesterday. Artificial silks were the only group able to maintain strength. This was due largely to Dutch buying. The irregularity, however, did not result in any serious declines at closing time among the favorites. As trading ended for the day prices had begun to display a firmer tone.

Money was slightly harder, owing to demand for payrolls and tax period payments. The Boerse will be closed tomorrow.

$2,000,000 PAID FOR LEASES.

Midland Company Gets Oil and Gas Rights to 23,000 Acres.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 11 (AP).—Purchase of oil and gas leases to more than 23,000 acres in Southwestern Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky by the Midland Natural Gas Company for in excess of $2,000,000 was announced today by John E. Kelly, vice president of the company.

The same company, which is controlled by interests affiliated with E. R. Diggs & Co., New York investment bankers, last May bought 16,000 acres of oil and gas property in Northern West Virginia and Southwestern Pennsylvania. The consideration in that deal was $2,000,000.

NEW GAS PIPE LINE IN USE.

Fuel From Eagle Pass Fields in Texas Reaches Devil's River.

The high-pressure natural gas pipe line of the Texas Gas Utilities Company, started early in May and running from the Eagle Pass fields of Texas to Devil's River, Texas, has been placed in operation, it was announced yesterday by Ross Holmes, chief engineer of the company. Gas is being delivered to the electric generating station of the Central Power and Light Company on Devil's River.

For the first time steel pipe was used in sixty-foot sections reducing welding costs.

I.C.C. STARTS INQUIRY ON RAIL-BUS SERVICE

Questionnaires Are Sent to All Carriers Asking the Facts About Control.

RETURNS ARE DUE AUG. 15

Commission Seeks Information on Ownership, Financing and Returns From Operation of Bus Lines.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Requesting information on motor-bus services supplementing rail or water services, fares charged, schedules and extent of operations, the Interstate Commerce Commission sent a general questionnaire today to all railroads and carriers by water dealing with motor bus transportation.

The questionnaire and accompanying statement indicated an inquiry by the commission into the legality of bus operation by the railroads.

Declaring that it is the business of the commission to inquire into the management of the railroads and to keep itself informed as to the manner and method in which it is conducted, the order stated that the questionnaire applied to motor transportation whether controlled directly or indirectly by the carriers.

The phases under investigation are the arrangements for motor transportation in connection or in competition with the carriers, its legality and propriety, the corporate organization and financial and business relationship existing between the carriers and corporations engaged in motor transportation of passengers and freight, the extent to which the property of the carriers or the time of their employes is devoted to motor-vehicle operations to supplement, replace or curtail rail, water or rail-and-water operations, or as feeders or distributing agencies, the rates, fares and charges, whether local, proportional or joint; the schedules and the manner of filing and publishing them; the extent and effect of motor-vehicle competition upon the traffic and revenues of the railroads and whether the revenues from motor-vehicle operations are compensatory for the cost of operation.

The commission said this is being done with a view to making such findings and taking such appropriate action as the facts developed by the investigation may warrant, and for the "purpose of making such recommendations to Congress respecting legislation as may be necessary or desirable in the public interest."

The questionnaire must be returned not later than Aug. 15.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific

The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railroad estimates that its gross earnings in June were about $11,734,000, against $14,583,000 in June, 1929, a decrease of $2,849,000. Net operating income was about $547,000, against $2,089,000, a decrease of $1,542,000.

Railroad to Be Dustless.

The Boston & Maine Railroad is to be a dustless line this Summer. More than 500,000 gallons of oil are being spread over nearly 1,000 miles of main line and heavily traveled branch lines. More than 500 miles have been made permanently dustless with stone ballast. An oil spreader puts oil, heated at 175 degrees, on the roadbed.

READING PROPOSES ISSUE.

$15,000,000 Bonds Would Reimburse Treasury for Improvements.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today received an application from the Reading Railroad to issue $15,000,000 par value of Reading Company general and refunding 4½ per cent, Series B, gold mortgage bonds.

The issue, the applicant stated, was necessitated because of expenditures by the Reading Company during Jan. 1, 1924, and Dec. 31, 1926, of $22,936,387 for completion, extension and improvement of facilities.

The applicant proposes to reimburse its treasury by the issue in order to make improvements necessary to the economic operation of its property, and that the issue be sold to the First National Bank of New York at 97½ per cent of par and accrued interest from July 1, 1930, to the date of settlement.

Gold From Japan Received.

The daily report of gold movements here yesterday showed no change from Thursday, but the Federal Reserve Bank was notified that $277,000 in gold had been received in San Francisco from Japan.

FOREIGN BONDS EASE ON STOCK EXCHANGE

German International 5½s Off ¼ Point—South American Loans Irregular.

DOMESTIC ISSUES HIGHER

Continue Rise Under Lead of First-Grade Rails—Utilities Firmer, Industrials Back and Fill.

Domestic bond prices continued higher on the Stock Exchange yesterday, although foreign issues for the first time in several days turned easier. First-grade railroad bonds again led the advance in the domestic issues, although the net gains made by the individual issues of this group were chiefly fractional. Even second and third grade rail issues showed a better tone yesterday, although trading was comparatively light. Some new highs for the year were shown in high-grade rails.

Convertible bonds and issues with stock purchase privileges tended to be irregular in sympathy with stocks.

In the foreign group South American issues showed the greatest irregularity. One feature of the foreign group was the advance of 3¾ points by Lautaro Nitrate Gas 6s, which moved above 81 again in active trading. German International 5½s eased off ¼ of a point to 89, while the German Government 7s were up a trifle. French and Belgian bonds closed firm.

Most of the trading in the United States Government group centred in the first and fourth Liberty 4¼s and in the Liberty 3½s. The demand for government issues has been in line with the desire of banks, institutions and corporations temporarily to employ their surplus funds in liquid securities at a time when money rates are low.

The fact that the new issue of $50,000,000 non-interest bearing Treasury bills were sold at prices equivalent to an average interest rate of about 1⅞ per cent had little or no effect on the long-term government issues that are traded on the Stock Exchange, final prices on which ranged from 4-32 point higher to 5-32 lower.

$20,537,943 SOUGHT BY MUNICIPALITIES

Comparatively Light Total for Next Week Represents Bonds of 90 Communities.

$5,750,000 FOR CHICAGO

Further Price Increases Expected—New Issues Announced for Later Award Relatively Small.

New municipal financing next week will run comparatively light. New issues aggregating only $20,537,943 have been listed for award next week, compared with this week's revised total of $49,807,368, and with the weekly average for the year to date of $33,688,275. The new borrowing next week will represent the requirements of ninety communities.

Only five issues next week will be in amounts of $1,000,000 or more, the largest of which is an issue of $5,750,000 Chicago (Ill.) South Park District 4 per cent bonds, which will be up for award on Wednesday. The next issue in size is that of $2,000,000 Scranton (Pa.) School District 4¼s, which has been scheduled for Monday.

The Chicago South Park District Commission's issue will consist of $2,000,000 lakefront extension bonds, due from May 1, 1931 to 1950; $1,500,000 park improvement bonds, due from May 1, 1931 to 1950, and $2,250,000 park improvement bonds, due from July 15, 1931 to 1940. The last sale held by the district was on March 31. On that date an issue of $2,650,000 4s was awarded, $1,300,000 at a price of 95.22, equivalent to a 4.60 per cent basis, and $1,350,000 at 95.44, equivalent to a 4.63 per cent basis.

Almost as many municipal bonds as were awarded this week were immediately re-offered to the public. The volume of re-offered bonds reached $45,351,000, the largest weekly total since mid-May. Most of the new offerings were well received, being brought out at prices in line with the current level of prices. Several large blocks of bonds which have been on the market a week or two were marked up yesterday.

The comparative breathing spell which the market will have next week is expected to result in further price increases unless a number of large issues appear on the horizon. New issues announced for award subsequent to next week have been relatively small, with only four being for amounts of $1,000,000 or more.

One feature of the current market is the wide spread between the yields on the various maturities of a given issue. The short bonds are sometimes priced to yield as much as 2 per cent less than the long bonds of the same issue, reflecting the brisk demand for the shorter maturities as a result of low money rates. Last year when long-term bonds were in demand the yields on these maturities were cut down accordingly.

The following lists of important issues scheduled for sale next week and on subsequent dates have been compiled from a calendar prepared by The Daily Bond Buyer:

EXTENSION OF BONDS ASKED

Worcester Street Railway Unable to Pay Them, Directors Report.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 11 (AP).—Holders of bonds of the Worcester Consolidated Street Railway Company, three issues totaling $4,805,000 and all maturing on Aug. 1, have been asked to extend the date of maturity for ten years to Aug. 1, 1940. The bonds are $1,489,000 first and refunding 4½s, $1,200,680 debenture 5s, due Nov. 1, 1927, extended at 6 per cent to Aug. 1, 1930, and $2,116,000 first and refunding 6½s.

The board of directors has written to the bondholders saying the company has been unable, after earnest efforts, to provide funds to pay the principal due.

The plan for extension provides that in the extension period the bonds shall carry the uniform rate of 6½ per cent. Furthermore, to quote the letter, "it is proposed to include in the agreement for the extension of the bonds a provision for an annual sinking fund of one-half the net income of the company after payment of operating expenses, taxes, fixed charges and other deductions, but before the payment of any dividends, such annual payment to the sinking funds to be not less in any event than $100,000.

INVESTMENT TRUST.

S. W. Straus Investing Corporation.

For the six months ended on June 30 the S. W. Straus Investing Corporation reports a net income of $670,080, compared with $608,024 in the first half of the preceding year. Net income available for the common stock, after preferred dividends and provision for Federal taxes and management fees, was $237,582.

TOTAL CHECK PAYMENTS BELOW 1929 LAST WEEK

But They Were Higher Than in Preceding Week—Steel Mills West Less Active.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Business during the week ended July 5, as measured by the volume of checks presented for payment, was 18 per cent greater than the preceding week, but was lower than the corresponding period in 1929, the Department of Commerce announced today.

Wholesale prices as a whole remained at the same level as a week ago, but showed a decrease of 13 per cent when compared with the week ended July 6, 1929.

The average price of wheat at Kansas City declined slightly from the preceding week and was lower than last year.

Iron and steel prices, as measured by the composite index, although showing no change from the week ended June 28, were 9 per cent lower than the same period in 1929.

"Bank loans and discounts showed a slight decline from last week," said the department, "but were greater than the corresponding week in 1929. Average prices for stocks showed a gain of 3 per cent over the preceding week, but were lower when compared with the same period a year ago. Representative bond prices registered gains over both prior periods.

"Interest rates for call money were slightly higher than the preceding period, but showed a marked decline from a year ago. Interest rates for time money showed declines from both comparative periods. Business failures were reported to be fewer than during a week ago.

"The activity of steel mills at the end of the week of June 28 showed a slight decline from the week of June 21 and was well below the level of a year ago.

"The volume of building, as measured by the number of contracts awarded, during the week ended June 28 showed considerable gains over both prior periods.

"Check payments, bank loans and discounts and stock prices for the week ended July 5, 1930, registered increases when compared with the week ended July 7, 1928."

$153,092,000 BONDS MARKETED IN WEEK

Improvement in Prices Brings Out Large Issues—Foreign Financing in Lead.

MUNICIPAL LOANS SECOND

Public Utility Total $24,400,000, Against $34,600,000 Last Week—Comparisons by Groups.

New offerings of bonds this week reached $153,092,000, which was a larger total than had generally been expected. The improvement in prices encouraged investment bankers to place a number of large issues on the market, several of which had been tentatively scheduled for later in the year. Last week bonds in the amount of $75,564,000 were marketed and during the corresponding week last year the total of new issues was $88,913,000.

Foreign financing led this week, consisting of an issue of $16,100,000 city of Buenos Aires 5 per cent six-month notes, an issue of $7,500,000 city of Montreal (Que.) one-year notes, and an issue of $25,000,000 Canadian Pacific Railway collateral trust 4½s, which were offered on a 4.62 per cent basis.

State and municipal financing ran a close second, with a dozen issues aggregating $45,351,000. The principal issues of this group consisted of $18,000,000 State of Arkansas 4¾ per cent highway bonds, which were offered on a 4.60 per cent basis, and $15,000,000 city of Philadelphia 4 and 4¼ per cent bonds, which were offered at prices to yield 4.025 and 4.07 per cent, respectively. Six other municipal issues of $1,000,000 or more were marketed.

This week's public utility financing consisted of four issues, the largest of which was $12,000,000 Commonwealth Edison Company 4½s, which were offered on a 4.65 per cent basis, with the second largest $7,500,000 Consolidated Gas, Electric Light and Power 4½s, which were priced to net 4.58 per cent. The principal piece of industrial financing was $14,931,000 Armstrong Cork Company 5s, which were priced at 98, to yield 5.25 per cent. The railroad financing included an issue of $15,000,000 Reading Company 4½s, due 1997, marking the forst time that the company has borrowed in twenty-nine years except for the purchase of new equipment. During the interval the company has been able to finance its improvements out of earnings.

The new offerings of bonds, by groups, of this and last week follow:

	This Week.	Last Week.
Foreign	$48,600,000	....
State and municipal..	45,351,000	$26,640,000
Public utility	24,400,000	34,600,000
Industrial	18,931,000	....
Railroad	15,810,000	14,324,000
Total	$153,092,000	$75,564,000

No date has been announced for the offering of the new Austrian loan in London, the various Continental centres and in New York. There has also been talk of an Australian loan, but it is expected that if such a loan if offered in the near future the financing will be done entirely, or principally, in the London market.

New Bonds for California Packing.

The California Packing Company plans to market an issue of approximately $15,000,000 ten-year 5 per cent convertible debentures, according to word received from San Francisco here yesterday. The new issue will be convertible into common stock of the company at the rate of about $75 a share. Proceeds of this financing will be used to furnish additional working capital.

CHICAGO, July 11.—The President of the New York Stock Exchange, Richard Whitney, will speak at the twelfth annual banquet of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce in the Hotel Stevens on Oct. 10, it was announced today by Wayne Hummer, president of the chamber.

Chicago Begins the Payment Of $80,000,000 Warrant Notes

The city of Chicago has started to pay off its 1928 warrant notes, now outstanding in the amount of $80,000,000, according to word received here yesterday. It has collected most of its taxes for 1928, which became delinquent on July 1, following the reassessment.

Despite the fact that owing to the delay in reassessment, the Chicago Sanitary District will be unable to pay principal and interest on its 1928 warrant notes outstanding in the hands of the public in the amount of $4,500,000, the district has made an arrangement with the First National Bank of Chicago whereby the latter will assume the payment thereof.

New York holders of the district's warrant notes may present their notes to Lehman Brothers, who will purchase them on behalf of the First National Bank of Chicago. The latter already holds about $3,500,000 of the 1928 warrant notes, which, together with the additional notes purchased, will be held until the district is able to make payment.

MUNICIPAL LOAN.

Cambridge, Mass.

The city of Cambridge, Mass., has awarded a new issue of $545,000 of 4 per cent bonds to Stone & Webster and Blodget, Inc. The bankers paid a price of 101.42 for the issue, which consisted of $495,000 of school bonds, due from July 1, 1931 to 1945, and $50,000 street bonds, due from July 1, 1931 to 1935. The price was equivalent to a 3.77 per cent basis.

BUSINESS VIEWED ON SOUNDER BASIS

Weekly Summaries Cite Small Stocks Which Must Ultimately Be Replenished.

PRESENT BUYING CAUTIOUS

Feature of the Steel Industry Is Continued Heavy Demand for Pipe Material.

With demands continuing restricted and price declines still predominating, the essential characteristics of the general business situation were unchanged in the last week, according to the trade reviews. It is stated that predictions of a dull Summer are being fulfilled, with only the speculative markets, particularly securities and wheat, displaying resiliency, the former on the spread of the idea that prices are scraping bottom and the latter on reports of heat and drought damage to crops.

Encouragement over the general outlook is seen, however, in the moderate stocks of goods in hand, a factor held as presaging ultimately a turn for the better when supplies must be replenished.

Bradstreet's says in part:

"Except for an after-holiday rebound in steel capacity to about a two-thirds rating, this more particularly in the more westerly centers, and for more activity in production of radio products by the principal interest, industry has perceptibly slowed down for a longer than normal vacation period. In iron and steel, the leading feature is the activity in plate mills called upon for material for pipe works which are active in producing to satisfy what is conceded to be the most active demand in the history of gas and oil pipe making. Automobile production for June was smaller than in May and for the month and year is at a point nearly 40 per cent below a year ago.

"The decrease in building in June was the smallest in any month of the past seven, this more because of the quieting down that occurred last year after the multiple dwelling law became effective and high money had limited operations in a wide area than because of much expansion in new house, office and store construction.

Progress in Road Work.

"The active road-making campaign has helped cement and concrete bars and given some employment to idle labor. In the West the progress of the wheat harvest northward has given work to some idle hands. Kansas farmers are reported shipping more freely than last year, but evidences of holding for better prices are reported. There are more strikes reported than of late, this particularly in some building projects in Washington for higher wages and in Butte, Mont. The lumber trade reports further reduction of output, which is down to 50 per cent in hardwood areas in the Central South and in the North Pacific Coast States.

"Large mail-order houses are reported to have cut prices. Coal mining has slackened in Kentucky, Western Pennsylvania and Kansas. Lake trade is quieter than a year ago, owing to reduced iron ore and lumbering operations.

"While there is very general agreement that textiles are lagging in production, it is noted that bag factories are active in the Southeast and bathing suit and heavy knit goods for Fall are selling well at Philadelphia."

Basic Structure Strengthened.

Dun's review says in part:

"The chief interest at present centres in the prospects for the period beyond the Summer. The movements of recent months have not conformed with the optimistic views held in some quarters, the scope of the readjustment being wider than had been commonly anticipated, and there is more of a disposition now to appraise conditions with clearer recognition of the actual facts.

"Confidence in the longer outlook is supported by the operation of forces which are strengthening the basis structure, and prominent among these is the persistent trend toward a closer alignment between production and consumption. As results of semi-annual inventories are more fully disclosed, an encouraging point is found in the relatively moderate stocks of goods in different instances, and the more favorable position of supplies is regarded as foreshadowing an ultimate resumption of buying on a large scale.

"The existing retrenchment in purchasing is accentuated by the lack of steadiness in various commodity markets, yet some wholesale quotations have reached such a low basis that the probability of further concessions is minimized, and more firmness appeared this week in some of the leading farm staples. Similarly, trading in securities has reflected increasing stability, with a better price undertone, and these phases have been helpful to sentiment. The prevailing commercial status is one in which new commitments are being made with unusual caution, but the acute disturbances of the early stages of the transition have passed, and in this respect the portents are distinctly improved. Statistical records, almost without exception, remain adverse, although the influence of holiday interruption and other seasonal restraints should be allowed for in analyzing the additional recession in the rate of manufacture in some of the major industries. In its broader aspects, business has deviated little from its preceding course, the principal gain being in factors which, while not stimulating activities now in any marked degree, have a constructive bearing on the future."

DECLARES BUSINESS IS MORE STABILIZED

Chicago Banker Says That Upturn Is to Be Expected This Fall.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Commodity prices are dragging on the bottom, in the last week or ten days public opinion has become stabilized and a business upturn may be expected this Fall, depending particularly on the size of the crops, according to Arthur Reynolds, executive officer of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company.

As a "conservative optimist," Mr. Reynolds does not profess to know when the business readjustment will be completed.

It may be completed this year, he said, or it may run into next year, but in any case things are not nearly as bad as many people make out or as other people fear. The banker continued:

"Crops are always an important factor in prosperity. If our crops are of reasonable size and bring a fair price, it will mean much. Meanwhile, if the improvement I have noted in the last ten days in public psychology continues, the country may emerge from its depression before any one knows it.

"It would surprise many to know how good business is right now. Sixty-eight per cent of the customers of this bank report to us that their business is satisfactory. Only about 33 per cent complain of poor business. In many cases where the volume of business has fallen profits have held up fairly well because of economies practiced."

WHEAT QUOTATIONS BREAK AFTER RISING

Heavy Hedge Selling for the Southwest Causes Drop of 4c a Bushel.

CORN AND OATS ADVANCE

Price of Former Lifted by Reports of Extreme Heat and Damage to Grain—Rye Lower.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 11.—After an advance of 2 cents a bushel in wheat prices early today as a result of reports of dry, hot weather in the Northwest, with announcements of deterioration in South Dakota and Southern North Dakota made by Lecount & Donovan, crop experts, the market turned and became weaker than it had been at any time of late, breaking around 4 cents. The final prices were the lowest closing quotations of the season, although the inside figures were not actually the lowest that have been reached.

July wheat at the top was 90 cents and at the finish 86½ cents, a net loss of 2⅛ cents. September reached 93½ cents on the bulge, with a break to 89¼ cents and the finish at 89⅝ to 89¾, a loss of 1⅞ cents. December sold at 99¼ cents early and 95⅞ cents later, closing at 95¼ to ⅜ cents, losing 2¼ cents.

Cause of Decline.

The decline was precipitated by continued heavy hedge selling for the Southwest, where six markets had almost 3,000 cars of wheat. Cash houses and millers are taking this wheat and selling futures against it. Purchases to arrive in Chicago were 250,000 bushels, and the country also sold 150,000 bushels of corn to arrive.

Trading is now on a September basis, wheat to arrive being bought at 2½ to 3 cents under September for August - September shipment, while the No. 1 and No. 2 grades on track here are 1½ to 2½ cents under the September. There appeared to be a little buying support at the last other than by profit-taking shorts and by a few professionals, who said the rains in the Northwest had come too late to prevent crop injury. The government's report, issued yesterday, had little influence, being about as expected. It showed that the Southwest will have about as much wheat as last year.

Primary receipts today were 3,130,000 bushels; a week ago, none, it being a holiday; a year ago, 2,528,000 bushels. Shipments were 1,238,000 bushels; a year ago, 1,161,000 bushels.

Corn Quotations Rise.

High temperatures over the greater part of the corn belt, particularly Nebraska, where it has been 100 degrees or higher for more than ten days, have brought reports of corn firing and caused uneasiness among the shorts, while at the same time giving more confidence to traders who are bullish and making the corn market a fairly independent affair, when considered with wheat. An advance of 1¼ to 2 cents a bushel early carried July up to 80 cents, while September reached 78 cents and December 71¾ cents. The late break in wheat, however, precipitated a selling movement and a decline of around 2 cents from the day's top, the close being at net gains of ½ to ¾ cent. July closed at 78½ to 78⅝ cents, September at 75⅞ to 76⅛ cents and December at 69⅜ to 69½ cents.

Primary receipts today were 442,000 bushels; a year ago, 535,000 bushels. Shipments were 379,000 bushels; a year ago, 516,000 bushels.

Cash interests bought oats futures freely, and while prices advanced more than 1 cent, the greater part of the advance was lost and the net was a gain of only ⅛ cent. July finished at 34⅜ cents, September at 36¼ cents, and December at 39⅜ to 39½ cents.

Rye slumped on general selling by holders who are closing spreads between rye and wheat, with net losses after an early advance of 1⅜ to 1½ cents. July closed at 46⅜, September at 50 cents and December at 55¼ cents.

Condition of Wheat in Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 11 (AP).—The condition of wheat in Canada on June 30 was 91 per cent of the ten-year average, against 88 per cent on the same date last year, the Bureau of Statistics announced today. The percentages apply both to Winter and Spring wheat.

C. E. RYAN IN NEW POST.

Heads Fire Examining Bureau of State Insurance Department.

Charles E. Ryan has been placed in charge of the Fire and Marine Examining Bureau of the Insurance Department of the State of New York to succeed Albert N. Butler, resigned, it was announced yesterday by Second Deputy Superintendent Francis P. Ward.

Mr. Ryan was appointed as an examiner to the Insurance Department in 1919 and in 1927 was made assistant chief examiner in the department of which he now becomes chief examiner. In addition to supervision of stock and mutual fire and marine insurance, he will have supervision over Lloyds and Inter-Insurers, the Central Bureau for the Collection of Earned Premiums and the Marine Insurance Profits Tax.

Insurance Reports Advertising.

The cost of sending annual reports dealing with affairs of an insurance company to policy holders should be reported in the expense of advertising, according to a circular issued yesterday by the State Insurance Department. Such reports as well as pamphlets, circulars, leaflets, printed material, &c., it is pointed out, should be considered as coming within the term "advertising," since they aid indirectly or otherwise in encouraging the conservation of the company's business.

Two Offices for P. J. Roosevelt.

Philip J. Roosevelt, whose father, the late W. Emlen Roosevelt, was a director of the Chemical Bank thirty-two years, and whose great-grandfather, Cornelius Van Schaick Roosevelt, was one of its five directors in 1844, has been elected a director of Chemical National Associates, Inc. He has been elected also to succeed his father as a trustee of the Union Square Savings Bank. Paul J. Hammond was elected a trustee to succeed the late Albert M. Patterson.

SURVEYS SMALL LOANS.

Economist Finds Wage Earners Borrow Less Than Month's Pay.

Periods of financial strain seldom cause the families of wage earners to borrow more than one month's pay to maintain a position of economic independence, Dr. Louis N. Robinson, economist and former professor of Swarthmore College, reveals in his study of 10,000 small-loan cases made public yesterday by the Russell Sage Foundation. The borrowers in seventeen States operating under the small loan law or an equivalent statute, questioned in the survey, received an average weekly wage of $35 for men and $23 for women, while their average loans were between $113 and $127 each.

The average borrower, the study showed, had a household or family of four persons, husband and wife jointly borrowing the money in 82 per cent of the cases. While practically all the persons studied by Dr. Robinson were without banking connections, the survey showed that most of them were long-time residents of their several cities. Of the borrowers 29 per cent owned real estate, and of this group 6 per cent owned property in fee. Forty-two per cent of the borrowers were without children, while only 2 per cent of those who made loans had six to ten children.

DIVIDEND ACTIONS.

Initial Dividend.

The Research Investment Trust, Ltd., has declared an initial annual dividend of $3.

Final Dividend.

The French Line has declared a final dividend of 35 francs.

Reduced Dividends.

The Owens-Illinois Glass Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 75 cents on its common stock, compared with $1 paid previously. Its president, William E. Levis, said the reduction was due to business conditions and the desire of the directors to maintain a strong cash position.

The Noma Electric Corporation has declared a quarterly dividend of 20 cents, compared with 40 cents paid previously.

Passed Dividend.

The Arizona Commercial Mining Company has passed the dividend due at this time.

BANK STOCKS LEAD IN COUNTER TRADING

Attract Most Business in Quiet Market, With Prices Firm Until Near Close—Industrials Mixed.

Trading was quiet in the over-the-counter securities market yesterday, with bank stocks attracting the most business. These held up well until near the close, when they fell off to some extent. Among those which closed lower were Guaranty, City, Central Hanover, Chase, America, Title Guarantee, Bankers and Manufacturers, while Chemical, Corn Exchange and Times Square closed slightly higher.

There was no definite trend in the industrial group. Insurance issues were also mixed, with slight gains in Hartford Steam Boiler, Hartford Fire, Aetna Life, American Surety, Central Fire, Chicago Fire and Connecticut General. Home, Baltimore American, Home Fire Securities, People's National Fire and Providence Washington were fractionally lower.

BANK CLEARINGS OFF 38% FROM YEAR AGO

Week's Total at 22 Cities Put at $8,201,854,000—Only Five Business Days.

42.2 PER CENT DROP HERE

Settlements in New York Amounted to $5,534,000,000—Table of Comparisons.

Bank clearings were again largely reduced in the past week, compared with the corresponding period of 1929, partly due to the fact that there were but five business days in the week ended yesterday. According to Dun's Review, the total at twenty-two leading cities in the United States for the week ended yesterday was $8,201,854,000, a decline of 38.4 per cent from the week ended July 11, 1929.

Daily average clearings for July to date, which amount to $1,975,004,000, are 17.9 per cent below the daily average in July last year, while during June the daily average was but 5 per cent below the same month of 1929.

New York City clearings for the past week totaled $5,534,000,000, a decline of 42.2 per cent from the $9,573,000,000 of the corresponding week a year ago, while clearings outside of New York totaled $2,667,854,000, compared with $3,737,029,000 a year ago, a decrease of 28.6 per cent.

Clearings for the week as reported to R. G. Dun & Co. compare with those of a year ago as follows:

CURB STOCKS WEAKEN IN MODERATE SELLING

Most Issues Decline Fractionally, but Several Favorites Gain With Fresh Support.

Stocks generally sagged fractionally on the New York Curb Exchange yesterday as a result of moderate pressure, although several leading issues continued to advance with fresh support. Among the latter were Chemical National A and Marine Midland in the bank group, Consolidated Laundries, Dresser Manufacturing, Newport Company, Cosden Oil and Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line.

In the utility group Electric Bond and Share, American Superpower and United Gas declined, as did Gulf Oil and Vacuum Oil in the oil section. American Cyanamid B, Anglo-Chilean Nitrate and St. Regis Paper were depressed in the industrial department, and Goldman Sachs, Transamerica and Electric Power Associates eased in the trust group.

CURB ADMITS SECURITIES.

1,000,000 Shares of Universal Consolidated Oil Included.

The following securities were admitted to unlisted trading privileges on the New York Curb Exchange yesterday:

TRANSFORMER CORPORATION OF AMERICA—150,000 shares common stock, no par value.

UNIVERSAL CONSOLIDATED OIL COMPANY—1,000,000 shares capital stack, par value $10.

CHICAGO RIVET AND MACHINE COMPANY—100,000 shares capital stock, no par value.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO., INC.—205,000 shares Class A stock, no par value; unit of trading, ten shares.

CANADIAN HYDROELECTRIC CORPORATION, LTD.—375,000 shares 6 per cent cumulative redeemable first preferred stock, par value $100; unit of trading, twenty-five shares.

Intelligence Service Extended.

Colonel R. Potter Campbell, chairman of the directorate of Campbell, Peterson & Co., announced yesterday the expansion of the facilities of the company's industrial intelligence service, saying negotiations for direct representation in the Central European countries had been completed. Under a contract just signed Siess von Loe & Co. of Hamburg, Germany, will represent the service in Russia, Lithuania, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Poland, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Bulgaria, Finland, Latvia and Esthonia. Campbell, Peterson & Co. recently formed an affiliate covering France, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, Spain, Portugal and Holland, with headquarters in Paris under the direction of Hart O. Perg.

PRICES DEPRESSED ON COTTON MARKET

Reports From Textile Trade Unfavorable—Break in Wheat Also an Influence.

NET LOSS 29 TO 36 POINTS

List Closes at Bottom—Intense Heat Continues in South—Sales of Fertilizer Increase.

While the hottest weather in several years continued throughout the South, prices on the Cotton Exchange yesterday were influenced more by poor trade reports and the break in wheat into new low ground for the year. After they had held around Thursday's closing levels during the early trading, the Exchange issued its estimate that domestic mills had consumed only 410,000 bales during June, compared with 570,000 a year ago, and this brought the market under selling pressure which caused a decline of more than a quarter cent and left final quotations 29 to 36 points lower for the day.

With June dry goods sales only 65.5 per cent of a materially curtailed production and small spinners' takings in week-end figures, as well as a smaller loss in the visible supply than last year, the market factors counteracted the weather developments. The day's details showed 129 stations with maximum temperatures of 100 to 110 degrees and only one reporting appreciable rainfall in twenty-four hours. Private reports of showers in Alabama and the action of outside markets brought commission house liquidation in the last hour and closed the list at the bottom.

Fertilizer sales for seven months were estimated to be 2.3 per cent larger than a year ago.

The British Board of Trade's reports showed exports of 11,000,000 pounds of yarns during June, compared with 12,000,000 a year ago and exports of 159,000,000 yards of cloths against 224,000,000 in June, 1929.

LIVERPOOL'S COTTON WEEK.

LIVERPOOL, July 11 (AP).—Weekly cotton statistics are as follows: British stocks 831,000 bales, against 863,000 a year ago; of which American 208,000, against 454,000 last year.

Imports, all kinds, 26,000 bales, against 27,000 in the corresponding period last year; of which American 5,000, against 5,000. Forwarded to spinners 31,000 bales, against 58,000 last year; of which American 16,000, against 37,000. Exports 1,000, against 2,000 a year ago; of which American none, against 1,000. Sales 15,000, against 28,000 last year; of which American 6,000, against 15,000.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, July 11 (AP).—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston will say tomorrow:

"The week has been very dull in the wool market, although some improvements are noted toward the end of the week. Prices are hardly changed. In the West buying operations are dwindling. The outlook in the piece-goods market is considered hopeful, but no great improvement is expected much before September.

"There is a slight improvement recorded at the London Colonial sales since the opening. But Bradford has not benefited by this improvement at all; in fact, prices there appear slightly easier. There is little change in the values in Australia, or the other primary markets."

Hot Wave in South Seen Here As Aid to the Cotton Crop

Temperatures in portions of the cotton belt yesterday reached altitudes that caused traders on the floor of the New York Cotton Exchange to recall similar weather conditions under which the record bumper crops of cotton have been produced.

According to reports received here, the maximum temperatures at twelve stations in the Atlanta district averaged 104 degrees, while the maximum temperature in Atlanta proper was 100 degrees. It was understood that only four other times in the last fifty years has the temperature reached such levels there. Once was in 1914, when the South produced 16,000,000 bales of cotton, and the other three times were in the season of 1925, when the total production was 16,100,000 bales.

Torrid weather, such as is being experienced in the cotton belt now, tends to prevent the depredations of the boll weevil, and cotton men here yesterday were speculating on the effect that this will have on the present crop.

WORKERS GET CONTROL OF HAPGOOD COMPANY

They Take Over 51 Per Cent of Indianapolis Soap Plant Stock in 13th Year of Joint Rule.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 11 (AP).—In celebration of the thirteenth anniversary of a social industrial experiment in business management, employes of the Columbia Conserve Company today took over 51 per cent of the stock of this company, which last year did $1,600,000 worth of business.

The 150 employes through their stock ownership were placed in a position whereby they might discharge the company president, William P. Hapgood. The president said he would remain at the head of the company only so long as his co-workers desired.

The employes of the company, which manufactures soup, acquired the stock without paying for it. Accumulated profits were used to purchase the stock, which was given outright to the employes.

Mr. Hapgood and his two brothers, Norman and Hutchins, inherited the plant in 1917. They made a contract with their employes as a group for purchase of the business by a retirement of the common stock from profits. This was consummated today, and eventually the Hapgood brothers expect that 100 per cent of the stock will be held by the workers. All workers' stock is held, however, by the employes as a group, and no employe can hand down the stock to his heirs.

There are many unusual features in the operation of the plant. For one thing, wages are based on the needs of the worker. A married man receives 50 per cent higher wages than a single man, and he gets $2 a week more for each child up to the limit of three children.

A weekly council is held by the employes at which plant policies are discussed. A janitor may criticize a program proposed by the president, and upon a vote of the workers the program may be rejected. An employe may only be discharged by a council of his co-workers.

The plant has no "bosses." There are "leaders," who may give directions.

The president is the father of Powers Hapgood, whose militant methods while a member of the United Mine Workers brought him into conflict with authorities in Pennsylvania. Norman Hapgood, brother of the president, is prominent in magazine editorial work.

540 GRADE CROSSINGS ELIMINATED IN STATE

Public Service Board Has Began Action of 792 More—Total Cost Involved $108,000,000.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 11.—A total of 932 proceedings involving the elimination of 1,561 grade crossings in the State outside of Greater New York, have been started by the Public Service Commission under the present law, the commission reported today. The commission has held 2,355 hearings on elimination.

The commission up to July 1 had closed proceedings in 417 cases involving 540 crossing, meaning that these crossings have been eliminated and the work approved. In addition the commission has issued 453 orders for the elimination of 792 others. The estimated cost of this work is given as $108,341,825.

During June the commission added seven new projects to the list of 925 projects designated for elimination. The seven new projects involved the elimination of nineteen crossings. During the month the commission held fifty-three hearings and eight proceedings involving the elimination of eleven crossings were closed.

There are at present ninety projects under contract involving the elimination of 136 crossings, at a cost of $14,068,010. In addition, thirteen projects involving sixteen crossings are ready for the award of contracts and six are ready for contracts to be awarded with the exception of securing land rights. There are 201 crossings ready for contracts to be let with the exception of approval of general or detail plans, specifications, estimates or land maps.

Because the law provides that the railroads shall pay half of the cost of eliminating each crossing, the number in any one year is limited to what the companies can do without seriously interfering with their operating expenses.

Oleomargarine Tax Bill Signed.

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP).—President Hoover has signed a bill to amend the oleomargarine act providing for an assessment of a 10 cent tax per pound on all colored imitations of butter. The measure has been in Congress several years following the growth of the manufacture and sale of compounds as butter. Under the new act all compounds containing more than one per cent of moisture and colored to imitate butter are to come under the oleomargarine act and all quarter and pound packages must carry the information the product is oleomargarine.

ASKS THAT BRITAIN ADMIT OUR APPLES

Stimson Requests an Easing of Embargo, Caused by Fruit Fly, to Let in Inspected Grades.

TRADE HANDICAP IS NOTED

Statement Points Out That No Evidence of Pest Has Been Found in Pacific Coast Area.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Secretary Stimson has asked the British Government through Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador, to modify its recent embargo against American apples on account of the apple fruit fly, so as to admit under certificate of inspection the recognized official grades of American apples above the unclassified and certified combinations of those grades.

The apple fruit fly, it was argued, has not been found west of the Great Plains regions, so that the Pacific Coast is not affected by the pest.

"It was pointed out to the British Ambassador," the State Department said today, "that the United States Department of Agriculture is in full accord with the stated purpose of this action and wishes to cooperate in full measure with the British authorities in obtaining the end in view. At the same time, it was believed well to call the attention of the British Government to certain aspects of the order which do not touch upon factors significant in determining the soundness of the fruit or its freedom from insect pests, but which impose undue hardships upon the exporters and importers of apples and materially limit British trade in American apples during the period designated.

"It was recalled that last Fall a few shipments of cull or unclassified and uninspected apples from the States of Maine and Massachusetts were found upon arrival in England to be infested with the larvae of the apple fruit fly.

"As soon as information concerning these infested shipments was brought to the attention of the Department of Agriculture arrangements were made with the transporting steamship companies under which these carriers agreed to accept no apples for delivery in Great Britain unless accompanied by an export form certificate issued by an inspector of the United States Department of Agriculture. No certificate of this character was issued subsequent to Oct. 2, 1929, on any lots of apples which upon inspection at the point of shipment or at the point of export showed any degree of infestation by the apple fruit fly.

"It appears from the information at hand that since this inspection was inaugurated no infested shipments of apples were reported to have arrived in Great Britain from this country."

FEDERAL BUREAU GIVES TAX ABATEMENTS HERE

In Total of $350,000, J. L. Schaefer Estate Gets $178,751, Kinney Company $90,000.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Settlement of five cases of tax overassessments in New York, involving about $350,000, was announced by the Bureau of Internal Revenue today.

The largest was an abatement of $178,751.27 in favor of the estate of J. Louis Schaefer.

G. R. Kinney Company, Inc., benefited more than $90,000 through a series of rulings in disputes extending as far back as 1917 over income and profits taxes. The sum of $24,987.09 for that year was abated, and $8,648.17 for a part of 1918. The company obtained credit for $57,200.46 for the fiscal year ended Feb. 28, 1919, and a further abatement of $1,279.06 for the same period.

Frederick H. Cone received a refund of $19,724.54 on income taxes paid in 1926 and a credit of $6,769.83 for the same year.

S. Bryce Wing, who overpaid his 1925 income taxes by $48,935, obtained a refund of the full amount.

The remaining decision affecting New Yorkers was an abatement of $22,092.20 on taxes levied on the estate of Frederic W. Stevens.

Credits, refunds and abatements affecting persons, corporations and estates in all parts of the country, a group of which are announced almost daily, show that on routine matters the treasury has cut to about four years the time necessary to reach a settlement..

STATE PRODUCTS HIGH.

Contributes 15% of All Made in U. S.—City 9.3%.

New York State contributes 15 per cent of all products manufactured in the United States, with New York City alone fabricating 9.3 per cent of the total national output, according to a report based on the latest United States Government industrial census figures by the business survey department of Dorrance, Sullivan & Co., advertising agents, yesterday. Of the aggregate output of the three Middle Atlantic States, New York State produces 48.1 per cent and New York City 29.3 per cent.

The five boroughs show a wide variation in output. Manhattan contributes 19.5 per cent of the total production of the three States and 6.07 per cent of the national output. Brooklyn is second with 6.12 per cent of the sectional total and 1.91 per cent of the national aggregate.

New York State showed "wages as a per cent of cost" to be 17.1 per cent, while that of the entire United States was 17.3 per cent and that of the Middle Atlantic States group 17.8. Manufacturers in this State paid 15.1 per cent for raw materials, fuel and power, leaving 31.8 per cent as a gross manufacturers' margin, out of which overhead and other costs had to be absorbed before profits could be figured.

The total number of manufacturing plants in the United States checked by the agency numbered 191,866, and these establishments showed an annual output valued at $62,718,347,000.

8,000 Bales at London Wool Auction

LONDON, July 11 (AP).—At the wool auction sales today 10,628 bales were offered, of which 8,000 bales were sold. A large supply of medium scoured lambs and pieces met with poor demand but were nearly all bought in. Fine kinds were steady and met with a good sale. Home and Continent buyers made good purchases.

⁂

Launch Plan to Increase Exports.

Trade associations in all lines of industry were asked by the American Manufacturers' Export Association this week to supply that organization with data on trade conditions in the industries they represent. The information, according to Frank R. Eldridge, executive vice president, will be used by the association in formulating a plan for supplying foreign trade information to the organizations for the use of their members, and is part of a program for encouraging manufacturers to take a greater interest in export trade.

To Campaign Against Price-Cutting

Indiscriminate price-cutting on the part of retailers was vigorously scored yesterday by Edward Plaut, president of Lehn & Fink, Inc., in a statement announcing that his company would shortly enter into a national advertising campaign designed to encourage the public to trade only at stores where fair prices prevail. "Price-cutting has gone too far," Mr. Plaut said. "It is fundamentally destructive, and the retail druggists can't go on as they have been. The consumer gets cut prices on one item, only to pay exorbitant prices on overpriced non-essentials." The campaign, he added, will begin next month.

Boys' Clothing Trade Slack.

Buying of boys' and students' clothing has been curtailed considerably during the current season, and no immediate improvement is expected, it was stated yesterday. Even the boys' buyers' convention, to be held shortly, is not anticipated to aid the trade materially. Spotty buying at intervals is looked for from merchants who must fill up gaps in their stock, but the outlook for volume purchasing is not bright. The two-button suit, with notched lapel, is the most popular number. Knicker suits maintain the greatest favor, particularly those with knit grips. Smooth cashmeres are reported to be the most sought fabrics.

Retailers Postpone Coast Meeting.

What would have been the first Pacific Coast convention of all major groups of the National Retail Dry Goods Association has been postponed because of "inopportune conditions," executives of the association said yesterday. The convention was scheduled to be held in San Francisco on Sept. 10, 11 and 12 and was postponed to the Summer of 1931 following recommendation to this effect by the convention committee headed by T. C. Palmer of Walker's, Inc., Los Angeles. The general feeling of the committee, expressed a short while ago, was that current conditions demand executives remain at their desks.

Linings Hit by Coat Inactivity.

Due to the sharp decrease in the cuttings of overcoats, business in silk linings has dropped off considerably, it was reported yesterday. The large carryover of coats from last season is responsible for inactivity in the trade, but some improvement is expected in August. Sales of linings for suits have been holding up fairly well, it was said. Prices have been reduced sharply, in comparison with last season, and dependent upon the quantity of goods purchased. A good deal of hand-to-mouth purchasing is taking place.

Demand for Better Curtains.

An active demand for better-grade curtains developed in the market during the week, according to local selling agents. A number of buyers representing stores in the Middle West placed orders in normal volume for future delivery. According to the selling agents, the Middle West is the only section of the country where goods are being ordered on a normal scale at present. Most stores are sampling Fall goods and planning to reorder when necessary. Curtain sets retailing at from $3 to $5 each are wanted.

To Open Spreads Monday.

While most commission houses and makers of bedspreads opened their lines last Monday, Bliss, Fabyan & Co., selling agents for Bates, have delayed their display until this Monday, it was reported yesterday. Openings have been unusually late this year, and it was decided to wait until a larger group of buyers had appeared in town. There has been a decided revision in spread lines this season, both in colorings and designs, and very little of last season's popular styles will be sold, it is thought. Consumer surveys have aided materially in determining the trend, and it is expected that the new and attractive spreads will have a beneficial effect on the volume of business.

Glass Trade More Optimistic.

A steady undercurrent of optimism is growing in the flat glass industry in spite of the Summer season of slow demand and somewhat lessened production, The American Glass Review will say today. Current business is no slower in comparison with April, the active month of Spring, than was the case a year ago. Mid-year inventories by distributers have been completed and there is no doubt but that stocks were found to be low. Manufacturers are pleased over the better prospects in the building industry and will not be surprised if the June totals aggregate more than any other month since last Fall. Plate glass producers look forward to better business this Fall.

Anthracite Trade Here Brisk.

Business in the anthracite market was more active this week than last, Saward's Journal will say today. The demand for coal is attributed in part to the fact that many retailers held back their orders until after the recent holiday. There is considerable speculation in the trade as to whether the retailers will continue to purchase at the same pace during the next few weeks. In the bituminous market the trade reflects both seasonal dullness and the curtailed use of coal at industrial plants where the Summer let-down is more pronounced than usual.

Gray Goods Sales Spotty.

Spotty buying of gray goods was reported in the market yesterday. Purchases were all on a small basis, with demand fairly quiet. Bids were offered for several constructions at prices slightly below prevailing levels, but these were rejected by sellers. In standard printcloths, orders for 38½ inch 60-48s were filled at 4¾ cents and for 38½ inch 64-60s at 5⅛ cents. Some slight interest was evinced for 39-inch 68-72s at 6¼ cents. In 39-inch 80 squares, business was quiet at 8 cents. Inquiries were restricted for sheetings and drills.

CHAIN-STORE PRICES LOWER

Survey in Durham, N. C., Shows Range Was 8.99 to 21.96 Per Cent.

Prices on sixty items of merchandise were 13.79 per cent cheaper in chain stores than in the independent stores of Durham, N. C., according to a comparative survey of prices in that city made by Malcolm D. Taylor, associate professor of marketing of the University of North Carolina. The results of the survey, made public yesterday, appear in the July issue of the Harvard Business Review.

In his analysis Professor Taylor cites savings in the chain stores ranging from an average of 8.99 per cent on eight beverages to 21.96 per cent on five soaps. A total of seventy-three nationally advertised articles were selected for the comparison. Returns were based on a total of 86 stores, 24 of which were chain stores and 62 individually owned.

Service, charge accounts and the taking of telephone orders were represented in the higher prices of the independent stores, but do not account for the difference of 13 per cent of sales "or any figures approaching that," Professor Taylor said. He expressed the view, however, that progressive independent grocers can compete and are competing with the chains in Durham, which has been the centre of anti-chain store activity in North Carolina.

BARS CANYON PLANTS.

Federal Board Rejects Projects as Conflicting With Boulder Dam.

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP).—Rejection of applications for five Boulder Canyon electric generating plants which would provide 4,070,000 horsepower was announced today by the Federal Power Commission.

The applications were for preliminary permits to establish the feasibility of projects in Arizona. They were rejected, officials said, because they would confict with Boulder Dam.

The canceled applications were city of Los Angeles for 800,000 horsepower, Southern California Edison Company 1,200,000 horsepower, G. Henry Stetson 1,600,000 horsepower and two others by James B. Girand and the board of directors of Arizona State institutions.

Projects now in operation under the jurisdiction of the commission will produce about 2,600,000 horsepower.

Gov. Long Balks at Paying a Note.

BATON ROUGE, La., July 11 (AP).—Governor Long struck from the Fruge deficiency bill today authorization for the repayment of $100,000 borrowed in 1929 to prosecute impeachment charges on which he was acquitted. The note for this loan, contracted from several banks, was never signed by the Governor, and the Executive held the item to be "unconstitutional." The Legislature adjourned last night after a stormy session of sixty days in which legislation urged by the Governor was defeated.

Jamaica Seeks Better Sugar Terms.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 11.—The Jamaica Chamber of Commerce has telegraphed to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the British West Indies at Trinidad its approval of a resolution to appoint Sir Campbell Stuart as a representative to seek improved terms from the Canadian Government for the admission of raw sugar into Canda.

OUTPUT OF COAL REDUCED.

Production of Bituminous and Anthracite in June Reported.

June was another dull month for the bituminous coal markets of the country, with the monotony of light demand unrelieved by any activity worthy of note, according to the monthly summary of Coal Age. The publication says:

"Business depression was blamed for the slowness in steam coals, while hot weather and poor credit conditions hampered domestic sales in most of the marketing centres. Even material price concessions failed to interest consumers to the point of filing future orders. Stocking continued to languish, while only a desultory interest was taken in contracting.

"June production of bituminous coal is estimated at 33,683,000 net tons, a decrease of 2,271,000 tons from May and 1,897,000 tons from the output in June, 1929. Anthracite production is estimated at 5,202,000 net tons for June, comparing with 5,947,000 tons in May and 5,069,000 tons in June of last year.

"The Coal Age index of spot bituminous prices (preliminary) for June stood at 138, as against 138 2-3 in May. Corresponding weighted average prices were $1.67 last month and $1.67 2-5 in May."

180 QUEENS FARMS COUNTED IN CENSUS

Total Agricultural Areas in Long Island Put at 2,300—Reduced by Development.

CITY POPULATION 6,959,345

Total of 4,261 Added to Earlier Figure on Returns to Capital by Cities Census Committee.

The borough of Queens, with a 1930 population of 1,079,357, has 180 farms, it was reported yesterday by the three Federal census supervisors in charge of that area. Adding this number to the 2,110 farms previously reported in Nassau and Suffolk Counties to the east of Queens, there are 2,290 farms in three of the four counties comprising Long Island.

Official figures on the agricultural areas in Kings County were not available, but it was said on good authority that there are not more than twenty or thirty farms in Brooklyn, making the total number on all of Long Island about 2,300.

The Queens supervisors, Raymond Richmond of the Thirty-third Census District, Harold W. Esray of the Thirty-fourth and Louis C. Gosdorfer of the Thirty-fifth, said in making public the figures that the number of farms in the borough was dwindling rapidly owing to the unprecedented development of the community, as evidenced by the 132 per cent increase in its population from 1920 to 1930. They asserted that while there was no count made of the farms in the 1920 census and no official figure with which to compare the 1930 number, the borough had lost hundreds of farms in the last decade.

Much of the land that was cultivated formerly for agricultural produce within the city limits, the census officials pointed out, has been developed in the last few years as residential districts. Mr. Gosdorfer called attention to the fact that there are only four farms left in the Sixth Assembly District of Queens centring about the highly developed communities of Forest Hills and Kew Gardens.

The number of farms in the six Assembly districts of Queens, as announced yesterday, and the figures for Nassau and Suffolk Counties, with official 1930 population figures, are as follows:

	1930 Population.	Farms.
Nassau County	302,468	537
Suffolk County	160,810	1,573
Queens:
First Assembly District	152,122	3
Second Assembly District	143,015	55
Third Assembly District	191,615	40
Fourth Assembly District	295,520	54
Fifth Assembly District	184,230	24
Sixth Assembly District	112,855	4
	1,079,357	180

A total population for New York City of 6,959,345 was reported to the Census Bureau in Washington yesterday by Dr. Walter Laidlaw, executive secretary of the Cities Census Committee, Inc., which has been cooperating with local census supervisors here in the enumeration of the city's inhabitants.

This figure is 4,261 greater than the total given two days ago, when the final count of the city was announced for the first time. A revision of the district figures has added materially to the Manhattan and Queens totals.

The figures were compiled by Dr. Laidlaw yesterday from complete returns reported to him by the fourteen local supervisors. By boroughs the totals are as follows:

Manhattan	1,859,847
Brooklyn	2,596,154
Bronx	1,266,734
Queens	1,079,357
Richmond	157,253

Most of the offices of the various census supervisors in the greater city had finished their work and either were closed yesterday or on the point of closing. Dr. Laidlaw said that no adequate statistics on the number of unemployed had been worked out.

Homer S. Cumming Buys Home.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., July 11.—The picturesque colonial residence owned by Alice Mead Thorp, widow of Frank Thorp, in Rock Ridge, has been sold to Homer S. Cumming, former chairman of the National Democratic Committee and well-known lawyer, who will occupy it as his residence. It was held at $75,000. The house was erected by Mr. Thorp twenty-five years ago and is one of the show places in the Rock Ridge section. Thomas N. Cooke, Inc., were the brokers.

EXPORT COPPER PRICE CUT TO 11.80 CENTS

New Quotation for European Ports, Lowest This Year, Brings Sales of 5,870,000 Pounds.

The price of copper for export was reduced yesterday by Copper Exporters, Inc., to 11.80 cents a pound, c. i. f. European base ports, establishing a new low export price for the year to date. The previous price, which had been in effect about a month, was 12.30 cents. The reduction resulted from the cut in the domestic price of the metal from 12 cents a pound to 11½ cents on Thursday.

After the export price had been cut yesterday foreign buyers purchased 5,870,000 pounds. Domestic business, however, was rather quiet. It was reported that producers had received large bids for copper at 11¼ and 11 cents a pound.

Speculative buying of copper from producers at 11½ cents a pound has been in fairly large volume for the last week, it was reported yesterday.

SUGAR, COFFEE, COCOA.

Sugar.

Cuban sugar in the raw market in New York yesterday touched a new low on the cost and freight basis when a sale was made at 1.32 for prompt shipment position, Cuba, ex-stores. This equaled the previous low at 3.28, duty free, on two sales. Porto Rico, in prompt shipment position, sold at 3.30, duty free, off 3 points from the high on Thursday. Refiners held to their quotation of 4.70, but second-hand refined was available at 4.52½, off 2½ points from the lowest offerings on Thursday. Sales in the futures market totaled 17,900 tons.

Peddler's Horse Bites Patrolman.

Patrolman Charles Sulzbach was arresting several peddlers for operating without licenses near Barrett Street and East Ninety-eighth Street, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon when a white horse belonging to one of them bit him on the right arm. Sulzbach gave an additional summons to the owner of the horse, Philip Miller of 260 Watkins Street, for failing to muzzle the animal. The patrolman reported sick and went to his home at 172 Elton Street, Brooklyn.

LIVE STOCK IN CHICAGO.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Hogs advanced 10 to 15 cents today and closed strong at the top. Underweights and pigs were up 25 cents. Arrivals were 21,000, with 12,000 estimated for tomorrow. Top prices for the best lightweights were $9.85 and the average $8.90, against $9.40 three weeks ago. Most sales were at $8.15 to $9.65, hogs averaging 175 to 225 pounds being $9.40 to $9.75; 285 to 350 pounds, $8.60 to $9.10; most 275 to 300 pound sows, $7.65 to $8.15.

Lighter supplies of cattle, receipts being only 2,500 head, with a fairly good demand for choice light yearlings, brought a price 25 cents higher than Thursday's top, $11.25, with most steers selling at $8 to $10, showing a lower average, and with prices off $1 to $1.25 for the week. Estimates for tomorrow are 1,000.

Lighter supplies of fat lambs brought an advance of 25 cents, with a top of $11.50 and an average of $10.75, prices being the highest in almost two weeks. Receipts were 5,000, with 2,000 for tomorrow. Sheep were unchanged at $2.25 to $3.50.

BISHOP HEIRS LEASE TWO LARGE SITES

Close Cedar Street Contract With Doherty Interests, Who Will Erect New Building.

ALSO RENT 6TH AV. CORNER

Apartment House Planned at First Avenue and Fiftieth Street—Other Manhattan Leaseholds.

Several leasehold deals of importance went to record in the Register's office yesterday. In two of the transactions the terms of contract give to the lessees the privilege of improving the premises with new buildings. The H. L. Doherty interests obtained from the Bishop estate a new lease on property in Cedar and Pine Streets.

Cortlandt F. Bishop, individually and as executor of the David Wolfe Bishop estate, leased to the Pine Street Realty Company, Inc., representing the Doherty interests, the property at 12 to 18 Cedar Street, 87 feet wide, and 66, 66½ and 68 Pine Street, 67 feet wide, for a term beginning on Jan. 1 of this year and ending on April 30, 1950. The terms of the lease show that the yearly rental is to be $30,000 until April 30, 1933, and $40,000 a year thereafter, in addition to all taxes and assessments.

The Bishop estate agrees to the demolition and removal of the present buildings for the purpose of erecting a new building not less than ten stories in height, to cost not less than $600,000, upon that portion of the leased premises lying west of a line 313 feet 7½ inches east of William Street. The lessee may renew this lease for three twenty-one-year terms at a net yearly rental of 5 per cent of the value of the land, considered as vacant, exclusive of that portion of 12 and 14 Cedar Street.

Option to Purchase.

The lessee covenants to purchase from the lessor the part of these premises on Cedar Street, 316 feet 9 inches east of William Street, 12 feet in width, with a frontage of 9 feet on Pine Street, for $75,000, upon the sole election of the lessor on ninety days' notice, and upon such purchase the yearly rental is to be reduced $4,500. A previous lease of this property to the 66 Pine Street Corporation, representing the Doherty interests, dated April 30 of last year, has been surrendered, the present lease being in substitution therefor.

Mr. Bishop, individually and as executor of the Bishop estate, leased to the Underel Holding Corporation, Albert E. Nuelson, president, 1,242 to 1,248 Sixth Avenue, 83 feet front, and 71 and 73 West Forty-ninth Street, 39 feet front, surrounding the northeast corner, for twenty-one years from May 1, 1930, the annual rent to be $27,000 for the first year, $30,000 for the second year, $55,000 for the next six years, $60,000 for the following seven years and $65,000 for the balance of the term, plus all taxes and assessments. The lessee may renew this lease for terms ending Sept. 30, 2015, at a net annual rental of 6 per cent of the value of the land, but never less than $65,000.

The southeast corner of First Avenue and Fiftieth Street, ninety feet on the avenue and sixty feet on the street, was leased by the Mitchell Place Realty Corporation, Emily E. Hepburn, president, to the 400 East Fiftieth Street Corporation, James J. Summers, president, for nineteen years and four months from Feb. 1, 1930, the yearly rental being graduated from $10,937 for the first two years to $14,937 for the last four years of the term, in addition to all taxes and assessments.

Will Erect Apartment House.

The lessee is to erect upon this land a non-fireproof elevator apartment building to cost not less than $180,000 of not more than six stories in height, this building to become the property of the landlord. The lessee may renew this lease for three twenty-one year terms, to May 31, 2012, for which the net rent shall be 6 per cent of the full and fair value of the land considered as vacant, annually, but not less than $14,937.

The lessee will have the option of purchasing this property at any time prior to May 31, 1936, at a price of $297,750, plus an amount equal to 2 per cent per annum of the aggregate amount of the mortgages existing thereon, computed from the date when the first payment in amortization shall become due to the date of closing. The landlord and tenant have joined in giving a mortgage for $225,000, due April of next year, at 6 per cent on this property, to the Continental Mortgage Guarantee Company.

At an annual rental of $132,000, Isaac Altman leased from June 26, 1930, to July 31, 1933, to the 552 Lenox Avenue Holding Company, Inc., Barney Herzog, secretary, the following premises: 2,174 Lexington Avenue, 9-11 East 131st Street, 3 East 134th Street, 16-24 West 134th Street, 118 West 134th Street, 129 West 134th Street, 193-197 West 134th Street, 16 and 20 West 137th Street, 246 West 144th Street, 2,247 Seventh Avenue, 2,204 Seventh Avenue, 151 and 155 West 132d Street, 48 West 132d Street, and 552 Lenox Avenue.

The lease of the property on the southeast corner of Seventh Avenue and Forty-ninth Street, 100 by 100 feet, made by Fred S. Godfrey to the 727 Seventh Avenue Realty Company, Inc., Samuel Levy, vice president, on May 1, 1915, has been extended to May 1, 1988, for which the yearly rental will be $80,000 until June 1, 1946, and $70,000 a year for the balance of the term.

The lease of 226 West Seventy-fifth Street, held by Henrietta Spark and Bevy Goodman, has been sold to Joseph Seckler and Aaron Paler, this being a ten-year lease of the portion of the building above the store level.

The lease of 121 West Eighty-sixth Street held by the Jere Holding Corporation at $3,000 a year has been surrendered to the F. R. B. Realty Company, Inc.

The building at 133 Norfolk Street has been leased by the Norriv Realty Corporation to the New York Board of Fire Underwriters for three years from Oct. 1 of this year at the annual rental of $5,000.

INDUSTRIAL AWARDS GAIN.

Building Contracts for Country Indicate Sustained Activity.

Heavy construction and engineering contracts in the United States last week totaled $57,451,000, as against $54,302,000 in the preceding week, and indicate sustained activity in major divisions of the engineering field, according to The Engineering News-Record. Awards in the week a year ago totaled $68,092,000.

By comparison with the week before, street and road awards last week showed a gain of $12,000,000. The weekly total for this class is well ahead of last year. Industrial building and other engineering contracts, exclusive of commercial buildings, almost doubled in volume. Commercial and other buildings declined.

According to classes, totals were distributed as follows: streets and roads, $21,099,000; commercial buildings, $12,225,000; industrial buildings, $9,657,000, and other engineering construction, $14,470,000.

Included in the week's large awards is one for the Shell Chemical Company's $5,000,000 fireproof plant to be built in Pittsburg, Cal. The Treasury Department has let the contract for an extensible building for the Department of Agriculture, at a cost of $2,074,000. A contract, involving close to $2,000,000, has been let by Louisville, Ky., for the first unit of a sewer construction project, which will total $4,000,000.

Since January 1, heavy construction and engineering awards announced in the United States amount to $1,962,576,000, which compares with $2,385,525,000 in the corresponding period last year.

DEALS IN THE BRONX.

Washington and Bathgate Avenue Houses Are Sold.

The Capen estate sold the eight-family apartment house at 1,962 Washington Avenue to a client of William L. Rosan. This was the first sale of the property in twenty-seven years, according to the Eugene J. Busher Company, broker in the deal.

J. Clarence Davies, Inc., sold for Adele K. Scott to Joseph De Leo the two-story dwelling, 18 by 70 feet, at 2,048 Bathgate Avenue, near 179th Street.

Connecticut Acreage at Auction.

Nine acreage plots, ranging in size from three to seven and one-half acres, at Sharon, Conn., and fronting on Silver Lake, will be sold at auction, on the premises by Major William Kennelly early this afternoon, for Silver Oaks, Inc. Each plot has a frontage on the lake of 100 feet, with full lake rights. Thirty-two bungalow sites, with complete lake rights will also be sold at auction by the same auctioneer.

Activity In Plots Near Amityville.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—The disturbance that was central near Cape Cod Thursday night has moved northeastward to New Brunswick—Chatham 29.46 inches—and the disturbance from the Hudson Bay region has moved southeastward to the St. Lawrence Valley—Montreal, Que., 29.64 inches. The western disturbance is moving slowly eastward over the Dakotas and Nebraska—Huron, S. D., 29.62 inches—and pressure is low and falling from Arizona northwestward to Oregon—Yuma 29.62 inches. Pressure is high from Southeastern Alaska eastward over the upper Mackenzie Valley—Juneau 30.18 inches—and over the ocean east and south of Newfoundland—Hamilton, Bermuda, 30.12 inches—and it is relatively high over the Northern Rocky Mountain region and Lake Superior—Helena, Mont., 30.14, and Marquette, Mich., 30.02 inches.

The weather continues abnormally warm over practically all sections east of the Rockies, except in the lake region and North Atlantic States. Maximum temperatures of 100 degrees or higher were registered this afternoon at many stations from Nebraska and South Dakota southeastward to the East Gulf Coast and in the interior of the South Atlantic States. The highest reported was 106 degrees at Huron, S. D., and Little Rock, Ark., while 104 degrees was registered at St. Louis, Mo.; Cairo, Ill.; Montgomery and Mobile. This is the highest temperature ever registered in July at Mobile.

Fair weather will prevail almost generally in the Washington forecast district Saturday and Saturday night, followed by local thunderstorms Sunday afternoon or night in most sections.

The temperature will be slightly lower Saturday in portions of the Middle Atlantic States, but the weather will become warmer during Sunday in the lower lake region, the extreme upper Ohio Valley, the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic States.

ASK STIMSON TO ACT ON PASSPORT FEES

Trade Board Members Request Ruling on British Costs After American Reduction.

BUREAU HERE CRITICIZED

Change Is Refused to Travelers Who Do Not Have Exactly $6, W. J. L. Banham Declares.

The New York Board of Trade sent a letter on the passport fee situation to Secretary of State Stimson yesterday, asking for rulings on controversial matters. It also announced that it would carry its investigation into all phases of the situation during the next few months. As a result of the agitation by the board and other groups, Congress recently passed a bill reducing the American passport fee from $10 to $6.

Mr. Stimson was asked to rule on the question of the British passport fee, many Americans who planned trips abroad having inquired whether it was reduced automatically from $10 to $6 when President Hoover signed the bill reducing the American fee. The Board of Trade also said persons seeking passports at the Federal bureau at the sub-treasury building in New York were unable to obtain change if they did not have exactly $6 and asked him to remedy the situation.

The board, speaking through its president, W. J. L. Banham, informed Secretary Stimson that it seeks to eliminate all "travel barriers between this country and other countries" by removing "all unreasonable financial fees bearing on passports, visas, immigration, steamship taxes, &c." The board is in constant touch with the Travel Association of Great Britain and Ireland and with prominent British business men, seeking their influence with the British Government in negotiating with the American Government to reduce the fees or eliminate them altogether.

This has developed the information from the British that the principal handicap in the elimination of the fees has its source in the United States and the Board of Trade asked Secretary Stimson yesterday to help eliminate the condition.

Mr. Banham's letter to Mr. Stimson quotes from a communication received from the Travel Association of Great Britain and Ireland, of which Lord Derby is president, as follows:

"Lord Derby and this association entirely agree with the view that you take as to the effect of the $10 visa charge, and this association is using its utmost endeavors to have this amount reduced or, if possible, the whole charge abolished, and is making representations to his Majesty's Government. The difficulty hitherto has been, I understand, that the United States Government were the first to institute this $10 charge, a course which our government followed, and apparently the two governments have not yet been able to come to an agreement as to a reciprocal reduction. We shall, however, continue to work to this desirable end."

Mr. Banham then writes:

"It has been suggested to us by Britishers that it is not the British Government that is not willing to forego the collection of $10 as a visa fee, but it is the American Government that does not like the idea of giving up this charge, a statement which seems rather wide of the mark. It occurs to us that the reverse is more likely to be the correct situation.

"My attention has recently been called to the lack of facilities provided in the local passport bureau in the Subtreasury Building for giving change to applicants for passports who have not the requisite $6 fee exactly available. Experience shows that applicants tendering a $10 or a $20 bill have been refused change and told to go to a local bank to break the bill. A statement has been made that the Passport Bureau can provide no facilities for giving change. This seems to us an unnecessary inconvenience to applicants for passports and that it only needs to be called to your attention to have it corrected. For, although on the face of it a smaller matter, yet it is just these small matters that cause a lot of friction."

TWO LINES GET SHIP LOANS.

Board Lends $11,201,220 for Reconstruction and Building.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The Shipping Board today authorized a loan to the Baltimore Mail Steamship Company of $6,540,000 for the reconstruction of five vessels purchased from the board for operation between Baltimore and Hamburg under the terms of an ocean mail contract recently awarded the Roosevelt Steamship Company of New York.

The board also voted a loan of $4,661,220 to the Eastern Steamship Lines as aid in building two combination passenger cargo steamers, one to be operated between Boston and St. John, N. B., and the other between New York and Yarmouth, N. S., with the privilege of running the ships in Southern waters during the Winter.

SAYS FREIGHT RATES BAR LAND RECLAIMING

Sherrerd Asserts Development of 40,000 Acres of New Jersey Swamp Is Retarded.

Morris R. Sherrerd, consulting engineer for the Meadow Reclamation Commission of New Jersey, testifying before Examiner Earl M. Steer of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in Newark yesterday, declared that the present railroad freight rate had materially retarded the proposed reclamation and development of 40,000 acres of meadow land in New Jersey for industrial purposes.

Mr. Sherrerd, who is also consulting engineer for the city of Newark, and for other official bodies, took the stand as a witness for New Jersey State's petition to the commission for the abolition of free railroad literage across the New York Harbor.

"Utilization of the meadows would follow immediately, in my opinion," he said, "an adjustment of the freight rates for this territory."

The witness told of his studies of the 40,000 acres of meadow lands neighboring the Hackensack, Passaic and Raritan Rivers, and the Newark Bay, and said that these lands could all be developed advantageously for commercial and industrial purposes at a cost of one-third the values which would be created.

W. Irving Lewis, secretary of the Bayonne Chamber of Commerce, testified to the need for a lower freight rate to New Jersey as compared with New York, to permit the development of Bayonne facilities. He told of plans to reclaim land from the New York and Newark Harbors for Bayonne.

Arthur H. Andrews, executive vice president and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of North Hudson, declared that his district was injured by inflated freight rates, but admitted that his knowledge of such inflation was entirely hearsay.

The hearing will continue Monday.

Suggests 3 for Ship-Line Study.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., July 11.—Three Boston men, Gerrit Fort of the Chamber of Commerce, Robert G. Stone of Hayden, Stone & Co., and Charles E. Spencer Jr. of the First National Bank, were recommended to President Hoover by Mayor Curley today for consideration in the selection of a Boston man for the commission to be named to determine the future of the American Diamond Steamship Lines.

HAMBURG CRUISE PLANNED.

Liner Will Take 400 on 1931 Voyage in Mediterranean and Adriatic.

The Hamburg-American liner Hamburg will touch at every country on the Mediterranean and the Adriatic during her special 1931 cruise, according to announcement yesterday at the New York offices. The cruise will be limited to 400 passengers. The ship will leave New York Jan. 31, and passengers may arrange to return as they desire.

She will touch at Cherbourg April 4, where communication with the Deutschland will be effected and passengers may start back, and at Hamburg April 5, where independent sight-seeing trips will be conducted. Passengers may return to America on any Hamburg-American ship from Hamburg, Boulogne, Cherbourg or Southampton as late as Dec. 31, 1931.

Several stops which have never been made by a Mediterranean cruise ship from America have been arranged for the Hamburg, according to officials of the line. These will include Carcassonne, the medieval walled city in Languedoc, Southern France, and Vigo and La Coruña, in the Basque country of Northern Spain, and Tripoli, in North Africa.

SHIP TO FOLLOW RACES.

Liner Araguaya to Take Tourists to Cup Competition in Fall.

The Royal Mail liner Araguaya has been chartered by the Atlantic Cruises of 420 Lexington Avenue for nine days in September, during which she will carry a party to the America's Cup races and go on a series of cruises, probably to Canada and other points. Shipping men have expressed interest in the plans as the trip will be another instance of a ship flying the British flag operating out of New York to a coastwise goal.

The Araguaya, which is operated between New York and Montreal and on West Indian cruises, will leave New York Sept. 12 for the races. Her operators plan to follow the yachts on the course of the races in the hours of daylight and leave at night for points not yet determined, returning each morning in time for the races. She will return to New York Sept. 21.

Boston-South American Sailings.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, July 11.—The American Republics Line, which has been maintaining service every three weeks between Boston and the River Plate ports of Montevideo, Uruguay and Argentina, will hereafter schedule a sailing every two weeks.

NEGROES ASSAIL BIAS AT FETE AT CITY HALL

Harlem Officials at Welcome to Gold Star Mothers Score "Federal Insult."

DEEGAN 'REGRETS' INCIDENT

McKee Tells Group No Color Line Exists Here in Respect Paid to Nation's Heroes.

The visit of ninety-two Negro Gold Star mothers at the City Hall yesterday, prior to their sailing for France, was made the occasion for a bitter protest against alleged discrimination. Ferdinand Q. Morton, Municipal Civil Service Commissioner, and Alderman Fred C. Moore, both Negroes, touched on the subject, both maintaining the Negro women had been "insulted" by the Federal Government.

Referring to the alleged transportation of the Negro Gold Star mothers in a ship inferior to the ones that carried the white women to the graves of their sons in France, Commissioner Morton told the visitors not to allow their hearts "to be embittered by the insult offered you by the government at Washington." Secretary of War Hurley has answered similar previous accusations with emphatic denials of discrimination.

"On this sacred mission you carry with you the sympathy and affection of a grateful nation," Commissioner Morton said. "To you dark-skinned mothers it pays the same homage that it gave your fair-skinned sisters who nobly gave their sons in its defense. Secure in the knowledge of this, you will not allow your hearts to be embittered by the insult offered you by the government at Washington. The great majority of your fellow-Americans know that mother-love, courage and patriotism are peculiar to no race, creed or color.

Alderman Moore was more vehement in his condemnation of the Federal Government, saying that it had shown no discrimination in war time against Negro troops.

"When our boys went to France they felt they were fighting for democracy," he said. "But that democracy lasted only a few days after the reception to the heroic members of the old Fifteenth Infantry. Then we were criticized, degraded and humiliated, but we have borne that with Christian fortitude. We don't want to be regarded as things any longer; we want to be regarded as humans. We are proud to be Negroes."

Acting Mayor Joseph V. McKee expressed a warm welcome to the Gold Star group, saying that the city greeted them in the same manner as it greeted other Gold Star mothers.

"We feel that you come to us consecrated with the blood of your sons," he declared. "You are going on a journey—perhaps a sad one. America's great contribution to the World War was a united people, and you can find consolation in the thought that your boys died in an effort to uphold that unity. This city has an enormous pride in one of the finest fighting units it ever sent forth to war, the old Fifteenth colored regiment.

"I am sorry that a different note had to be struck here, but in this city there runs a great, deep vein of gratitude. We go with you with thanks in our hearts."

William F. Deegan, Tenement House Commissioner, who had charge of the program, introduced Representatives David J. O'Connell, John J. Boylan and Samuel Dickstein of New York, saying that they had aided the Federal legislation for the Gold Star trips. Commissioner Deegan read messages of regret from Mayor Walker and Senator Robert F. Wagner at their inability to welcome the group. There were 240 women in the Gold Star group, but only ninety-two are going abroad because the bodies of the sons of others have been returned to this country. Colonel Benjamin Oliver Davis, highest ranking Negro officer in the regular army, will act as their chief escort.

After the speeches in the Aldermanic chamber the group went outside to pose for photographs. The Sanitation Department band and the band of the 369th Infantry, a colored regiment, played. The Army, Navy and Marine Corps sent troops to the reception. Mrs. Willie Rush of Atlanta, Ga., in charge of the group, expressed their thanks for the opportunity to take the trip and their gratitude for the city's welcome. She said the group had received every courtesy and comfort possible.

James C. Thomas, former Assistant United States Attorney, who served in the Fifteenth Infantry during the war, issued a statement yesterday condemning the segregation of Negro mothers. Walter White, acting secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, denied that the organization had provoked controversy with the War Department over the matter. He also made public a protest resolution adopted by the National Association of Colored Women, adopted at their convention in Hot Springs, Ark., assailing "the wholesale government segregation of colored Gold Star mothers and widows, particularly in the housing of them in inferior hotels and rooming places in Harlem and in the sending of them on inferior ships."

PRINCE SEES WAR MOTHERS.

British Heir Gives Autographed Diaries to 36 Americans.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, July 11 (AP).—The Prince of Wales presented to each of thirty-six American Gold Star mothers today a vellum-covered diary bearing his autograph before they sailed for home on the steamship Republic.

The women's section of the British Legion gave each of the mothers a bouquet of cornflowers and marigolds.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hubbard, who was 75 years old yesterday, said, "This visit to England has been the most beautiful and unforgetable incident in my life."

PARIS, July 11 (AP).—One group of American Gold Star mothers arrived on the steamship America today as another sailed homeward on the Republic, its pilgrimage ended.

With the home-going mothers was Mrs. Jennie Landgraf of Salem, Ore., who, after a serious illness, had recovered sufficiently to leave the American Hospital and go with her party.

Mrs. Edwin Lange of Oshkosh, Wis., the only other Gold Star mother now ill, today was reported showing further improvement.

SOUGHT TO HIDE SUICIDE.

Bronx Woman, to Save Insurance, Said Husband Had Been Slain.

Fearful of losing her husband's $7,000 life insurance after he had committed suicide early yesterday morning, Mrs. Herman Friedlander of 2,074 Mapes Avenue, the Bronx, hid the rope with which he had hanged himself and told police investigators he had been murdered. After lengthy questioning, however, she admitted it was suicide.

She told the police that her husband, a cloth cutter, who was 40 years old, had been despondent because he had been unemployed for two months. She said she found his body dangling from a clothesline in the kitchen. She said she invented the murder story to prevent "public disgrace" and save the insurance.

BOY PLUNGES TO DEATH.

Police Believe He Leaped Out Window After Quarrel With Father.

April Marinari, 15 years old, was killed yesterday when he fell from the rear window of the room he and his father, Antonio, occupied on the sixth floor of a tenement house at 100 Bleecker Street. The father told the police that the lad fell when a rope on which he was leaning gave way, but the detectives said they believed the youth had committed suicide after a quarrel with his father.

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ills—headaches, listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, such as bran muffins, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

MAN DROPS DEAD FROM CAR

His Body Falls From Seat as Policeman Opens Door After Crash in Greensburgh.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 11.—Two persons were killed and ten others injured, one of them critically, in three automobile accidents near here early this morning. The dead are Nino Tartaglia, 18 years old, of 137 Fairview Avenue, Port Chester, and Milton Gates, 36, a Negro, employed at 1 Fenimore Road, Scarsdale.

John Spraver, 30 of 1,450 Sherman Avenue, the Bronx, is in a critical condition in the White Plains Hospital as a result of the third crash.

Tartaglia was killed when his motorcycle was thrown from the road by a warning log as he was driving along the Hutchinson River Parkway. His companion, Philip Arlott, 17, of 11 Central Avenue, Port Chester, received minor injuries.

In the Greenburgh crash Gates was a front-seat passenger, and when the door of the car was opened by Patrolman McCaffray of the Greenburgh police, who arrived soon after the accident, he fell into the road dead. His wife, Mrs. Geraldine Gates, who was riding in the rear seat, suffered a fractured right leg and arm. Others injured in the crash were Harold Doerr of Gainsberg Avenue, this city, driver of the car; Robert Doerr, 41, a member of the Scarsdale Police Department, of Washington Avenue, Hartsdale; Mrs. Robert Doerr and Mrs. Lillian Doerr, wife of Harold, all of whom suffered cuts and bruises.

According to the story of those involved in the crash, they were driving north on Central Avenue when a truck drove in front of them. Young Doerr, a nephew of Robert Doerr, swerved to the left in order to avoid crashing into the truck. In doing so he lost control of the car, which careened across the road and smashed into a telephone pole.

John Spraver is suffering from a fractured pelvis and a laceration of the left thigh as a result of a head-on collision between two autos on the Hutchinson River Parkway in Scarsdale. Three other persons, including two young girls, also were injured in the same accident. Eileen Brown, 19, of 302 East 165th Street, New York City, who was riding with Spraver, was treated at the hospital for cuts on her left hand.

Grace Hoffman, 19, of 59 Arno Drive, New York City, and Edward Lammier of 1,435 Taylor Avenue, Bronx, were also treated at the hospital for slight lacerations.

5 DIE IN PLANE CRASHES.

Falls Kill 2 in Ohio, Father and Son in Arizona and Coast Flier.

DAYTON, Ohio, July 11 (AP).—Two men were killed in an airplane crash two miles south of here today. They were Earl Dietrich, pilot, and Peter Davis, a passenger.

Just before it fell, the plane was flying above a swimming pool in which a number of persons were bathing. The plane swooped low, and had nosed up again, when it plunged suddenly downward and crashed.

Dietrich was a student pilot. Both men lived in Dayton. The plane was demolished. The cause of the crash was not determined.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., July 11 (AP).—J. A. Haymore, Southern Arizona and Mexico business man and his son, Roscoe, were killed today when their small monoplane fell 1,000 feet near the International Airport.

ALAMEDA, Cal., July 11 (AP).—L. A. Johnson, 20, Oakland, was killed and Dave Hutch, pilot, was injured seriously when their biplane went into a spin and crashed on the municipal golf links here yesterday.

PRIEST ARRESTED IN $89,000 THEFT

Former Queens Pastor Seized Here When He Seeks Loan on Bonds Stolen in Philadelphia.

SAYS HE ACTED AS AGENT

Securities Belong to Man Who Offered to Aid His Church, He Tells the Police.

Marius Legnani, who said he was a suspended Roman Catholic priest formerly in charge of the parish of St. Pius V at 106-12 Liverpool Street, Jamaica, Queens, was held without bail yesterday as a fugitive from justice wanted in Philadelphia for the theft of $89,000 in bonds in 1927. He was arrested on Thursday when he attempted to obtain a loan from a surety company on bonds listed as stolen.

Detectives of the Oak Street station arrested two men last night in the Hotel Lincoln on charges of having acted in concert with him in attempting to dispose of the bonds. The men were booked as Louis De Maria, 42 years old, of 320 Central Park West and Louis Spinelli, 25, of 28 West Twelfth Street.

The Rev. Mr. Legnani explained his possession of the bonds by saying that a casual acquaintance he met on a train from Asbury Park nine months ago had promised to donate $10,000 to his church if he would pledge the securities for a loan. He explained that his fellow-passenger noticed his clerical garb, told him he too was a Roman Catholic and promised to make a donation to the priest's church. They exchanged addresses, the man giving his as the Pennsylvania Hotel, and he later got in communication with the Rev. Mr. Legnani and gave him the bonds, the prisoner told the police.

The bonds were part of the proceeds of a burglary in the office of Edward Atkin, a Philadelphia contractor on the night of May 15, 1927. William Wallace, the bookkeeper, found the office in disorder and the safe door torn from its hinges by a heavy explosion when he came in the next morning. A $9,000 payroll and $100,000 in securities were missing. The numbers of the bonds were broadcast and when the Rev. Mr. Legnani appeared here Thursday with the bonds bearing those numbers he was delayed while the police were notified.

The Rev. Peter Bernard, pastor of the Church of St. Pius V, was out of the city yesterday, but a man who said he was his secretary recalled that a Rev. Mr. Legnani had been pastor of the church from 1915 to 1923, having built the present structure. The church was heavily in debt when he left in 1923. The official Catholic Directory lists a Rev. Mario Legnani as pastor of the church, then at 38 Wyckoff Street, in 1922 and 1923, but lists him merely as "absent on leave" since then.

The chancery office of the Brooklyn diocese refused to confirm the statement made by the Rev. Mr. Legnani that he was under suspension. A spokesman for Bishop Thomas E. Molloy said:

"We have nothing to say whatever. We do not care to discuss the case."

At 82-59 166th Street, Jamaica, where the prisoner said he was staying with friends, a woman who said she was the housekeeper said that he had been living there alone for a number of years.

The Rev. Mr. Legnani told the police that he was ordained in Italy in 1904 and that he had served at St. Pius for a number of years before the difficulty with his superiors which led to his suspension. He was arraigned before Magistrate George W. Simpson in Tombs Court and held without bail for forty-eight hours until extradition papers can be brought from Philadelphia.

14 Horses Die in Trenton Fire.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., July 11.—When fire of undetermined origin swept the stables of the Willows Riding Academy on the Brunswick Pike early today, only two of sixteen valuable saddle horses were saved. The others were found dead in their stalls.

APPROVES NEW FERRY LINE.

Westchester Engineer Favors New Rochelle-Long Island Service.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., July 11.—A ferry service between New Rochelle and Long Island appeared as a probability today after the announcement that Jay Downer, chief engineer of the Westchester County Park Commission, had approved the lease of county property on Neptune Island for a ferry landing. A protest against the establishment of such a service was received, however, from the New York Athletic Club.

The application was made by the Port Washington-New Rochelle Ferry Company, which plans to transport freight and motor cars as well as passengers. The company would place two new ferryboats with Diesel engines in the service. Decision followed several months of negotiations between company officials, Mr. Downer, and Mayor Walter C. G. Otto of New Rochelle.

The New York Athletic Club objected to the project on the ground that the proposed wharfage would project into the club's property at Travers Island and that it would make navigation of the creek by small craft dangerous.

HUDSON
the World's Largest Selling
"EIGHT"

Registrations officially recorded by every State in the Union show that for this year more Hudson Eights have been delivered to consumers than any other eight in the world.

Saying Great Things of the Hudson Eight

"Hudson's Great Eight is the finest of fifteen splendid Hudsons I have owned." . . . from owner letter.

"It is the greatest of seventeen successive Hudsons I have owned and driven." . . . from owner letter.

"I have owned seven great Hudsons—and now the "Straight Eight"—easily the greatest." . . . from owner letter.

"After making over 400,000 miles on three previous Hudson cars, without any breakdowns, I was convinced I could get nothing better than another Hudson. The running of my Hudson Eight is as smooth as any car twice the price." . . . from owner letter.

"In owning five Hudson cars I have thought each better than the one before. But my pleasure in the Hudson Eight—in its good looks, beautiful performance and economy—convinces me this is the finest Hudson and greatest value of all." . . . from owner letter.

Victor in California Tests

With nearly all makes submitting bids, Hudson's Great Eight, with 100% score, overwhelmed all competition in tests conducted in the purchase of cars for the department of Highway Control of the State of California.

124,750 Miles with 100% Reliability

Twenty-five Hudson Eights in grueling non-stop runs of 168 hours each (7 days) gave the marvelous result of 100% reliability in a total distance of 124,750 miles. Not a motor failed, not a part was replaced, not an adjustment was required.

See For Yourself the Increasing Number of Hudson Eights on the Street

Hudson Beauty, Hudson Quality, Hudson Performance and Hudson Value frankly question the wisdom of ever paying more for any car. They have made Hudson the world's largest selling Eight. And the growing power of this conviction is shown in the increasing numbers you see everywhere.

Wins Famous Tour de France

Against eighty-seven cars from every country Hudson scored 100% in winning the highest honors including the Ansaldo Cup in the nine-day Tour de France, most celebrated of the annual tests staged on the European Continent.
